And we thought our story was even complimentary.

Then when they held their meeting last week, only five merchants were present. Had we known about their intentions, we could have publicized the meeting and undoubtedly prodded many more to attend.

The Herald focused attention on the recent "drag" races and the Council immediately knew where it stood. In fact, one Councilman thanked us for our fairness in writing about the issue.

That may have been an oversight on the Parking Commission's part and we don't wish to pursue the issue further.

The Commission really does have a realistic plan that would make the downtown area a revitalized shopping center and the merchants should really get behind it.

It is a small world we live in. We have often remarked that if you talk with a stranger long enough, he will know someone who knows you or someone you know.

After the Board of Education meeting last week, we had our first little chat with Aden Mead. We soon learned his wife's parents live across the road from an aunt of ours near New Hudson and that his brother-in-law pitched on a baseball team we managed after the war.

*****

Overheard in Don's Grill: several University of Michigan researchers, who are in Tecumseh taking the health survey, discussing their encounters with dogs.

*****

*****

Numerous times we have been asked if we are related to the Ralph Bidwell who apparently cut quite a figure around Tecumseh several years ago. Our father's name is also Ralph Bidwell but guess we are from a different limb on the tree whose roots began in the East.

*****

Mrs. Gale Fisher, only woman member of the City Planning Commission, has a marvelous sense of humor. When toll gates were suggested for the proposed parking lots, she quickly commented: "I'm afraid of gates and garage dors."

City Manager Ed Nelson and other city officials should be complimented for hurrying the contract through for the new Raisin River Bridge. Had they waited much longer, they undoubtedly would not have gotten State and Federal aid. Already the State Highway Department has started condemnation proceedings to secure right of way for the continuation of M-52 north, that will by-pass Tecumseh. When that happens Mill street will be demoted to just a street instead of a highway.

Much of the material that comes in the mail to a newspaper from organizations all over the nation is free but generally has an axe to grind. Consequently, it winds up in the waste basket.

But this week an interesting table of statistics came to our attention and since its source is the Department of Commerce, we felt justified in relaying it for your perusal.

Local Physicians Get Flu Vaccine

Every local physician has a waiting list of 50 to 200 persons.

Dr. Wiseley said the county health officers were informed that six large pharmaceutical companies are preparing the new vaccine and distributing it to local physicians throughout the various states on the basis of population.

All dispersal will be carried out by practicing physicians.

Dr. Richard T. Hammel said "we are supposed to get more of the vaccine in about 10 days. We are taking names and have been asked by health authorities to give first priority to those persons in public services.

"This flu is a virus disease, accompanied by high fever and a generalized aching, lasting about two or three days but leaving the victim very tired and weak for two to five days later.

"Anti-biotics won't help aver it. The flu shots developed during World War II are very useful for actual influenza that strikes many people every winter but this Asiatic flu is a different strain.

"There will be plenty of vaccine within a few weeks."

Dr. Ralph Helzerman said "it is the complications that we are afraid of, not the influenza itself."

Dr. R. G. B. Marsh reported he has one vial of 10 cubic centimeters of the vaccine, enough for 10 persons, for a list of 100 persons.

"We don't want to start until we are sure we will have enough to carry through in case we have to give two shots to some people," he said.

Dr. Richard D. Coak said ordinarily one shot will be given to adults and divided doses of two to children and possibly three to babies.

"Representatives of drug companies came around and assured us there will be plenty of the vaccine in a matter of a few weeks," Dr. Coak said.

Dr. T. Rentschler said he had a waiting list of 200 people.

"I have administered shots to about 20 people so far," he said.

The Public Health Service, who predict the epidemic, state the Asian flu reached epidemic proportions in Hong Kong and Singapore, both Far Eastern ports, in April and since then has spread to the United States and other countries.

The City Manager prepared an estimate of costs of installing the water and sewer mains and outlets up to the property lines and said that $7,000, the proposed figure to start the project, would take both services south down Murray Drive to the intersection of Shady Lane.

The property owners who live on Shady Lane and further south of Murray drive were the ones who signed the original petition but since the services must come from the north, they will have to wait until the services are installed to them.

The property owners, 20 in all, who would first benefit by this installation have not as yet indicated their desire in the matter.

The Council had suggested that the property owners repay the City in their taxes on a five-year basis.

At the same time the Council discussed the advisability of the City undertaking such projects. Several felt that such projects should be contracted out thereby making it possible for the City to devote more effort to maintaining existing services.

Hospital Auxiliary Plunges Into Busy Fall Schedule

The first meeting of the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary's fall season was held Tuesday, Sept. 10 in the Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian Church.

Activities of the Blood Bank committee were given in a report by Mrs. Robert Mohr. The committee is planning a meeting for the last week in September to determine further action in recruiting an active blood donor list to refer to.

Mrs. Mohr has resigned her position as corresponding secretary and Mrs. Robert D. Moore has been appointed to take her place.

Mrs. William Wiley and Mrs. Richard Beasley have been accepted as new members.

The Auxiliary's new bulletin, the "Hospital Sheet," was distributed to members present and will be mailed to other members this week.

Bills were approved for payment and regular business discussed with fall projects holding the interest of everyone present. Mrs. Gibbs Barber and Mrs. Wilbur Andrews are co-chairmen for the Fruit Cake project this fall and it is hoped that this will be a tremendous success and full details will go out to all members.

Mrs. Tom Corkery has been appointed chairman of the Annual Holiday Ball and work has been started in planning another of the organization's most looked forward to projects.

Mrs. Robert Fuller plans to attend the State Conference of Hospital Auxiliaries to be held in Gaylord Oct. 8 and 9. Mrs. Fuller recently resigned as Vice President of the Board of the Greater Detroit Area Council of Hospital Auxiliaries and Mrs. Eugene Miller of Pontiac stepped into her place assuming presidential roles at a recent election of officers. Mrs. Fuller remains on the Board as Parliamentarian.

Mr. Niggerman is to be guest speaker at the October meeting, his subject to be announced later. Mrs. Cecile Smith and Mrs. Richard Coak have an interesting speaker for the November meeting.

Turf Reports

main cause; air and plant food. That's what ails most lawns, all right so you give it a whole bag of "Special super formula," or the old reliable 10-6-4 back in the spring but was that enough to keep it going spring summer and fall?

Answer for sick lawn: not by a long shot! Make no mistakes about it, to grow well grass needs to be fed well and often.

The truth of the matter is that aerifying and fertilization are the two most important items that you can attend to from now until growth is stopped by cold weather. Mowing is important, yes, but aerifying and fertilizations, double yes.

The two basic principles of lawn feeding to remember are these

1. Be generous with fertilizer and apply at least 4 times per growing season.

2. Cultivate, aerate, or by some means loosen and aerify the soil that the fertilizer can reach the roots.

Nearly all lawns and garden soils, even sandy soils as we have here in Tecumseh and area, become compacted or crushed at the surface under traffic, rainfall and other normal forces. Water and fertilizer cannot penetrate crushed soil, so that, unless water is applied very slowly over long periods, both water and fertilizer go down the drain.

How to aerify a lawn:

Aerifying means punching holes in the lawn a few inches apart and several inches deep. The holes should not be made by a solid instrument like a crowbar, but a tubular instrument which removes thin cores of soil.

In a regular lawn maintenance program its a good rule to apply one pound of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet once per month during the growing season. To know how much of any kind of fertilizer to apply to supply one pound of nitrogen, divide 100 by the percentage of nitrogen listed on bag of fertilizer, or the first figure of the analysis—if the analysis is 5-10-5 the first 5 means 5 per cent nitrogen. If its 10-6-4 the 10 means 10 per cent nitrogen, and so on. The other figures of the analysis refer to percentages of phosphorus and potassium.

So with the lawn aerified and with fertilizer applied at the correct rate to provide one pound of nitrogen per 1,000 sq. ft. per month, we come now to what kind of seed to use.

The only requirement here is that you use good seed composed of permanent grasses (Merion, Kentucky blue grass, bents an da nubber of fescues) and suitable to your locality.

By all means if you had soil brought in for a new lawn it's advisible to have it tested by your county agricultural agent.

In a nutshell, no matter what kind of grass you fancy in your lawn, the three-way key to success is the same for all:

Aerify, Fertilize, Mow!

Next week: Merion Bluegrass.

MSU To Display Mosasaur Head

Museum specialists at Michigan State University are re-creating the head of a huge mosasaur or giant sea lizard which sank beneath a great sea covering Kansas 60 to 75 million years ago. Remains of the marine animal related to the dinosaur were deposited in a high chalk cliff which now rises some 200 feet above flat plains near Scott City in western Kansas. ## Band Festival Not Far Off

The big Lenawee County Band Festival to be held here Oct. 1 is beginning to take form as the bandmasters train their groups. This event will be especially interesting because of the variety of the individual stories. You will hear about Santa Claus, the Gay Nineties, Birth of the Blues, etc., and you will see the County Fair.

Lenawee is proud to have been the first county to put on this type of festival. We are fortunate in having the backing of the Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce and our master of ceremonies, the Rev. Blair Bashore, will be at his usual post.

People come from far and near to see the boys and girls of Lenawee do their strutting, make their formations, and to hear them play catchy tunes. There is not a dull moment in this show from the playing of 'To The Colors," until the great massed band renders the National Anthem.

Plastic Wall Tiles Finding Use Throughout The Home

Since introduced in 1947, plastic wall tile has gone from the bathroom to the kitchen, to the dining room to the bedroom.

From a negligible amount in early 1947, sales have grown to roughly 125,000,000 square feet in 1956.

The phenomenal success of plastic wall tile is due largely to its strictly utilitarian virtues — ease of installation, cleaning and maintenance, its durability and light weight, and its tough resistance wear and tear.

But the journey from the bathroom to the rest of the house (even the living room is seeing more and more of it) also has been brought about by the tremendous increase in the variety of colors, sizes, shapes and styles of plastic wall tile available to the home owner.

The 15 to 20 colors now commonly available resulted from consumer preference as indicated by extensive market research carried on by plastic producers and fabricators. These popular choices were made from literally thousands of different colors.

The former range from the common colors of blue, red, and yellow, black, green, white and so forth to practically infinite variations in hue and shade. Pastels have been developed, and pearlescent and marbleized colors have been put on the market.

So far as texture finish is concerned, plastic tile manufacturers have contributed tiles that are smooth and shiny, striated, scored, matte and subdued, even contoured to give the illusion of depth.

The variety of sizes has increased from the standard 4¼ x 4¼ inch size to 8½ x 8½ inch squares. Shapes have been expanded from squares to brick rectangles, half squares and trim pieces. Practically any shape can be cut from plastic tile by using an ordinary coping saw.

Designs can be and are taken from Indian blankets, Grecian architecture, and Father's herringbone tweed overcoat. Geometric patterns, modern abstractions, and renaissance paintings have furnished the inspiration for interior decorations using plastic wall tile.

machines — the scouring machine which removes the "bees wing" or beard of the grain, an oat machine which takes out all oats that may be mixed in, and a cockle machine to remove any seeds and cockle.

Then the grain goes to a storage tank until it is brought into the mill for grinding. There it is taken over a second series of scourers and the Drake Vacuum Aspirator, invented and patented by the mill superintendent. The aspirator finishes the cleaning process by removing any foreign matter or dust which might be left before grinding.

In the reducing of the grain into flour, the wheat is carried through a number of big steel rollers which crush and grind the grain. Thus the bran and any other fibre or unsatisfactory structure of the wheat which would be undesirable to the finished product are eliminated.

To make the high grade flour which is necessary for baking purposes, the ground wheat is put through a sifting machine composed of ten sections of silk. Each section of the machine has a different quality material, starting with a course grade and ending up with a fine quality silk. There are eight such sifting machines in the mill.

From this process, three flours are produced: "Snowkist," a cake flour made of soft red wheat; "White Gem," a soft white wheat flour used for pastry, cookies, and crackers; and Hayden's "1900," a blended flour for use by the farmers in their homes. Drake said that some farmers take back enough flour to supply the family with bread, rolls, pastry, and cakes the year around.

Hayden Mills has a storage capacity of 67,000 bushels of wheat. At threshing time, they buy all of the grain that they can store. The extra wheat used in the mill is furnished by Northern Michigan and surrounding elevators.

The flour is packaged in 100-pound bags and loaded into box cars for shipping. All flour that is shipped is dated. Last year about 92,000 100-weights, or 100-pound bags, were produced. The flour mill works on either two or three shifts of 18 or 24 hours, depending on the amount of business.

Under the direction of production manager John Sisson, the feed mill averages 500 tons of output every four-week period. Three fourths of the feed made is for poultry, 10 per cent for dairy, 7 per cent for swine, 5 per cent for rabbits, and 3 per cent for chinchillas.

According to Sisson, 99 per cent of the feed is made into pellets. The raw ingredients are bought, run through the grinder and then blown into separate bins. A formula card is followed when making up each feed.

All of the ingredients then go into the mixer. The only thing added is steam. The mixture is forced through two rollers or pellet dies to form the product. There are different size dies for the various feeds.

From the pellet mill, the product goes through the cooler and is then stored in bulk tanks ready to be packaged. Most of the feed is sold wholesale to hatcheries in southern Michigan and northern Ohio.

Chet Baker, elevator manager, has charge of buying grians, farm service (including such things as figuring formulas and inspecting chickens), and items in connection with feeding farm animal.s His department sells animal supplements, pellets, fattners, plant food, fertilizers, seed, antibiotics, medicines, sprays, and salt.

Christian Science Sunday Services

Man's God-given dominion over disease and discord will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Matter" is the Golden Text from I John (2:15): "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (381:20-21): "Think less of the enactments of mortal mind and you will sooned grasp man's God-given dominion."

Scriptural passages will include the following from Romans (8:5): "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of Spirit."

Supplies of all red meat in cold storage are down sharply from what they were last summer. Most of the reduction is in supplies of pork. It may mean a little brighter outlook for livestock producers.

Somebody better buy something this week, I want to go to the ball game in Hudson Friday night.

L. B. listed a good home on W. Logan that is worth the money. You can buy it on a contract and there is room to move around.

Looking for a motel site? 500 ft. on U.S. 112 E. of Clinton, $2,000.

Extra good buy. 2 family on W. Pott. st., buy on contract, rent half, sit by the fireplace and live practically free, payments are that good.

New 3 bedroom on Russell Rd. $1,000.

Nice cottage on Wamplers Lake. Close to dance hall. Buy on contract with small down payment. Compare this one with any. 3 bedrooms, full basement, large back porch, one price, $9,500.

River Acres, 3 bedroom, full basement, real nice. We can get this fin. Let us show you.

Murray Drive, 4 bedroom, sharp, not a rough one. On contract, low down payment.

E. Shawnee has plenty of shade. Also the nicest 2 family in Tecumseh. Priced O.K. Terms just as good.

The deal on the large brick home is getting better each week. Did I ever mention there is a complete apartment in the upstairs south wing? This would make half the payment. 2 acres of land. This is a good buy.

3 family on North Union. Joins Patterson school. If I dont' get this sold soon these people will lose faith in me. It is a good buy. Brings in $1,900 a year.

3 bedroom on South Union, look at it and make an offer.

2 bedroom cottage on Wamplers Lake. South short, not on the lake front. Cheap at $4,750.

Real nice brick home in Onsted, price is getting to where this will sell. This is a good buy.

130 acres joining Wolf Lake and Meadow Lake. Not going to try and sell you this, it will sell itself. 2 cottages, 7 trailer sites, but then all this will do is make you money, who wants to do that.

2 small apartments for rent. 2 bedrooms.

Man, you think you got trouble, last night I heard a lot of noise outside and looked, the kid's horse had opened the gate and let our head of steer out of the shed, went in, ate all the feed, then closed the gate so the steer couldn't get back in. Ever try and catch a steer at 3 a.m.? It's not fun.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

Bowser In Albion Line-Up

JIM BOWSER

Right halfback Jim Bowser, former Tecumseh High School football player, has impressed the coaches with his play this year at Albion College. On Sept. 21 against Wabash College, Jim will be starting at defensive right halfback because of the good blocking and tackling he has shown this early in the season. He will also see a lot of action at offensive right halfback where he is outstanding at pass receiving and offensive blocking. Jim began to show well at the end of the 1956 season but this year has really come into his own.

Inexperience And Injuries Indians Main Weakness

Tecumseh Griders Open Season

An experienced, injury-plagued but enthusiastic Tecumseh High School football team will open their season tomorrow night at Hudson under the lights.

Although the starting offensive line-up includes only three regulars from last year, no sophomore will start. On defense, Sophomore Jim Curth and Junior Leslie DeJonghe, out for football for the first time this season, will be at the end positions.

The offensive line will average 173 pounds with John Browne at 235 pounds, starting at center. The backfield, with Larry Yoakum and Gary Hanna, letter winners, at the halfbacks, averages 154.

Larry Yoakum, hard-running halfback is wearing a knee supporter but is expected to play.

Charles Baird, who would have been seen a lot of action at a guard post, and Dave Van Valkenburg, will not play because of head injuries received during practice this week.

Others injured beside Yoakum but expected to play are Ron Lewis, knee injury, and Browne, groin injury.

Nine backfield men and 19 linemen will dress to make the trip.

"The boys have enthusiasm and desire to play," Coach Breniff said.

Conceding that Hudson, with an all-senior line-up, is favored, Tecumseh's coaches and players are not conceding the game.

Game time is 8 p.m.

The high school cheerleaders will be on hand to encourage the Indians.

Starting line-up:

O'Neill and Lloyd Watson, ends; Gary Williams and Dave Hohenstein, tackles; Bailey and Elliott, guards; Browne, center; Dick French, quarterback; Yoakum and Hanna, halfbacks and Leonard Jenkins, fullback.

Rep. Meader Writes

The first session of the 85th Congress will be remembered: for passing the civil rights bill; for cutting the President's $72 billion 1958 budget by $5 billion; and for defeating the proposal for federal aid to school construction. Bills to exempt natural gas producers from federal regulation and for statehood for Hawaii and Alaska, although reported by committees, did not see floor action.

Although a compromise, the civil rights law is historic. It is the first law since Reconstruction days to carry out the 15th Amendment, which prohibits denial of the right to vote because of race, color, creed, or previous condition of servitude. Many southern states, under their power to determine the qualifications of voters, had successfully developed devices to nullify the 15th Amendment. The new civil rights act creates a commission to discover these devices and recommend measures for doing away with them and provides authority in the Justice Department, through court injunctions and otherwise, for enforcing the 15th Amendment.

The economy drive and the defeat of the school construction bill were not unrelated. The American people let their representatives know their resentment against increased federal spending, especially in new fields. Furthermore, advocates of federal aid failed to meet the burden of proof that states and school districts, traditionally responsible for education, lacked the financial capacity to meet existing classroom shortages. Although the figures are unreliable, since no two school districts compute their classroom shortages on the same basis, they show that shortages dwindled from an estimated 470,000 in 1953-54 to 169,00 0in 1957

Economy sentiment also led to sharp reductions in defense and foreign aid budgets. In my own view, even greater reductions could have been made without harm to any worthwhile programs. If the cuts can be shown to be too deep, however, Congress can always appropriate deficiency or supplemental appropriations.

This will be my last letter until the 2d session of the 85th Congress next January unless committee activities during recess should prove worthy of comment. Meanwhile, I expect to see many of you personally at home and hope you will give me the benefit of your views on the work of the recent session of the Congress and what you believe ought to be done in the next session.

Cold Room Is Common Problem

Does your house have one room that is colder than all the others? Don't be too alarmed, most everybody has the same problem.

According to heating experts, this is one of the most common problems in home heating. The fault may be with your furnace, but the most common cause of the cold room is the sun and wind—not the fault of your furnace, says Wilson.

The Minneapolis-Honeywell official says this is what happens: During the winter months the warmth of the sun is concentrated on the south side of the house. On the other hand, the prevailing winter winds are generally from the north.

Generally speaking the north side rooms of your house are the coldest. But specifically, a first-floor corner room on the north side of the house will be the coldest. This room is exposed on two sides to the winter wind. It gets no heat from the sun's rays which are on the roof two stories up. It loses heat that rises to the second floor. It is generally over a basement that isn't heated.

Often the cold room problem is solved by providing another heating zone in the north part of the house. Otherwise you will best solve the problem by providing the cold room with individual temperature control.

Chattering Pipes Cause Headaches

Keeping the plumbing system from hammering and chattering is a simple matter if the job is done right.

There are four common types of noises which can easily be avoided by proper installation and which can be corrected by a plumbing contractor — faucet and valve noise, water hammer noise, water closet tank noise, and water heater tank noise. In adidtion there are, in some plumbing systems, hissing noises caused by water flowing too rapidly in pipes.

Faucet noises are usually caused by worn washers, loose washers, or defective internal assembly of the faucet. By taking the faucet apart, a plumber can tell what is causing the noise and how to correct it.

Water hammer noises are caused by shock waves that result is suddenly stopped by the rapid closing of a faucet or valve. Water hammer noises should not be allowed to continue because they will eventually cause leaks in the plumbing system.

A frequent cause of water hammer noise is the loss of the air cushion in the air chambers near the fixtures.

Noise in the tank of the water heater are usually due to heating of the water too rapidly and at too high a temperature.

House Plan Altered To Improve Interior

Tecumseh Herald Photos

Most builders doing custom work will tell you that house plans are generally altered to suit individual needs and likes.

The plan that Mr. and Mrs. David G. Locke chose for their new home at 923 Occidental highway in Raisin township was no exception.

Major changes were made in the front where a porch was eliminated to make way for a second bathroom and vestibule.

They also transformed the breezeway into an all-year room with the addition of jalousy windows and enlarged the garage to include two cars.

With 1,650 square feet of floor space, the home has naturally finished oak floors throughout except for terrazzo tile in the bath and vinyl tile in the kitchen.

All of the wood trim is painted to match the walls and the doors of dark mahogany are all finished natural.

Other features are a sliding door cedar lined closet in the hallway leading to the three large bedrooms, pre-painted aluminum siding, a briar hill sandstone front, large thermopane picture window in living room that faces the front, birch plywood kitchen cupboards and a slate floor in the vestibule.

The kitchen, the room that was finished to suit Mrs. Mary Locke, is large and the cabinets are arranged in U-shaped manner.

The dropped ceiling over the kitchen cupboards is wallpapered to match the kitchen window drapes.

The living room, 14 by 24 feet, has a dining L, 14 by 12. The wet plaster walls are enhanced with a double coved and stipled ceiling.

The home has recessed lighting fixtures throughout except for the kitchen and master bedroom and pull-down lights over the dining areas.

The all ceramic tile bath has a large mirror the full length of the vanity, making it possible for more than one to use the wash basin at one time.

The full basement, when completed, will house a large recreation room, shower, fruit cellar, laundry and heating rooms.

The garage, 24 by 24, has two overhead wooden doors.

An oil hot air furnace provides the heat through the most modern type registers that fans the heat into each room and gives the appearance of small baseboard registers that are used in circulating hot water systems.

The gable roof overhangs 18 inches in front and back and is shingled in gray asphalt.

Unique is the bathroom off the master bedroom. Entrance to it is through two sliding doors, giving an appearance when closed of a second double sliding door closet.

Mr. Locke, who is a roofing and siding contractor operating from his new residence, did some of the construction work and sub-contracted the remainder.

Their driven water well is only 42 feet deep.

They moved from 421 N. Evans st. to their new home a month ago.

Overhang, Siding Give Low Look

Two factors primarily responsible for the distinctive styling of the contemporary home are the deep roof overhang and horizontal wood siding.

According to the Southern Pine Association, the overhang makes the house look much larger while the wood siding emphasizes the typical low, sweeping lines.

YOUR STAKE IN FOREIGN TRADE

You don't have to live on an ocean to have a big stake in this country's foreign trade—not by a long shot.

Take Wisconsin as an example.

According to the publication Maritime Affairs, a third of Wisconsin's total employment is affected directly or indirectly by world trade. This means that more than 313,000 Wisconsin employes, with an income of $1.5 billion, work in industries that depend on U. S. merchant ships to help carry a substantial portion of their products overseas. In addition, 130,000 persons on Wisconsin dairy farms are also heavily engaged in foreign trade. Last year the state's machinery exports came to $175 million; her automobile exports to $45 million; her paper product exports to $20 million; her dairy product exports to $18 million, and so on down the long list.

The impact of foreign trade on the economy of the leading Wisconsin industrial city of Racine has been the subject of research. Good examples are provided by two large farm implement companies. One of them estimates that 10 to 12 per cent of its Racine employes are directly affectd by exports. The other estimates that 25 per cent of its Racine manufactured farm equipment goes to overseas markets. And the city's exports are not confined to the products of heavy industry. Light industry is well represented too—with products ranging from hair clippers and tools to puzzles, wrapping paper and insecticides.

Next time you see a merchant ship flying the U. S. flag—either in actuality or a picture—you might profitably reflect for a moment on what foreign trade means to American employment, American wages, American living standards.

CONTRADICTION IN TERMS

In 1933, this was said of the Tennessee Valley Authority: ". . . the power program of the authority is not to be subsidized by the taxpayers . . . To carry out the President's plan for a 'yardstick', all costs of a comparable privately owned company were considered as accurately as possible. These include direct operating expenses and administrative overheads, interest, depreciation, and taxes."

The author of that was not a starry-eyed optimist but a top authority — David E. Lilienthal, then TVA's general counsel and a director. In another speech, made in the same year, he said: "The Tennessee Valley Authority is not to be a taxpayers' subsidy. It is a business undertaking."

That must have been reassuring then and it would be reassuring now — if the policy described by Mr. Lilienthal had been followed. But it has not been. Writing in Public Utilities Fortnightly, Ernest R. Abrams quotes Mr. Lilienthal's remarks and then analyzes in detail just what has happened, using set after set of official and incontrovertible figures. TVA's net interest payments for use of the government money it enjoys are almost infinitesimal. It pays no federal taxes at all, and relatively small sums to local government in lieu of taxes. The upshot, Mr. Abrams finds, is that taxpayer support of TVA's power operations came to $85,700,000 in the year 1956 alone! And it has been tax supported ever since it was created.

Self-supporting socialism is a contradiction in terms — and TVA is no exception.

His face seemed familiar as he walked through the office door, but I couldn't quite place him.

"Do you remember that home you sold us eight years ago out on the edge of town?" asked the middle-aged man.

At that hint, my memory came back and I nodded.

"Well," he said, "we've fixed it up a lot since buying it. Spent nearly $2,000 improving it. It's really nice now.

He continued, "But my wife's folks are ill in Ohio. We feel we should move there to look after them. So, we want you to sell our place for us."

"It's too bad you have to leave, Mr. Rowner," I said, "but we appreciate the chance to serve you again. We'll help you by taking on your selling worry."

"Good," he replied.

His home proved to be very attractive. The improvements were not just personal "whims," but substantial betterments which anyone would appreciate.

And, within a month we sold the property.

"I can see it doesn't make much difference whether you are helping a family to buy or to sell — you give conscientious service either way," Mr. Rowner said with a smile of appreciation.

May we help you SELL your property too?

NEWS OF THE FARM

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - - -

Farmers can expect hog prices during the first half of next year to average at least as high as they were during the same period this year, say Michigan State University farm economists.

Put a coat of hard paste wax over shop tools that rust easily. According to M.S.U. Agricultural engineers, the wax seals out moisture and will also help tools shed dust and dirt.

Dairy cows do better after they've had a vacation. Michigan State University dairy specialists say state DHIA records show that cows produce the most milk and butterfat when the dry period ranges from 45 to 75 days. High producers and thin cows need the longer rest periods.

Fertilizer dollars are better spent when what you buy and apply is based on a soil test, say Michigan State University soil scientists.

According to Michigan State University dairy specialists, a good ration for dry cows during the barn feeding period is legume hay and silage plus two to five pounds of grain.

New Alfalfa Best

Vernal alfalfa, during three years of testing at Michigan State University, has proven to be a better producer than Ranger alfalfa, winter hardy and resistant to bacterial wilt that often thins alfalfa stands.

H. M. Brown, farm crops researcher, also says Vernal stands up better under mismanagement.

Reds Far Behind U. S. Agriculture

So stated Everett Mitchell, director of agriculture for the National Broadcasting Company, Chicago, in an address to a farm conference at Michigan State University.

"All the work is done with hand tools on farms there," the speaker revealed. "The only modern farm equipment we saw was on a 750-acre demonstration tract in Moscow. And there was no evidence this equipment would actually work.

"Based on the equipment used on farms, they type of soil and the number of day-light hours each day, the average Russian farmer would be lucky to combine 40 acres a day."

The speaker, who recently headed a 16-member delegation on a five-week, 5,000 mile tour behind the iron curtain, pointed out the Russians claimed their farmers could put 200 pounds of weight on a hog in 11 months. "The average American hog farmer should be able to do the same thing in less than half the time," Mitchell said.

One Russian "Rube Goldberg-type" corn harvester described by Mr. Mitchell reputedly picked and shelled the ears, tossed them into a bin, chopped up the stalks and residue and pulled the root systems out of the ground. "There was no evidence that this contraption ever worked," said the speaker.

Women do most of the work on Russian farms," he said. "On a 750-acre farm which we visited, 375 of the 450 workers were women," he added. Crowded living quarters, a lack of clothing for the workers and antiquated methods and equipment characterize today's Russian farms, the speaker stated.

Falls Kill Many

More than 2,200 farm people die as a result of falls each year, according to farm safety specialists at Michigan State University.

Tumbles on steps and stairs cause about one-third of these deaths. Keep the stairs on your farm and in your home neat and free from accident-causing objects.

Corn Is King At Fair For Tecumseh FFA

Corn raising is the major crop raised in northern Lenawee County. That no doubt accounts for the large number of corn entries by Tecumseh High School Future Farmers of America at the Lenawee County Fair.

Their projects were under the supervision of the high school agriculture teacher, Paul Burns.

Township Committeemen Elected For Farm Programs

Results of the annual Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee election in Lenawee county were announced this week by Arthur Capper, ASC chairman. There were 1,025 ballots cast.

RIDGEWAY TOWNSHIP—Perry Younglove, chairman and delegate; Alfred Spohr, vice-chairman and alternate; Charles Benedict, regular delegate; Oliver Mueller, first alternate, and J. Gritzmaker second alternate.

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP — Lyle Whelan, chairman and delegate; C. J. Lewis, vice-chairman and alternate; Paul Geiger, regular delegate; Raynor Van Valkenburg, first alternate, and William Muckensturm, second alternate.

TECUMSEH AND CLINTON TOWNSHIPS — Martin Halley, chairman and delegate; C. Heimerdinger, Jr., vice-chairman and alternate; Ray Heilman, regular delegate; Ken Escott, first alternate, and Fred Feight, second alternate.

RAISIN TOWNSHIP — John Mitchell, chairman and delegate; Roy Cadmus, vice-chairman and alternate; Leslie Calhoun, regular delegate; Glenn Forsyth, first alternate, and Harold Johnston, second alternate.

ADRIAN TOWNSHIP — Roland Russell, chairman and delegate; Sam Mitchell, vice-chairman and alternate; Jack Burnett, regular delegate; Bill Weitenhagen, first alternate, and Floyd Ruesink, second alternate.

Capper announced that the new chairmen and vice-chairmen will serve as delegates and alternates to the County ASC Convention to be held Sept. 30 in Supervisor's room in the Court House.

The principal business will be the election of a county ASC committee to work with the community committees in carrying out conservation and soil bank programs, to establish allotments for corn and wheat and payment rates for farmers participating in the acreage reserve program.

State Is Tops

Farmers Need To Produce More

Livestock farming today is big business, a changing business, veterinarians were told at the 94th annual meeting of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Our nation's agricultural assets, according to the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, totaled some 157 billion dollars. Average dollar investment per farm totals $36,000 and often exceeds $100,000.

In 1910, 35 per cent of our population was on the farm; in 1956, only 13 per cent. If this trend continues there will be only 7.5 per cent on farms by beginning of 1958 to feed the rest of the nation.

To meet the needs of our population in 1975, the association estimates that 10 million more cattle and calves and 20 million more hogs will have to be slaughtered annually. To provide milk we will need either 6 million more cows or the annual production per cow will have to increase 1,400 pounds. We will need 90 million more laying hens or each hen will have to produce an extra 50 eggs each year.

Livestock and poultry farming are carried on to convert feedstuffs to food. To do so economically and efficiently is the challenge that faces the farmers.

Toads, Deer Also Mosquito Victims

The poet's statement that "the female of the species is more deadly than the male" is certainly true of mosquitos.

In fact, the male mosquito is quite harmless and may content himself with flower nectar while the female is out making miserable targets of fishermen, gardeners and anybody else outdoors, according to Dr. Roland L. Fischer, Michigan State University entomologist.

Man isn't the only one to suffer the wiles of the female mosquito, Dr. Fischer says. Deer, toads, birds, dogs and other animals also are attacked.

Not only does the female mosquito make like a dive bomber, but she has bad table manners — sometimes overeating until she can hardly fly away. And she's tougher. While the first frost usually means death for the male, the female mosquitos sometimes may weather the winter in tree cracks, crevices, cellars, barns and similar shelters. Comes spring and she is ready to start the season by laying eggs.

Mosquito eggs hatch after a day or two in water. When the larvae emerge as adults they do not travel far, usually ranging less than a mile, though strong winds may influence their range.

Erie Park Rebuilt

Three years of dredging and fill work at Sterling state park on Lake Erie south of Detroit was completed recently.

More than 2,500,000 cubic yards of earth were dredged up to form 140 acres of park lagoons and 240 acres of upland. Further plans call for building of an additional 120 acres of upland to enable the park to accommodate a daily capacity of 50,000 visitors.

John Adams was the first U. S. ambassador to England.

Tecumseh Public School Finances show a balance of over $12,000 despite the fact that the schools are operated on the third lowest tax rate in the county. Bills are paid currently and insurance coverage is adequate. The District retired $110,000 of the 1952 Tecumseh School Bonds and $6,000 o fthe Ridgeway District 1953 Bonds in addition to the regular yearly payments well in advance of their due dates.

The unused portion of the $1,900,000 Bond Issue of 1957 has been placed at interest as has the surplus in the previous bond accounts and are helping to defray a portion of the interest on these bonds. The Board has recommended an 8 mill rate for both operation and debt retirement for 1957-1958 which should enable the school to continue to operate as in the past. With the advent of the 1957-58 school year the District will have completed three new elementary schools, additions to three, and additions to the high school which should provide more adequate housing for the children.

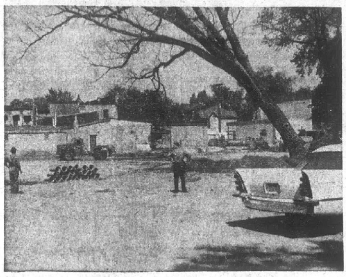
Elm Tree Gives Way To 14-Ton [illegible]zer

Springport Book Bindery
Springport Mich.



Tecumseh Herald Photos

A gnarly old elm tree, a victim of the Dutch elm disease, gave way to man and horsepower last Wednesday afternoon but only after a struggle.

The tree was removed to make way for improvement of the City's parking lot property on S. Ottawa st. between E. Chicago Boulevard and E. Pottawatamie st.

City crewmen chopped off many of the brace roots and trenched around the tree in a diamater of about 30 feet. A heavy steel cable was fastened around a large limb about 40 feet in the air and a 14-ton bulldozer, operated by Merlyn French, of Blissfield, for Roy Carr, an Adrian excavating contractor, hooked on the other end about 125 feet from the base of the tree. As the bulldozer pulled, the limb gave a little and then the cable broke.

French then took the bulldozer and dug a trench around the tree, breaking a few more brace roots. Before he was through digging, he was sitting in the seat about level with the ground around him.

When he hooked on again, he eased back and forth in the pull and finally the tree's tap roots gave way and she went to the ground in a resounding crash.

City crewmen cut it up in log lengths and they were hauled away with the aid of the city's crane.

There were many sidewalk foremen including City Manager E. J. Nelson and Mayor Hanna.

Editor's Corner . . .

BY RALPH BIDWELL

With the thought in mind that your school system should be the most publicized institution in any community, we accompanied the Tecumseh coaches and team to Hudson last Friday night to take a few pictures.

John Cook, a high school student interested in journalism and sports, is writing about the games for The Herald.

On the way over in the bus, we talked with Coach Bob Breniff about football, naturally.

Bob recalled the time he was playing guard for the Maumee, O., High School team and like every lineman at some time or another, he wanted to carry the ball on a play. His chance finally came and he charged into the line with every ounce of strength he had only to be stopped abruptly by a bruising opponent.

Bob got up rather slow and staggered around a bit groggy and the coach asked him, "Are you ok, Bob?" Bob answered, "Sure Coach" and fainted.

"I stuck to the line after that," he said.

* * * * *

Except for Hudson's success with the pitch-out and end run play, the game was fairly even. Tecumseh actually had possession of the ball on more plays and ground out more yardage through the middle of the line.

On the bus returning, Coach Breniff told his boys "In all the three years I've been here, this is the fightinest team I've had.

Super Highway May By-Pass City In Future

The State Highway Commissioner's Office in Lansing today said that the continuation of M-52 north from M-50 to connect with the new relocation of M-92, now being constructed from U.S. 112 for 5.3 miles to a point east of Manchester, is all a part of a five-year highway program to be announced soon.

At the present, the new bridge to be constructed across the Raisin in Tecumseh is a part of improving the existing M-52 from Adrian to Clinton.

The highway officials said that the survey was made in Franklin township a year ago when the State was exploring the most feasible route for connecting M-52 and the new M-92.

There has been considerable talk in the highway department about a direct route from the new Straits of Mackinac Bridge to the Ohio Turnpike through this area, he said, and undoubtedly the new M-92 and the new M-52, when and if it is constructed will be a part of this super highway.

Guy and Louise Hoover, whose farm begins 80 rods west of the township line road and is located on both sides of U.S. 112, is the first and only farmer in Franklin township who will be affected at present by the roadbuilding program.

Condemnation proceedings were started in Lenawee County recently for acquisition of 10 acres of the Hoover farm on the north side of 112.

An additional 30 acres of Hoover's farm needed for construction of 4 lanes and part of a cloverleaf interchange with the future 112 that will pass Clinton on the north, is in Washtenaw county.

The remainder of the distance north to Manchester will be two lanes.

Mr. Hoover said engineers told him that although two lanes were being built now, that right-of-way was being purchased for four lanes.

If the M-52 connection with M-92 is ever carried out, where the surveyor stakes are located the new road will be parallel to the township line road at a point 80 rods west.

In most cases the staked areas are on the west side of property lines and very few farms would be bisected by such a highway.

When and if the road goes directly south from the new M-92, another 10 acres of the Hoover farm will be condemned.

Chest Gifts Aid Sclerosis Victim

Mrs. James E. Hartsell of 108 E. Kilbuck St. has been spending the past five weeks at the Multiple Sclerosis Center in the Metropolitan Hospital in Detroit. She has progressed from the wheel chair to being able to walk with the use of crutches and hopes to be able to return to her home here in a week or two. Mrs. Hartsell was chosen as the subject for pictures for the United Foundation Torch Drive of that city, modeling the patient tilt board.

When Tecumseh residents contribute to the coming Community Chest Drive, part of the money will be turned over to the Michigan United Fund, which helps support the Multiple Sclerosis Center.

County Band Festival Next Tuesday Night

Officials of the County Band Festival are proud to announce that Lucy Lee Neiswander, (above) majorette of the Adrian High School band, is the national baton twirling champion and will take her place here with all the other fine majorettes in the county. She is a senior.

A whistle pierces the night. It is a young man or maybe a beautiful young lady calling the band together. You hear the click of the drums. Uniformed musicians hurry from all directions and fall into order.

This is the scene that will be repeated many times next Tuesday night, starting at 8 p.m., when the 11th annual Lenawee County Band Festival unfolds at the Tecumseh Athletic Field.

These festivals were started in Tecumseh just as an experiment 11 years ago and the idea met with such response that they have grown in size and popularity until now it is one of the largest outdoor events of its kind in southern Michigan.

This year you will see and hear 11 colorfully uniformed high school marching bands, combining over 600 student musicians each taking their part in this great production.

It is an intense moment when the program begins and the first band marches proudly onto the field. As the program moves along, one has moments of suspense, surprise and sheer wonder at the scene which is before him. Then there is the massed band at the end of the program under the director of Paul Rainier, music supervisor of Adrian Public Schools. It will play the "Military Escort March" and the "Star Spangled Banner."

To add dignity and solemnity to this already momentous occasion, the entire concert section of the massed band will play "Taps."

The program will also feature Lucy Lee Neiswander, national championship baton twirler.

The program is entitled "You Are There" and will feature the following high school bands, their directors and their themes for the festival:

Addison (Karl Able), "County Fair."

Deerfield (Harland Nye), "South of the Border."

Onsted (Harold Seager), "Paris."

Company Loans Bus To Schools

To ease Tecumseh's school bus problems, the Linn-Baker Equipment Co. of East Lansing has loaned the school system a new 60-seat bus until the two new ones are delivered.

The loaner was first used Wednesday on the city route in place of Bus 5. Bus 5 in turn was sent to pick up children in Tipton area in place of the school's large activities bus, which is badly in need of repairs.

Supt. James McDowell said the two new busses are being outfitted by the East Lansing company and are to be delivered about Oct. 5.

Issue 2 Tickets

In police action, other than accidents, tickets were issued to Louise Lawson, 34, of 7413 Murray Drive, for speeding 50 in a 35 mile zone on N. Evans st., on Monday night and Walter M. Davenport, 24, of 315 N. Union st., for running a stop sign at Occidental and Russell roads on Tuesday.

Mike Perez, 24, of Adrian, was fined $25. and $4.30 costs or 30 days for being drunk and disorderly in the City last Saturday night.

Merion Blue Grass

Turf Reports

BY LEO BISHOP

The introduction of Merion blue grass has proved to be exciting news to many home owners and others who are eager for blue grass which is superior in many ways when managed according to its needs. Yet, it also has some well-known family weaknesses and is not a miracle grass nor a cure-all for lawn worries.

It is a superior grass if its needs are met. Many of its requirements and characteristics are as follows:

It Recovers From Drought And Diseases

This carefully selected new grass remains green during heat and drought when other blue grasses go dormant or die out.

It was first discovered and attracted the attention of Joe Valentine, course superintendent of Merion Golf Club, who found it retained its dark green color when all the other grasses would go dormant in the hottest weather, it would stay green longer and recover sooner.

Requires Minimum Of Moisture

Merion requires less water than common blue grass. This is a distinct advantage in our locality

Rotary Learns Of Juvenile Problems

Carlos Jones presided at the Rotary meeting Tuesday night in the absence of the president. He announced that there would be no program at next week's meeting. Following dinner, the group will be free to attend the Band Festival being held that evening.

The September birthdays of John Surratt, George Green, Sr., Hal Kelso, Roy Titley, Bob French and John Zeigler were observed.

Clifford Knudsen had charge of of the program for the evening and introduced Mr. E. Peterson, instructor of Sociology at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, who gave an interesting talk on "Juvenile Delinquency."

Community Chest Drive Starting 1st At Products

The local Community Chest Drive is drawing near.

In fact, next Tuesday marks the beginning of the drive at the Tecumseh Products Co. Every employee is asked to contribute at least $5 to make the drive a success. They are urged to make their contributions by means of a payroll deduction at rate of a $1 a week for five weeks.

If an employee contributes by this means, he will be given a sticker to place on a front window at his home, so that house-to-house canvassers know he has given already.

This is the only local industry contributing in such a manner. All employees of other plants will be asked to contribute to the house-to-house canvassers during the regular Tecumseh area drive starting Oct. 15 and continuing through Oct. 31.

Vern Manwaring, chairman of this year's drive, reports that Mrs. H. H. Hanna and Mrs. Truman Rentschler have been appointed chairmen for the residential drive and are organizing captains who in turn will organize block chairmen, responsible for the house-to-house canvass in their blocks.

Richard Meyers, manager of the local Kroger Store, has consented to chairman the collections from business and professional establishments within the City.

William Davenport, local electrician, has accepted chairmanship for this year's drive in the Tecumseh township area outside the City.

The kick-off on Tuesday, Oct. 15, will begin with a breakfast for all the volunteering chest workers.

Hood Unlocks, 2 Hurt In Accident

Two members of an Adrian family were injured in a freak accident here last Tuesday and were treated at Herrick Memorial Hospital for head lacerations.

The injured were Mrs. Barbara Billow, 24, and daughter, Deborah, 4, who were riding in a convertible driven by Richard D. Billow, 26, when the car's hood unhooked and flew back over the top of the car, cutting the canvas top and incurring the injuries.

Billow told local police he was entering Tecumseh from the east about 60 miles per hour when the mishap occurred on M-50 just east of Rogers highway.

Three other accidents, all minor, were reported during the past week.

For running into the rear of another car and driving with a revoked operator's license, Roy Hicks, 36, of Tipton, was fined $50. and $4.90 court costs or 30 days

Tractor Damaged

A fire of undetermined origin incurred approximately $400 damage to an idle tractor belonging to Albert Musch, owner of the Tecumseh Greenhouse on the southeast side of the City.

The fire department was called at 2:50 p.m. Tuesday to extinguish the blaze that destroyed the wiring and two rear tires.

Musch said the tractor had not been running all day and was parked in an open field when suddenly his employees noticed it was afire. Apparently it started from a short in the electrical wiring, he said.

Publishers Announce Sale Of The Herald

It was announced by the Publishers of the Herald, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Belleville this week, that the Tecumseh Herald has been sold to Mr. Thomas Riordan of Marysville, Michigan and Mr. James Lincoln of Willard, Ohio. The new owners will take over September 30. The reported sale price was $123,750.

During the past year the business volume of the Herald has increased about 50 percent under the management of the Belleville's. The paper progressed from an 'ordinary' weekly to a modern format with wide picture news coverage, special pages (builders section, farm page, Britton page,) fresh news and wide public appeal and acceptance. The paid subscriptions climbed steadily and rapidly during the past year. Advertising results have thus greatly increased due to this increased readership and acceptance of the community newspaper.

The plans of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Belleville are undisclosed at this time. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Belleville and daughter, Stacy, are residing in Ann Arbor where Mr. Belleville is doing graduate work at the University of Michigan.

Thomas A. Riordan, originally from Detroit, age 35, is a journalism graduate of Michigan State College, was editor of the student daily there. After college he joined the Pontiac Daily Press. He was assistant editor of Detroit Edison Co. employee magazine for three years. In 1950, he purchased the weekly Enterprise-Review at Greenwich, Ohio and sold it in 1956. During those years it was rated as first in the state in use of pictures, personal column and typography (towns under 2,500). In the summer of 1956, after selling Greenwich, he accepted a position as general manager of the Marysville Printing Co., publisher of the three weeklies at Marysville, St. Clair and Richmond.

Mr. Riordan is married. His wife, Cherie, handled the books, advertising and circulation during their years at Greenwich. They have two children, Carol Ann, age 6, and Bernard Charles, age 4½.

James C. Lincoln, age 31, is a native of Ohio, a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, O., 1950. He has been assistant editor of the Willard Times since July, 1953, member of the Rotary Club, Willard High School athletic board, Masonic Lodge and Chapter. He is a member of the Methodist Church and served two years in the Air Force in World War II. His wife, Dorothy has been a teacher at Willard. They have a daughter, Katherine, age 2.

NOTICE

All of the Herald accounts receivable incurred prior to September 30, 1957 are not part of the sale but remain the property of the sellers. Prompt payment of all accounts with checks made payable to F. C. Belleville will be appreciated.

Lansing Family In Crash Here

A Lansing couple and their daughter were injured in an automobile accident just west of Tecumseh City limits late Saturday.

State Police at Clinton reported that the driver, Robert Lyle Young, 26, was going west on M-50 at a high rate of speed and as he rounded a curve hit his brakes and swerved to the right to avoid hitting a tractor and trailer in his lane, lost control and struck two trees, totally demolishing the car.

The driver was taken to the University Hospital in Ann Arbor suffering from a fractured left leg and thigh. His wife, Marilyn, 24, was treated at Herrick Memorial Hospital for lacerations of the scalp and nose and their daughter, Cynthia, 6, riding in the back seat, was treated for multiple bruises.

The accident which occurred at 11:55 p.m. is still being investigated by the State Police.

Young's occupation was listed as a mason tender.

Seeks Approval For Trailer Park On City's Edge

A request for approval of a proposed trailer park on the west side of Occidental road adjacent to an abandoned gravel pit and directly across from Beland's woodworking shop was taken under advisement by the City Planning Commission Tuesday night.

Robert Auten of Britton, who in making the request told the Commission that he was aware of the many stigmas connected with the operation of trailer parks, said his intentions were to build a park that the City and surrounding area would be proud of.

Chairman Robert Bonner advised Auten to return to the next Commission meeting on Oct. 7 and in the meantime the members would study the need for such a park in this area, the desirability of the proposed location, the sanitary facilities available and the traffic problems it might create before rendering a decision.

Auten told the Commission the proposed area was about 10 acres with approximately 700 feet frontage by 660 feet deep.

It is presently owned by Charles Irelan.

Auten said he contacted Tecumseh township officials and they apparently had no objections to establishment of the trailer park.

The City limits extends only 300 feet westward from the center of Occidental so the remainder of the depth is in the township.

Fix Area Boundaries

Parking Plan Closer To Reality

The City's downtown parking plan moved another notch toward reality Tuesday night.

On maps provided by the City Engineer, Calvin Zorn, members of the City Planning Commission traced in red pencil the boundaries of the proposed parking areas within each of the four downtown shopping blocks.

The boundaries include existing city property, used haphazardly now for parking, privately owned parking areas behind stores, a few dwellings and other buildings removed from street frontage and within the blocks and in many instances vacant or used mostly for warehouses.

These finished maps along with specific recommendations will be forwarded to the City Council who in turn must hold a public meeting before they are filed with the register of deeds and the properties frozen under a "Master Plan" system.

Thereafter when a certain parcel of the property is available or needed, it can be secured for the parking use by money if and when provided by local merchants or the City, whichever the case may be.

The City Engineer also provided comparison drawings of rectangulad and diagonal parking for existing city property for proposed parking areas in the Strand theater block and the present Police and Fire Station block.

If existing City property in these two blocks were surfaced properly, metered and lined, parking for 155 cars could be provided, he showed. Acquisition of the additional properties proposed would provide parking for another 142 cars in the same two areas.

Zorn showed that in a row, only 12 cars could be parked in diagonal manner as compared to 18 parked rectangularly.

However, members of the Commission agreed that the extra convenience of parking diagonally would offset the loss of a few parking spaces.

Bushes Rebear

Mrs. Russell Collins of Macon reports that six of her raspberry bushes are bearing for the second time again this year. She brought a branch with several ripe berries to The Herald, Tuesday, and said the bushes did the same thing last year. She has about 40 bushes in her patch.

Name Historian For Girl Scouts

Mrs. Clyde Mitchell has been appointed historian for the Girl Scout Association by the president, Mrs. Robert Anderson.

Her work this year will be done as an experiment to see if the results will be of benefit to the scouting organizations. She will keep a scrapbook and record of scouting in general and more particularly of the girl scout troops.

It is though that new people coming into scout work might benefit considerably by having a record of past events of the organization rather than having to gather information from various individuals.

It is hoped that histories for each future year of work in the organization may be filed with the custodian so that they will be available to anyone desiring information. Many of the members have found that projects are much easier to carry to completion if it is known how a similar project has been received in the past.

Mrs. Mitchell has also been asked to write a brief history of scouting in general including how the scout cabin was first acquired. Anyone familiar with this information is asked to call Mrs. Mitchell so that she may compile as complete a record as possible.

We went to the County Fair last Thursday, the night it rained so hard. We were impressed by the large number of 4-H entries and particularly, the names the clubs have chosen. Some of them are the Tipton Toppers, Ridgeway Sunnyrays, Holloway Homemakers, Tipton Kowzencropsters, North Franklin Hustlers, Macon Rangers, Holloway Hotshots, Raisin Cookies and the Lucky Clovers.

Broadview Farm of Tecumseh had their registered herefords at the Fair and Keeney Orchards of Tipton, growers of fruit since 1870, had a nice display of apples, peaches, grapes and plums.

As you have no doubt read by this time, ownership of The Herald has changed hands. oS after only six weeks here, we will be saying "goodbye."

It has been an enjoyable but a busy six weeks. We gained considerable experience, this being our first venture into the weekly newspaper field, and hope we contributed some little thing to the community.

We met many fine people while here including Coach Bob Breniff and his assistants, Supt. James McDowell, Earl Greene, Wayne Kaiser and Rufus Gillam at the schools, Mayor Hanna, City Manager Ed Nelson, Naomi Sallows, Calvin Zorn, Police Chief George Kilbourn and his staff, regular fireman Charles Manley and Lawrence Price, Robert Bonner, Yale Kerby, Dr. Ralph Helzerman, Aden Mead, Mrs. Veva Connor (where we roomed), Clara Waldron, Mabel Lockwood and Hugh Walters at the Products, Al Meyers, Joseph and Perry Satterthwaite, Vern Manwaring, Mrs. T. Rentschler, Russell Spalding, agriculture teacher in Britton, Clif Preston and many others.

By coincidence, my wife received a call from a newspaper publisher in Ada, O., two days ago and Friday we are going down to talk over the possible editorship of the weekly newspaper there.

"Tell Taxpayers All" School Heads Told

"Your taxpayers are like stockholders in a large corporations," Elmer E. White, executive secretary, Michigan Press Association, told more than 500 school superintendents meeting at the 28th annual conference of Michigan Association of School Administrators.

"And they are entitled to the same kind of report about goings on in their organization as is the stockholder," he added.

Among those present were Supt. James McDowell of the Tecumseh Public Schools and Rudolph Koczman of Britton-Macon Agricultural Schools.

In addressing the Mackinac Island meeting, White urged school administrators to regard a new law which requires publication of pertinent information about schools as a golden opportunity to tell their story to the public. "If conditions are good, he said, "you can compliment the people and the board of education. If things are rough, you can point it out in advance so they'll be ready and not unpleasantly surprised."

State law requires districts large enough to engage a superintendent to report, among other data, the value of the buildings, sites and equipment; number of students, teachers and classrooms; teacher salary range; and a statement of at least 100 words by the superintendent about the condition of the district.

White referred to a recent report by Dr. George Gallup of the American Institute of Public Opinion which showed that the desire for more information about education is second only to that for medical matters. He stressed that this desire would result in the need for more and better coverage of school affairs and stressed that this would benefit the capable school official, the parents and the school system.

Turf Reports

where rainfall and water supply is a constantly increasing problem. Actually it demands well drained soil and light soaking. I think more disappointments have been caused by too much water than by any one factor, except inadequate feeding.

Does Not Require Topsoil

Another advantage is that Merion does not require topsoil. It can be grown in fair sub soil or fair sandy loam, if fertilizer is disced or spike-toothed in at the rate of one ton per acre.

Does Best When Mowed Close

When aerified, fertilized, regularly mowed and sparingly watered, Merion forms a dense and vigorous turf that crowds out weeds and inferior grasses. It differs from common blue grass in that it can be cut very close and does best when cut at one inch or lower. When cut higher it does not form the close-knit sod that eliminates the weeds.

Establishes Slowly

One criticism of Merion is its slowness in becoming established; however, its growth the following spring is rapid.

Seed Alone For Best Results

If a seed is used at least 40% Merion with red fescue only can be grown successfully. If commercial mixtures are used, frequency of mowing cannot be overemphasized to minimize shading and crouding of Merion seedlings.

High Nitrogen Requirement

Since Merion has a high nitrogen requirement, fertilize regularly. Specific recommendations for Tecumseh and area are: Spring use 12-12-12 at 8 lbs per 1,000 sq. ft.

Each month use an organic fertilizer formula to scupply one pound of nitrogen per 1,000 sq. feet each time.

Lastly, for a good Merion lawn fall seeding is recommended anytime between Aug. 15-Sept. 25. It is important to aerify thoroughly in the spring and again in early fall. In a fall seeding, skip aerifying the first spring while the plants are becoming established.

If you have a Merion lawn or intend to put one in, this information I'm sure will help you for it has been compiled from eight years of research with Michigan State, Penn. State, Purdue U. and U.S.G.A. and many golf course superintendents that have helped in making this seed available to the public.

Next week: Characteristics of common turf grasses.

Letters To The Editor

Sept. 24, 1957

To The Tecumseh Herald:

Over a century ago Musgrove Evans and General Joseph Brown settled on this beautiful spot at the confluence of a creek and a river and called it Tecumseh. The creek and two streets are named for these men. Now the name Brown seems to have become too humdrum, too commonplace. How about "General Brown Drive?" Would that perk up our faltering egos?

I can't help but wonder if, when another century and a third has rolled around, another forgetful and unappreciative generation will seek to erase the name Herrick from landmarks created by a modern day pioneer.

Sincerely,
(Mrs. F. C.) Hazel F. Dickinson

Hood Unlocks, Two Hurt

by Justice R. L. French last Tuesday.

Hicks, driving west on W. Chicago boulevard, ran into the rear of another car driven by Talmadge Leo Tackett, 32, of 701 Pearl st.

Carroll Kuder, 73, a retired farmer, of Route 1, Clinton, was ticketed for making an improper right turn and colliding with another car driven by Richard W. Graf, 31, of 304 Center drive, last Wednesday afternoon at Oneida and W. Chicago Boulevard.

Graf was stopped before entering Chicago when Kuder swung too wide and struck Graf's automobile by the driver's door.

Gail Jacquelyn Douglas, 22, of 112 N. Pearl st., a secretary at the Bixby Hospital in Adrian, and Kenneth T. Zornow,, 29, of Britton, driving a City of Tecumseh truck, sideswiped their cars at Pearl and W. Chicago when both were attempting to make right turns.

Zornow told police he though the woman was parking her car at the curb and proceeded to turn right onto Pearl at same time she turned from the curb lane. No one was ticketed.

This accident occurred at 8 a.m. on Monday.

Eager Beavers Help Preserve Soil, Meadows

Beavers and squirrels are Michigan's original conservationists, says William H. Burt, curator of mammals at The University of Michigan.

"Small mammals undoubtedly have a profound effect on soils and vegetation," says the professor. "Burrowing animals are nature's tillers of the soil. They continually bring subsoil to the surface, open subterranean passages through which air and water can penetrate, and fertilize the soil with accumulations of vegetation."

According to Professor Burt, these animals also are nature's planters. "It has been said that were there no squirrels there would be no hickory trees. This probably is an overstatement, but certainly there would be fewer nut trees, if the great army of squirrels was not forever planting the nuts," he says.

And you can thank the beaver for his role as soil conservationist. "By damming the streams and impounding the water he kept the water table high and made possible the accumulation of debris and eroded soil behind his dams. Over a period of years meadows were formed where, had it not been for the beaver, there would have been a continuous forest to the stream's edge. These open meadows are feeding grounds for deer and elk," he points out.

"Mice and shrews, in their small way, help maintain the forests by consuming large quantities of injurious insects. By keeping the forest floor worked into a soft mulch, these little mammals help check the harmful erosional effects of the runoff of water."

. . . the latest news from Washington of special interest to Michigan . . .

THE PRINS CASIMER, a chunky little freighter flying the red, white and blue Dutch flag, took on a load of canned cherries at Muskegon last week, then swung north around the Straits of Mackinac, down past Port Huron, and opened her hold at Detroit to receive machinery and drugs. Outbound for Rotterdam and Antwerp, she belongs to the Fjell-Oranje Lines and is typical of the small vessels plying the lucrative Lakes trade.

By the time the Prins Casimir had passed Cleveland, Buffalo and Toronto, Captain Pierre Huilmand had taken on trucks, flour, hides and acid. His ship, expertly handled by a thirty-man crew, was drawing almost fourteen feet, maximum for passage through the shallow canals north of the St. Lawrence River. Only at Montreal could she load to her 1,800-ton capacity for the deep-water voyage across the Atlantic.

Not as long as a football gridiron and only 42 feet across her beam, the Prins Casimir takes a week to sail from Detroit to the sea. But as she steams along comfortably at ten or twelve knots, she has a window on the future. She treads around giant dredges cluttering the lush Thousand Islands and bypasses mammoth half-completed concrete works, getting a closeup of tomorrow's great Seaway route as it comes into being.

By 1959, when the Seaway opens, the Prins will trim 14 days from her 44-day round trip. New Canadian and American locks will reduce to a matter of hours the present tortuous two-day passage through the Soulanges and Lachine canals.

Banking on the Seaway's potential, her owners are planning two 10,000-ton, 100-passenger freighters for exports of American farm implements, chemicals and manufactures, returning with European glassware, clocks, liqueurs and the like. United States ship operators are making their plans, too. Farrell Lines, for example, is studying Seaway—Africa possibilities.

No doubt about it, the St. Lawrence Seaway will corner the bulk cargo tonnage of iron ore, wheat and woodpulp. But at the moment no one really knows how much of the highly profitable cargoes of manufactures will move over the new route. Reason: Seaway tolls, which will have a bearing on freight rates, have not yet been set.

I plan to report on tolls in future letters, but in the meantime you should know that there is a move afoot by the railroads, long-time Seaway foes, to render the route useless by boosting tolls. Right now the enemies of cheap water transportation are trying to shift the Seaway Corporation into the Department of Commerce, where they hope to strangle it stillborn. As one who has worked for years to bring the Seaway to reality, I do not intend to stand by and watch this happen. I have alerted President Eisenhower to the danger.

Christian Science Sunday Service

The unchanging, harmonious nature of all that is created by God, divine Mind, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

"Reality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon. Scriptural works of his hands are verity and judgment; all his commandments are sure. They stand fast for ever and ever, and are done in truth and uprightness."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (335:25-29): "Mind is the divine Principle, Love, and can produce nothing unlike the eternal Father-Mother, God. Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal. Nothing unspiritual can be real, harmonious, or eternal."

LITTLE WOMAN

Little girls seem to be "natural-born" little women, right from the start.

Laura washes for her dollies just as seriously as if she were tending a "real-life" family. She likes to bake tiny cakes and cookies too, and she has her own way of enforcing discipline when her dollies are "naughty."

Sometimes I'm amazed by her, even if I am her mother. And I am awed at the way God fashioned little girls, so that from the beginning they seem to sense that one day they will be mothers themselves.

When I take Laura to Church with me, she's such a little lady, demure and yet amazingly intent for one her age. I look at her. I see one of God's miracles, and I marvel anew. Watching a child grow is a perpetual lesson in Faith.

Sometimes after Church Laura lines her dolls up on a bench. She tells me that "the dollies are in church,"—and I don't feel in the least like chuckling at her childish antics. Rather, I am grateful.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible

But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at naught thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ. — (Romans 14, 10.)

If we will carry this thought always in our hearts, we will ever try to help the weak and erring instead of criticizing them; we will truly be kind and considerate — and ourselves be the stronger and better for it.

Busy Week Of Football At Home For Indians

Clinton, Manchester, Monroe CC Play Here

This is a busy week of football for Tecumseh's Indians. Three games were scheduled for the home athletic field. On Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. the freshman team, coached by Jack Trudeau, played Clinton's freshman eleven. Today at 6:30 p.m., the Junior Varsity under direction of Charles Gross, tackles Manchester and tomorrow night, the varsity plays their second game of the season, first at home, with Monroe Catholic Central.

BY JOHN COOK

With one game under their belts, Tecumseh's Indians prepared this week for their home opener with Monroe Catholic Central, who defeated Detroit Thurston, 6-0, last Friday.

Coach Bob Breniff placed special emphasis on offensive passing and a defense against end runs, two departments that cost the local warriors a defeat at the hands of Hudson last Friday, 18-2.

Tecumseh proved their strength through the middle of their line as they ground out a total of 131 yards by rushing and only nine by passing as compared to Hudson's 181 by rushing and 48 by passing.

A large percentage of Hudson's yardage was made on the pitch-out and end around play. Four such plays netted a total of 106 yards.

In fact, Tecumseh controlled the ball on 62 plays as compared to 43 for Hudson.

Tecumseh won the toss and elected to receive but fumbled a couple plays later in their own territory and Hudson recovered. Long end runs by Dar and Townsend soon put the ball on Tecumseh's five yard line. Townsend scampered the remaining distance on a reverse. Their conversion attempt failed.

Soon afterwards, Dar returned an Indian punt 25 yards to Tecumseh's 40 to set the stage for Hudson's second TD. Wide end sweeps again ate up the yardage and Townsend scored again on a 10-yard reverse to put the Tigers in front 12-0 as the second conversion attempt also failed.

"Duke" Elliott, Tecumseh quarterback, set up the Indians only marker when he boomed a 55-yard punt out of bound on Hudson's one-foot line. On the second play from scrimmage, Jim Neitling, Tecumseh guard, tackled Dar behind the Hudson goal line for the two-point safety and Tecumseh's only score against Hudson in two seasons.

The score remained 12-2 when the gun sounded for the half-time.

Hudson chalked up their third tally in the third quarter, marching 80 yards in 11 plays in the longest sustained drive of the game. Ralph Day, an end, caught Redding's six-yard pass in the end zone for the final score.

Friday's game here under the lights will start at 8 p.m.

J-V Line-Up For Tonight's Game

Predict Good Year Again For Pheasant Hunters

Michigan pheasant hunters will have as good a season this fall as they had last year.

More than 1,126,000 ringnecks were sent to their final fried, broiled and roasted destinations last year, most being taken from southern Michigan farms and fields.

This year, all checks add up to the prediction of another 1,000,000-plus season. If this happens, it will be the fifth consecutive year hunters have bagged more than a million birds.

However, it is still uncertain whether the pheasant is a cyclic species, subject to the same ups and downs that hit grouse, rabbits, foxes, snowshoe hares, and other small game.

If ringneck populations do go up and down, Michigan may be scheduled for a decline in the near future. Most cyclic species in Michigan move from high to low and back to high in 10 years. Michigan had a high pheasant take in 1944, with 1,401,000 bagged. The take dropped to a low of 453,000 in 1947, then began to climb back steadily to it's present 1,000,000-plus annual total.

Some states shoot pheasants longer and harder than Michigan. Their records indicate that this colorful bird, originally imported from Asia, cannot be shot out of existence where hunters have taken only roosters. And though most states protect hen pheasants, some even allow a limited take of Mr. Ringneck's better half.

Also, the length of season doesn't seem to matter to the ringneck — whether pheasant numbers are high or low. Field experiments indicate 90 percent of cock pheasants could be removed and the flock would still produce at top speed the following year. At present, Michigan harvests only about 60-70 percent of its cock pheasant population.

Protect "Woodies"

Michigan duck hunters are reminded to make sure their target isn't a wood duck when the waterfowl shooting season opens Oct. 1. State regulations again this year prohibit the taking of wood ducks.

Experienced hunters have no difficulty in recognizing the wood duck and waterfowl specialists say a good rule is: "If in doubt, don't shoot.

Building Material Dealers Welcome Handyma'am

Add the local building-material dealer to the list of places from which the "Men Only" sign is disappearing.

Women are taking an ever increasing part in the selection of such materials as roofing, siding, windows and doors — "Anything that has a role in the appearance of the house," a San Francisco lumber executive said recently.

He says the reason is that women today are insisting on more colors and textured materials on the outside of their homes as well as on the inside.

"As a team," he said, "the man and wife can decide more quickly what they want and they're more likely to be satisfied.

"The husband usually is looking for quality and a product that will be easy to apply or install, while the wife generally is concerned only with appearance. She wants materials that come in colors, or which can be painted to suit her tastes and harmonize with the decor of her home."

He described one instance in which a man and wife were shopping for new roofing for their home.

"The husband took a liking to a soft, green blend of asphalt shingles in a deep tone, but his wife explained that a dark-color roof on their ranch style home would make it look smaller, while a light color would give the house an appearance of height. They selected a light beige and later the husband came back and tod me she was right, that the house does seem larger with its new light roof."

Most building material dealers are welcoming the feminine invasion of their yards and buildings, he says, and are stocking more and more items appealing to women.

These include shutters and louver doors of ponderosa pine which add texture to home decor, and greater varieties of pine panel doors and wood windows which can be painted or stained to suit the housewives' tastes.

Paint departments have been expanded, wallpaper lines have been added, and many dealers now carry a line of light, specially-designed tools for the home handyma'am.

Prefab. Not New

A new industry developed in Ottawa, Ont., was reported in the June, 1882, issue of the Wood-Worker, says the Magazine of Prefabrication.

It was "nothing less than the construction of ready-made frame houses in sections, to be put together after they have arrived at their destination. They are transported in flatcars."

A number of the houses prefabricated in Ottawa were intended for homes in Manitoba.

Big Fuel Saver

Studies at the University of Illinois have shown that thick insulation can save as much as 40 per cent per year on heating bills and reduce operating costs of air conditioning by as much as 67 per cent.

Newer "Shape"

The monotonous proportions of a square room can be eliminated by treating one wall with a different color than the others, and installing a floor of ceramic tile, for example, in harmonizing or contrasting color.

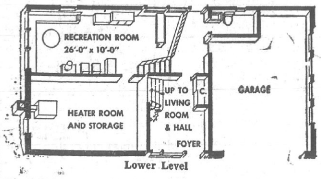
Living and Sleeping Levels



Lower Level

A popular theory among house hunters is that older houses offer more space for the money than new homes. Architect Rudolph A. Matern, of Jamaica, N.Y., has designed this modern split-level home as proof you don't have to be rich or old fashioned to have plenty of living space.

The house, from its colorful roof down to its 26-foot recreation room, is planned for a growing family.

There are four bedrooms, two-and-a-half baths, a 19-foot living room with adjoining dining room, and a kitchen roomy enough for a breakfast table and chairs.

Other unique space features Matern has built into the house are 10 closets, 10-by-12 foot entrance foyer, two-car garage with a work bench, and basement storage room.

Outside, the architect has specified asphalt shingles in a rich deep color for the unique combination of hip and gable roofs over the two levels. The asphalt shingles set the color scheme for the house and give it dependable protection from harsh weather.

Recognizing the growing enthusiasm of American families for central air conditioning, plus the need for economical heating, Matern also specified thick mineral wool insulation in walls and ceilings throughout the house.

Because it keeps summer heat out, the insulation makes it possible for the builder to install a smaller, less-expensive air-conditioning system, or for the home-owner to save on installation costs at a later date. Mineral wool also helps keep cooling and heating operating costs at the lowest possible levels.

Another thoughtful feature is the strategic location of the bathrooms. The main bath is at the head of a short flight of steps leading from the kitchen and the living room, while the second bath is off the master bedroom. The "half" bath is just inside the rear door, handy to the recreation room and the rear yard.

Further information, blueprints and specifications can be obtained from Rudolph A. Matern, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica, L.I., N.Y. Refer to Plan No. 9427.

Two-Car Garages Needed For Our Modern Homes

The two-car garage is fast becoming as necessary to a home as electricity, modern plumbing and an effective heating system, according to the head of the country's largest independent automobile financing firm.

Alan G. Rude, president of Universal C.I.T. Credit Corporation, reports that the number of American families owning more than one car will reach 7,500,000 by 1960 and at the current rate of increase, it will push past 10,000,000 by 1965. More than 5,000,000 families now have more than one automobile, he says, compared with 1,100,000 in 1948.

"Two-car families are growing at a rate of 500,000 a year, and it appears inevitable that the two-car garage will become an accepted standard for new suburban homes," he said.

The house with the two-car garage, he adds, moves faster on resale and is a much better investment for the home buyer, too, because in many sections of the country it is coming to be regarded as a "must."

No Bathrooms

One house in fifty built last year had no bathroom, reports the Plumbing Fixture Manufacturers Association.

Painting Porch Improves House

It's possible to improve the appearance of a house greatly by repainting the ceiling, railing, pillars and floor of the porch—even though the rest of the house is not done at the same time.

Hollow pillars and the spindles on railings are troublesome moisture-traps if not adequately protected with paint.

Yard Lights Add

It seems as though electric light—so essential to the indoor living pattern of the nation's homeowners—has been suddenly rediscovered. Now the Biblical injunction, "Let there be light," is being applied to yards and gardens as well.

As a result, houses and grounds have become unified and more families are getting more living value out of both. By lighting up the outdoors they gain, each day, several hours' more enjoyment of the land in which they've invested so much.

General Electric lighting experts explain it this way: You can light up the outdoors for the sake of beauty, fun, convenience or safety—or all four.

Flowers, shrubbery and trees can be even more colorful and attractive under artificial light.

Lighting can be arranged for sports, games and barbecues.

It provides more room for after-dark entertainment; more time for outdoor work in the cool evening hours.

It helps prevent accidents and discourages trespassers.

Ten areas you can light effectively are: steps and walks, porches and terraces, dining and cooking areas, work areas, trees and flowers, play areas, pools, driveways, fences and gates, entrances.

An increasing number of manufacturers are developing lighting equipment to serve the many purposes of outdoor living.

3 New Building Permits Issued

The city has issued three building permits so far this month for new construction. Two were issued to Haeussler Construction Co. to construct two one-story frame houses, 24 by 38 feet, on Ternes between Brown and Munger streets.

R. A. Preston, 316 W. Pottawatamie st., obtained a permit to build a two car wood frame garage at his residence.

Priming A Must Before Painting

Homebuilders exhibiting houses during National Home Week will have put into their products many all-important details that the home buyer is unaware of. Such a one is priming, a must in preparing all new surfaces for painting.

UNUSUAL MERIT

A bill which is strongly supported by both parties in Congress, including the liberal and conservative wings of those parties, obviously has unusual merit. That was the case with a measure which was approved in the closing hours of the first session of the current Congress. Its purpose is to protect the files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation—a protection which J. Edgar Hoover and other authorities regard as absolutely vital if this Bureau is to continue to deal effectively with subversion and other grave crimes.

Need for such a bill was brought about by a Supreme Court decision and a subsequent series of decisions by lower federal courts. Under precedents thus established, the government could be forced to open all its files on demand of the defense. In the case of the FBI, this meant that its sources of information and methods of investigation would become known to all—to the vast benefit of criminals. It also meant that serious harm might be done to innocent people if the contents of its "raw" or unedited files, which naturally contain unproven rumors and charges, were made public.

The matter was a very delicate one. On the other hand, it was necessary to protect defendants from proceedings of a Star Chamber nature. On the other hand, it was necessary to save the FBI from potential disaster. The new bill is designed to attain both objectives. It states that defendants are entitled only to reports relevant to a witness' testimony. Then it authorizes trial judges to examine wanted reports, and to decide which parts should legitimately be given to the defense.

FAITH IS A MEDICINE

The marvelous achievements of American medicine in combatting disease and alleviating the ills the flesh is heir to are fairly well known. But there is another side to modern medicine—and an enormously important side, even though it has nothing to do with medication or surgery.

Writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association, Milton Golin says: "Today, medicine and religion are drawing together more closely than ever before. No longer, as occasionally in the past, do the doctor and the clergymen find themselves in competitive roles. Instead the men in white and the men in black, aware of a relationship between faith and health, are joining forces in mutual concern for the 'whole' patient."

A large portion of American hospitals now either have religious affiliations or provide in other ways for ministering to the spiritual needs of patients. And one leading medical center has gone so far as to institute a program under which ministerial students from theological schools are given training—and medical students are offered courses in religion.

Modern medicine recognizes that faith is a medicine—sometimes the most effective of medicines. It is necessary to the late Sir William Osler, said: "Nothing in life is more wonth late Sir William Osler, said: "Nothing in life is more wonderful than faith—the one great moving force we can neither weight in the balance nor test in the crucible."

Realty Views

The Brantons, a young couple with one child, stopped by to talk about buying a home. Specifically, they asked about a $10,000 house we were featuring.

"Before we look it over," I said, "let's find out the features you want in a home, and the size down payment and monthly payments you can conveniently handle."

"Fine," said Bill Branton. Our discussion disclosed that a $10,000 was well within their means. So we went out to inspect it.

The Brantons liked the house very much, but insisted on seeing another one, $1,000 cheaper. It was a good home too, but not quite as appealing.

"I can see the difference in price easy enough," Bill Branton volunteered. "The extra concrete driveway and patio, the nice fireplace, venetian blinds and the larger square footage all add up to $1,000, or more, of extra value."

"Yes," said Sally Branton, "and the first home would be more enjoyable every day we lived in it because of the larger rooms and the more attractive appearance."

"Well, Sally," Bill asked, "should we tie it up?"

"Sure," she said, "it's the home I want. And I know we can afford it. The monthly payment is only $5 more per month than our present rent payment."

Breakaway Runs By Tories Buried Waldron "11", 42-7

BY LARRY IVAN

The Britton-Macon Tories ran wild here against the Waldron Spartans in their first league game last Friday. The game, interrupted by a steady drizzle in the third period, saw Britton come out on top 42-7.

The Tories are captained by Merl Sanch, Tom Conrad and Leo Bactol.

They opened the scoring early in the first quarter when, after eight plays Cal Rhorback, the starting quarterback sneaked across from four yards out. Sanch booted the extra point.

Halfway through the second period Waldron was forced to punt from their 18. The pass from center went wild into the end zone and the intended kicker fell on the ball with Sanch right on top of him for a safety making the score 9-0.

Waldron kicked off from their 20 to the Britton 43. Dean Clement caught the ball and galloped 41 yards to the Sparton 16. Three plays later Clement scored from two yards out.

In the second half it was Clement again, receiving the kickoff and going 30 yards. A clipping penalty was called and Britton was put back to their 25. In four plays Britton moved to the three with Clement going for runs of 48 and 35 yards. Van Valkenburg scored and Sanch converted to make the score 23-0.

Six plays later Clement received a punt and romped 53 yards to paydirt. Sanch converted again with the score 30-0.

In the fourth quarter Rohrback intercepted a pass on the Sparton's 38. After two 15-yard penalties were called on Waldron, Larry Miller scored from the six. Sanch's attempt was wide. Then after Waldron fumbled and Britton recovered, Prochaska scored on an end sweep good for 5 yards, the extra point was wide and the score 42-0.

With ten seconds remaining Wedge Jones a Waldron halfback caught a pass for 47 yards to paydirt. He caught a pass for the extra point.

Britton's defensive wall continually trapped the Sparton quarterback for losses. The defense was spearheaded by Sanch, Conrad, Henning, Bactol and Clement.

The game was witnessed by 102 spectators.

Tomorrow Britton plays away at Adrian Catholic Central.

State To Sell Choice Cattle

Sale of approximately 400 head of high quality registered Holstein cattle now in state institutional farms will be made late in October and early in December, the Michigan Department of Agriculture announced today.

The decision was made by the 1957 Legislature, making it possible for dairymen to buy some of the best brucellosis tested cattle that have been developed.

The place, time and offerings of registered Holsteins at the forthcoming sales are: Coldwater State Home & Training school, 11 a.m., Oct. 24, 90 heifers and five service age bulls; Lapeer State Home & Training school, 10 a.m., Oct. 30, 120 head, about 30 cows, three young bulls, several springing heifers; Traverse City State hospital, noon, Dec. 11 and 12, 90 milking cows, 100 heifers, and five bulls.

Dairying Shows Decline In Area

Dairying in the Tecumseh area Britton area is gradually giving way to cash crops and feeding, according to Arthur Capper, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilizing and Conservation Committee.

At the present time corn is king, Capper said.

Wheat and soybean growing is second with smaller cash crops such as tomatoes next. Dairying follows with cattle and pig feeding which requires much less work, gaining in popularity, also because of greater profit returns.

Wool Producers Incentive Payments Total $28,856.

Wool producers of Lenawee county have received a total of $25,215.69 in incentive payments for 152,444 pounds of shorn wool which they sold in the 1956 marketing year ending March 31, 1957, it was reported this week by Arthur Capper, chairman of the county ASC committee.

Producers of the county have also received $3,640.96 in incentive payments on sales of 859,315 pounds of unshorn lambs to compensate them for the wool on the animals.

The incentive payments received by producers are not after deductions of the one cent per pound from shorn wool claims and five cents per hundred weight from unshorn lamb claims as authorized in a referendum of wool growers in 1955. These dedeductions go into a national fund for the promotion of the wool and sheep industry. Such deductions in Lenawee county for the 1956 marketing year have amounted to $1,723.31.

The shorn wool incentive payment rate was fixed at 40 per cent of the dollar returns which participating producers received from the sale of their wool. This percentage is sufficient to bring the national average dollar return up to the incentive level of 62 cents per pound. The national average price received by wool growers in the sale of shorn wool in the 1956 marketing year was 44.3 cents per pound.

The incentive payment rate on unshorn lambs for the 1956 marketing year was 71 cents per hundredweight of live animals.

Substantially the same program as for 1956 is being continued for the 1957 wool marketing year which began April 1. The wool incentive price is being continued at 62 cents per pound, grease basis. The payment rates for 1957 program will be determined in mid-1958 when the average wool price on 1957 marketings becomes known. The wool and unshorn lambs must be marketed between April, 1957 and March 31, 1958, to be eligible for payment under the 1957 program. Applications for payments must be filed with the county ASC office, where complete information on the program may be obtained.

The program was authorized by the National Wool Act of 1954 as a means of encouraging farmers to increase annual production of wool in the nation by 300 million pounds.

Wheat Soil Bank Closes October 4

October 4 is the deadline for farmers to sign up in the 1958 winter wheat acreage reserve program.

That reminder comes from Charles Beer, extension specialist in agricultural economics at Michigan State University.

This date is also the last time farmers may change or cancel their agreements.

Wise use of the soil bank program fits in with other good farm management techniques, says Beer. Your county agricultural agent can help you decide where the program can best be used on your farm.

According to Beer, any farmer who has an "old farm" wheat allotment for 1958 and who usually produces winter wheat may place wheat allotment acres in the acreage reserve this fall. However, farmers who have wheat allotments for the first time are not eligible to put land in the wheat acreage reserve for 1958.

Check with your county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office for information on eligible land and other benefits, says Beer.

Hold Graveside Service For Baby

Private graveside services were held last Thursday at 2 p.m. for the infant daughter, Deborah J. Miller, of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Miller of Ridgeway. The baby passed away Tuesday evening, Sept. 17, at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

She was 6 months old, born March 27, 1957, in Tecumseh. Her mother's name is Karen Swanston Miller.

She is survived besides her parents by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller of Saline, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Swanston of Clinton, her great grandmothers on her fathers' side, Mrs. Mable Needham and Mrs. Ann Miller, both of Saline.

Her name was on the cradle roll at the Macon Methodist Church. The pastor of the church, the Rev. Donald Bates, officiated at the services at the Ridgeway cemetery.

Absent: Councilmen Hamilton and Brazee.

The following preamble and resolution was offered by Councilman Kelso and supported by Councilman Schlegel.

WHEREAS the replacement of the bridge spanning the River Raisin on North Evans Street, said bridge being otherwise known as the Red Pond Bridge and being designated by the Michigan State Highway Department as Project B 2 OF 46-21-5 C-2, is now pending; and

WHEREAS the estimated cost of said project is $196,000.00 of which amount the sum of $30,000.00 is the aliquot portion which the City of Tecumseh must pay; and

WHEREAS it is necessary that monies be raised and set aside for the payment of said share of the City in said project.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT:

1. Pursuant to the provisions of Act 175, Public Acts of Michigan of 1952 (MSA 5.3190 et seq.), the City raise said $30,000.00 by means of a Bond Issue, said Bonds to bear interest at no greater amount than 4 per cent per annum, to be redeemed at the rate of $5,000.00 per year.

2. Said Bonds shall be Serial Bonds with annual maturities, the aggregate of which shall not exceed Six Years from the end of the calendar year of issue, the first of which shall fall due not more than two years from the date of issuance, and no maturity after two years from date of issuance shall be less than one-third of the amount of any subsequent maturity; and said Bonds shall be redeemable upon any interest due date with interest paid from date of issuance to said due date, all as is more particularly set forth in the attached Exhibit A, said Exhibit being the substantial form of the completed Bond and which is incorporated within this Resolution by reference.

3. Said Bonds shall be payable primarily from the proceeds of revenues derived from State collected taxes returned to said City for road purposes pursuant to law; and said revenues are irrevocably appropriated for the payment of the principal and interest upon said Bonds; but if, for any reason, said revenues are insufficient to retire the principal and interest of said Bonds, the full faith and credit of the City is pledged for such payment and the City shall be obligated to pay said Bonds and interest to the same extent as other general obligations of the City, and shall be reimbursed from subsequent revenues received from State collected taxes returned to the City for road purposes pursuant to law.

4. The City Clerk is requested to publish a copy of the Resolution in The Tecumseh Herald on September 12, September 19 and September 26.

AYES: Unanimous.
NAYS: None.
RESOLUTION DECLARED ADOPTED.

THE LONG and SHORT of it

BY TOM RIORDAN

The later part of last week was certainly a busy time for Jim Lincoln, my partner, and myself.

We spent it going about the enjoyable task of meeting folks in the Tecumseh area.

It really was a lot of fun and we know we're going to relish producing your community's weekly newspaper.

We also met many area newspapermen and they all assured us they stood ready and willing to assist us should we run into problems—and who doesn't?

Some news was probably not gathered for this week's issue and some advertiser undoubtedly missed. Press time for that first issue just rolls around too quickly, but things should gradually improve with time.

How did it happen we decided to buy The Tecumseh Herald?

Of the towns and cities we looked over this summer in our efforts to find "that" paper, this community stood head and shoulders above all the others.

In Tecumseh there is vitality and growth, fine schools and churches, progressive business establishments, substantial industry. As we saw it, Tecumseh is a place where young folks with ambition and a willingness to work can fashion an exciting and rewarding future.

It's a family-type community, one in which a person wants to raise his children. (So far, Jim has a little girl and we have a girl and boy.)

Between us, Jim and I have had more than 10 years of experience in the weekly field and that's the sort of newspapering we like best.

Both of us get a kick out of writing, selling advertising, taking pictures—and joining the gang in the backshop on press days to help make up pages and mail out the paper.

We feel the variety offered in weekly journalism beats the daily field, magazine, public relations, radio and television news.

In addition, followers of the weekly are so much more appreciative. They carefully read their hometown weekly, no scanning here.

This week's lead editorial formally states our broad policy. Briefly, it might be summed up by saying, we want to do a job for the people of this readership area.

News is the backbone of any newspaper and that's what we will pack our pages with every issue. Your help is requested on this point. Lots of stories are self-evident—council and school activities, sports—but there are plenty which The Herald can get only through a tip from a reader.

Needless to say, Jim and I will greatly appreciate hearing from you should you have a bit of news. That goes for small as well as big yarns.

With complete photographic equipment and an engraving machine right in the office, we'll be putting emphasis on pictorial treatment of the news.

Our plans call for a page of pictures each week, either an assortment of miscellaneous shots or a picture story at a party or festival or dance.

Once again, your assistance on what might make a good pic or complete layout will help make this feature a success.

Letters to The Herald—whether brickbat or praise—are always welcome. These must be signed if they are to be printed. However,

90 YEARS YOUNG — David Gibson

AREA FOLKS START FUND FOR WIDOW

Life Starts Anew for Mother, Son

A young and ambitious Tecumseh father, a rookie in the Michigan State Police, will never enjoy romping with his one-year-old son nor share life's happiness with his 21-year-old wife.

A tragic ending occurred Monday afternoon when a murderer shot him down on North Adrian Highway, les sthan 10 miles from his home and family at 415 W. Pottawatamie.

MOTHER AND CHILD—Alone no w. Kay Pellott and son Gregory.

Dead is Trooper Dugald Pellot, 23, a member of the State Police since June, 1956. Instead of being home with his family today or completing plans for a hunting trip with local friends, his funeral service will be held.

Rites for Trooper Pellot will be this Thursday afternoon at 3 at Estes-Ledley funeral home at Lansing.

Friends, including many in the State Police, paid their last respects to him and his family here Tuesday evening at the Collins funeral home.

He was born in Lansing on July 21, 1934, and lived most of his life there. Before joining the State Police, he was employed in the National Guard, at a Lansing service station, and later at an automobile agency.

He moved to Tecumseh shortly after being assigned to the Clinton post in August, 1956.

Tribute was paid to Trooper Pellot and Indiana Trooper William Kellems, who was shot and killed white attempting to apprehend the fugitives in the downtown district of Scottsburg, Indiana, at the Lenawee County Band Festival here Tuesday night.

The tragedy started northwest of Tecumseh about 3 Monday afternoon on US-112 when Trooper Douglas Vogel, 27, of Clinton, was shot.

His condition, after a three-hour operation Monday night, is now reported satisfactory, and he is expected to recover.

The two fugitives, Ralph Walker Taylor, 36, W. Va., convicted rapist, and Victor Wayne Whitley, 26, Granger, Texas, fled after shooting Vogel, but were spotted by Sgt. Frederick O'Donnell of Tecumseh and Trooper Pellot. The fugitives were in separate vehicles.

After stopping Taylor in a station wagon, O'Donnell started to chase Whitley, who was in another car, when Pellot was fatally shot.

The gunmen then turned westward and near Springville, they forced Henry Crowe off the road, trussed and gagged him, and fled in his Studebaker.

In Jackson, they abandoned Mr. Crowe's car after stopping a school teacher's wife in a Buick. The young lady was bound, gagged, and left in the Crowe car.

The fugitives were sighted heading south near Ft. Wayne, but evaded numerous roadblocks until near North Vernon, Ind.

Here, Taylor, who violated his parole in May after being released from prison just last February, was killed in a gun battle with Indiana troopers and police.

Whitley, after driving a few miles from the roadblock, fled into a thicket where he surrendered about daybreak Tuesday morning.

DUGALD PELLOT

DOUGLAS VOGEL

The wild and tragic escapade of the two criminals lasted a little over 12 hours and claimed the lives of two troopers, one of the fugitives, injury to four others from gun battles, and the kidnapping, trussing and gagging of Mr. Crowe and the Jackson lady.

Just before Whitley fled into a woods near North Vernon, he released a deputy sheriff whom he had captured at a roadblock.

Tecumseh Police Chief George Kilbourn and local officers established a roadblock at Occidental and M-50 shortly after Trooper Pellot was killed, and set up another block at Billington Corners early Monday evening. Local officers held the roadblock until released about 4:30 Tuesday morning.

Cannisters Out

The 21-year-old wife and one-year-old son of Trooper Dugald Pellot are not to be forgotten by the people of Tecumseh and neighboring areas.

A fund drive, in recognition and appreciation of the trooper's services to the community and vicinity before his tragic death, has been started.

Merchants have been asked to put out canisters in their stores for contributions. Donors may also mail them to the Bancroft Cleaners, or to the Tecumseh Police Department.

It is the hope and appeal of local officials that people are generous. Mr. and Mrs. Pellot were married just over two years ago, and she will receive only a small pension from the state.

In Clinton, there will be benefit midget races Sunday ata the Junior Chamber of Commerce track on US 112, one-half mile west of Clinton, with all proceeds going to the widow of Patrolman Pellot. The Tecumseh Jaycees and Cam Twisters will also lend their combined efforts to this project.

Folks in the Clinton area wishing to donate by mail may send contributions to the JCs there.

David Gibson, Britton Settler, 90 Saturday

Friends and relatives will help David Gibson, 200 E. Logan St., celebrate his 90th birthday Sunday, Oct. 6, at the Methodist Church from 3-5 p.m.

Those attending are asked not to bring gifts.

Mr. Gibson who says he "never has retired" still keeps in touch with operations on his farm located on the road between Holloway and Deerfield.

Although he has been in a weakened condition for many years, his eyesight and mind are as sharp as ever.

Mr. Gibson said he was born in Ballymena, Antrim County, Northern Ireland, Oct. 5, 1867, one of 11 children and accompanied his family to a farm that is now Britton when he was 12 years old.

Three older brothers had come to America two years previously and made arrangements for the family to follow.

"A one room red schoolhouse and three homes within a half mile of each other were the only buildings where Britton now is located," he said. "Later when the railroad went through, the town of Britton grew from Ridgeway."

He attended the red school and worked for neighboring farmers and when he married Maud Cannon, daughter of a Deerfield farmer, on June 22, 1904, Gibson operated a general store in Palmyra for two years and then moved to Deerfield where he managed his father-in-law's farm that now belongs to Gibson and his wife.

In 1950 they purchased their present Tecumseh home and moved here.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Stanley (Josephine) Woods, who with her family lives in their former Deerfield home and work the Gibson farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson also have three grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Market Closes

After 11 years, Linger's Market has quietly closed its door.

Owner Roger Linger, who opened his meat and grocery business here in 1946, states that he has no plans for the future.

HEARTS ARE HEAVY—This is the Dugald Pellot home at 415 West Pottawatamie, gleaming brightly in the afternoon sun. Inside, friends and family console the 21-year old widow, who had earlier said, "I used to want him to leave his job, but he has wanted to be a State policeman since he was a little boy."

Bands Play Brilliantly

Music lovers—more than 6,000—jammed Recreation Field Tuesday evening to view a brilliant display of talent in the eleventh annual Lenawee County Band Festival.

Climax of the two-hour program came with a mass rendition by the 650 bandsmen under the baton of Paul Renier, director of music in Adrian schools.

"Taps," done beautifully, was dedicated to the memory of State Trooper Dugald Pellot of Tecumseh and the Indiana patrolman killed earlier this week.

The County Band Festival is the brainchild of Clare Camburn, retired Tecumseh band master, who still takes an active part in the yearly affair.

Management, Workers Differ On Strike Cause

Over half of the employes at the Comfort Brick and Tile Company went on strike Tuesday morning, putting the firm on limited operations.

The president says difficulties arose last Saturday when the company fired a man for coming to work after drinking and then drinking on the job. He says the man had been warned on several occasions.

☆

A SPOKESMAN for the strikers, who began picketing in front of plant on Rogers road Tuesday morning, says the workers are seeking higher wages and better working conditions.

He also said the company's practice is to hire and fire at its own discretion and often without just cause.

Mr. Comfort comented there were no difficulties Monday and not until Tuesday morning when the man previously dismissed entered the plant and got many employes to strike. There are still 12 men working.

The strikers say a company owned pickup tried to run them down Tuesday morning. They report five employes were hit by the truck, two suffering minor bruises and one having his jacket torn.

Mr. Comfort reports the strikers tried to block the road and prevent others from entering the premises. HE SAID officers from the Lenawee County sheriff department investigated and limited the strikers' picketing to the side of the road and forbid the strikers to prevent others from entering the premises.

The strikers were expecting a union representatives from Pennsylvania Wednesday afternoon. The workers at the present, at least, are not unionized.

Area GIs Can Receive Herald for $1 Per Year Rate

All area servicemen and women will now be able to receive The Herald for a special yearly rate of $1, the cost of mailing.

Family or friends of GIs may sign up for them at the office of The Herald or by sending one dollar with the complete address of the young person in uniform whom they wish to get the hometown paper.

This policy will assure every area GI of having his community publication promptly follow him wherever he goes in the world.

It's common knowledge among people in service that mail call is the high point of any day. Having the news and pictures from home, encompassed in the pages of the local paper is a welcome bit of mail to all soldiers, sailors and marines.

Regular yearly rate is $3 to homes in Lenawee county and $4 elsewhere. Newstand charge is 10c per copy, with papers available Wednesday evenings.

Mrs. Van Denbergh Is Hurt Critically

Word has been received of the condition of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn VanDenbergh who were involved in an automobile accident last Thursday morning as they were on their way home from a visit with their niece, Mrs. Reed Cook in N. Carolina.

The VanDenbergh car was sideswiped by another car coming from a side road onto the main highway. It struck with such force that both were thrown from the auto and it continued on into a ditch and was stopped when it struck a tree.

"THE SHORTEST WAY TO DO MANY THINGS IS TO DO ONE THING AT A TIME"*

Prescriptions cannot be mass produced on assembly lines. Each one must be compounded individually because it is specifically written for one person. For that reason it usually shortens sickness time.

Invariably the medicines in a prescription give relief much more quickly than patent medicines or home treatments. Your physician's skilled diagnosis usually prevents serious sickness — if you consult him at the first sign of trouble. The shortest way to continued better health is to do this one thing first — consult your physician when sick.

Honor Your Doctor And His Work ....

No group of people have contributed so much to a fuller and longer life for all. By his skill and advances your Doctor has lessened the need for our services — yet we honor him for it.

Call your Doctor early when sick. Give him a chance to do his best for you — to restore your health while it is still possible. Do your part, and your Doctor will do his.

BIDS TO BE OPENED OCTOBER 17

Last Two of Building Program

Bids on the last two units of the building program to be financed through the $1,900,000 bond issue voted last spring will be opened at a special Board of Education meeting in Room 1 of the high school building at 8 p.m. October 17.

The Tecumseh Acres School will consist of a kindergarten, six classrooms, multipurpose room, including chair and table storage, and hot lunch kitchen, dressing and shower room, library, general office, principal's office, boiler and receiving room, teacher's lounge, and clinic.

This building, which will be on a ten-acre plot on the east side of Adrian street, opposite Shady Lane, is the largest of the units planned and has been left to the last for bidding because the board hopes a fall bid will save the community considerable money. All units are to be completed by the fall of 1958.

THIS BUILDING has a new type L-shaped classroom which has the advantage of recreational and study space within the classroom so that both regular class work and project work may be carried on in small groups if desired without conflict.

Top lighting will be provided in each L which is not adjacent to the window area.

The high school addition consists of the enlargement of both the shop and home economics rooms to more than double their present area.

With increased enrollments and increasing interest in home economics and farming, present facilities are sorely overtaxed.

The present cafeteria and kitchen which are completely inadequate will be converted into two classrooms which will be separated by a fold-dor so that the English, Speech, and Music departments may have stage and seating facilities when needed.

A completely new cafeteria and kitchen will be provided which will have a capacity of 300 persons. This room will have a terrazo floor and double as a band room and student commons.

Citizens in community will use this room for public meetings including dances, and parties may be held with ease since clean up will be rapid since all facilities have been carefully planned.

☆

ALL PRESENT units are progressing well. The Patterson school addition is the farthest along and it is hoped that it may be in use shortly after the middle of October.

The Herrick Park school is about ready to roof and should be ready for occupancy along about the first of the year.

Tipton, Macon, and Ridgeway units are progressing rapidly, footings and foundations are completed and walls are beginning to rise.

The overcrowded conditions of this year as well as split schedules for grade schools will be eliminated when the units are all completed in September of 1958.

Rev. J. C. Wynn of Lansdowne, director of Family Education for the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., will meet with church school teachers at 9 a.m.

REV. J. C. WYNN

At the 11 o'clock service, Rev. Wynn will be guest speaker.

In the afternoon at 4, parents and interested adults will meet with Rev. Wynn to discuss problems, plans and possibilities of the Christian home.

He also wrote "How Christian Parents Face Family Problems," is editor of "Sermons on Marriage and Family Life" and serves as a contributing editor to "Presbyterian Life," writing a regular column about broadcasting and films.

In 1957, Mr. Wynn was a representative to the World Conference on Christian Broadcasting at Frankfurt, Germany. In 1953 he attended the study conference on "The Church and Marriage" at Celigny, Switzerland. In both instances he traveled through Europe and Britain, visiting centers where churches were engaged in family education.

Rev. and Mrs. Wynn are parents of three youngsters, ages 8, 10 and 12.

The Missionary Baptist Church has organized a brotherhood group that will meet the first and third Saturdays of each month at 6 p.m. in the Church.

Officers elected for the coming year are James Richmond president; Wheeler Brown, vice president; Harold Smith, secretary-treasurer; and the president of the Boys Youth Association, called the R.A., is Louis Lake.

The Happy Way Quartet and the Love Sisters from Monroe will be guest singers at the Singspiration to be held Sunday afternoon, at 2 p.m. at the Church. The public is cordially invited to come, sing and enjoy the fellowship in God's house.

Charter Membership Starts for New Lutheran Church

Steering committee of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church has begun plans to launch a charter membership drive in late October.

Members of this committee, which is serving as the new United Lutheran Church's temporary council, are Harry Farrell, Michael Kanchier, Edward Menderink, Stanley Rentschler and James Tonneberger.

Reformation Sunday, October 27, will be the first opportunity for interested people formally to express their desire to unite with the new church.

The Charter roll will remain open until the church is officially organized in February, 1958.

The forming congregation has been holding services in Central elementary school since August and began Sunday School on September 15.

16 Baptist Youths

About 180 children and parents attended Rally Day at the Baptist Youth House Sunday morning when church school children were promoted.

During the morning worship, 16 children were presented Bibles as is customary when they are promoted from the primary to the junior department of the Sunday School.

Mrs. Francis Packard is the teacher of the class with her son, Barry Packard, assisting.

Others were Jana Barron, Calvin Rickard, Linda George, Marilyn Curtis, Sherrie Flowers, Cathy Westgate, Nancy Marsh, Cherryl Aebersold, Deborah Black and Emily Manwaring.

The sermon, "An Unconquerable Faith," presented by the Rev. Blair Bashore, was prepared with the children especially in mind.

Give Where You Work, It Works Where You Live

Tecumseh Community Chest Board members attended the Citizens Committee meeting in Adrian last week at the Eagles Club.

Representatives from Adrian, Deerfield, Hudson, including Mrs. H. H. Hanna and Mrs. T. Rentschler from Tecumseh were present.

Howard D. White, the chairman, presided and heard progress reports of the members who had speaking engagements during the summer on the subject of the importance of organizing a Lenawee County Community Chest.

THE COMMITTEE feels encouraged and wants more opportunities to discuss the matter with groups as well as individuals.

An appropriate slogan is "Give where you work, it works where you live".

Mr. White will call another meeting in November to discuss the plan further. The committee hopes to have the plan in operation within the next year.

MSU To Host Study Groups

Leaders from 200 child study clubs in Michigan will confer at the Michigan State University campus Oct. 7-8 for their annual workshop. About 350 are expected.

Outstanding leaders in mental health, home and family living, education and allied fields have been invited to participate on the program.

We have 4 homes each with 4 bedrooms, all located in the city, all 1½ story, all priced under $11,000, all for sale on land contract with less than $2,000 down. Some payments as low as $57 a month including taxes and insurance. Some with a basement. Any of these are real good buys. Call L. B. or J. O. any time, and we will show them to you.

The house on Ternes Road has been reduced to $16,500—this is now a good deal. 3 bedrooms, full basement, large living room, extra nice kitchen and large back porch.

E. Shawnee, 2 family, 2 car garage, fireplace down stairs. This is a place to rent half, and live in the rest. It is perfect.

A large brick home is hard to find. We have one for sale, in the country, 6 bedrooms, dining room, large kitchen. $3,000 down.

Lake front cottage with shade. Most lots on Wamplers with lake frontage will cost you $4-5,000 so that makes this cottage real cheap. Buy on a contract.

35 Acres across from the Onsted school. This could be subdivided. Close to town and all, it should go.

500 foot on U.S. 112, east of town. Good spot for motel or gas station. $2,000.

3 bedroom house in Springville. Full basement, large lot. Make us an offer.

2 family on W. Pottawatamie St. 3 bedrooms and fireplace on one side, 2 bedrooms on the other. On a land contract and priced at where it will sell. Not just wishing.

Large good home on West Logan. 2 bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen, down. 4 bedrooms and bath up. Large lot, garage, close to school and town. Buy on a contract.

Will trade for small lake home, this nice 3 bedroom home in River Acres, or sell on contract. This is well worth the price. Let us prove it to you.

37 ft. house trailer and 1 acre of ground.

There is one real good thing about Tecumseh and football. I got to watch four local teams play four different towns this past week. We split 50-50, beating Clinton and Manchester and losing to Monroe and Adrian. Not bad.

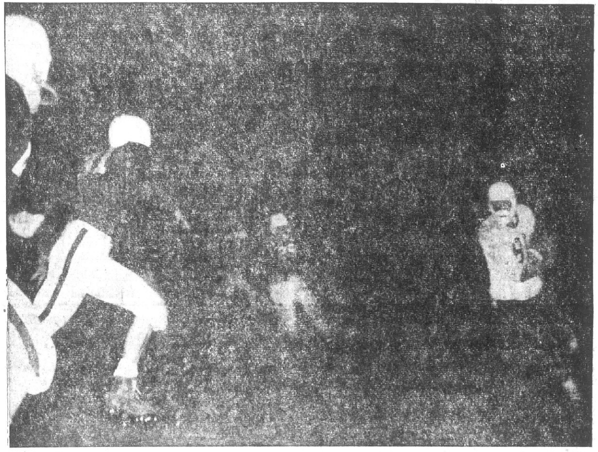
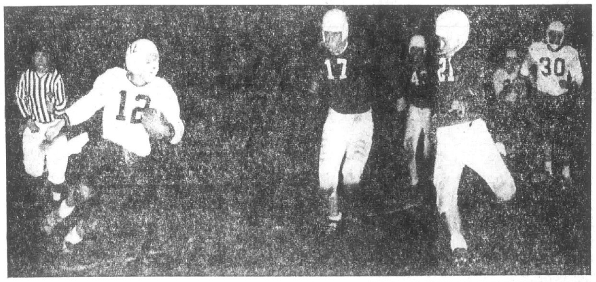
TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTOS

HOME DEBUT—Fall is here and so is football. Area citizens had their first opportunity to see the Tecumseh Indians perform on the home gridiron last Friday—and what they saw made them a bit unhappy. Monroe Catholic Central had a relatively easy time posting a 19 to 0 victory. But tomorrow is another day and the Indians will shoot for their first win against Airport on their foe's field.



TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTOS

HERE THEY COME—Catholic Central gridders hem in Bob O'Neil (81) after he snagged a pass and galloped for a nice gain late in the final period.



TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTOS

GO GARY—One of the brighter moments for Tecumseh came on this run of Gary Hanna (12). Other home players are Bob Long (22) and John Elliott (30). Bearing down on the ball carrier are two Monroe CC backs.

Next Grid Stop—Airport

BY JOHN COOK

A visiting Monroe Catholic Central eleven outclassed the Tecumseh Warriors here Friday night with an easy 19 to 0 win.

Coach Bob Breniff's squad travels to Airport Friday night for the second league encounter, and despite two successive losses, the team stands an excellent chance of chalking up its first victory of the season.

An outmanned Tecumseh team, scrapping most of the way, but showing considerable inexperience, bowed to fast and aggressive Monroe Catholic Central in a tilt decided in the early minutes of the game.

Monroe received the kickoff after winning the toss, but fumbled seconds later. However, Tecumseh did likewise with the visitors recovering the pigskin near midfield.

FAILING to crack Tecumseh's line, Quarterback Tom DuShane whipped a 35-yard pass to Harold Goethe, who was downed on the 25. On the next play, DuShane handed off to Jim Godfrey who cut over right end for the score.

Early in the second quarter Monroe CC tallied again. Taking a punt on its own 45, the visitors marched to the 10-yard line where a short heave was grabbed by Goethe in the end zone.

The fleet Godfrey settled the issue in the third period when he scampered around right end and outraced Tecumseh's defense for a 71-yard romp.

Goethe, after two futile attempts, for the extra point, finally lifted one over to make the score 19 to 0.

Fumbles and penalties, frequent in the first half, marred play of both clubs.

Once, Tecumseh clicked and marched deep into the visitor's territory only to have a 15-yard penalty check the drive. Monroe had several marches balked by penalties, including a TD.

Monroe connected on four of 14 passes, mostly long ones, and Tecumseh completed two out of seven.

Tories Lose to Adrian CC

BY LARRY IVAN

The loss was the first of the season for the Britton eleven which opened the 1957 campaign with an easy 42 to 7 victory over Waldron.

After taking the opening kickoff, Catholic Central drew first blood when Jim Morin bucked over from the one-yard line. The placement for the extra-point was low.

Merle Sanch put the Tories back in the game midway through the second quarter with a place kick covering 34 yards. The three-point tally was set up after CC's quick-kick from the seven-yard line went out on the 41.

THE TORIES moved inside CC's 30-yard line on a 14-yard dash by sophomore quarterback Cal Rhorback, but were then stymied. Sanch's kick split the uprights on fourth down.

Adrian's team stormed back six plays later with another TD. Morin again scored, taking in a 20-yard pass from Dick Spagnoli. Britton's line broke through to block the extra point attempt.

Neither team scored, but both threatened in the second half. Britton, late in the final stanza, moved from its own 26 to CC's 12-yard line. Big gains in the march were passes to fullback Clement and Benidick.

Junior Varsity Powerful, Outclasses Manchester, 32-0

Thursday night at the Athletic Field before an enthusiastic but chilled crowd, the J-V's showed a superlative offense and rugged defense to down Manchester's J-V's, 32-0.

On the second play, Tecumseh recovered a Manchester fumble on their 35 yard line. In five plays they scored with Quarterback Steve Kruger passing to Halfback Don Sweet for the remaining 18. The kick was missed.

After an exchange of kicks, Tecumseh in four plays rambled 54 yards to score again. On the second play Kruger again passed to End Tom Walters for 17 yards, Kruger bucked the line for five and Fullback Jerry Fox, exceptionally fast, skirted right end for the TD. Richard Stevenson's second kick for point was blocked.

In the second quarter, Manchester, after making a first down had a 20-yard run nullified by a penalty and was forced to punt. Leonard Penrod returned it to the 36. Fox made 15 through the middle and after two incomplete passes, the Indians fumbled and Manchester recovered at midfield.

Three plays made only one yard and they gambled but their pass attempt was not successfull and Tecumseh took over.

A pass, Kruger to Walters, was good for 52 yards and the third touchdown. Stevenson's kick was good, making the score 19-0.

Tecumseh's kick-off was downed on Manchester's 28. Three plays made a first down but Fox intercepted a pass and ran five yards to Manchester's 40 as gun sounded half-time.

In the third quarter, Manchester penetrated to Tecumseh's 36 after making two first downs but never got any closer to the goal.

After two runs by Fox, good for 17 and 20 yards each, Kruger passed to Dalmus Dotson for seven to the 13-yard marker.

After Manchester punted to Tecumseh's 35, Dotson, who ran well through the middle, took a handoff from John Cook, now in at quarterback, and made a first down to Manchester's 48. The attack bogged down and they punted to Manchester. Halfback Buddy Rogers intercepted a pass on Manchester's 40 and ran for touchdown but it was nullified by a clipping penalty at the 27. Dotson gained nine through the middle and Rogers ran left end to score again. Stevenson's kick was blocked. Five more plays and the game ended.

Their next game is at home with Hudson J-V's today, Oct. 3, starting at 6:30 p.m.

Frosh "11" Beats Clinton, 28-13

The Tecumseh frosh eleven defeated Clinton last Wednesday 28-13. Clinton, dotted with a few sophomores, was unable to score until the fourth period when Coach Jack Trudeau employed his reserves.

In the first period, Quarterback John Quinn on a beautifully executed naked reverse ran 20 yards unmolested for the first touchdown.

Halfback Jon Aho scored the second on a 60-yard punt return and again on a 10-yard run. In the third quarter Aho passed to Mike Robison, left end, for 30 yards and the final tally.

All four points after touchdown were scored on running plays. In one Quinn ran 20 yards after a 15-yard penalty nullified the first try.

Clinton's scores in final period were all made on short runs.

Their next game is at home with Bedford's fgreshmen at 1:30 p.m. Oct. 16.

Form Man-Wife Bowling League

Will Continue Indian Hills, Buying Out Waskins

During World War II, Ted flew P-40s and P-51s in China, probably never dreamed he'd some day be building homes in Tecumseh.

After discharge from the service, Ted returned to his native Detroit and spent eight years in the manufacturing business.

He got into home building three years ago and has made rapid strides forward since then.

Ted has contracted to take over the Waskin Development Company, the firm which created the Indian Hills subdivision on the southwest edge of Tecumseh.

Mr. Templeton's concern will handle all building and sales at the 34-acre layout.

To date 22 homes have been built, leaving room for 92. All this housing is FHA and VA approved.

Conventianally-built ranch-style homes with three bedrooms and full basements make up Indian Hills.

The Tecumseh board of education has told Mr. Templeton that construction on the new Tecumseh Acre elementary school is scheduled to start this fall, making Indian Acres an even more desirable place in which to live.

Working with Templeton Construction is Truesdale Plumbing and Heating Company, and Cook Electric Company, both of Tecumseh.

Materials are supplied by R. S. Moore Lumber Co. of Tecumseh and Thomas Gallant & Son of Adrian does the painting.

FORMS FIRM—Ted Templeton has announced the formation of Templeton Construction Company, which has contracted to buy all assets of the Waskin Development Company. Behind Ted stretches a portion of the 34-arce Indian Hills subdivision on which 22 of the 114 homes planned have been built.

Pattern For Building Farm Sheds

Expensive farm machinery should be kept under cover. Economists have shown that machinery exposed to the weather deteriorates much more quickly. Adding a machine shed is not only a "must" economy, but an excellent investment because it increases the value of the farm.

Many farmers have found that a panel known as Masonite all-purpose farm board is economical, easy to maintain and quick in application. It has these advantages:

Large panels go up fast with ordinary carpentry tools, thus saving in labor costs. A farmer and his helper can build a machine shed or similar building themselves. The tough, smooth surface resists wear and is easy to clean. Farm board is without grain and it will not split, splinter or crack. There is no waste, due to absence of knots and other imperfections.

A free, easy-to-follow plan is available to farmers interested in building a machine shed. Simply write the Farm Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., requesting plan No. AFB-216.

Statement of New Policy

As you were informed last week, the ownership of The Tecumseh Herald has changed hands.

During the past year, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Belleville, assisted recently in the editorial department by Ralph Bidwell, have published and circulated The Herald in the community and surrounding villages and rural areas.

Many of their policies and practices will be continued by the new owners, some will be altered or abandoned. During the next few weeks, you undoubtedly will see changes in The Herald, changes which we hope will be accepted and ultimately lead to a wider and greater readership.

Our aim is to provide readers with complete, local, unbiased news coverage and interesting news pictures. God willing, and within the realm of our own capabilities and the fine staff at The Herald, we will do our utmost to fulfill our obligations to the people.

Since arriving here the middle of last week, we have had the opportunity of meeting with many businessmen, city and school officials, and others who dropped by at the newspaper's office.

The welcome we received and assistance in making ourselves known to others is gratifying.

Respectfully,

Letter Writing Week

International Letter Writing Week will be celebrated in Tecumseh during the week of October 6 to 12, Postmaster Jack Metcalf announced today.

Commenting on the establishment of International Letter Writing Week, Mr. Metcalf pointed out that each year since 1938 the Post Office Department has joined in the observance of National Letter Writing Week — an annual event celebrated to emphasize the meaning and value of letter writing as a symbol of American freedom.

"As a result of its success," Postmaster Metcalf stated, "National Letter Writing Week will be conducted on an international basis this year for the first time. International Letter Writing Week is based on the idea that written communication between people in all the countries of the world will contribute toward the building of a lasting peace.

"I am sure we are all aware that a personal letter is, next to an actual visit, the most intimate means each of us has to communicate with our fellow human beings. Letters between peoples of different nations are a sure method of establishing friendly relationships and understandings. The problems of freedom loving peoples will be more quickly solved if they are better understood.

"I urge all citizens of Tecumseh to join in this first celebration of International Letter Writing Week and at the same time write that overdue letter to friends and relatives in America."

Newspaper Week

This is National Newspaper Week.

The theme this year is "Your Newspaper Serves."

Most of us take our newspapers pretty much for granted. A few persons have become acutely aware of what it is like to live in a city without a newspaper. These are the folks in the communities where a strike or disaster to the plant has temporarily caused a newspaper to cease publication.

NEWSPAPER WEEK
Your NEWSPAPER...
SERVES
BILL OF RIGHTS
OCT. 1-8 1957

In these few cases many have come to appreciate the value of a newspaper to a community in general and to individuals in particular. Reports from these towns tell us that the loss affects no two persons alike, but that everyone has certain particular interests in his newspaper which he misses more than anything else.

Looking at it from the publisher's point of view a newspaper has four main reasons for being published. They are:

1. To inform.
2. To interpret.
3. To entertain.
4. To provide service.

When a newspaper ceases to exist in a town or city, the need for information about that community, as well as more distant places, is immediately felt. A hostile world contributes to our generally deeper concern over developments abroad. A curtain is dropped around our own little personal world, and the natural interest and concern we hold in the welfare of others, that psychological drive that makes us social creatures, is completely thwarted.

Without a newspaper we find that even the routine reports of local affairs now assume an important part in our lives. The city council meets and takes important action affecting us all, but we have no word as to what was done. No news is available about the extent of the storm, the damage to crops, the amount of rainfall, the survivors of last week's automobile accident, or the graduation exercises at the high school. We even confess to missing the friendly correspondent's news letter from the smallest crossroads community.

When contact with the outside world is cut, we realize how much we depend on our newspapers.

County Extension Changes

Forty recent and pending staff changes in the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service staff were approved Sept. 20 by the State Board of Agriculture, which is the governing body of Michigan State University, Louis G. Hall, Lenawee County Agricultural agent reports.

They affect John W. Comstock who was transferred Sept. 1 from Hillsdale county where he was the county 4-H agent to a similar post in Lenawee county; George K. Dike, district marketing agent in Lenawee and Hillsdale counties, who will be on leave of absence from Oct. 1 to Sept. 30, 1958, to work on his doctorate degree at MSU.

What Is Immunity?

Immunity is a state or condition of the body which exempts it from contracting contagious diseases or which enables it to resist infection effectively. It is sometimes called "resistance." The opposite condition is called "susceptibility."

Grandmother Wins Custody of Children

"God has answered my prayers," Mrs. Charles S. (Mable) Nichols, 414 Adrian Street, said when she was allowed to retain custody of her four grandchildren by Judge Rex Martin in Lenawee Circuit Court last Thursday.

Mrs. Nichols, 55, an employee of Quaker Oats Co. for 30 years, said she has cared for the grandchildren most of their lives.

The children, who attend St. Elizabeth's are Donald, 10, fifth grade; Ronald, 9, third; Connie, 8, second, and Bonnie, 7, first.

Their parents were divorced in 1955 and the father, Cletus Nichols, was given custody. But it was Mrs. Nichols who cared for them. Then last July 23, the father was killed in a traffic accident so their mother, Mrs. Helen Nichols petitioned the court to regain their custody.

The court said its decision was based on the fact that the mother has no place to put the children without moving them out of the county and separating them.

HOWEVER, THE decision permits the mother to reopen the case if the circumstances of either the grandmother or her change.

Investigations made by the friend of the court and a probation officer showed the children are getting good care in a home owned by the grandmother next to the grandmother's home. A housekeeper, Mrs. Marjorie Weber, who lives at 416 Adrian St., cares for them at the grandmother's expense.

Mr. Nichols had a stroke over three years ago and is partially blind and this factor also enters into the present arrangement for caring for the children.

Their mother may see them periodically, the court held.

Mars Also Feels Fall-Out Effects

You're wrong, says Dean B. McLaughlin, professor of astronomy at The University of Michigan.

"Extensive dark gray areas, and some of the canals on Mars may be the result of extensive ash-falls to leeward of volcanoes that erupted violently and then remained quiet for many years afterward, so that the red dust from the deserts drifted over and obliterated temporary markings. The ash was then distributed by winds.

"The amount of ash required to make these features is no greater than that produced in a full-scale eruption of Vesuvius, provided the winds distribute it far enough," states the University astronomer.

Not long ago a lady approached a little girl "playing house" with her doll in rather cramped apartment quarters. "Isn't it too bad that you don't have a home?" she asked. To which the child replied, "Oh, we have a home. We just don't have a HOUSE to put it in."

That little girl's candid remark probably hits the bullseye with residents of Tecumseh. Often times small children will find a penetratingly fresh approach to a problem. They will say what we may feel—but not know how to express.

No doubt our city boasts many fine "homes"—in the sense of a nice family group. But quite a number still need to buy a HOUSE to put it in!

To these homelovers and house seekers, we offer friendly assistance. It is our sincere goal to help every local family to transplant their "home" into a suitable "house" of their own. And we have helped many families make this change.

Let us help you too. You will find we are "home" and "house" experts.

WATCHES PROGRESS—Bill Mukensturm, manager of the J. J. Walper & Son elevator in Britton, hopes for a mid-November finish on construction of the new plant. Looming as high as a seven-story building in the background are several of the all-steel and concrete silos.

When the new J. J. Walper & Son elevator in Britton is completed—sometime in mid-November—there won't be a better country el in Michigan.

Take this from Bill Mukensturm, manager of the business, who proudly is eyeing progress of the all-steel and concrete structure.

But it won't be long, states Bill.

When completed, the el will be able to process 6,000 bushels of small grain an hour and shell 3,000 bushels of corn in the same period of time.

There'll be storage space for 110,000 bushels.

The grain dryer, biggest in the state, is slated to take care of 1,000 bushels every 60 mintues.

NEWS OF THE FARM

Lenawee County Agent's Column

Under the feed-wheat program, Michigan farmers can "over-plant" their wheat allotments this fall and still not be liable for marketing quota penalties.

But, as usual, there are a couple of "catches": The new limit is 30 acres; and all the wheat must be used on the farm where produced.

Charles Beer, extension specialist in farm management at Michigan State University, says interested farmers must apply at the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office before they plant their 1958 crop or before Oct. 15, 1957, whichever is later. The application shows how the wheat will be used.

Under the program, a farmer must use all the wheat on the farm where produced either for seed, human food or livestock and poultry feed. He must also be the owner of livestock or poultry to which the wheat will be fed.

A crop grown under the feed-wheat program is not eligible for price support, Beer says.

Farmers participating in the 1958 wheat acreage reserve can't use the 30-acre feed-wheat amendment. Beer feels some might want to cancel their agreements to qualify for the feed-wheat program. They have until Oct. 4 to do so.

Three sales are scheduled: Gaylord, Oct. 10; Alpena, Oct. 16; and West Branch, Oct. 17. All sales begin at noon according to W. L. Fiuley, extension beef cattle specialist at Michigan State University.

At the Gaylord sale, some 500 yearlings and 1,100 calves are consigned; 150 yearlings and 500 calves will be at the Alpena location; and 2,000 calves will be auctioned off at West Branch. More than half of the animals are steers.

Cattle are from commercial beef cow herds and sired by purebred registered beef bulls. Most cattle are Herefords with a few lots of Angus and Shorthorn plus a few groups of crossbreds.

Wheat Sign-Up Deadline Oct. 4

Farmers who intend to participate in the 1958 winter wheat Acreage Reserve program were reminded today that Saturday, Oct. 4, is the last day they may sign a program agreement.

According to Arthur Capper, Chairman of the Lenawee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, agreements under the 1958 winter wheat Acreage Reserve program may be signed, modified, or canceled up until the dealline. After that time, failure on the part of the farmer to carry out terms of the agreement could possibly subject him to loss of part or all of the payment he might have earned under the program or even to a civil penalty of 50 percent of such a payment.

Chairman Capper pointed out that the signup in Lenawee County under the 1958 winter wheat Acreage Reserve program shows a total of 102 agreements signed as of September 20, 1957, covering about 1367 acres of wheat-allotment land. If farmers comply fully with their 1958 winter wheat agreements, they will be eligible for Acreage Reserve payments totaling $48,782.87.

The Oct. 4 deadline marks the end of the sign-up period for only one part of the 1958 Soil Bank program, Mr. Capper emphasized. While no agreements for the 1958 crop of winter wheat may be signed after that date, the sign-up for Acreage Reserve agreements for 1958 spring seeded crops will be opened for applications early next year.

Under the Acreage Reserve program for the 1957 crop of winter wheat, 199 agreements were signed in Lenawee County covering 2215 acres; program payments totaled about $72,608.48.

Small Farm Has Its Place And Can Be Profit Maker

Is the small family farm a fading dream of the past? Not in Michigan, says Raleigh Barlowe, agricultural economist at Michigan State University.

Barlowe predicts that even with farm mechanization making it good business for farm families to operate larger farms, small family farms will continue to dot the Michigan landscape.

Some of these units, he says, will be used by young farmers as a stepping stone to larger farms. Some will be used by older operators as a place where they can retire with less work and still continue an interest in farming, while others will become homesites for part-time farmers.

Barlowe points out that the average farm in the United States increased from 146 acres in 1900 to 243 acres at the last census report in 1954. At the same time the average Michigan farm increased from 86 to only 119 acres.

However, it isn't necessary to own a large farm in order to increase income, the County Agricultural agent says.

"Use more capital," he said. "Invest in more fertilizer, better seed, higher-producing livestock. etc. These take only a medium amount of capital and give returns in a short time. They are even worth borrowing for if cash is not available."

Senator Potter Reports

Little Rock, Arkansas, where until recently the mob ruled, now spells out this Government's intention to fully endorse the basic principles of the bill of rights.

I support President Eisenhower's decisive action in sending the 101st Airborne to aid the efforts of school authorities in carrying out orderly integration, as planned by them and accepted by the majorjority of Little Rock's moderate and law-abiding citizens.

Moscow has inflated Little Rock into an ugly propaganda balloon, ridiculing U.S. democracy as a sham. I'm getting a little tired of those who call themselves Americans who elbow us into these embarrassing and disgraceful international corners.

They do it by slyly casting mud at the Supreme Court, by throwing legal roadblocks in the way of minority groups, by asking for "time."

My advice to them is, if you don't like democracy, go join the Russians.

Let us hope Little Rock will provide an object lesson to those who have chipped away—unwittingly or deliberately—at efforts to work out racial problems through patience and cooperation. After all there has to be cooperation on both sides or we'll never reach a solution.

It has been most gratifying to me in my travels through Michigan these days to find so much sincere support of the President's recent actions.

☆

A SHIP, the Mayflower II has been cut loose from British registry but not yet taken over by Plimoth Plantation in Massachusetts, where a permanent berth for the replica of the Pilgrim vessel is being built.

Now is the time for all those in the Middle West who want the Mayflower to sail up the St. Lawrence Seaway to speak up. I offer the facilities of my Washington office for a meeting of Michigan and Middle Western representatives with officials of the Plimoth Plantation.

A Seaway voyage, of course, won't be practical until next spring, but planning should start right now. Plimoth Plantation expects to take ownership on Thanksgiving Day but needs funds to complete its permanent shrine for the Mayflower. The new owners are a non-profit group.

However, they would expect the Seaway voyage to produce some financial return to defray costs of the ship's berth.

Therefore, these questions must be answered: Will there be an admission charge to view Mayflower? Who will man her? What itinerary? Are the cities who want the vessel willing to put up a moderate financial guarantee for her appearance?

Since I proposed the voyage last summer, letters of enthusiasm have poured in from ports, civic groups, individuals and tourists associations. Even the U.S. Department of State favors the trip. I am confident a Mayflower II voyage into the Middle West would build international good will and dramatize the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway and Mackinac Bridge.

Words without action are the assassins of idealism. — Herbert Hoover.

Like Coach picking Lineup

The grass selection of a particular strain of turf grass or combination of turf grass strains for a given location and purpose may be likened to a coach faced with choosing his starting lineup for tomorrow's game.

Each strain, like each athlete, has certain conditions under which it performs best and certain opponents to which it is especially susceptible. The smart grower, like the smart coach, makes his selections to fit the problem at hand.

NEEDLESS to say, a grass strain must be able to withstand the use conditions for which it is intended. Understandably, for example, the rate of wear received by the grass on a football field is vastly different from that raised on an estate lawn.

One must also consider the maintenance practices necessary to keep the turf in shape for its purposes. A grass used for a golf green, for example, must be able to withstand the close clipping to produce a good putting surface.

When buying a seed mixture the cheapest is usually the most costly. A lot of work can be avoided by using a little common sense.

LEO BISHOP

CHARACTERISTICS OF COMMON TURF GRASSES

| GRASSES | VALUE & COMMON USE | FERTILITY REQUIREMENTS |
|---|---|---|
| Permanent grasses | | |
| Kentucky Bluegrass | Good as basic grass in all general turf areas. | Thrives best if supplied adequate water and N-P-K-. Above Ph. 6 desired. |
| Merion Bluegrass | Excellent for tees, lawns, athletic fields in this area. | Requires constant, liberal supply of nitrogen. |
| Roughstalk Bluegrass (Poa-Trivialis) | Good in mixtures for lawns, moist and shaded areas. | Best growth on soil of moderate fertility. |
| Canadian Bluegrass | Fair in general lawn mixtures (Used less and less). | Will tolerate dry soils of low fertility. |
| Creeping Red Fescue | Very good for all general turf areas (Shade tolerant). | Requires moderate fertility level and little water. |
| Chewing Red Fescue | Good for general turf areas, works in well with the Red Creeping Fescue. | Requires moderate fertility level and little water. |
| Illahee Creeping Fescue | Very good for all general seed mixtures, more dense and more disease resistant. | Same as above fescues. |
| Pennlawn Creeping Fescue | Very good for all general seed mixtures (shade tolerant). Greater density and general vigor than other forms of species. | Requires moderate fertility level, will tolerate hot dry weather, recovers quickly. |
| Tall Fescue | Very good in athletic fields, large lawns, will not tolerate cutting under two inches. | Grows best on well drained soils of moderate fertility. |
| Alta Fescue | Very good in athletic fields and large lawns, very coarse grass, deep root system. | Same requirements as Fescue above. |
| Kentucky 31 Fescue | Fair in athletic fields, roadsides and large lawns. Preferred in eastern regions. | Grows best in well drained soils of good fertility, requires systematic fertilizing high in nitrogen. |
| Temporary Grasses | | |
| Red Top | 5-10% in lawn mixtures, germinate quickly, grows slowly. | Low fertility requirements. |
| Rye Grasses | Quick germinating, used in seed mixtures for temporary winter turf. | Needs liberal fertilization where soil fertility is medium to low. Responds well to nitrogen applications. |
| Miscellaneous Grasses | | |
| Timothy, Orchard, and Tall Oat Grasses | Low quality lawn mixtures and poor turf areas. | Requires regular fertilizer. |

Fleet CC Halfback Spoils Opener for St. Elizabeth's

Rudy scored both touchdowns for the Shamrocks as they rolled to a 13-0 triumph on Adrian's Island park gridiron.

Shortly after the fourth quarter began, Rudy took a handoff from his quarterback and rambled 19 yards into the end zone on a wide end sweep.

Bobby Johnson ran for the extra point.

ST. ELIZABETH fought back brilliantly and with less than two minutes to go, Mike Rohrer dashed 40 yards around end to tally. The tally was called back, however, because in the excitement, several substitutes had stepped onto the field.

October 6, at St. Mary's Wayne.
October 13, Queen's Jackson, here.
October 27, St. Thomas Ann Arbor, here.
November 3, St. John's Ypsilanti, here.

100,000 Hunters Gun for Ducks on Opening Day

LANSING — More than 100,000 waterfowl hunters were on hand October 1 for opening day of Michigan's 70-day migratory bird season.

Hunting success for waterfowlers depends pretty much on the weather — as usual — and duck hunters prefer cold, blustery days for their sport.

Mild, sunshiny days — known to duck hunters as "butterfly weather" or "bluebird weather" — usually mean poor hunting because waterfowl are content to sit out on large bodies of water and do little moving.

REPORTS FROM Canadian nesting grounds indicate duck production was good this year and Michigan hunters should have plenty of targets.

Weather also affects the length of time birds stay in the state and too many cold, windy days will push flights through rapidly to the south.

Much of Michigan's early season shooting is at native ducks, with migration flights increasing later in October. Goose hunting usually gets into full swing in late October and reaches its peak during November.

EACH YEAR, Michigan ranks as one of the nation's top waterfowl hunting states and more than 140,000 persons purchased federal migratory bird hunting stamps last year.

The $2 stamp is required for any person 16 years of age or older who hunt migratory waterfowl. Proceeds from "duck stamp" sales help finance the federal government's waterfowl refuge and law enforcement programs.

Tri-Level Has Ranch Look In Front

Last week The Herald ran a photograph and floor plan of a tri-level home that had all three levels visible from the front.

Here is a camouflaged tri-level with only one level showing in front and two in the rear. This home is more easily adapted to a lot that slopes from the front to rear whereas the other had a high grade only on the front living room corner and would require considerably more landscaping to make the lawn area desirable.

This home has a ranch like appearance. This three-bedroom design is a good example of practical multi-level planning. A recreation room, laundry and storage area and a lavatory are included in the lower level.

Main and upper levels give you spacious living area.

Plans may be obtained from your local lumber dealers or contractors.

New Life For Old Ceilings

Cracked, stained, or generally unsightly ceilings are the latest spot in the home to gain the attention of do-it-yourself enthusiasts.

What used to be a major remodeling job has now been made practically child's play with the development of a vinyl panel which can be applied directly over old ceilings to give a completely new look to that important, but often neglected, part of the room. This new ceiling tile, Trim-Quik, may be found at wall paper dealers. It comes in a variety of three-dimensional designs, six tiles to a panel, in both white and colors. And a new ceiling can do more than just make a room look pretty. As it's made of Velon. This one is completely washable, waterproof, and fire-resistant, and has acoustical qualities as well. In addition, it is budget priced—an eight by ten ceiling can be covered for less than twenty dollars.

Just think of the areas in your home that could be improved with a new ceiling—basement playrooms, bathrooms, kitchens, attics, porches—in fact any room at all. Whether your old ceiling is made of plaster, wall board, or open beams, this new tile can be parmanently applied in a matter of minutes with special adhesive or a stapling gun. That's all there is to it, and you'll soon have a room to be proud of.

Two Major Changes Made in Michigan Hunting Laws

LANSING—Two major changes in Michigan hunting laws deserve special attention by sportsmen this fall.

One regulation changes the opening date of small game seasons in the southern lower peninsula and the other provides new rules for transporting weapons in motor vehicles.

All regular small game hunting seasons in Zone 3 — the lower peninsula south of highway M-20 — will open October 21 this year, instead of the normal October 20 opening.

This applies to all hunting seasons in the southern lower peninsula on pheasants, rabbits, snowshoe hares, ruffed grouse, squirrels, woodchucks and raccoons.

THE LAW, passed by the 1957 legislature, provides for an October 21 opener whenever October 20 falls on Sunday. In all other years, the October 20 opening will be in effect.

This change was made because several southern Michigan counties do not allow Sunday hunting and seasons opening on Sunday would concentrate hunters in the remaining counties. Farmers were especially concerned about the possible effects of such concentrations.

The weapons transport law stipulates that a gun — rifle or shotgun — must be enclosed in a fastened case or disassembled or stowed in the closed trunk of a car whenever transported in a motor vehicle.

The new regulation also applies to bows and arrows, specifying that a bow must be transported in a closed trunk or encased — not merely unstrung.

Christian Science Sunday Service

The ever-present power of the Christ, Truth, to heal sickness and to destroy discord will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon on "Unreality" will include the following from Luke (13:11-13): "And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (142:31): "Truth is God's remedy for error of every kind, and Truth destroys only what is untrue. Hence the fact that, today, as yesterday, Christ casts out evils and heals the sick."

THE LONG and SHORT of it

BY TOM RIORDAN

OUR YOUNG PEOPLE AND our music are among America's proudest possessions.

Put them together and you have an unbeatable combination.

That was the case last week when 650 high school musicians staged their annual Lenawee County Band Festival in Tecumseh.

A capacity attendance estimated at 6,000, crammed every available spot at Recreation Field and watched with rapt attention as the 10 units staged their individual productions.

The program ran from Morenci's cute "Gay Nineties", complete with bicycle-built-for-two, to Britton-Macon's "Abe Lincoln Story."

Tecumseh's "Birth of the Blues" and Blissfield's "My Fair Lady" were highpoints for the crowd.

As last week's story stated the massed effort was brilliant. Paul Renier, Adrian's director of music, literally hurled himself into the job of directing the combined bands, swinging his arms violently in order to be clearly seen by the musicians. He must have been limp as the final strains of the "Star Spangled Banner" filtered over the gridiron.

Lucy Lee Neiswander of Adrian, national baton twirling champion, not only staged a striking hit in her exhibition, but also in the letter-writing department prior to the Festival.

Miss Neiswander dropped a line to Rev. Blair Bashore, who is co-chairman and master of ceremony, saying she wanted to dedicate her portion of the entertainment to Clair Camburn, the one-time Tecumseh band director who originally conceived the Festival idea.

It made a real hit with the crowd and as for Mr. Camburn, well, those moist eyes weren't the result of hay fever.

As Rev. Bashore clicked off the public address mike, he turned to his old friend and smiled, "This was the best Festival of them all."

It was 11 years ago that the two men put their heads together and developed the Band Festival idea. Together with dozens of others — school officials, band directors, parents — the pair has toiled over the years to help make the presentation what it is today.

When adults view such concerted efforts as put out by young musicians, who previously labored countless hours to perfect their routines, they need not "fear for our youth."

The young people of our country have displayed their overwhelming desire to do constructive things such as participating in the Band Festival.

It's up to we adults to continue to provide opportunities for the youth of our area to use their talents and expand their abundance of energy.

Carpender Is Stricken, Dies Working On Job

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Green funeral home for James Norman Sloan Sr., 53, who died suddenly from a heart attack shortly after noon October 2.

A carpenter, he was working on a building north of Birdsall on M-52, when stricken. He lived at 207 Occidental Hwy.

Mr. Sloan was born at East Jordan on July 5, 1904, and moved here in 1947. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Muse Sloan.

He was a member of the East Jordan Presbyterian church.

A DAUGHTER, Susan, had died in 1956 and two brothers also preceded him in death.

Survivors include his wife, the former Ann Dunlop; son, James N. Sloan Jr., Sand Lake; daughter, Mrs. Dorlos Rye, and his parents, all of Tecumseh. There are six grandchildren.

Rev. Leslie MacPherson officiated at the services and burial was in Riverside cemetery at Clinton. Bearers were Ben Holmes, Ben Smith, Basil Kittel, Vanous Cooper, Eric Dillion, and Stewart Dallow.

Five Basments Dug by Builder

Five basements were dug along what will be Stacey Avenue in the Indian Hills subdivision last week by the Templeton Construction Company. There are 22 ranch-type houses in the allotment now and 92 more contemplated.

Ted Templeton completed negotiations last week to take over the subdivision from the Waskin De-

HELPFUL NEIGHBORS

Bring in Potato Crop

"It just goes to show you've got good neighbors," Frank Csokasy mused Tuesday.

Frank referred to the "working bee" going on in his potato fields and storage building.

On hand to help harvest his crop were a dozen friends, who had received the word that "folks were helping Frank."

TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

SOME SPUDS—Frank Csokasy and his wife Irene have reason to feel happy, despite Frank's recent near-critical fall. Neighbors help get the Csokasy potato crop in—and there are some real beauties—while Frank recovers from a fractured skull and other assorted injuries.

The story goes back to September 20 when Frank was working in the upper area of his potato building, preparing it for this year's crop.

A board gave way and Frank fell 12 feet on to an iron conveyor.

Critically hurt, he was rushed to the hospital where the doctor tabbed up his injuries — a fractured skull, broken right wrist, punctured ear drum and bruised side.

Frank was released September 29 — with orders to spend 95% of his time in bed.

But there were potatoes to be dug and stored. That's where Frank's hard-working wife, Irene, stepped in and took over.

She was able to direct work on about half of the 15 to 18 acres of potatoes they grow, but the normal progress wasn't being met.

Herb Long, a neighbor, figured some help from neighbors was in order.

On the appointed day, Herb and his son, Herb F., were on hand, along with Roscoe and Donald Smith, Vern Murphy, Harold Kempy, Frank Mason, Wilbur Boyce, Dutch Drewyor, Bob Jenkins, Dow Bilby and Bill Grigg.

Hired hand of the Csokasys did most of the crating in the field while volunteers turned the spuds up, loaded them on trucks, unloaded and stacked in the storage area.

UNLOADERS—Leaning to the task of placing crates of potatoes in the Csokasy storage building were Herb Long, in the foreground, Frank Mason and Harold Kempy. Mr. Long helped organize the "working bee" and got prompt "yes" answers from about everyone he asked to pitch in. Additional pictures on page 3.

Martin Speaks To Dairymen

Homer Martin will speak at an open meeting of dairy farmers in the Belleville township hall October 11 at 8:30 p.m.

Others of the Dairy Farmers Cooperative Association will also be on the program, reports Don Dickerson, Jr.

According to Mr. Dickerson, more than 30 counties are now organized legally to carry out a program to obtain $6 for Class 1 milk and $4 for Class 2 milk.

200 Out with Flu

As a result of flu, more than 200 absences a day since last Wedensday, have been reported in Tecumseh's upper six grades.

Mrs. Irene Jacobs, secretary of principal Neville Hart, has been required to spend much of her day tabulating information.

Total enrollment of seventh-through-twelfth is 964.

October 2—217
October 3—213
October 4—245
October 7—211

Council OKs Change

Now Will Be Known as Herrick Park Drive

Herrick Park residents won a victory Monday night when council reversed a previous decision and voted to change East Brown Street and South Outer Drive to Herrick Park Drive.

At the last meeting in September, when a petition for the change with 143 signatures was presented, council rejected the proposal to re-name the street.

A delegation of residents attended Monday night's meeting. The residents and council aired their reasons, the delegation claiming the new name would indentify Herrick Park and easily enable strangers in town to find the area.

Several councilmen pointed out the dangers of setting a precedence whereby others could demand their street names be changed.

Residents were told that attendance at the September meeting, when the petition was presented, would have eliminated most of the trouble.

☆

CITY MANAGER Ed Nelson reported to council that the annual city sewer roding program started last week. He added that the city's streets were in their best condition for winter in many years.

He said the highway department had spread 20,000 gallons of asphalt during the past three weeks. Seven men have been cut from the department, leaving seven employes to work this fall and winter.

The administrator asked council to consider purchasing a 700-gallon per minute pump rather than a smaller pump since costs have increased.

Council approved a 500-gallon pump at the last September meeting for installation at a new well near the golf course.

☆

IN OTHER council action, discussions were held about maintenance and supervision of the city dump, progress of construction at the city hall and hospital addition, and permitting Christmas tree sales at a city park to benefit youth organizations.

The police report for September is: accident reports, 8; complaints, 40; traffic summons, 35; meter violations, 54; arrests, 9; liquor inspections, 4; traffic fines, $565.20; meter violations, $22; and meter collections, $254.10.

CAN'T SPEAK ENGLISH

What Would You Do?

What happens if you speak no English, arrive in the United States alone and want to order dinner?

This is the young man who eventually ended up in Lenawee county to spend nearly five months at the Edwin Lipp farm on Route 223.

What about Humberto's "misadventure in eating?"

He was in Charleston, West Virginia, and hungry. He went into a restaurant and when a waitress appeared to take his order, he pointed at a dish a nearby diner was enjoying and motioned he'd like the same.

So for the rest of the trip, whenever it was meal time, the Chilean would speak the one word in English he knew — hamburger.

IT'S NOT that way now. The IFYE guest has a firm command of the language and does a grand job. He is well-educated, had been serving as an elementary school principal in Chile before coming here.

Mostly, he has learned from his association with hundreds of Americans whom he has met. Then, too, he has had about 100 speaking engagements before service clubs, rural organization and school groups, telling about farming in Chile.

One of the big differences is the size of farm machinery, especially the American combine. In Chile, Humberto says, farmers work out cooperatives on large machinery.

Humberto's father owns a 500-acre layout — considered a middle size farm in Chile — which grows peaches, apples, pears and cherries.

Friends, Relatives Honor David Gibson

Music with an Irish lilt, played by Mrs. W. G. Waldron, formed background for the social afternoon Sunday when friends and relatives of David Gibson attended a reception at the Methodist church, honoring his 90th birthday.

They came from Detroit, Deerfield, Blissfield, Britton and the Tecumseh area—134 of them—to wish him well.

Welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Woods, and their grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. David Woods and Samuel Woods, the guests were registered by Lillian Cannon.

Mrs. George Simpson of Detroit and Mrs. Dorothy Lukens were hostesses.

☆

CRYSTAL candlesticks and arrangements of pastel autumn flowers decorated the lace covered refreshment tables and other bouquets were used throughout the rooms.

The cake was cut and served by Mrs. George Younglove of Detroit. Mrs. David Younglove of Britton was in charge of the ice cream and Mrs. Clarence Schroeder, also of Britton, served the punch.

VERA GILBERT was in general charge of the refreshments which were served by the Irene Circle of the church. The decorated birthday cake was made by Mrs. Alice Socks.

Mr. Gibson, who carries his ninety years lightly, in reminiscing about his experiences remembered with wry amusement about, arriving in Michigan at the age of 12, from Antrim County, Ireland. His family misunderstood the railroad conductor and the Gibsons were carried on to Clinton and forced to walk the five miles back to Tecumseh where they spent their first night.

Only one flaw marred his birthday celebration, the fact that distance made it impossible for his other daughter, Mrs. John N. Green of Port Orfgord, Ore. to be present.

Her name was inadvertantly omitted from the story about Mr. Gibson in last week's edition.

REALTY VIEWS

An older couple entered our office and the man said: "We want to buy a small, cheap house."

I grinned and replied, "How small and how cheap?"

"Just a modest place," he said with a smile. "You probably know the kind. A two-bedroom home in a convenient location. Something comfortable but not elaborate. And we expect to pay all cash, so we wouldn't want it to exceed $10,000.00."

"Okay," I said. "I think I remember a listing on just such a property. It is owned by people leaving town who would appreciate a cash deal. Let me tell you about it."

I described it and the lady said, "Let's see it."

A short time later, after inspecting the home, the man said, "That's the place we want. I didn't suppose we could find it so easily."

"Well, it is partly luck," I replied. "However, we do try to locate the kind of homes our clients want. Frequently, we have it listed when they walk in. But other times, we find it for them."

Senator Potter Report

Cash Registers jingle loudly across the land, but Michigan business is ailing.

While payrolls soar in other states, Michigan counts her slow business pulse and worries over rising unemployment figures.

The slump—now several years old—has been blamed on everything from auto layoffs to the weather, with most of the guilt resting squarely on a State administration which casts business in the role of whipping boy.

Whatever the reasons behind the slump, more defense contracts, we believe, would be just what the doctor ordered for Michigan.

We've set up what we hope will be a massive hypo for Michigan business, an ambitious three-day "Business Opportunities Exhibit," opening in Port Huron this week.

Uncle Sam's buying bosses will meet face-to-face with Michigan contractors, large and small, in an effort to direct a share of defense spending into the state.

☆

FOUR FRESHMEN Congressmen who want to see our state prosper are the principal sparkplugs behind the "Business Opportunities Exhibit."

Representatives Robert McIntosh of Port Huron, Charles Chamberlain of Lansing, Robert Griffin of Traverse City, and William Broomfield of Royal Oak have this to say about their efforts:

"Thousands of items purchased annually by the Department of Defense will be exhibited. Manufacturers from throughout the state are invited to attend, to inspect the exhibits, and to confer on contracts with procurement specialists from the Army, Navy, Air Force, Small Business Administration and Department of Commerce.

"Manufacturers will learn what the Defense Department is buying, what it plans to buy in the future, how to be included on bidders' lists and how to bid for defense contracts."

Defense officials expect to profit from all this, too. By swinging defense contracts into labor surplus areas, they strengthen our nation's industrial mobilization base.

Dispersing production also tends to develop new reservoirs of defense skills. And that all-important item, the tax dollar, will unquestionably be spent more wisely when there is greater competition in bidding. Faster production and improved quality are sure to follow.

If Port Huron is a success, Michigan can look for a gradual expansion of her industry from within and without.

Plants will begin to fulfill their capabilities and new industries should be attracted to the state.

But remember, an important ingredient is aggressive action in your own community and complete cooperation throughout the state.

Cheerleaders Visit Hillsdale

Seven Tecumseh high school yell leaders and faculty advisor Carol Sheffer attended Saturday's first Youth Day and Cheerleaders Clinic at Hillsdale college.

It was sponsored by the Hillsdale County YMCA, with the theme of "Building Better Sportsmanship in High School Athletics."

Indian yell leaders attending included Karlyn Mueller, Mary Colgrove, Donna Nixon, Susie Rohweder, Jean Hohenstein, Carol Spangler and Kendra Ringman.

The girls made a tour of the Hillsdale campus, were guests at the game with Olivet college and even joined Hillsdale yell masters as they sparked their team's efforts.

Festival of Faith on November 7

Second annual Festival of Faith at the First Presbyterian Church, sponsored by the Women's association, will be held Thursday, November 7, beginning at 10 a.m.

The morning will be devoted to worship and Bible study with a luncheon at 12:30.

Mrs. Maude Peno of Detroit, a member of the National Board of Missions, will be the guest speaker.

Co-chairmen for this event are Mrs. M. R. Blanden and Mrs. Max Smith. They will be assisted by Mrs. E. J. Aebersold, Mrs. Ben Gielis and Mrs. Charles W. Howe.

Rev. Frey Speaks at Grace Lutheran

Rev. C. Frey, president of the Michigan Lutheran Seminary, will conduct Sunday's 9:30 and 10:30 services at the Tecumseh Grace Lutheran Church, announces Rev. A. Jeschke.

The regular 8:30 gathering will not be held this wee, but starts again October 20.

Quarterly meetings of the Congregation will be held on a Monday instead of Sunday night.

Young people of the Church had a hay ride and wiener roast at the Russ Mitchner's farm on Matthews road.

Bearers For Funeral

Bearers at the funeral service for Mrs. Ida M. Allison Friday were Carl Bailey of Howell, Jack Wheadon of Indianapolis, and Milford Osburn, Jr., Phillip, Ted and Donald Osburn, all of Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Allison died Tuesday of last week at Beyer Memorial hospital and burial was in Brookside cemetery Friday. The Green funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

NEWEST NATIONAL HOME

Three-Bedroom Colonial

A three-bedroom colonial at 1002 W. Pottawatamie street is the latest house under construction by Tecumseh Homes, Inc.

It has already been purchased by Ronald Wittrup, business manager of Herrick Memorial hospital.

However, before the Wittrup family moves in, permission has been given to Tecumseh Homes to use the house as a model for one month.

The structure, including its garage, measures 53'3" by 31'8". Its basic price was $15,000 with a crawl space. A basement would have been $1,200 extra.

Using the pre-fabrication method, Tecumseh Homes received the panels Wednesday morning and by dusk, it was erected and closed in. When completed, the Wittrup home will have brick facing.

Two large National trucks arrived at 7:30 a.m. and unloading continued until noon. As it did, Tecumseh Homes workers were busy handling construction chores.

Three Drunk Drivers Arrested on Saturday

Three drunk drivers, arrested here Saturday by the Tecumseh police, were arraigned Monday at county jail by Justice Robert French. Two plead guilty, one claimed innocence and was placed under $150 bond.

William B. Fielder, 217 N. Pearl street, and Robert W. Wilbar, 210 E. Chicago boulevard, were each fined $75 and $4.90 costs and two days in jail, or 30 days in jail if they failed to pay their fines.

Both also had their driver licenses picked up.

THREE WERE arrested here Monday on drunk and disorderly charges. They were: Edwin Clyde Lee, 35, Garden City; Lorraine Armstrong, 37, RD-1; and Theo Smith, 34, 1327 Shirley drive.

Last Friday morning, a minor accident on Chicago boulevard, near Union, involved automobiles driven by Jerry Noel Elliott, 29, Adrian, and George Junior Steele, 29, 109 N. Ottawa.

Elliott's 1956 Chevrolet sustained about $10 damages to front left fender, and Steele's 1951 Buick received about $30 damages to the left rear door.

FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED . . . ATTEND CHURCH!

THE WORK BENCHES OF GOD

The skill and patience of many a human soul, the blueprint of Christ's own example, and the unseen but mighty craftsmanship of the Creator Himself—these over the decades bring forth a noble Christian life.

There must be understanding, guidance, faith. There must be a Christian home with sincere, loving parents. There must be prayer, the Bible, worship, thought, study. And at length practice and persistence must win many a victory over self before the world begins to recognize the hand of God in the life of a man.

Nearby in the church you will choose, there are busy hands at the work benches of God.

And room for more—your child's and your own!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Indians Face Mason Friday In Quest of First Victory

Tecumseh dropped its second straight Southeastern League tilt and third consecutive game of the season Friday night, bowing to Airport, 26 to 7, at Airport.

The Indians tallied their first touchdown of the year in the opening stanza to enjoy a brief 7 to 0 lead.

Taking the opening kickoff, Tecumseh marched 58 yards to paydirt with Gary Hanna covering the final 13 yards for the score. Larry Yokum converted for the extra point.

Coach Bob Breniff's team travels to Mason this Friday evening in hopes of snapping its losing streak. The young and inexperienced Indians could create a surprise before the season is over.

Against Airport, Tecumseh played its ball game in the first 12 minutes. The host eleven dominated play in the final three periods.

Adding to the woes of the local team was the lighting system which blinked off and on in the second half when Airport tallied its final two scores.

GRANT STEWART sparkled for the winners with TD runs of 48, 42 and three yards.

The speedy Airport back raced 42 yards in the second quarter to tie the score, 48 yards in the third period for Airport's third TD, and plunged three yards into the end zone in the final period.

Airport's Lyle Lambrix put his team in the lead in the second quarter on a two-yard run. Rich Casino ran for extra points after the final two touchdowns.

Rhorback-to-Richards Passes Win for Britton

Britton breezed to an easy win at North Adams Friday night, whipping the host team with four touchdowns in the second and third quarters, 27 to 6.

With quarterback Carl Rohrback pitching and end Ron Richards catching, the Tories broke the contest wide open in the second quarter. Rhorback twice tossed to Richards with 20-yard heaves for touchdowns.

In the third period, Dick Van-Valkenburg tossed to Richards, the pass run play covering 45 yards. Van Valkenburg plunged for two yards and the final score late in the same stanza.

The Tories threatened to score again in the final period but a fumble on the two-yard line stopped the threat.

Merl Sanch place-kicked three extra points.

Rules Of Good Health

Battle That Flu Bug

LANSING—Observing everyday rules of good health will supplement the protective action of Asian flu vaccine.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said everyone should receive the Asian flu vaccine from his physician as soon as possible.

Folks should reinforce that protection both before and after vaccination by getting plenty of rest, by eating sufficient nutritious food and by practicing good personal hygiene.

Observing these rules will afford protection against other types of influenza, the common cold and similar upper respiratory ailments prevalent at this time of year.

DR. HEUSTIS recommends that everyone get between seven and eight hours' sleep every night and eat a well-balanced diet.

In the matter of personal hygiene, the commissioner suggested strict personal cleanliness, avoiding coughing or sneezing in the presence of other persons, and avoiding the use of common or "family" towels, drinking glasses, eating utensils, and toilet articles.

All types of influenza, including the Asian variety, are spread by discharges from the mouth or nose of infected persons. Persons become ill with influenza after contacting droplets of these discharges.

All types of flu cause relatively mild illness with symptoms of fever, chills, aches and pains in the back and limbs, a head cold, sore throat and cough.

☆

INFLUENZA CAN become a serious threat to health if secondary complications such as pneumonia develop.

Complications are most likely to appear in infants, elderly people and persons ill with other diseases.

As soon as a person becomes ill with what he thinks might be the flu he should go to bed and call his physician, the health commissioner recommended, and contacts between the patient and other persons should be kept at a minimum.

That Fine Tradition of Giving

Tragedy engulfed area people last week — a young mother and son were left without father and husband.

State Trooper Dugald Pellot had been killed by bullets from a fugative's gun.

In that fine tradition of wanting to help in some way, folks began making arrangements to assist the widow and child, also trooper, Doug Vogel, who was seriously hurt from gunfire.

Cannisters began to appear in stores. Citizens gave proceeds from Clinton midget races — $225 — to a fund for the troopers.

Everyone who helped in any way, those who donated, those who offered prayers should be congratulated.

As in cases of this nature, there are no names to mention. Folks like to do these things anonymously.

One Way To Hold Down Cost

Only a major reduction in Michigan automobile accident loss can prevent higher automobile insurance rates, the Michigan casualty insurance industry is advising its insured motorists.

A 22 percent increase in accident loss in the last 10 years has been accompanied by an insurance rate increase of only 58 percent, but the loss increase is growing faster each year.

In part, insurance cost has been held down by the spreading of the risk over twice as many motorists. Vehicles in Michigan have increased 96 percent in 10 years.

The difference between the loss increase and the rate increase also is partly the result of an attack by insurance companies upon the overhead cost of their service, including a substantial turn to automation.

Most companies also are experiencing underwriting losses as a result of inadequate rates.

Everyone helps make automobile insurance rates. Motorists cannot control the inflation which increases the cost of every accident, but only the motorists, who share the cost of automobile insurance, can control the number of severity of the accidents which determine that cost. This control is relatively localized.

Michigan rates are based on the loss exference in loss experience, and each is re-Many are cities and their suburbs. Others are primarily rural.

Each is established on the basis of a difference in los sexperience, and each is reviewed regularly for rate adjustment according to its loss trend.

Greater safety on the highways is our best method of holding down auto insurance rates.

Goodby And Thank You

A handsome young visitor in Lenawee County the past nine months is returning to his native Chile in South America with the "United States story."

Humerto Vargasmontenegro, a 26-year old elementary school principal, has been a guest in Georgia and Michigan through the International Farm Youth Exchange program.

IFYE is a program which sends young peoples to foreign lands to live on farms, work, have fun and give talks about their homelands — later when they return home, tell about these experiences. It's one of the the best ideas ever advanced to cement friendly relations between nations of the world.

When in the Wolverine state, he lived, with the Edwin Lipp family on Route 223 near Blissfield.

Humberto's visit has served a two-fold purpose. He has been telling Americans about Chile and at the same time amassing information concerning our Way of Life.

He learned how to square dance in Georgia and he picked up the art of jitter bugging here. He found out that many an American girl has blonde hair and blue eyes — whereas in Chile hair and eyes are always dark.

But, most important, he learned the friendly ways of the American, the spirit of hard work with fun, the readiness to cooperate, the desire to teach.

"People are really friendly here," Humberto notes and you can bet that this will be a major point he'll put across when he tells about his time in the United States to fellow Chileans.

Humberto says "Thank you" to all the folks in Lenawee county who helped to make his stay here an enjoyable one.

In response, we might say, it was nice having you as our visitor, Humberto, and the best of luck.

...And Still Champion

It's always interesting to hear other folks echo your own thoughts. This, of course, has to do with the acceptance of the newspaper in American homes as tops as a news and advertising medium.

Dick Jones, Jr., publisher of The Tulsa Tribune, brought out this point at a recent meeting of the Detroit Adcraft Club — a group of about 500 admen in Detroit from newspapers, television, radio, ad agencies and company advertising departments.

According to Mr. Jones, "Radio and television have helped us by whetting the public appetite for news, background and coverage in depth."

He dipped into the advertising side of the picture by saying that people welcome ads in newspaper. In one survey, 92% of housewives questioned said they wanted newspapers with advertising. But 62% wanted no advertising on television.

Complete and accurate information makes up the newspaper, Mr. Jones went on, and no license to operate (radio and TV need governmental approval) is required for the press.

End of an Era

For 91 years, Clinton had its Woolen Mills. One day last week, folks in that section discovered it had been sold and all manufacturing there discontinued.

The Clinton retail outlet will remain in operation and we're happy for that one remaining ray of good news.

Story of the change was incorporated in a release from the firm:

"J. P. Stevens & Company, Inc., has purchased the business of the Clinton Woolen Manufacturing Co., Clinton, according to an announcement by J. P. Stevens, Jr., Chairman of Stevens and T. B. Nilsen, President and Treasurer of Clinton. The details of the purchase were not disclosed.

"The Clinton fabrics will be made at the Worumbo plant of Stevens.

"Clinton was founded nearly 92 years ago and manufactures high quality specialty fabrics for uniforms, menswear and automobiles.

"Clinton's sales activities will be continued as heretofore with Edward Jacobs, 2575 Fourth Avenue handling uniform goods and Donald Vreeland, Ardsley Textiles, 261 Fifth Avenue selling mens wear. Both selling offices are in New York City.

"Mr. Nilsen will join Stevens, thereby insuring a continuity of previous associations.

"The retail division of Clinton Woolen Manufacturing Company will continue to operate in Clinton as heretofore.

"On October 1st the following letter was mailed to all employees:

"For some time the operation of the mill has given concern to management and directors. We have from time to time informed you of some of our problems in former communications.

"Management has worked hard to find some responsible person or company who would take over the mill and continue to operate it in Clinton. We have found no one willing to do so. This left only one other thing to do and that was to run out the mill and wind up the business. This is now being done. The goods in works will be processed and the plant will then be liquidated. We regret there was nothing else left for the Company to do.

"The buildings will be made available for other industry as soon as possible. We will, of course, do all that we can to assist all of you to find suitable employment elsewhere."

Editor of Clinton's weekly, H. H. Farley, made the following observations in his issue of last week:

"As most folks are aware, the woolen industry throughout the country has had its troubles for a considerable number of years past, and the Clinton mill was one of the last in this part of the country to survive. It is just economically impossible for any industry in this area to pay "area" comparable wages when they are out of line with prevailing "industry" wages. In other words, it became impossible for the local woolen mill to pay wages considerably above the scale paid in woolen mills in the east and in the southern areas of the United States.

"The cessation of this industry here seems almost incredible after these many years and it is bound to leave an economic gap in the area which it will, at least take time to fill; but such evidently is the penalty of progress, as synthetics have taken their toll in the woolen industry, as has the wage scales in this area. It has become very evident in almost every industry of late, especially in those that are in the more competitive industries that no manufacturers in any area can pay higher wages than their competitors in another, and long survive."

Area Churches

By Rev. George E. Walworth
Pastor, First Presbyterian Church

The First Presbyterian Church of Tecumseh is a Reformed Christian Church which receives its name from its form of government.

Like all other points of Presbyterian doctrine, this representative concept of government is felt to be that which is most agreeable to the Word of God.

Presbyterians therefore claim that "The Bible is the only infallible rule of faith and practice."

☆

BECAUSE THE Bible is the record of God's revelation to mankind and the abiding witness to the fact that he has spoken, Presbyterians affirm the following great doctrines:

1. The sovereignty of God—"This is my Father's world"—chief end of man is to glorify God and enjoyed Him forever.
2. God has an eternal plan—whereby he embraces the whole universe with purpose and counsel.
3. Salvation is a gracious gift bestowed upon us by God—everything leading up to our salvation and everything connected with is the grace of God.
4. Nothing can separate us from the love of God—the love of Christ holds us back from sin and inspires us to a life of holiness.
5. Justification by faith—God accepts man on belief—not by works.
6. Priesthood of every believer—every Christian is called to a life for service whereby he serves—he is not served.

☆

WHENEVER you see a Presbyterian in Tecumseh you can note the following—He is part of a grand heritage which: organized the public school system and based it upon religious instruction; fought for and developed the representative form of government which this country enjoys; continually champions the right and freedom of every man before God regardless of condition, class, race, or belief.

In order to make a dynamic witness regarding these beliefs this congregation has sponsored the resettlement of two refugee families, one in 1949 and one in 1957.

Also, it has suported a National Missionary in Morgantown, West Virginia and a World Wide Mission outpost in Mexico since 1951.

Thus this Church has stood as a bulwark of faith for 130 years in this community. It carries on at this time a ministry extending to the far corners of the world.

Made up of a congregation of 355 families, its program includes a plan of Christian education for all ages.

It has given in the past the leadership for which Presbyterians are famous and, God willing, it shall continue to do so till the end of time.

Future plans call for the realization of the Presbyterians strong and fundamental concept of missionary enterprise. This congregation hopes to reach dollar for dollar giving to current expenses and benevolences by 1962.

New Route US 23 Runs Directly South

☆ ☆ ☆

Bridges Should Be Done in Year

Route of the new US-23 was designated this week in a bulletin from the Michigan State Highway Department.

Low bidder on a 186-foot bridge, carrying two 42-foot roadways of the new US-23 over the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad three miles south of Dundee was to be determined today in Lansing. Completion date is Oct. 31, 1958.

Michigan and Ohio finally have come to an agreement on location of the line for the highway and the start of construction work.

Present US-23 has been rebuilt north of Dundee to Milan, and from Ann Arbor north to Whitmore Lake village. Some sections have dual divided highway, others have a right-of-way wide enough for addition of a second roadway in the future, together with several new bridges and grade separations.

From Dundee south, present US-23 goes easterly nearly six miles along M-50, then swings almost straight south to the Ohio line. It is very narrow, has dangerous ditches and very narrow shoulders, and is about six miles longer than the new Dundee-Sylvania section will be. The present highway was resurfaced last year to smooth its rough surface to accomodate traffic until the new US-23 roadways can be completed.

The new US-23 dual roadway will run between Summerfield and Wells roads from Dundee straight south for approximately seven miles, then swing westerly and southerly, crossing Summerfield road near Morocco road, and White Ford road at Johnson road (M-151). From that point, the new highway will again go straight south, between Sylvania and Jeffs Doty roads to the Ohio line.

As the new road crosses into Ohio, it will be just east of the Toledo Memorial Park cemetery, immediately east of the city of Sylvania. A short distance south of the Ohio line it will have connections to the Ohio Turnpike. The distance of the new roadways from Dundee to the Ohio line will be 16 miles.

Next structures to be let on the new US-23 will be a grade separation and interchange at M-50, a bridge over the Raisin River a short distance south of M-50, and grade separations at Brewer, Dixon, Ida West, Ida Center, and Summerfield roads.

Other structures will be required at Teal, Rauch, Johnson (M-151, Consear, and Stearns roads; also two bridges at 10-Mile creek in order to make the new roadways limited access and expressway type construction. Interchanges are planned at Ida West, Consear and Teal roads.

The state highway department is studying the possibility of relocating US-223 near the Ohio line to hook in with the new US-23 just south of M-151.

Dual roadways on the new US-23 south of Dundee will have a median strip ranging from 46 to 70 feet, which will permit widening of the two lanes on each of the roadways in future years should traffic require it.

Traffic experts predict US-23, as a main route from Ohio to the Straits of Mackinac, and its conversion into an expressway type facility will have a big increase in its traffic volumes in future years.

The new Dundee-Sylvania expressway will be part of the overall improvement of US-23 into a four-lane highway from the Ohio line north to Standish in Arenac county.

From Flint north to Kawkawlin in Bay county, US-23 will become part of the new Detroit-to-Soo National Interstate limited-access highway.

From Fenton to Bay City, construction is in various stages, with the 34-mile Fenton-Clio section scheduled for completion late this year.

Britton Will Soon Have New 'Pre-Fab' Concrete Depot

In it's place will go an all-concrete structure, reports Rowland Farrar, Wabash station agent.

Walls of the new depot, already platforms north of the present office, are of pre-fab design. A poured and hardened on special crane will hoist them into position when the foundation is completed.

The new station will measure 18x24 feet, states Mr. Farrar, who has been railroading since 1913.

Expected to be ready for occupancy in late November, the new depot will have oil heat, spelling the demise of the picturesque pot belly coal stove.

About 20 trains, on the line from Detroit to St. Louis, Missouri, pass through Britton each 24 hours.

Michigan's Autumn Colors Reaching Spectacular Peak

Michigan's autumn color spectacular has begun.

According to reports received by the Michigan Tourist Council, fall foliage was at its peak in the Upper Peninsula last weekend and within the next week the entire state will be splashed in crimson and gold on a background of spruce green.

FALL COLOR tour inquiries already are 25 percent over last year's total.

This includes, of course, only inquiries on color junkets and the Tourist Council's personalized postcard service for informing the public when the color will reach its peak in the various sections of Michigan, and doesn't reflect the travel trade resulting from grouse, partridge, waterfowl or bow and arrow deer hunting.

Nearly all of Michigan's motels and motor courts remain open through September and October with more than 50 percent doing business all year.

Harvest Loss Can Cut Corn Crop Up to 20%

That's the belief of Elmer Rossman, farm crops specialist at Michigan State University.

Harvest losses with mechanical corn pickers average 10 per cent of the crop with some losses as high as 20 per cent.

This is a mistake because attached husks do not interfere much with storage and there is no discount for a few husks when corn is sold. In fact, to get ears clean of husks, shelled corn losses will run high.

Picker operators should look on the ground for shelled corn and missed ears to judge the job they are doing rather than worrying about husks on the ears.

☆

Pick as soon as you can safely store the corn. Losses generally increase with a delay in harvest.

If corn is to be cribbed without drying, start picking when moisture is down to 25 per cent.

Where driers are available begin picking at 35 percent moisture and the saving in harvest losses may more than pay for the drying.

Pick at speeds that will keep losses at a minimum. Losses may double as speed is increased from two to four miles per hour.

Adjust snapping rolls properly to hold corn losses to a minimum yet have freedom from clogging. Increasing the roll speed in thick plantings may reduce shelled corn loss and clogging of picker.

Keep picker snout close to the ground to get under broken stalks.

Drive directly on the row. Losses may double when picker is slightly off center of the row.

St. Elizabeth "11" Plays Here Sunday

Last weekend's battle with Wayne St. Mary's was postponed until some time next week, Coach Osburn found nearly half of his squad unavailable due to flu.

150 Shooters Will Take Part in Turkey Shoot

DEARBORN—If Dan'l Boone or Davy Crockett were around today, they'd beam approval over the work of a 44-year-old craftsman from Lowell, Ohio.

He is Cecil G. Brooks, who will show the skill that won him fame as the nation's leading gunsmith at the Third Annual Midwest Muzzle Loaders Turkey Shoot at Greenfield Village, Saturday and Sunday.

Brooks will give demonstrations of gunmaking both days, using only old-fashioned hand tools.

Boone, Crockett and other old frontiersmen undoubtedly would be amazed at the current brisk demand for old guns and Brooks' ability to fill orders.

They'd probably also gasp at some of the price tags. He gets as much as $1,000 for a silver-mounted flintlock. Such a piece takes nearly a month to make.

☆

Events both days will start with a flag raising and parade to the shooting area at 12 noon and continue to 5 p.m.

Saturday activities will include individual marksmanship matches for shooters garbed in frontier dress and costume judging contests for men, women and children.

Matches between Civil War uniformed military teams, both Union and Confederate, will dominate Sunday's program. They will use balloons, cans, wooden stakes and other visible targets.

In addition, the best of the Union Civil War teams will attempt to make it two straight wins over crack Army and Marine teams with modern weapons. Last year the muzzle loaders won easily.

Civil War music will be furnished by two fife and drum corps. They are the Mount Vernon, Ohio, Sons of Veterans, a unit descended from Union soldiers, and the Blue Water Corps of Port Huron, Mich.

Fall Is the Proper Time To Dig Up Glads, Dahlias

Take care of glads, dahlias and cannas this fall if you want them to be in good condition for planting next spring, suggests Jim Feucht, horticulturist at Michigan State University.

Glads are ready to dig 30 to 50 days after blooming or right after the first hard frost.

To dig glads, it's best to use a fork or fork-like tool because you're less likely to injure the corm, the bulb-like glad root. Remove excess soil and cut tops off about 1 inch above corm.

While you're working, keep varieties separate and label them for easy planting next spring. Move corms to a well ventilated, frost free area to cure for a few weeks. They're ready to clean when the outer covering or scales are easy to remove.

☆

TO CLEAN the glad corms, remove outer scales and new cormels, small bulb-like roots. Then dust with 5 percent DDT to control thrips.

Store cleaned corms in a well ventilated, cool place. In the home, any cellar where apples or potatoes will keep is usually satisfactory, however do not store them together.

To keep varieties separate and aid air circulation put each group of corms in a perforated paper bag or onion mesh bag.

Dig dahlia and canna roots a few days after frost has killed the plants. Be careful in digging so you don't cut, bruise or break the bulb-like roots. Dig them on a sunny day and allow roots to sun dry several hours.

☆

To keep dahlia and canna roots from shriveling store them in a moist place with temperatures between 35 and 45 degrees. Do not store them in moist material.

For most home storage you'll find that storing them in a crate of peat moss, vermiculite or sawdust will hold moisture in the roots.

Or you can pack the roots loosely in a box lined with paper. Divisions for planting are made shortly before planting in the Spring.

Baptist Class Names Committee For Square Dance

The Christian Workers Class of the Baptist Church planned a square dance at their meeting Friday evening in the Youth House, following a potluck supper.

H. Lee Prettymen presided at the business meeting.

A committee including Mr. and Mrs. George Green, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Prettyman, co-chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lask and Mr. and Mrs. Max Elliott, in charge of decorating was announced.

Date of the event will be announced later.

☆

MEMBERS VOTED to furnish flowers for the altar for one Sunday, also to pay the building pledge and the weekly church pledge up to date.

Following the business meeting devotions were conducted by Mrs. Lee Prettyman.

Mrs. Harold Kelso presented pictures of Switzerland taken when she and her husband were there for the Rotary International.

Next meeting will be held October 25 with Mr. and Mrs. Green as hosts and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Langham in charge of the entertainment.

Lee Vescelius in Special Group

ANN ARBOR—About 140 superior freshmen in the University of Michigan College of Literature, Science and the Arts have courses specially designed for them beginning this fall.

Professor Robert C. Angell of the sociology department, director of the new program, spent the summer screening records and interviewing prospective honor students from among the 2,000 freshmen planning to enter the U-M this fall.

Among them is Lee E. Vescelius of 2371 Monroe road in Tecumseh.

The students selected were ranked in the top five per cent of their graduating classes. More than half had taken part in the Ford Foundation's National Merit Scholarship awards program.

The new program, result of three years planning by a committee on curriculum flexibility, was approved last spring.

Special sections of freshman courses have been set up for the gifted students. Angell and other heads of departments of LSA will set up a program for all four years of undergraduate work of the superior students.

Death Rate

State Police provisional figures for September show 108 traffic deaths, a saving of 61 lives over the same month last year.

For the first nine months of the year the total now stands at 1,084. In the same period of 1956 it was an even 1,300. The difference of 216 is a reduction of 16.6 per cent.

The figures are subject to change downward with final reports, but not withstanding the state is well beyond its goal of saving 174 lives this year, or 10 per cent of the death toll of 1,747 in 1956.

Michigan Duck Hunters

They're wooden, but decoys often look real enough to fool live ducks, say veteran waterfowl hunters. These nimrods, hoping to lure birds within range, probably will bag their share of ducks during the state's October 1-December 9 season. Last year, Michigan hunters took more than 492,000 ducks and 14,000 geese.

THE LONG and SHORT of it

BY TOM RIORDAN

HOW LOW CAN A THIEF sink?

Police report that four of the cannisters placed in stores, to collect donations for the widow and son of the late Dugald Pellot and wounded Trooper Doug Vogel, were stolen.

It's hard to believe, but it's true.

Cannisters were taken from Ben's Market, Rosacrans', Van's Pastry Shop and Cameron Drug.

☆

AS THE JOHN SNYDER family awaited the fire department to douse a blaze on its property Sunday, nine-year old John C. suddenly remembered something.

"Hey, dad," he shouted excitedly, "My sled is in there," pointing to the building on fire.

It was a tough blow to young John, but his father wisely made no attempt to enter the structure.

There's a good moral to this — our firemen are trained to handle such catastrophes, we should always let them take over.

Instead of losing some bit of property, we might lose a life.

IT'S ALWAYS ENJOYABLE getting letters. Like this one from Mrs. Will E. Allen, 90 years young, which arrived in our office recently.

"I am here in Cincinnati on a visit with my son, Dr. Floyd Allen, and am leaving for Detroit to be with my daughter again.

"I see by my Tecumseh Herald paper, that I have taken for 65 long years, it has been sold again.

"I am lost without my paper. I am a widow lady at the advanced age of 90 years and six months old. I can still write and read and work some yet.

"Tecumseh has been my home town for some years. I hope and pray for both of you."

Isn't that grand.

☆

A COUPLE OF CHANGES along main streets — one finished, one starting — deserve noting.

The new Esquire Cleaner is distinctive and attractive. It makes a nice addition to business row.

☆

WE'D LIKE TO THANK folks who have been calling with ideas for stories and pictures.

Several have developed into lead items. For these — and the small tips, too — we are most appreciative. Please keep 'em coming.

Military Rites Held Tuesday for J. Prochaska

Military funeral services were conducted Tuesday for 45-year old John Prochaska of rural Deerfield.

When his tractor accidentally overturned Saturday, he was pinned beneath it, suffering internal injuries.

Mr. Prochaska, an army veteran of World War II, died while being taken to Tecumseh's Herrick Memorial hospital.

Legionnaires from the Deerfield post, of which he had been a member, conducted the military rites.

Prior to that, services were held in Deerfield's St. Alponsus Church with Rev. Sigismund Osmialowski in charge. Mr. Prochaska had attended school at St. Alphonsus.

Ten years ago he purchased a portion of the former Ridge property east of Holloway.

He is survived by his wife, Barbara, whom he married in 1946, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Valentin Prochaska, a son, John, Jr., and a daughter, Ann Marie.

Other survivors include a brother, Joseph of Tecumseh, and three sisters, Mrs. John Kohut of Deerfield, Mrs. Joseph Bakus of Ottawa Lake and Mrs. Charles Koman of Britton.

Wins High Award

Lester J. Ruhl, Sr., was presented with the Scouter's Key—highest award presented to Scoutmasters—at the recent Wolverine Council Banquet and Scouters Recognition program.

Mr. Ruhl spent the past weekend with Bud Fergus and Wilmer Kiser of Tecumseh, at the Charles Howell Reservation, located at Brighton Lake, where they attended Basic Instructors course.

100 VO[illegible]EERS START WORK

Com[illegible]unity Chest Drive Begins

More than 100 vol[illegible] have set about the 'ask o[illegible] to reach Tecum[illegible]'s 19[illegible]munity Chest $1[illegible]7 qu[illegible].

The remainder will be amassed by donations to the men and women now going from door to door in the city and township.

Vern Manwaring, who is serving as chairman, chatted with workers at a breakfast Tuesday.

Rev. Blair Bashore gave the invocation.

Introduced was Martin Berdit of Lansing, an official of Michigan United Fund, Inc., who outlined the broad scope, gave some helpful tips to volunteers.

Mr. Berdit said that on some occasions, workers will be told of an adverse experience a person has had in dealing with a Community Chest agency.

In the main, he went on, in tracking these down, it turns out the story is exaggerated and that the agency's bylaws often do not permit granting of certain desires.

Bill Davenport underwrote the cost of the breakfast, which was served by members of the American Legion Auxiliary with Mrs. Manwaring as chairman.

Anyone not personally contacted may send contributions to Mr. Manwaring or to Merlin Downing at the United Savings Bank.

Man, 49 Drowns

Harold "Bill" Millyard, 49, an employee of the Tecumseh Materials, Inc., drowned about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon after falling off a sand dredge at the company's gravel pit, one mile south of Tecumseh. Police dragging operations recovered his body later in the day.

Board Opening Bids Thursday on Acres School and Additions

The Tecumseh school board adjourned Monday night until this Thursday evening at 8 o'clock when bids for construction of the Tecumseh Acres school and additions to the high school will be opened.

The new Tecumseh Acres school, consisting of 13 classrooms, will be built along Adrian street in southwest Tecumseh and is estimated by the architect to cost $522,000.

Two high school additions, doubling the areas of the home economics and shop departments, have been estimated at $187,000.

☆

IN OTHER business Monday night, the board voted to hold a special election, probably in early December, for sale of the Brownville school building at the corner of N. Evans and W. Brown streets.

Supt. James McDowell told the board it would take at least four weeks of legal procedures before the issue could be put before the electorate. Voters will simply be asked on the ballot to give the board permission to sell.

Three Lutheran church officials, Rev. Robert Bergman, Rev. Frank Madsen and Robert Krasa attended the meeting and discussed purchasing the property.

The board also discussed acquiring land for recreational purposes from C. M. Brown of Ridgeway for the new Ridgeway school.

Wit and Wisdom Meet at Waldrons

First fall meeting of the Wit and Wisdom club was held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Waldron with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Munger and Mrs. Ruth Dustin assisting.

A short business meeting, conducted by the new president, Earl Greene, was followed by an impromptu program due to the absence of the leader, Alvin Brazee, because of illness.

Area people opened their hearts—and their pocketbooks—to the memory of heroic action of two State Troopers.

One of them, Dugald Pellot of Tecumseh, paid with his life.

For his 21-year old widow, Kay, and her infant son, Gregory, and Douglas Vogel, the other Trooper, folks began a collection.

This week coins were counted —$776, all told.

Of this, $200 was given to Trooper Vogel, now home and recovering from gun wounds. The balance went to Mrs. Pellot.

Power Saws Rip in Goodwill 'Bee'

Early in September, a freak home accident blinded Lowell "Red" Edwards in his left eye, a week after he moved into his new, but unfinished home on N. Maiden Lane.

Red, employed by the R. S. Moore & Son Lumber Company, was hospitalized twice and work on his house stopped as he was doing practically all of it by himself. Doctors had ordered no heavy work.

The Edwards family, including three young boys, faced winter living in an unfinished four-bedroom house, complete on the inside, but without siding and other exterior.

☆

SUNDAY, POWER saws ripped through house siding from early morning until late in the afternoon.

More siding was nailed in place and work on the roof over-hang completed than Red could have accomplished in a week.

Seven loyal friends had come to his aid.

They were: Russ Cheever, of Cheever and Benedict Construction Company; Carl Brown, Brown and Demlow Construction, Blissfield; Bob Auten, Britton Construction worker; Elwood Tucker, Tecumseh Lumber Company; Chuck Edwards and Drew Edwards, Ann Arbor, brother and father, and Carl Kennel.

They started ariving at the Edwards home about 8 a.m. and did not leave until dusk.

☆

IN A FEW weeks, if his condition continues to improve, Red expects to resume work on the house and put in the front lawn.

Doctors say there is a chance that he may regain part of his lost sight, but it will take six months or more before they will be able to tell.

Family Sees Garage Burn

The Snyder family was unaware of the blaze until a passing motorist spotted it and called in through the front door.

Tecumseh's fire department responded and had the fire out in a matter of minutes.

Mr. Snyder stated that the building contained paint, storm windows, tools and childrens toys.

Origin of the blaze is not certain.

The film is about children's fears and ways parents react to handle them.

The nuptial mass was sung by the men's choir of the St. Elizabeth's Catholic church in Tecumseh and celebrated at 9:30 o'clock by the Rev. Fr. George Van Antwerp.

Mrs. Benjamin Hammack played the nuptial music on the organ.

☆

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a ballerina length gown of lace designed with a sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves.

The over skirt of lace extended the full length of the skirt in front and cascaded to a very narrow width in the back. Small ruffled tiers extended down the back of the skirt and a large satin bow with streamers fell to the hemline.

Her finger tip veil of nylon net was attached to a crown of lace matching the bridal gown and embroidered with sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

The bride asked Mrs. James Grubber to be her matron of honor and Mrs. Lewis Wilson and Kay Kloster to be bridesmaids.

The Homecoming celebration as we know it means many things. The present traditions have built up since World War II.

There is the thrilling football game under the bright lights, clever floats, the pretty girls who are the queen and her court, and a dance after the game.

To the alumni it means remembering their own school days.

☆

THE FLOATS are being built in great secrecy by all the high school classes and organizations.

Friday afternoon there will be a big parade during which the floats are judged downtown. The high school band leads the whole procession.

At half-time the floats roll across the field pulled by new cars in the order of their place. The winners are a secret until then. Cash prizes are awarded to the first three places.

☆

CLASS ELECTIONS were held Wednesday to choose one representative each from the sophomore and junior classes, and three candidates from the senior class to vie for queen. Thursday the whole school will elect one of the senior candidates Queen. The other girls will be in her court.

The Homecoming Queen is announced and presented with a bouquet of red roses by the team captain. Formals are worn only by the court and the queen.

The gym will be decorated by the Student Council which is in charge of the dance. At midnight the Homecoming Queen will be crowned by Student Council President, John Elliott.

Altar Society Greets Newest Member

St. Elizabeth's Altar Society met Wednesday evening in the school auditorium with Mrs. R. C. Roll presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Robert Sage.

Opening of New Bridge Certain To Bring Benefits

EAST LANSING — Opening of the new Mackinac Bridge this fall is certain to benefit Northern Michigan—but authorities disagree about the amount of economic expansion to expect.

While Upper Peninsula residents rub their hands in anticipation of a great new prosperity boom, other observers are taking a let's-wait-and-see attitude.

Michigan State University specialists, familiar with various aspects of the northern economy, offer contrasting views concerning the first direct highway link between the two parts of Michigan.

A member of the Tourist and Resort Service sees the straits bridge becoming one of the nation's top tourist attractions and a magnet for tourist dollars which already mount up in millions each year.

☆

AN MSU EXTENSION director in the Upper Peninsula forsees both advantages and new problems awaiting the northern area.

Dr. Robert W. McIntosh, MSU extension specialist with the Tourist and Resort Service, believes the bridge "will be a tremendous stimulus to Northern Michigan."

He points out that Straits of Mackinac traffic is expected to nearly double in the first full year of bridge operation—from an estimated 1,000,000 cars via ferry and bridge this year to an estimated 1,927,000 in 1958."

"The greatest effect probably will be in land use and increase of recreational facilities," Dr. McIntosh said.

"Land prices are jumping now. In some areas frontage for a gas station now costs $60,000—the price once of a whole section of land in the area. The impact will be felt most in the eastern portion, from Manistique to Drummond Island."

☆

THE MACKINAC Bridge will join the locks at Sault Ste. Marie as a great tourist attraction, he added, pointing out that man-made objects always are the greatest attractions—"like New York City, Washington and the Golden Gate Bridge, for example. Many tourists bypass Grand Canyon to visit a nearby dam site."

Dr. McIntosh predicts heavier traffic in both directions. Eventually, he pointed out, a four-lane divided highway from Detroit to Sault Ste. Marie will be integrated with the 41,000-mile national system of interstate highways,, "creating for many American shippers the shortest route to the Pacific Northwest and the Rockies."

A ten-minute instead of ten-hour crossing for deer hunters will help too, he added.

"Outstanding scenery is one of our greatest resources," agrees Dan Sturt, MSU's District Extension Director in the UP. Increased travel over the bridge, he says, "may develop the Upper Peninsula into the playground of the industrial midwest."

"Of equal importance, the bridge will mean closer markets for our farm and timber products," he added. "The distance barrier which has discriminated against Upper Peninsula producers, industrial and farm alike, through the years will be lessened.

"The Michigan State University Upper Peninsula resource development program, operated from our Extension Center in Marquette, is attempting to encourage development of new varieties of crops, improved farm forestry practices, better tourist and resort services and the like, all of which are in keeping with changed conditions which will result in the Upper Peninsula from such dramatic developments as the new bridge."

☆

"ON THE debit side," he cautioned, "more people will mean more problems in some respects at least. The need for greater safety efforts and zoning to insure our scenic beauty will no doubt be heightened."

Dr. Bennett T. Sandefur, professor of geology at MSU, concedes that the Mackinac Bridge will have important service aspects, but is not as certain of resulting economic expansion.

"The most important Upper Peninsula products are limestone and iron and copper ores," he pointed out, "all of which will continue to depend upon cheaper lake shipping to compete with other sources."

Increased tourist trade in the UP could be balanced somewhat by losses at St. Ignace and Mackinaw City, present ferry headquarters, he warned, with some tourist traffic moving on into Ontario resorts.

"It is possible that steel plants could be induced to move nearer our sources of essential iron ore and limestone," Dr. Sandefur explained, "but coal and electricity are necessary too and they are more available to the south."

A BUSINESS specialist on the MSU faculty sees truck traffic increasing with the bridge, but declines to estimate how much, and doubts immediate industrial expansion.

"There aren't enough population centers in the Upper Peninsula—like Sault Ste. Marie," he said.

"But the moment you get a good transportation facility the population may be drawn into the area. If it is, industry will tend to move in also. The important thing is that the expansion is now possible."

Members of the MSU forestry department predict the UP lumber industry will be affected slightly, particularly in the eastern end where abundant pulp wood material waits to be used.

"It will be possible for some wood to be trucked to Lower Michigan mills, traffic which is virtually non-existant now," said Dr. Lee M. James, associate professor of forestry. "A number of companies have indicated they will bring down some new materials."

Dairy spokesmen said Upper Peninsula dairy herds may not be affected greatly, though more cattle may be bred to freshen seasonally to coincide with tourist demands.

The O. E. Zimmerman farm, six miles south of Hudson on U.S. 127, has been selected as the site for the event.

The Hudson Kiwanis Club is managing the event while the Cooperative Extension Service is assisting with the contest itself and providing the educational program.

Separate contests for one-row picker and two-row pickers are to be held. The one-row contest leads off the day's program at 10:30 a.m.

Following lunch on the grounds, a demonstration is planned to show how to make a field determination of corn yields.

This will be followed by corn picker safety demonstration handled by Dick Pfister, Michigan State safety specialist.

At 2 p.m., the two-row picker contest is scheduled. Later, at 3 p.m., there will be a tractor safety demonstration with Jughead, the careless tractor operator, as the star performer.

Contest winners will be announced at 3:30.

Displays of various kinds of corn production, handling and harvesting machinery are being arranged for the day, says White.

There will be no admission charge and space will be available for all cars to park at a nominal cost.

In the event of adverse weather conditions that day, the contest will be held on the following day.

Lasting Peace Reality 'in This Generation'

The program was climaxed by a discourse, "What Are the Prospects for Lasting Peace?".

The address was given by Peter D'Mura, New York minister in charge of Jehovah's Witnesses' activities throughout the states of Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana.

D'Mura brought his audience of 1,331 to attention when he stated, "Among the most noble and desirable goals which will bring true happiness to all mankind is lasting peace. It is natural to desire peace, but this is a strange world."

With optimism D'Mura related that lasting peace is a reality, that it will come "in this generation", not by mans' efforts, but by means of a "kingdom that Christians have been praying for, for over 1900 years."

Two of Newest Land Marks

NEWEST LANDMARKS on the Lake Erie Shore near Monroe are the dome-shaped steel reactor building of the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power plant and the adjacent water-tower.

At an Open House next Saturday and Sunday, October 19 and 20, the public will view the first completed structures of Michigan's first atomic-electric generating station. The great steel capsule, which will contain the reactor and all nuclear components, measures 120-feet from its crown to its base, 50 feet below ground.

The welded dome, pressure-tested to assure air-tightness and strength, is the outermost of a series of protective shields which, together with positive automatic controls, guarantee the safety both of plant personnel and the public.

Hours of the open house, sponsored by Power Reactor Development Company, will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., next Saturday and Sunday. The Plant site is near the end of Pointe aux Peaux Road, which runs east from M-56 (the old Dixie Highway) between Rockwood and Monroe.

Inside 20—Yard Line 3 Times, Still Cant Tally

BY JON COOK

A poor start and a lapse in the third quarter doomed the Tecumseh Indians to their fourth loss Friday night at Mason, 19 to 0.

A few breaks in the second half would have at least put the Indians in the scoring column.

Trailing Mason by 19 points in the fourth stanza, the Indians rallied to penetrate Mason's 20-yard line three times in the final period and three times the drives faltered. Twice the Indians gambled on fourth down and lost.

☆

IN THE FINAL seconds, Tecumseh moved to Mason's one-yard line. The clock denied them another chance for paydirt and the Indians were handed their third shutout of the '57 season.

Mason marced to its first TD early in opening period, moving 70 yards in 10 plays. Dart Stone, speedy Mason back, plunged over from the two.

The winners added another touchdown in the first quarter when they marched 52 yards from their own 48. Doug Lamke smashed over center from the five.

An intercepted pass by Stone in the third period gave the Bulldogs the ball on Tecumseh's 25. Seven plays later Stone skipped around right end for the tally.

Mason ground out 297 yards on the ground to Tecumseh's 112 yards.

PHEASANT BAG OF MILLION

Season Opens Monday

Michigan's 1957 small game hunting activity gets into full swing October 21 when the major seasons open in the southern lower peninsula.

Starting at 10 a.m. Monday, hunters will be afield with pheasants, rabbits and squirrels as the principal tragets.

Pheasants, of course, will be the most popular game in southern Michigan farming country and hunters should find another good crop of ringnecks.

A HUNTER bag in excess of 1,000,000 pheasants is predicted for the October 21-November 10 season in the lower peninsula.

Last year, the take was 1,126,000 birds — the fourth consecutive year the million mark was reached.

Bag limits of two pheasants per day, four in possession and eight for the season are unchanged from last year.

Conservation Department game surveys this spring and summer indicate pheasant hunting will be about as good as last year.

Breeding stock was down somewhat from 1956, but a good hatch seems to offset that factor.

Rabbit hunters in the southern lower peninsula will open their October 21-March 1 season with prospects of a good bunny crop.

LAST YEAR, cottontail hunters throughout the state bagged 1,487,000 rabbits. The rabbit season opened October 1 in northern lower peninsula and in the U.P.

Squirrel hunting also gets underway October 21 opener slated for the southern lower peninsula. This season closes November -10.

Deerfield Homecoming Capped by Victory

Deerfield high's homecoming was a sweet success with a 19 to 7 win over Britton-Macon to cap festivities.

Britton played without its coach, Dale Bunce, and two gridders, Ron Richards and Tom Conrad, all out with flu.

Deerfield got its scoring started in the first period when Larry Yape burst through the middle on a 25-yard junket.

☆

STARTING the drive, Carl Rhorback pitched out to halfback Dave Servoss, who in turn threw a pass to Van Valkenburg for a 26-yard gain.

A screen pass from Rhorback to Fred Barnes moved the ball to the 13 and after several running attempts, Barnoske bulled over from half a yard out.

Britton — Macon

The PTA of the Britton-Macon schools will meet next Monday evening, October 21.

☆

Edith Buffett is vice president; Carol Zimmerle, secretary; and Frank Kovach, treasurer.

William Saxton is the delegate to the district meeting with Earl Snodgrass, alternate.

☆

☆

St. Elizabeth's 'II' Meets St. Thomas

After playing two games in as many days, St. Elizabeth's junior high football squad will have a two-week layoff.

Next action will be October 27 when the Cubs entertain St. Thomas of Ann Arbor on Recreation Field.

☆

MONDAY, THE Cubs scored their first victory of the season, stopping Wayne St. Mary's, 7 to 6, in a game postponed from a week ago.

Dick Golat did all the scoring against the Wayne "11", stepping into the end zone in the second period after taking an aerial from Mike Rohrer.

St. Mary's scored on an intercepted pass, covering 60 yards, but the St. Elizabeth's lads stopped the try for extra point.

Dennis Kerwin, a 120-pound Queen's wingback, scored all three touchdowns, stepping two yards for the first and then making 40 and 30 sprints for the others.

The win left the Jackson eleven with a perfect (3 and 0) record in Southern Michigan Parochial league action. Queen's has one non-conference defeat.

We Will All Benefit

This year's goal is $13,717.

Volunteer workers, who'll soon be pounding the pavement, munched chocolate and sugar covered donuts and sipped coffee as they learned their duties. Some were veterans of former fund drives and to them it was old hat.

A deserving bouquet was tossed to Vern Manwaring from Owen Partridge of the Community Fund Board when he told the audience, "Vern has done a wonderful job in getting this all set up."

Fund raising has become an accepted tradition in America. It's a vital part of everyday living—and becoming more important yearly.

The fellow who came up with the "united drive" idea solved a lot of problems for a lot of folks.

Up until the "give-once-for-all" theme came along, people found themselves spending much of their time getting up to open the front door and hear a plea "to give to this or that worthy cause."

Now, by welding together the needs of Scouts, Red Cross, Band Festival and community holiday parties, Aid to Migrant Workers and other local organizations, citizens make a single donation.

This covers everything locally, as well as Tecumseh's share of state and national efforts, such as the Heart Fund, Multiple Sclerosis.

The Community Chest method of bringing aid to charitable organizations is helpful to Mr. Average Citizen—and it's of great benefit to the groups involved.

Please lend your support to this year's drive.

With Care, Please, Mr. Hunter

Safety is a topic which never can be written about too often, we feel.

With hunting season opening Monday, we'd like to remind sportsmen of their responsibilities:

First of all, always remember that a gun is a really dangerous weapon. Don't load it until you're ready to hunt, keep the safety on until the last possible moment.

Climbing over a fence, or going under one should be done without your weapon. It can be slipped along the ground—before or after you.

It may seem ridiculous to remind the hunter, but we'll do it just the same: don't point your gun at anything or anybody unless you intend to shoot it.

A hunter's worst enemy is often himself, so be careful.

While on the subject of safety, we'd like to direct a word to rural folks.

Tractors, corn pickers, combines and other farm gear are just as dangerous as the proverbial "unloaded gun."

While working around them, farmers should continually be on the alert, especially when children in the family are pitching in.

It's usually a good idea not to allow youngsters to ride on tractors with dad, or play in the area of moving machinery.

Tecumseh Wanted The Braves

It's pretty safe to write that Tecumseh area folks were well pleased with the World Series victory of the Milwaukee Braves.

Seemed that an awful lot of businessmen were finding their ways to important conferences about game time each day.

As one Chicago boulevard restauranteer mused to a group of customers, "There won't be enough suds in that town for the celebration. They'll be importing it from Detroit."

The rise of the Braves reminds this writer a bit of the insanity which engulfed Detroit back in 1934 when Mickey Cochran rode the Tiger express to its first modern era pennant.

True, the St. Louis Cardinals, featuring the unforgettable Dean brothers of "Me and Paul" fame, won the Series, but the Motor City went slightly goofy that summer.

You old timers may recall that zanzy Free Press column, "Iffy the Dopster" who wrote some stimulating columns about the pennant race, only he called it "peanut."

Iffy, whose real identity was for a long time unknown, sort of summed up the fanatical feeling of normally sane Detroiters.

The next year, Detroit won another and defeated the Chicago Cubs for the world crown, but it just didn't have that old thrill.

Milwaukee and Wisconsin folks are living like they never lived before. But after another few big years, unless we're way off base, they'll soon accept championships like folks in other successful cities.

Variety of Courses Offered to Adults

Plans for the Adult Education courses to be offered by the Tecumseh schools this fall are about complete.

John Pobuda is in charge of registration for the courses and information about the courses may be secured by calling him at the school.

Courses to be offered include community chorus, women's recreation, men's recreation, driver education, typing, bookkeeping, oil painting, state and local problems, and slip covering and sewing.

A course will be offered only if a minimum number of people register for that particular course. Registration will take place at Tecumseh High School, Room 13, October 21, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Guest Editorial

This week, we'd like to reprint the "In Review" column written by Stan Kurzman in the Richmond Review.

We sat the other night, abstractly watching our daughter flatly refusing to do what her mother wanted. Flatly refusing to do what was "right" and "good" and what she was being told to do. And, in this abstraction, it suddenly dawned on us how like a 2½-year-old so many of us are.

We believe that even at 2½, our daughter realized what was "right"—and her mother's wants were "correct" and what she wanted was "wrong." But still she stubbornly hollered and fought against authority and justice.

How like a couple of groups in America today is my daughter.

How like the members of the International Teamsters Union who, against all logic, elected Jimmy Hoffa their president. Hoffa, who has been indicted by a New York Court, who has been shown to have benefited financially at the expense of the general union membership, who has been condemned by the AFL-CIO, who has been condemned by leaders and the rank and file alike in his own union, is now that union's president.

The answer can only be that the delegates refused to let anyone tell them what to do, i.e. they did what any normal, intelligent person would consider "wrong." The 2½-year-old mind at work.

And in America's southland we seemingly have the same 2½-year-old philosophy. "We don't mind integration so much, but you northerners aren't going to force it upon us," says the southerner. Does the southern (or northern objection to giving equal rights to the negro lie more in this "forcing it upon them" or in a conviction that the negro is not, in fact, equal?

Area Churches

By REV. JAMES D. NIXON

The Tecumseh Methodist Church traces its history back to the fall of 1826 when the Rev. John A. Baughman, a Methodist Circuit Rider, made Tecumseh a regular Sunday preaching place on the Monroe Circuit.

Fifteen months later, in January 1828, the Methodist Society in Tecumseh was organized with 11 charter members.

The first building to house this congregation was erected in 1842 on the southwest corner of Shawnee and Pearl Streets.

☆

THE PRESENT Methodist Church on the corner of W. Chicago boulevard at N. Pearl street was constructed in 1863-'64. The present parsonage was built in 1890.

Methodists understand themselves to be part of the universal Christian Church.

For example, on November 3, Tecumseh Methodists will participate in "One Great Day of Witnessing," a Michigan Area venture.

☆

THE PROGRAM of the local church offers many opportunities "for worship and for service."

Worship at 10 is followed by church school at 11:15 with 14 classes under the direction of a Commission on Education.

Other work is directed by Commissions on membership and evangelism, missions and stewardship and finance. Each of these is responsible to the Official Board.

The church has recently become incorporated.

We believe that people are more important than programs.

Therefore we consider it crucial that people shall have opportunity for fellowship, sharing and personal growth in face-to-face relationships.

In this spirit the church offers opportunities for participation in two Methodist Youth Fellowships groups, Woman's Society of Christian Service and its Circles, Methodist Men, a new parents' study group, and three choirs.

Wednesday evening fellowship, WSCS study classes and family nights are important to our total church family life, which is open to all.

The Tecumseh Methodist Church is affiliated with the Michigan, National and World Councils of Churches. Her members highly prize the fellowship which they share with all Christians in this community.

Farmers Market Hogs Earlier Ag Agent Says

Farmers are marketing hogs earlier and at lighter weights than they did a decade ago, says C. C. Ingerson, Lenawee county agricultural agent.

As a result, the peak in hog prices has shifted from late to early summer.

But according to Ingerson, this year is an exception to this recent trend.

This year hog prices peaked in late July and held up well through August. This was due to light marketings this summer.

John Ferris, livestock economist at Michigan State University says ten years ago the peak price was reached usually in late summer.

But based on the recent trend, late June is the best bet for the highest summer price.

The average weight of barrows and gilts has dropped 15 pounds in the last 10 years. In 1947, the average weight was about 240 pounds but dropped to 225 pounds in 1956.

UP GOES THE WALLS—Tecumseh's new city hall, "one of the most modern in the country," will be completed sometime in January, states contractor Max Elliott. The structure will offer office space for all city officials and eventually have two jail cells. It is located on E. Chicago boulevard at N. Maumee street.

CONSTRUCTION REPORT

City Hall Half Complete

Construction of the new Tecumseh city hall, at the corner of N. Maumee and E. Chicago, is about 45% done.

Max Elliott, contractor on the project, states that this will be one of the most modern muncipal structures in the country.

Measuring 77x80, it will be one story, finished with interlocking Ashlar stone. The floor will be of reinforced concrete slab in Terrazo style.

Two jail cells are to be roughed in and finished later.

An average crew of 10 from Mr. Elliott's construction company is working on the building.

Completion date was set for late January and Mr. Elliott feels this may be met a little sooner—possibly the first of that month.

Lowest Support $1.36 a Bushel

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson states that price support will be made available for 1957-crop corn in the designated commercgial area which is not produced under acreage allotment controls.

Similar "non-compliance" support was available for the 1956 crop.

The minimum national average support for 1957-crop corn which is produced in compliance with acreage allotments, as announced last fall, is $1.36 a bushel.

This level is subject to recalculation at the beginning of the marketing year, October 1, and will be adjusted upward in accordance with the provisions of controlling legislation if the combination of the supply situation and parity at that time calls for a higher minimum.

THE ADDITIONAL corn price support available for farmers in the commercial corn-producing counties who do not produce within acreage allotments, will be at an average of $1.10 a bushel.

"I am sorry that we must have the unusual 'non-compliance' price support for corn again this year," said Secretary Benson. "Under the developing circumstances, however, we have no choice. We must take steps to help stabilize the feed grain market now, and the hog market in the future."

While over 62 percent of producers voting favored the new corn base acreage program which was offered last fall, the approval fell short of the required two-thirds in the referendum. There has been no legislative authorization for a better program since that time even though the administration had urgently requested one.

Record supplies of feed grains are in prospect for the 1957-58 feeding year.

In addition to a large 3.2 billion bushels corn crop, the indicated sorghum for grain production is 481 million bushels, almost two and one-half times the 1956 production. Also it now appears that the 1957 barley crop is of record size.

☆

THE MOST serious implication in all this is the possible incentive for unwise expansion of hog and other livestock production. There were danger signals in the pig crop report which was issued recently.

While it showed that farmers are holding the line pretty well on increases in sows to farrow this fall, with an increase of 4% from last year, the report for 10 leading corn belt states also showed a probable increase of 7% in 1958 farrowings for the winter quarter (December-February).

"We have repeatedly warned hog producers against expansion which could wreck their markets. I sincerely hope they will consider their production plans carefully and not run their spring farrowing up to the point where there would be real trouble ahead," the secretary stated.

"We are announcing the broadened corn price support at this time to do everything we can to help stabilize the situation in the interests of both feed grain and livestock producers," he added.

"In taking this action, we are aware of the fact that for 1957 only, special legislation provisions will require disproportionate price support levels in noncommercial corn producing counties.

"This is due to the legal requirements that supports in these counties must be at 70% of parity if there is 'non-compliance' support in the commercial area.

"This will mean mandatory supports for corn in these outlying regions at levels 20 cents or more a bushel above the levels calculated on the former 'three-fourths of the commercial rate' basis.

"The same legislative provision also requires a recalculation, as of the beginning of the respective marketing years, for four other grain — sorghum grain, oats, barley, and rye.

☆

ON THE BASIS of this requirement, price supports for oats, barley and rye will be increased one to three cents per bushels, respectively.

In addition, as of October 1, 1957 the price support for grain sorghums was to be redetermined to reflect 70% of parity as of that date."

The additional 'non-compliance' corn price support, like the regular price support announced previously, will be carried out through Commodity Credit Corporation loans and purchase agreements.

REALTY VIEWS

A source of pleasure in this business is the satisfaction experienced by those who buy a property that fits their temperament and needs.

For example, not long ago we met Mrs. Martin in a store. Several months earlier the Martins bought a rundown home through our office. It lacked a lot of being a first-class property but it showed signs of being a good place someday under the right owner.

"You don't realize," she said cheerily, "how happy George is since we bought the home. He is like a kid with a new toy. Life's exciting and worth living. His whole outlook is better. He has plenty to do in improving our property. It's new fun and enjoyment. Honestly, he's more content than he has been in years."

Maybe YOU too, can add new ZEST and THRILL to your everyday life. Often it is as easy as finding a good home, or other property, which needs the care of an enthusiastic owner.

The problem is to find the right one. Don't tackle it haphazardly. Let an expert "scout" with years of experience help you. Call at the office TODAY.

Oat Silage Can Match Corn Feed on a Dry Basis

Oat silage may be as good as corn silage in feed value on a dry basis, says C. C. Ingerson, associate county agricultural agent.

Recent tests by Michigan State University dairy researchers comparing oat and corn silage as roughages for milking cows, show cows getting oat silage out-produced and out-gained cows on corn silage.

All 14 cows in the test got a daily ration of 10 pounds of early bloom second cutting alfalfa hay and 15 pounds of dry matter from either oat silage or corn silage.

A simple grain mixture was fed at a rate to supply maximum T.D.N. (total digestible nutrients) standards.

OATS WERE harvested in early dough stage and corn in the dent state of maturity.

Charles Lassiter, MSU dairy nutrition researcher, reports daily milk production (four per cent fat corrected) for the entire test period and the last 10 days of each period averaged 30.4 and 30.2 pounds per cow getting oat silage and 28 and 27.7 pounds per cow on corn silage.

The oat silage cows gained in body weight an average of 30.3 pounds while cows on corn silage averaged 17.7 pounds gain.

Proper Kitchen Storage Can Save Time, Energy

Use your head to have your energy. Rearrange your kitchen storage to save time and effort, says Norma Landon, Michigan State University home economist.

A little planning can make the kitchen a more convenient place to work. Look over each piece of your equipment, think of where you use it first, and store it there to save steps.

Of if you use hot water for coffee, store the pot near the stove so it's handy to the teakettle.

☆

In the mixing center you'll want flour, sugar, and other ingredients along with measuring equipment, mixing bowls and spoons. This is the place for spices and commercial mixes, too.

Most kitchens have equipment which is seldom or never used such as holiday cookie cutters.

Look them over—then you may want to get rid of some and others can be put in high shelves or in out-of-the-way drawers.

Thus you can make more space for things you use often.

☆

YOU MAY want to get duplicates of some of your small equipment. Measuring spoons and cups are often used in several areas of your kitchen.

Save steps by having a set in the mixing center and another by the stove or sink.

To save lifting heavy equipment, store it where it's easy to reach and is up from the floor.

Rearrange bowls and dishes. Stack only like items together, as soup bowls, cereal bowls, salad plates or saucers each in a separate stack.

If you stack various sizes of mixing bowls together, you must lift the whole pile to get the bottom one—this makes more work for you.

Half shelves can be added to your cupboard to give more space so you can eliminate mixed stacks of dishes. You may find you have more bowls than you use, if so put some away on the higher shelves in the cupboard. Then spread out the few you use.

New Overcoat Out of Question for 1865 Student

ANN ARBOR — Guess mothers have always been writing to their sons away at college urging them to watch those pennies and "make it do."

Hugh Byron Alexander, who entered the University of Michigan as a freshman in the fall of 1865, received plenty of practical advice from his mother. Their correspondence is preserved in the University's Michigan Historical Collections.

On December 14, 1865, Mrs. Alexander wrote: "Speaking of the weather reminds me that my little boy (i.e., Hugh) wants an overcoat. I am very sorry for I don't see how he is to get one. I was in hopes he would keep up steam by thinking of his education — of the convenience of a shawl — of his brother standing guard for two winters in an army overcoat with only a thin blouse under it — of his mother going without furs — and — lots of things."

☆

"SUPPOSE," she continues, "you talk to yourself about the overcoat as I do to myself about the furs, thus: it would be very comfortable — it would look as though I was pretty well off — make me feel quite grand, in fact, and I should like it first rate, but — I can't afford it. I must wait till prices come down or something turns up.

Does this sound familiar? "The $300 that was going to take you through the year is half gone already, and our taxes this year are a great deal higher than we expected — lack only a few cents of $75.

"Your father hasn't got a new vest and pants yet — can't afford it. What's his name that you was reading about last winter you know, went in for wearing drawers instead of overcoats — keeping the feet and legs warm instead of so much about the chest. You'd better try it.

"The girls are out skating on the pond not dressed so warm as you are without your shawl, and they don't freeze. You ought to be as hardy as a girl. Try and keep your blood in circulation by exercise."

In 1865 the University had an enrollment of 1,205 students. According to President Haven's annual report, it was the largest student body in the U. S.

Every Four to Five Years Soil Needs To Be Tested

Get top return from each fertilizer dollar by basing what you apply on a soil test.

That's the word from Louis G. Hall, Lenawee county agricultural agent. He reminds farmers that soil needs to be tested at least once every four or five years.

Take samples carefully because a soil test is no better than the sample on which it is made, Hall says.

☆

COLLECT separate samples from areas which appear different on the basis of texture, topography, drainage or past soil-management practices.

Where previous practices, crop treatment and soil-type are similar, let each sample represent about 10 acres. Small areas not large enough for specific management practices should not be sampled separately.

To make a composite sample, take about 10 slices of borings of soil down to plow depth from over the area. Mix well in a clean pail, then remove a pint of the mixed soil for testing.

☆

AVOID TAKING samples close to gravel roads, old strawstacks of manure or lime piles. They will throw off the results.

Identify each field on a map and indicate which soil sample is from which area.

Send or take your samples to the county soil testing laboratory at Court House, Adrian, Mich.

A small service charge of 50c has been necessary to cover the cast of the labor and chemicals involved. This fee includes tests for PH (soil acidity)—phosphorus and potassium.

Extension Folder F-174—Test Your Soil—has a sample information form and a map outline that help make soil testing easier. Copies are available at the county agricultural agent's office.

Six Others Helped

600 Dealerships Are Represented at Session

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shutt and Roland Redman were in Chicago recently to attend the annual National Home builder-dealer conference.

There were over 1,000 persons in attendance—representing over 600 National Homes dealerships throughout the country.

The two-day sessions included talks by the nation's foremost authorities in the field of home building.

There were sessions on mortgage financing, new products and construction methods, community planning, market trends, and other facets of home building.

☆

Royal Barry Wills of New York designed the Cape Cod exteriors; Emil Schmedlin of New Jersey, the Colonial; Charles Goodman of Washington, D. C., Contemporary; and Reginald Roberts of Texas, the Southwest Modern.

"Only National Homes could afford to engage four architects of this calibre," said Mr. Shutt. "Today the nation's home buyers, more than ever before, demand good design and floor plans.

"It is no longer possible to build four walls, call it a house, and have the public accept it. An architect's service is necessary to insure the home buyer of good design and maximum use of floor space."

☆

NATIONAL HOMES 1958 line will incorporate roof trusses and a 2 x 4 wall panel component system as used by conventional builders.

Tecumseh Homes plans to have a new Colonial design home open for public showing on October 26. This home is now under construction at 1002 W. Pottawatamie and incorporates all the new features of National Homes 1958 line.

"With these new designs," said Mr. Shutt, "National Homes plans to improve its position as the nation's largest builder of quality homes."

Apple Growers Should Replace Their Old Trees

According to Ben French, Michigan State University agricultural economist, apple prices should be on the increase by the time new trees are in full production.

He says the long-term outlook calls first for decreasing prices and then increasing prices along with a fairly long period of favorable prices.

☆

BUT FRENCH cautions growers that before they decide whether to plant more trees each one should balance expected returns from apples against expected returns from other possible alternatives.

Price projections to 1975 suggest that apple prices will fall slightly until about 1965 or 1966 before trending upward. This is due to increased supplies that are expected during this period.

In terms of 1953 dollars, the 1952-56 average price per bushel of apples was $2.35. By 1965, the price is expected to drop to an average of $2 per bushel and by 1975, the expected average price will climb to $2.55 a bushel.

BUILDING PERMITS

Also required is an electrical permit for any type wiring. This permit can be secured from the City Engineer of Tecumseh.

JUST A CASUAL COMMENT

Mary Lou Is Queen

Red headed Mary Lou Perry, a 17-year old senior, found out only moments before the half that that she had been chosen Tecumseh high school Homecoming Queen.

The news came when George Tatar, Biology teacher, casually told her as intermisison festivities were to start.

"You may ride in the first convertible."

Mary Lou has lived in Tecumseh a year now, formerly resided on a farm near Blissfield and attended that community's high school her freshman and sophomore years.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Perry of 714 River Acres drive.

A member of Future Nurses and Student Council, her favorite sports are football, basketball.

THE LONG and SHORT of it

BY TOM RIORDAN

WHAT WOULD YOU THINK of a fellow who works on a newspaper and doesn't even take a classified when he needs a home?

Please don't be too harsh—that fellow is me.

For nearly a month now, this writer has been searching diligently (at least he seemed to think so) for a place to rent.

The wife and two little ones have waited patiently for daddy to give the word that housing had been obtained.

Old dad did everything but what he should have—inserting a 16-word want ad.

While home last weekend and bemoaning my fate, someone asked if a classified had been run. Wham, came the dawn.

So, please, be sure to read this week's classified ads, especially if you have a house to rent.

THE OTHER DAY, MABLE Lockwood, editor of Tecumseh Products "TP Broadcast" was going over her copy with us in getting the current issue together.

Mable noticed a dangling preposition at the end of a sentence and wondered what could be done to tuck it in somewhere up ahead.

One of our front office gals, Mrs. Sevedus Maples, chirped, "You know what Winston Churchill said about such tomfoolery?"

Without waiting to find out if we knew, the charming Janet quoted the former British prime minister,

☆

DESPITE THE FACT OUR football team hasn't tasted from the sweet cup of victory, it still can turn in some fine play.

Up until Friday night's kickoff, fans didn't have much hope. The team had been badly outclassed all year.

Things changed radically after that opening kickoff.

The Indians played the kind of game that makes the hearts of the gridiron faithful skip.

They fought and they battled, even held the lead late in the game.

Most of all, as the big time sports scribes say, the boys had "heart."

Which brings me to a prediction: Tecumseh is going to win a couple of football games this season.

There's no time like the present, fellows, how about starting Friday with a victory over Willow Run?

BROWNVILLE MOTHERS

The first meeting of the Brownville Mothers club will be held next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Brownville school.

All kindergarten mothers are urged to attend.

Weight of Clothes Apparently Pulled Victim to Death

Services were conducted Saturday in North Blissfield Lutheran Church for Harold Millyard of Deerfield, drowning victim last week in the gravel pit of Tecumseh Material, Inc.

Two other men, Woodrow Sessoms, 45 and his son, Douglas, 21, both of Tecumseh ,also fell into the pit with Mr. Millyard when a scaffold on which they worked collapsed.

The trio had been repairing a cable, which held the bucket used to dip gravel from the pit.

Mr. Millyard started to swim for shore, but apparently the weight of his clothing pulled him down in the 35-feet deep water. He was about 20 feet from land.

The [illegible] Mr. Sessoms, aided by his son, made the bank safely, noting then that Mr. Millyard had disappeared.

Tecumseh policemen, Bert Wade, Don Rodehaver and Chief George Kilbourn, working for the first time from the city's rescue boat, recovered the body about one hour after the accident.

Survivors include Mr. Millyard's wife, Ceciele; twin sons, Robert and Gary; a daughter, Judy; brother, Delbert of Howell; three sisters, Mrs. Bessie Witt of Deerfield, Mrs. Edith Langschied of Deerfield and Mrs. Nellie Witt of Toledo.

Burial was in Deerfield cemetery.

The Canonie Construction Company hopes to drive all piling and be ready to pour bridge piers by next spring.

Other council action was routine.

Members discussed the city's parking problems and approved application for a sidewalk contractors license for Templeton Construction Company.

About 2:30 a.m. Saturday, James Meeks, 51, rural Clinton, and John Snyder, 33, Tecumseh, collided at Red Mill bridge on N. Evans street.

While the police were investigating the accident, Lee Walden, 24, rural Clinton, rammed into the read end of the patrol car.

Walden's car sustained about $500 damages.

The police car was extensively damaged and will be replaced with a new car. The Lenawee county sheriff has loaned the Tecumseh police a patrol car to use until the new cruiser is purchased.

Walden was cited for reckless operation.

Friday, Beverly McClain and Shirley Jean Van Camp collided at Evans and Pottawatamie. The latter was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way.

☆

ALSO FRIDAY, Ron Mikesell, 18, Tecumseh, and Charles Hasketh, 32, Tecumseh, were involved in a collision with both drivers receiving citations.

Mikesell was charged with excessive speed and Hasketh, failure to yield the right-of-way.

Penrod, turned over to juvenile authorities, was charged with driving without an operators' license.

A. J. Marshall, 17, Manchester, was arrested here Sunday night for reckless operation and driving on a revoked driver's license.

BOARD ACCEPTS—NATURALLY

Bid $44,460 Below Estimate

Tecumseh school board awarded bids for construction of the Tecumseh Acres elementary school and an addition to the high school last Thursday night to the Hungerford Construction Company of Jackson.

Supt. James McDowell reports the low bid at $664,540, the first bid of a series received by the board for school construction which was considerably below the architect's estimate.

The architect's estimate for the two constructions was $709,000.

Tecumseh's superintendent says the contractor's bid was $44,460 less than the estimate, which will take care of the architect's fee.

J. A. Dart Company of Mason will be the mechanical contractor and Saunders & Son, Adrian, the electric contractor.

There were seven general contractors bidding, six mechanical, and four contractors for the electrical work.

Tecumseh's total program for school buildings alone is now about $1,882,662, including all construction contracts, architects' fees and pre-paid capitalized interest.

An addition to the Patterson school was completed, and like other construction for the schools, the board approved the finest facilities and equipment for the pupils.

In some cases it was due to the additions to the architects' plans that bids ran beyond the estimates of the architects.

Cost of construction in the school's building program has been high, and future equipment may have to be purchased through gifts or the general fund.

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church was exceptionally beautiful Saturday for the wedding of Joann Elizabeth Breitenwischer and Russell Warren Grohnke.

The altar vases were filled with all white crysanthemums. Hampers of the same flowers, backed with large palms, stood in back of the altar rail.

The rail itself was edged with green huckleberry and large white mums. The family pews were marked with the traditional white bows and greenery.

Miss Breitenwischer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Breitenwischer of 615 Outer drive.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grohnke of 1651 Gilbert road, Toledo.

The bride, entering on the arm of her father, was lovely in a princess gown, fashioned of white silk peau de sole made by Maude Bell.

Motifs of Alencon lace hand embroidered in seed pearls outlined the portrait neckline and brief sleeves.

The same lace trimmed the side fold that draped over the back fullness of the floor length skirt which was worn over a hoop.

Her elbow length veil of silk illusion was attached to a Dior bow of peau de soie and she carried a cascade arrangement of yellow roses with their natural greens.

Her jewelry was pearl earrings and necklace which were a gift from the groom.

Mrs. James Breitenwischer, sister-in-law of the bride from Burlington, Iowa was the matron of honor in a gown of seafoam green taffeta with a scoop neck, three quarter length sleeves and a bouffant skirt.

She wore a nose veil attached to a green velvet bow and short white gloves. She carried a single long-stemmed white Fuji mum.

☆

THE BRIDESMAIDS were Beverly Davich from Syracuse, New York, Kathryn Sisson from Holland, Michigan, Patricia Henle from Norris, Tennessee and Celestine Igel from Columbus, Ohio.

All of the bridesmaids wore gowns similar to the matron of honor in style, in shades of darker green taffeta with similar headdresses. They each carried a single large cream colored Fuji mum.

Mr. Grohnke was attended by James Breitenwischer, brother of the bride, as best man.

The ushers were Ronald Wyman, Dale Fischer, Wilbur Bening all of Toledo, Al Furter of Cincinnati, Ohio, Edward Thallman of Jackson, Michigan and Richard Reinlein of Ann Arbor.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Breitenwischer wore a sheath of ruby ribonzene lace with a square neckline which was outlined with tiny pink Demure rose buds, with pale pink accessories.

☆

A RECEPTION and breakfast was held immediately following the ceremony, at the Tecumseh Country Club which was decorated throughout with large yellow and white mums, backed with red Oak leaves.

The walls and fireplace were decorated with the same and the wedding party tables were centered with white Fuji and yellow mums in crystal bowls.

The cake was topped with white wedding bells and encircled with a bridal wreath of yellow and white pompoms and strands of ivy.

It was flanked on either side by three branch silver candelabra filled with yellow candles.

Other servings tables were centered with tall crystal compotes of the same flowers and flanked with yellow candles. The hostesses and those serving refreshments all wore corsages of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Colgrove were hosts at the church, while Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Brogan of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kosch of Toledo, and Mr and Mrs. Carl Fosbender of Tecumseh were hosts at the reception.

Mrs. Dale Fischer of Toledo had charge of the guest book and Carol Breitenwischer of Manchester and Barbara Walters of Toledo assisted with the gifts.

W. Wilson, Mrs. Paul Keyser, and Mrs. Virgil Tucker, all of Tecumseh.

Mists are falling over Tecumseh these bright October mornings and the trees are dropping their brilliant hued gowns very rapidly. Tecumseh residents are making the most of the lovely autumn weather by visiting their friends and taking short trips through the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Osworth, former Tecumseh people, spent a recent weekend here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dillon and visited about the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beebe of Ypsilanti were guests of her mother, Mrs. Lillian Hoagland. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cole, Mrs. Amy Cole and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kedney and family of Detroit were guests in the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Garno spent most of a week recently touring Michigan and the Straits. They said the foliage was beautiful.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ammer were in New York for a week.

Mr. C. M. Brown is back from Jackson Hole, Wyoming where he has been hunting.

Mrs. Lewis Nooney of Plainwell, Michigan, Mrs. Charles Gale and Emma Carty of Albion will visit Elizabeth Beamish.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Postisil, Patricia Poll, Linda, Deborah and Roberta Coleman attended the wedding reception held in honor of Mrs. Postisil's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Richardson who were married October 12. The reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Charles Elliott at 322 East Beecher street in Adrian.

Mrs. R. J. VanWinkle, a former Tecumseh resident, stopped in at the Herald office to renew her subscription. She is visiting in the home of Mrs. Floyd Elliott and will soon return to her home in Detroit after spending the summer at Devils Lake.

Mrs. Edna B. Wilcox, who has recently returned from South America, spent a recent weekend with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sevedus Maples. Her grandchildren, Stevie and Catherine, were happy with the souvenirs she brought them of her travels.

October 13 guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gillespie were her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. John Perrin and Mrs. Esther Rollyson of Battle Creek. Mrs. Perrin has been critically ill and it was a most joyous occasion for all concerned.

The President of our United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower, celebrated his birthday Monday, October 14, and Mrs. Edith Nobles of 410 East Pottawatamie street, Tecumseh also celebrated on the same day. The president and Mrs. Nobles have exchanged birthday greetings since 1953.

Mrs. Eugene Rosacrans, a former resident of the city and now of Santa Monica, California, was a guest of relatives and friends here. An open house was held in her honor renewing old acquaintances at the home of Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw, as well as a supper the previous evening in the same home. Wednesday she enjoyed a luncheon served at the Country Club. On Thursday Mrs. Rosacrans went to Grand Rapids to visit her sister, Mrs. Amos Paley and pick up her mother, Mrs. L. W. Kimball, formerly of Clinton, who will be returning with her to California.

Mrs. Kennard Wise accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Paul Harwood of Alma, recently returned from a color tour of the mid-southern states. Traveling the famous Sky-line Drive and the Blue Ridge Parkway, they visited five beautiful and colorful states. The trip included a tour of Antietam Battlegrounds in Maryland, Harpers Ferry in West Virginia, the Singing Tower and Caverns of Luray, Virginia, also one of the Seven Wonders of the World, the Natural Bridge there.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennard Wise spent the weekend bow and arrow hunting in the Grayling area. Their three children remained in Alma with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harwood.

Callers in the Ernie Van Vleet home Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rich and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lyke from Plymouth, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McConnell returned recently from Eliot, Maine where they have spent the past several weeks visiting their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Russell McConnell. On their homebound trip they visited Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Phillips of Colrain, Massachusetts and Mr. and Mrs. Dar Smith of Lodi, New York where they were joined by Mrs. Mae Morgan who returned to Tecumseh with them. Mrs. McConnell brought home with her some Bay berries from the State of Maine and anyone interested may see them at the Herald office.

Ann Rebottaro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rebottaro of Centennial road, Tecumseh, has been chosen a cheer leader for the Adrian College. Ann graduated from Tecumseh high last year.

We are proud to know that two of our girls have gained this honor so soon.

Rita Crosby's name was announced last week doing the "work" for Albion college. Perhaps there are more, the Herald welcomes news of Tecumseh young people.

Long time residents of Tecumseh will be interested to hear of the engagement of Freda Mae Weatherman of Manitou Beach. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Boltz of Milwaukee road and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter (Barney) Weatherman formerly of Tecumseh. Miss Weatherman will marry Burdette Norris Kane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Kane of Metamora, Ohio in December.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kelly spent last Saturday in Uniontown, Michigan attending a wedding of her sister-in-law.

Tecumseh's young and old are delighted to hear that the Grange dances have begun for the season. The first one was held October 19 with a goodly number attending to enjoy the music of Guy Nixon and his orchestra. Dances will be held as usual, every two weeks, with the public cordially invited. The Grange members would especially like to have mother and dad bring the children to the dance and make it a family entertainment. They provide a clean wholesome place for Tecumseh youth to enjoy both square and round dancing and also refreshments at a very nomare to be congratulated on this contribution to community welfare. As parents we should join the fun out there these Saturday evenings and assume our rightful responsibility for our own teen agers instead of expecting Grange members to do it all.

Two of the brothers of Lindy Penrod, who recently passed away, have been able to obtain furloughs to be home with their family during their bereavement. Lonnie, stationed with the Air Force in Louisiana has been home and has now received a five-day extension to his furlough so that he could be here Monday when his brother, Eldon, arrived home from Germany. The Red Cross assisted the brothers in getting their furloughs.

Mrs. Julia Erhart spent last Tuesday in Jackson visiting her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Chaffee, to celebrate the very first birthday aniversary of her little granddaughter, Sue Anne.

Rev. Bernard Gill Moving to Flint

Rev. Bernard Gill, pastor of the Tecumseh Church of the Nazarene, has resigned his position here.

November 17 he will assume a full-time pastorate at the West Church of the Nazarene in Flint.

Rev. Gill came to Tecumseh in June 1955 to help start and organize this church.

They moved from an humble place of worship in an office off an alley to the present building at 807 Sunset.

This building will eventually be a three-bedroom parsonage and the church building will face M-50.

Rev. Gill was just recently elected to the presidency of the Tecumseh Ministerial Association.

"We've learned to love and appreciate Tecumseh in our short stay here," say the Gills.

Fay Dowlings Hold Open House Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Dowling of Tipton will hold an open house in the American Legion Hall at Onsted October 27 from 2 to 5 p.m. in observance of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Mr. Dowling and Miss Leo Bilby were married in Adrian October 18, 1917 and began housekeeping on the present Guy Campson farm, where they lived until 1926.

Later then moved to a farm which they had purchased near Jerome in Hillsdale County. They lived there until August of 1948 when they sold that farm and came to their present home on M.50.

It was the birthplace of Mr. Dowling, who has been employed at the Hidden Lake Gardens since then.

See 1958 Models

Charley Butler, James Spooner, Orville Alcock, Bill Pace and Dick Boyd were on hand at Detroit's Masonic Temple to enjoy a musical show, written entirely about the new models.

Later they saw the cars in Dearborn.

With Tecumseh Teens

BY MARY V. SEAGER

The pep meeting Friday told of the differences between a Martian homecoming and a typical American one.

The cheer, "Yeah, Sputnik! Yeah, Sputnik! Yeah, Sputnik! Beep, beep, beep!" was led by swim-finned Mary Colgrove.

☆

THE FRESHMAN float with the mule skinning machine and the slogan, "We'll Tan Their Hides" hit the jackpot for the frosh.

They placed first with the juniors second and the GGA float third.

"No Kick in the Bier" and a Mule's funeral proved to be lucky for the junior class.

A pair of worn-out red and gray slippers and the slogan "The Mules Are All Worn-Out" was the Girls' Athletic Association's winning idea.

The last places went to the seniors, sophomores and Future Homemakers in that order.

☆

☆

THE HIGH SCHOOL gym was beautifuly decorated with orange and brown crepe paper with corn shocks and pumpkins in the middle of the floor.

There were tables and chairs around the dance floor for those who would rather sit and talk.

The Queen was crowned shortly after midnight with refreshments served after the coronation. Jim Servis and his orchestra furnished dance music until one.

Homecoming weekend was busy for everyone. The Friends Church had a chili party after the game for kids who didn't want to go to the dance.

Mrs. John Babcock Is New Member

Mrs. John Babcock was welcomed as a new member to the Raisin Green Bees Extension Club Monday night.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Stanley Dermyer with Mrs. Wynne Matteson as cohostess.

Plans for furnishing and attending the Lenawee County Open House for Extension clubs were made.

The suggestion was made that Mrs. Robert Beebers be the community chairman to look for a needy family for the Christmas basket.

Two New Members Welcomed into Club

Mrs. R. J. Laughney and Mrs. Archibold Wray were new members welcomed into the Monday Club by the 40 who attended the October 21 meeting at Aebersold Hostess House.

Lillian Cannon presented the religious thought.

The club has been invited to attend a meeting of the Garden Club on Wednesday, October 23 in the Presbyterian Church to hear Mr. George Tater speak on "Conservation."

Mrs. Wilfred Waldron was appointed second vice-president to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. John Truesdale, who is now teaching school.

A "thank you" note was read from the family of Mrs. Glenn VanDenbergh and also one from Mrs. Warren Van Arden.

On November 4, the club will have a family potluck dinner with Mrs. John Shada of Detroit as speaker. The place will be announced later.

Mrs. Carlos Jones introduced the Rev. B. O. Bashore who spoke on Civil Defense stressing the need for preparedness in case of attack.

Mrs. Waldron read the closing prayer and tea was served by Mrs. George Green and her committee with Mrs. Herbert Munger presiding at the silver service.

'Home Grounds Planning' Given

Mrs. Harold Harper, chairman, presided at the business meeting when plans were made for the Christmas Open House to be held November 16.

Mrs. Donald Creger gave a report on future program planning. The lesson on "Home Grounds Planning" was given by the leaders, Mrs. Walter Glenn and Mrs. Roy Beasley.

The same thing was presented at the leaders training session by Joseph Cox, an Extension specialist in Landscape Architecture.

Refreshments were served by the hostess during a social hour which followed the meeting.

RETURNED FROM DAUGHTERS

REALTY VIEWS

"What do you have for rent?" a small lady asked one day.

"Nothing, I'm sorry to say," I answered, "but we have a nice home for sale with quick possession."

"That's probably out of the question," she said. "I'm a widow from out-of-state and don't have the money to pay cash. I suppose I could buy with a loan but I hate to pay out my hard-earned money for high interest charges. I'm scared of 6% to 7%."

"Money is worth more now," I said, "just like most other commodities. But, you're in luck. The house I mentioned has an existing 4½% interest loan on it. The payments are quite reasonable as a result."

She looked at the home and said, "I'm sold. How can I buy it?"

"You can take over the existing low-interest rate loan. Then pay a reasonable down payment, and clear the balance in 3 or 4 years from the proceeds of the sale of your out-of-state property."

"You're right," she said. "Write it up."

The owners were pleased with the contract because they wanted to move immediately.

"I don't blame her for taking over the loan," he said. "And the other terms are satisfactory too because we have arranged to buy one in Lansing on a similar basis."

This is only one case out of many, where we have been able to help someone find a suitable home on reasonable terms. Why not drop in and see what we can arrange for YOU?

Fighting Tecumseh Indians Lose Heartbreaker

A fighting Tecumseh eleven, playing before the grads in the annual homecoming game, did itself proud before bowing to a big Bedford team Friday night, 25 to 13.

The Indians played like champions, not like four-time losers. Pushed around in the early stages of the clash, Bob Breniff's team struck back from a 12-point deficit and stung the visitors with touchdowns in the second and third periods to go ahead by one point.

Tecumseh played its best game of the season. Bedford was decided favorites in the tilt with victories over Hillsdale and Rogers and losses to Toledo Woodward and LaSalle.

☆

Here the local attack bogged, largely due to a five-yard offside penalty. John Elliott's punt was partially blocked and the Mules took over on their 38.

Seven plays later Bedford was on Tecumseh's three where the Indians stiffened and forced Bedford's quarterback Eric Warren to pass from his own 11 on fourth down.

The slick signal caller hit right end Bill Wood on the two. Wood barely made the end zone for the first score.

Tecumseh suffered its first of a series of bad breaks after the next kickoff. Yoakum gathered in the pigskin on the 30 and romped to the 49. Yoakum then fed junior tail Mike Walters on four consecutive plays, the last nearly good for a TD.

His 19-yard gallop went for naught when Bedford held and took over. The Indians had moved to the 17, but on fourth down Dave Weakly lost three attempting to skirt left end.

☆

SHORTLY AFTER the start of the second quarter, the visiting Mules moved to midfield where Tecumseh recovered a fumble.

With Walters again shouldering the load, the Indians moved to Bedford's 28 where Walters fumbled a handoff from Yoakum. The visitors took over.

Bedford, temporarily halted by a 15-yard clipping penalty, took to the air with Warren heaving a long pass to halfback Roger Rollman.

The aerial hit the speedy halfback on the 35 with not a single Indian between him and paydirt. The score stood at 12 to 0 when Ned Kubetz again missed the uprights.

☆

TECUMSEH STRUCK quickly just before the half. Yoakum, Walters and Ray Miller took turns moving the ball downfield to Bedford's 12, where Yoakum passed to Bob O'Neill on about the two.

The hefty end dragged two Mules with him into the end zone. Yoakum's place kick was blocked for the extra point.

Tecumseh threatened once early in the third quarter before tallying. After Bedford received, the Indians recovered a fumble on Bedford's 48.

Two runs of 13 and nine yards by Yoakum and Dave Weakly, coupled with several shorter gains, moved the Indians to the 21 before being stopped.

The Mules, who had moved up the necessary one-yard for a first down.

The visitors moved to the 36 where Warren's pass was batted by O'Neill into the arms of Yoakum for an interception on Bedford's 37.

In three consecutive carries, Walters pushed to the 22.

Yoakum then hit O'Neill on the three. A plunge by Walters picked up a half yard when the period ended.

☆

WALTERS BROKE over on the first play of the fourth stanza to tie the game at 12-12. Yoakum completely fooled the Mules on a keeper play, scampering all alone around left end to put the Indians in front, 13 to 12.

With the homecoming crowd cheering for another rally, Tecumseh roared back. Yoakum, catching the kickoff on his 20, scooted downfield, broke into the clear at his 40 and while attempting to fake Bedford's last player out of position, he was caught from behind.

The run was one of the prettiest of the night and almost an 80-yard touchdown gallop.

The plays later the Indians
FIGHTING TECUMSEH ..Galley 2

were on Bedford's 37 with third down and four for a first down. They fumbled but recovered for a yard loss. A desperate pass on rather freely against the Tecumseh defense, gambled on fourth down at the 29 and failed to pick fourth down failed.

Although the over-all statistics give the visitors an edge, it was only in the final period that Bedford dominated the game. The Mules gained over half their yardage in the fourth quarter and seven of their 13 first downs.

Flooring Job Is Finished at Library

The Public Library has been closed the past week in order to have new flooring laid.

"We are sorry to have inconvienced anyone, but do come in and see how nice it looks and we think you will agree with us that it was worth the trouble," states librarian Mrs. Conrad Fosbender.

"We will be happy to serve you in any way we can, and are now back to our regular hours: 2-9 Monday through Friday and 11-6 Saturday," she adds.

Phone Company Annual Report Wins an 'Oscar'

In the final ratings by an independent board of judges in the seventeenth annual survey of "Financial World," national weekly magazine, General Telephone Corporation was judged as having the best annual report of the Communications industry for the first year.

Approximately 5,000 reports originally were entered in this year's competition.

Every Age Group Needs Your Doctor's Attention . . .

Babies are all taken to the Doctor frequently. They need his guidance for future development. Oldsters also get the care they require — their children see to it that they do get to the Doctor.

But in between it's catch-as-catch-can, with few seeing the Doctor unless injured or very sick. The need for care of health is the same at all ages. You and your children should see your Doctor regularly — whatever the age or state of health.

Wet Hen House Floors Injure Health of Flock

Biggest problem facing poultryman in the winter is moisture in the hen house. Wet floors make dirty eggs and injure the health of the flock.

Because Michigan is surrounded on three sides with water, good ventilation is necessary to keep the laying house dry.

Such a system involves an exhaust fan controlled by a thermostat which pulls fresh air across the laying house and expels it after it has picked up moisture.

☆

HAVE A FAN big enough to move a minimum of one cubic foot of air per minute for each square foot of floor space in the house. And have enough air intakes so air will flow freely.

Air drawn out of the attic will help conserve the temperature of the laying house Moore says. Insulation also conserves the body heat given off by the hens which help keep the poultry house warm.

Warm air holds more moisture; fans placed near the ceiling will get rid of more moisture.

Moore says gutter cleaners not only save labor in the poultry house but they also get rid of about a third of the moisture. This takes some of the load of keeping the house dry off the ventilating fan.

240 Parents Are On Hand for PTA at Patterson

About 240 parents and teachers attended Patterson PTA Thursday evening.

Ray Gillam presented a movie concerning children's fears.

Parents visited their children's rooms and teachers and toured the new section of the building which was occupied by the children last week.

Frances Baker's third grade won the award for having the highest percentage of parents present at the meeting.

Refreshments were served following the tour by the fifth grade parents of Mrs. Jean Miller's and Mrs. Purnell Osburn's rooms.

Senator Potter reports

. . . the latest news from Washington of special interest to Michigan . . .

Boys and girls orphaned by war soon will be arriving in the United States from every corner of the world.

Thousands of new American parents will rush to take the homeless waifs to their hearts.

Yesterday these children were hungry, wandering, alien. Today they are safe, warm and loved, new citizens of a magnificent land.

No greater personal satisfaction could come to any senator than the knowledge that he helped achieve this through a bill to amend the immigration laws to lift quotas on alien orphans.

Children under 12, orphaned by death or disappearance of parents, abandonment or desertion, or separation or loss from parents, were eligible.

During the long months of work on the bill, hundreds of letters from wonderful Michigan folks, starved for the sight and sound of children in their homes, poured into my office.

HERE IS one, received last spring:

"Dear Senator Potter — We have been married for ten years and long to have children with all our hearts. For over three years we have been trying through every possible agency to adopt a child, boy or girl, from the age of infancy to four years. We both work and in our spare time built our own home. We love it very much, but we also long to hear a child playing around and coming to us with his — or her — troubles and everything that goes with parenthood.

"Isn't it possible in some way to allow European homeless and parentless children to come to this country for adoption? It wouldn't even cost the country money and they could be raised to become good American citizens.

"There are many homeless ones. Please, can't you help us? If you can't, I don't know where else to turn. If God is willing, we want so much to have a child."

Clinton Seeks Replacement for Woolen Mill

The Chamber of Commerce in Clinton has tackled a major project—attract a new industry to replace the manufacturing portion of Clinton Woolen Mills.

An annual payroll of $600,000 to 117 employees will soon be a thing of the past in Clinton when operations at the Mill are completely closed down.

The firm's retail sales outlet will continue to operate, while manufacturing will be done at a plant of the new owner, J. P. Stevens Co.

A representative of the firm states that the woolen machinery in Clinton is for sale.

What the Chamber of Commerce will be doing is seeking an industry to fill the 140,000 square feet of space which formerly hummed with mill activities.

Clinton now faces an economic problem. Village president George Bowman states that Clinton Woolen provided about one-third of the village revenues through taxes.

Two possibilities are ahead: a) another tax source must come to Clinton; b) individual tax rates increased.

Mackinac Bridge Opens November 1

The Mackinac Bridge will be open to traffic November 1.

The official linking of Michigan's two peninsulas will be without fanfare and marked with little ceremony and no speechmaking.

Dedication celebrations will take place during the last week of June, 1958.

The present objective is to get the bridge open, and break in operating crews to handle the huge flow of hunting season traffic.

Passenger car tolls will be $3.25 with no charge for occupants. Truck tolls will be graduated upward depending on the number of axles to $14.00. All toll collections will be made on the St. Ignace side of the Straits.

The Bridge Authority will operate a bus service over the Bridge providing transportation between St. Ignace and Mackinaw City. The fare per trip will be 50 cents with commuter tickets selling 15 for $5.00.

She explained Cubbing, den meetings, games and handicraft.

The dens were organized with leaders for the three-year period that the boys will be in Cubs.

Den 3 will be led by Mrs. Lorrene Leist and Mrs. Jeannine Irelan Walsh for the year 1957-'58, by Mrs. George Choske and Mrs. Coy Palmer for 1958-'59, and Mrs. Gloria Jadwin for 1958-'60.

The boys in Den 3 are Russell Leist, Fred Choske, Jerry Palmer, Robin Snyder, Albert Birdwell, Kenneth Freshcorn, David Jadwin and Michael Wykes, who transferred from St. Clair, Michigan.

Den 4 will be led by Mrs. Stella Dennis and Mrs. Ruth Dustin for the year 1957-'58, by Mrs. Jean Edwards and Mrs. Pat Kennel in 1958-'59, by Mrs. Beatrice Ring and Mrs. June Hebb in 1959-'60.

The boys in Den 4 are Philip Browne, Daniel Dennis, William Dustin, Robert Hoag, Robert Powell, Henry Mensing, Dean Hebb, Scott Edwards, David Kennel and Stephen Ring.

Den 9 will be led by Mrs. Edward Beal and Mrs. Allen French in 1957-'58, Mrs. Kenneth Hooten and Mrs. William Sowers in 1958-'59, Mrs. Robert MacGeorge in 1959-'60.

The boys in Den 9 are David Beemer, Norman Beal, David French, Stephen Sowers, Jerry MacGeorge, Kenneth Hooten, William Cruse and Larry Stalls.

Four other new Cubs will join the pack, Larry Beckey and Richard Shepherd in Den 8; David Reese and Terry Bates in Den 7.

Pack meetings this year will be the fourth Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. Because of the size of the Pack and excellent parent attendance, meetings will be conducted at the Products Union Hall.

Besides the induction of the 31 new Cubs, there will be a ceremony for Jerry Hebb, Terry Beland and Richard Fielder who will graduate from Webelos into Boy Scout Troop 4 with Glenn Work as Scoutmaster.

Herald readers might be interested to know that there are seven third grades in Tecumseh this year and practically 100% of the boys in those grades who are eligible want to be Cub Scouts.

There are approximately 50 or 60 boys at the Central school who want to be Cubs and need to be formed into a new pack which would make three packs in Tecumseh.

Parents of these boys are asked to help with the organization of this pack for their boys and anyone volunteering may call Erwin Richardson who is working with the district office to organize new packs.

Before a pack can be formed it is necessary that a sponsoring organization be obtained, such as the PTA, a service club or a church organization.

With so many new Cubs there is a need for used uniforms. Anyone who has graduated from Cubs or dropped from Cub Scouts who would like to sell a uniform may call Mrs. Richard Dustin.

Over 100 parents and Scouts attended the joint roller skating party of Cub Scouts of Pack 4 and Boy Scouts of Troop 4 which was held recently.

Goblins and ghosts will be the theme of the Pack meeting October 28 at the Union Hall at 7:30 p.m. All parents and scouts are asked to be present to enjoy the fun.

Ground Is Broken For Animal Shelter

A modern building for use as a small animal shelter will be erected immediately by the Lenawee County Humane Society.

The structure will be on the south side of Academy Road just west of the Raisin River.

Completion is expected by January 15, 1958.

OF CONCRETE block, it will have living quarters for the custodian and a room for cages for about 50 animals. A variety of conveniences for handling animals are planned

Officers of the Lenawee County Humane Society are: Ambrose C. Hamaker of Tecumseh, president; Glenn Peck, Adrian, vice president; Claire Forrey, Adrian, treasurer; Mrs. Ernest Montgomery, Adrian, secretary.

The Tecumseh Community Fund has for several years contributed toward making this shelter possible. For this reason the Society does not openly solicit funds in Tecumseh. Individuals wishing to contribute may send to Miss Forrey.

Scouters Award Given Local Man

Affair was held in Products Union hall.

A minimum of three years service is required for this award.

Mr. Richardson also serves as director of Organization and Extension of the Lanape district, in which Tecumseh is a part.

Fall 'Guests' About to Invade Fruit Orchards

The little fellows are looking for a spot with plenty of food to spend the winter says L. G. Hall, Lenawee county agricultural agent.

They like to chew off bark around the base of the trees and will usually work on apple trees before turning to other types.

U. S. Fish and Wildlife officials suggest zinc phosphide-treated apple pieces or strychnine-treated oats as good poison baits for controlling orchard mice.

☆

PLACE THE material around and under trees so mice won't be able to miss it. Place it in runways, under bails of mulch material or under artificial concentration stations such as clumps of straw or old fertilizer bags.

If zinc phosphide treated apple slices are used for bait, it's necessary that all dropped apples be removed from the orchard area. This will force the mice to feed on the bait placed in the orchard.

These baits can be purchased at most orchard supply stores, Hall says.

ULTRA MODERN, DOUBLES PRESENT STORE

Kroger Opening Huge, New Super Market

A new Kroger super market, nearly twice the size of the present store, is to be constructed in Tecumseh at 1007 W. Chicago boulevard.

Carl Fuller, vice president of retail food firms for Kroger, Toledo division, says ground will be broken shortly for the super market which will be comparable in size and facilities with any market in the state.

The new store will have 11,200 square feet with an adjoining parking lot for 120 cars. The present store's space is 6,500 square feet with a parking lot for 35 cars.

The Atlas Finance Company of Detroit has purchased the land, which extends approximately 340 feet along W. Chicago Blvd. and 400 feet deep.

Atlas will construct an 80 x 140-foot building and lease it to Kroger, Robert Reed, finance company president, announces.

Expected completion date for new market is late next summer or early next fall.

Mr. Fuller says color and convenience will highlight the new market which has been planned from the customers point of view. It will feature the latest developments of science and industry, prompted by suggestions from shoppers themselves.

The Kroger official reports conveniences will range from "magic carpet" door openers for bundle-laden shoppers to a psychologically color-keyed scheme plan to make the weekly shopping trip easier and more pleasant.

The air conditioned, fluorescent-lighted store will be completely self-service. Meat, dairy, fresh fruit and vegetable departments will be refrigerated for product freshness.

Reflecting the growing popularity of frozen foods, 90 feet of freezer cases ~~will be~~ provided for frozen foods and prepared dishs.

Houswares and health and beauty aids also are included for the one-stop shopping store.

Five of the latest type check-out conveyor stands will be installed, cutting checking time in half.

Also included are parcel pick-up stations to save shoppers the inconvenience in loading packages into cars.

KROGER LOCATION—This is the property on which the new Kroger super market will be located. It signals the demise of this proud old colonial home, built in 1825 by Jacob Ketcham. Property was owned by Mrs. Charles D. Branigin, who with her late husband, purchased the home and 80 acres around it in 1946. During recent years, Mrs. Branigin had sold all but the final four acres on which the beautiful house stands. The location offers 340 feet of frontage for Kroger. R. J. McCoy Real Estate handled the transaction.

Only 67 Families Refuse Health Study

First round of the Tecumseh community health study —2,427 interviews—has been completed.

Of the 2,740 dwellings in the area, only 67 families refused to take part in the study.

Completed interviews are now being processed in order to determine actual number of persons in the study.

The second complete canvass, orginally planned for October and November, will not be done at this time. Instead, the remaining funds available for this phase of the study will be used to:

1. Process the information collected on the first series of interviews.
2. Collect the chronic and impairment reports for those households which have not already mailed them in.
3. Prepare charts for all family groups in the area so that family studies man be be made.
4. Make studies of specific diseases in certain of the family groups.

THE LONG and SHORT of it

BY TOM RIORDAN

HERE IS A LETTER TO folks who donated to the fund for the State Troopers.

It is written by Mrs. Dugald Pellot, wife of the Tecumseh man who was killed recently by a fear-crazed escaped convict.

"I will be forever grateful for the kind thought and gestures of the community. It is gratifying to know that there are so many willing people in a time of need."

☆

Newspaper stories announced beforehand the first day fluoridation would take place.

Considerable confusion resulted on that fateful day. People fainted in the street, others called city officials to say their water tasted differently.

It took a little doing, but citizens of Grand Rapids were soon assured that their imaginations had run rampant because:

1. Fluoridated water tastes no differently than unfluoridated.
2. No ill effect will result.

They probably added that in actuality, prevention of tooth decay, especially in children, is the only feature.

Oh, say, have you folks in Tecumseh noted any difference in city water?

It has been fluoridated since mid-October.

☆

IT WOULD SEEM THE Tecumseh Indians are with The Herald.

That's the way to be, boys — and we're with you.

Last week, we wrote that Coach Bob Breniff's fighting charges were going to win some games, then asked:

"There's no time like the present, fellows, how about starting Friday with a victory over Willow Run?"

The answer came in resounding fashion from bitter-cold Recreation Field when the Indians hammered out a 16 to 7 decision.

An alert, hard-charging line did a magnificent job and the Breniff "pony express" backfield was at its explosive best.

Following an open date this week, Tecumseh faces two more stern tests.

It will be Hillsdale, there, November 8.

Adrian will be our guest November 15.

Wouldn't it be terrific if we

Current Question

Does Tecumseh need a Chamber of Commerce? Considerable coffee-cup comment is being heard about this question. This week's lead editorial, on page 13, deals with the problem.

Tecumseh Youth Receive Cards for 'Honor Day'

One thousand Tecumseh teen agers are carrying "Youth Honor Day" cards in wallets and purses.

Given to them last week by Lenawee county Moose, the card contains a pledge that the young people will not destroy property during the Halloween season.

Climax will be October 31 — Youth Honor Day — as proclaimed by Governor Williams.

THE CARD reads:

"I pledge, on my honor, as a citizen of my community, not to deface, mutilate or destroy property or perform any act harmful to others during the Halloween season.

"I will participate with my community in the observance of October 31 as 'Youth Honor Day.' "

Cited for Causing Auto Crackup

According to the police report, Kenneth Randolph, 34, Dundee, turned his 1949 Chevrolet into the path of Ronald Ray Henkel, 25, at the intersection of Evans anud Logan streets.

Henkel's 1957 Ford sustained damages estimated at $500.

Henry R. Childs, 26, 207 W. Logan, was arrested Saturday for operating his car with an improper muffler.

Sunday, Catherine C. Careyf, 60, 211 N. Union street, was charged with operating vehicle on an expired driver's license.

John M. Applegate, 63, Lenawee county Line Road, was arrested Monday for driving car with a defective muffler the same day.

Off-Street Parking Plan Will Be Considered

A public hearing on proposed off-street parking for downtown Tecumseh will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in city council chambers.

All citizens are welcome. Downtown merchants, in particular, should be on hand.

The community's planning commission, of which Robert Bonner is chairman, has formulated a master arrangement.

The lots would probably be blacktopped and marked, could handle 503 cars. Meters would be installed to cover cost of operation.

With existing property, there would be 227 places.

As presently proposed, there would be four large off-street parking areas:

1. Running from S. Evans to S. Ottawa streets, behind Chicago boulevard.

2. Running from S. Pearl to the buildings on S. Evans, behind W. Chicago boulevard.

3. An "L"-shaped plot, runing from N. Pearl to Logan street, roughly north of Butler Motor Sales and the Strand theatre.

4. Another "L"-shaped section behind stores along the north side of Chicago boulevard, touching N. Ottawa street.

Minor Fire Halts City Police Car

Extinguished promptly by the fire department, the blaze was discovered while the car was in the vicinity of Brown and Evans streets.

Station Remodeling Soon To Be Done

Remodeling work at Easton's Friendly Service is expected to be completed this week.

Halloween Parties Slated for Today

Free movies for the area's small fry will be shown October 31 in the Strand Theatre from 5:30 until 7.

Sponsored by Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, the annual Halloween party will include gifts of noise makers and candy — as youngsters leave the theatre.

Haven't Given Yet? Just Phone 662

If you haven't made your donation to the Tecumseh Community Chest and would like to, please call 662.

That's the telephone number of Vern Manwaring, general chairman of this year's drive.

Mr. Manwaring said he would be happy to pick up any such contributions.

Two Dances Set for Youngsters

A junior high juke box dance will be held Thursday evening in the Central School gym from 8 until 10:30 p.m.

Door prizes will be awarded and refreshments of cider and doughnuts will be furnished by the Jaycees and the Exchange Club.

This is the first dance of the season for the junior high group. It is hoped that they will enjoy a spooky, ghoulish sort of a time.

The Student Council is assisting with arrangements for this event.

The high school dance will continue as originally planned for Friday evening from 9:30 to 12:30 a.m. in the high school gym.

Prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served. This event is a project of the Tecumseh Jaycees and the Exchange Club. Both dances will be chaperoned.

JAYCEES NAME NEW COMMITTEES

Glee Club Coming

The Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce learned last Thursday night from Les Bennett, local school music teacher, that steps had been taken to sponsor the men's glee club from the University of Michigan here, probably next February.

He told the Jaycees that the University welcomes an opportunity to send its glee club here.

Minor details to be worked out include feeding the 65-voice choir and where to sponsor its performance. The theater and high school gymnasium were suggested.

☆

AT THE BUSINESS session Ron Wittrup reported the football banquet had been replaced with an all sports banquet next spring. Dr. Robert Murray said plans were completed for the annual Christmas tree sales.

Jack Shutt, junior officer, presided at the meeting and introduced Al Kielman, vice president of district three, as the principal speaker.

Several volunteered to assist Cal Zorn in planting small trees in Mead Park Saturday, November 1. The trees are being donated.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

There is a chill in the air these last few October mornings that sends mother's thoughts scurrying as to just what to dress those little tykes in, to keep them warm under their Halloween costumes.

Dad heaves a sigh as the fuel bill mounts and grandma and grandpa are deciding just how soon they can leave for the Southland to escape the chill breezes.

A concert "Autumn Melodies" sponsored by the High School Chorus will be held in the Methodist Church Sunday, November 10, from 4 to 5:30 p.m. Mr. Leslie Bennett is the director.

The MYF made a goodly profit from its homemade cookie sale last week. Something over $30. and thanks to all those understanding moms who helped with the baking.

Philip Surratt was home from the U. of M. over the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Surratt.

Cathlyn Cornell was also home over the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cornell of Tipton. The Cornell family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Grigg and family for dinner Friday evening before they all attended the local football game.

Mrs. Ronald Purple has been caring for her sister, Mrs. Alvy Jones and infant daughter, Jane, in their home near Lyons, Ohio for the past two weeks. Mrs. Irene Ramsay of Adrian has been caring for her two little grandchildren in the Purple home while their mother was away.

Donna Cleveland of Detroit has been spending several days with her mother, Mrs. Mary Cleveland, and left recently from Willow Run for an extended visit with relatives and friends in Los Angeles, California.

Afternoon callers of Mrs. Anna Morse Friday were Mrs. William McEntyre and daughter, Mrs. Wayne Sowers of Adrian. Thursday Mrs. Arthur Bowman of Monroe called on Mrs. Morris.

Lois Baker who is attending the Freed-Hardman College in Henderson, Tennessee is a member of the chorus and has also been chosen as a student council member. Miss Baker graduated from Tecumseh high school in June of 1957.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Beland have returned from a 6,622 mile trip to the west coast. While there they visited her son, Harold, at Long Beach, California and saw many, many interesting points of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Musch and Pamela attended the Illinois Allied Florists Association Design School and Trade Fair at the International Amphitheater in Chicago Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dernberger of Pontiac were weekend guests of Mrs. Fred Marsh and Mr. and Mrs. James Hartsell.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Banks of Toledo, Ohio were guests over the weekend of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Seizert.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary who attended the 2nd District meeting held Sunday in Dundee were Mrs. Thomas King, Mrs. LaVern Seizert, Mrs. Alice Schneider and Mrs. Purnell Osburn.

Perhaps there are some Tecumseh residents who would be interested to know that an antique sale and show will be held in Toledo at the Woman's Club November 15, 16 and 17 from noon until 10 p.m.

Guests Tuesday of Mrs. Perry Hayden were Mrs. Bertha Hayden and Edna Bryan of Grand Rapids who were also visiting Miss Sena Hosmer who was taken to the St. Joseph Hospital Tuesday morning for observation. Miss Bryan and Mrs. Hayden left for their winter home in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Drouillard have been staying with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Damon, in Adrian since selling their home in Tecumseh. They had planned to leave for Florida, but the flu has been keeping Mr. Drouillard company and they will not leave until the doctor says he is well enough to stand the trip.

Mrs. Hazel Ham and Mrs. Alice Lowe of Lodi, California have been the guests of the Mel Partridges for the past 12 days. Sunday they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Partridge at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth along with the elder Partridges.

On Monday the ladies accompanied Mrs. Owen Partridge to Alma where they visited the Masonic Home. On Thursday Mrs. Carlos Jones entertained in honor of the California people at a luncheon at Rock Inn.

That evening they all enjoyed the installation of new officers at the Eastern Star Chapter, both of the guests are past matrons. Friday and Saturday the three ladies accompanied Mrs. Owen Partridge to Niagara Falls returning to Tecumseh on Sunday.

Nothing newer in the World!

OFF-STREET

In order that current reporting on illness, injury and disability forms can continue, a supply of forms for the months of December, January, February and March are being mailed to all households which sent in reports for September.

☆

OTHER HOUSEHOLDS will be visited by interviewers in order to obtain the information about chronic conditions and to install the current illness forms.

"We wish to again stress the importance of keeping the report of current illness forms up-to-date mailing them in promptly at the end of the month covered," states an official.

"They should be mailed in even though there were no illnesses or injuries to report. In such cases, a note such as 'No Illness' can be entered on the face of the form," he adds.

QUITE A NUMBER OF READERS (bless you) have noted that stories in The Herald are lots easier to read.

Thanks for noticing.

Would you like to go behind the scene and learn about preparation of stories for this newspaper?

Most newspaper editors for about 10 years have been addicts on a thing called "readability" — and with startling results.

You moms and dads of the middle-age bracket may recall the newspaper of the Twenties and Thirties.

During those days, it seemed a mark of genius to use jawbreaker words, ramble through a paragraph of 50 and 60 words.

Here's a sample:

"In a smoke-filled city council chamber, loaded with interested and vociferous local citizenry on Tuesday evening, members of the Smithville chief governmental body decided, after considerable debate, to enact an ordinance which will make parking illegal along the entire length of Main street."

Now, here is another version:

"Before a packed house, Smithville city council members voted to ban parking on Main street at its Tuesday meeting."

We are sure you'll agree, the second is an easier-to-read effort. It contains 19 words, all familiar. By this method more news can be packed into a page. The Roaring Twenties-type item numbers 44 words—and it doesn't add much to the story.

Besides the effort to write tightly and brightly we also employ several typographical gimmicks.

Notice the little star between items in this column? It's used to break up lengthy stories, as are the occasional paragraphs in bold face.

Of course, these devises really don't mean much if the material in the stories lacks real interest. That's where you folks sometimes come in when you tip us to unusual items — so please keep 'em coming.

So far each of the girls has performed this community service and will continue to take turns until the season ends.

Friends Stage Cradle Shower

Mrs. David Murphy was honored with a cradle shower Thursday by Mrs. Donald Purkey and Mrs. David Faling in the Purkey home.

Seventeen guests were seated at the dining table, decorated with pink candles and blue streamers running down the length of the table.

Games were enjoyed and the guest received lovely gifts.

SELF-HELP PANEL—Winding up the eight-hour Tecumseh area Community Self-Help conference Monday was a panel discussion conducted by University of Michigan experts. Attending were citizens invited from 18 communities. Every-day problems, from bringing industry to town to adequate teacher salaries, were brought up.

TEACHER SALARIES TO NEW INDUSTRIES

Area communities have a lot of problems.

1. Over organized, just too many groups and too few nights in a week for activities.

Need: A central clearing house with which all clubs and groups would cooperate.

2. Overlappings of governmental groups, often insufficient facilities.

Need: New concept of government, county-city type, encompassing large areas.

3. Old fashioned school grading, A, B, C, etc., is poorest method, doesn't tell enough.

Need: Teacher-parent conferences.

☆

THESE WERE just three of the many situations considered in Monday's Community Self-Help conference for the Tecumseh area.

Citizens from 18 cities and villages were invited to take part, then were placed in discussion groups in which they were interested.

Conducted by the University of Michigan, the project began in mid-afternoon and wound up with a panel conference at 11 p.m.

Broad areas were covered—from a desire to get new industry in the communities to adequate salaries for teachers.

Youth received considerable attention. One important point came out of this—the average child usually finds groups in which he or she enjoys.

It's the "fringe" child, one along the edge of social accceptance, who needs the attention of youth leaders.

☆

NEED FOR free-flowing communications was noted several times. Most persons who mentioned this agreed that a steady flow of news and information should be provided people. This could pertain to schools, government, club organizations.

(Editor's note: The Herald readily agrees on this point and it shall always be the policy of this newspaper to welcome information on these or in any other situation.)

Brought out in the panel wind-up was the fact that Lenawee county expects to have classrooms throughout its boundaries for handicapped children.

2 Kiwanis Clubs Meet in Deerfield

Tecumseh Kiwanis club members were scheduled to meet with Deerfield Kiwanians October 30 at 6:30 p.m.

At last week's session, Michigan's Lieut. Gov. Stanley Wood spoke.

Members also discussed the annual one-day sale of The Tecumseh Herald with proceeds to be used for needy children of the community.

ELIGIBLE TO ATTEND

All officers, leaders, assistant leaders and committee members are eligible to attend the meeting of the Girl Scout Association at the Scout Cabin next Wednesday morning, November 6, from 9:30 until 11. Mrs. Robert Anderson, the president, will preside.

U. OF M. EXPERT—Dr. Howard McClusky was among the University of Michigan adult education specialists on hand for the Community Self-Help conference. With him is Mrs. Don Cobb of 402 Outer court, one of the eight Tecumseh residents who took part in the session.

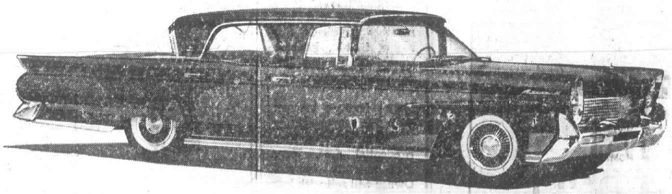
You are invited to see the most magnificent Lincolns ever built — inspired by the new Continental Mark III, and crafted in the tradition of every Continental ever built.

Longer, lower, and more spacious than any Lincolns before them, these cars have the clean, timeless character of the Continental in every classic line. Inside, there is an elegance not found in any other motorcar.

The engine is new, the transmission is new, the suspension is new. And for an extra measure of lasting quietness, they are the only cars in their class with single unit body and frame construction.

By all means, see these new Lincolns.



The Continental Mark III Landau. Continental prices are now within the reach of every fine car buyer.

THE NEW CONTINENTAL MARK III

. . . classic elegance in its finest form

Here — in four incomparable new models — is the greatest Continental of them all.

As you would expect, the new Mark III has advanced new features: a retractable rear window, for example, in all models including the convertible.

It has uncommon luxury: exemplified by leathers imported from Bridge of Weir, Scotland. And in the Continental tradition, the engine is so smooth you can balance a coin on the hood.

And because this car is built in the newest, most modern automobile plant in the world, with the highest standards of craftsmanship, the Continental Mark III is now priced just slightly above the fine car field.

Indians Score First Gridiron Victory of Season

Rapidly improving Tecumseh halted a five-game losing streak here Friday night with a 16 to 7 victory over the Willow Run Flyers.

The win marked the second straight sparkling performance by the local eleven which has an open date this Friday night before completing the season at Hillsdale November 8 and here against Adrian on November 15.

☆

WILLOW RUN, stopped cold on their 38 after recovering a Tecumseh fumble on the 33, gambled on a fake punt play and scored.

Nate Upshaw, back to punt, faked beautifully, handing the ball behind his back to Willie Prewitt, who skirted left end and cut through Tecumseh's secondary.

Tecumseh drew abreast of Willow Run midway in the second quarter when the center of the Indians' line smeared WR's quarterback and recovered his fumble on the Flyers' 11.

☆

THE INDIANS took the second half kickoff and marched deep into Flyer territory behind the running of Miller, who missed breaking away several times. Willow Run halted the march when an Indian fumble was recovered on the eight.

Tecumseh's line yielded only two yards before forcing WR to punt, which was bobbled and then recovered by Yoakum on the 20.

Four plays later Yoakum hit Miller with a short pass to the seven yard line. Miller and Yoakum in successive plays lost 11 yards before Miller slipped up the middle to the six.

WR held when a Yoakum pass to Dave Weakly fell just one yard short of the goal line.

Willow Run appeared to score on the next play with Forrest Oates breaking lose and running 99 yards to paydirt. However, a holding penalty nullified the TD and put the Flyers back on the one.

Tecumseh linemen then poured through to smother the quarterback deep in the end zone for a safety and two points.

☆

THE INDIANS, leading 9 to 7, drove to their second touchdown in just 10 plays. WR kicked off from the 20 to Yoakum on his 35. The slippery quarterback crossed midfield to WR's 43 before being stopped.

Weakly picked up three and Miller seven to the 33. Yoakum pitched to John Elliott on the 23. Walters bucked to the 18 and Miller made two as the third period ended.

Miller, in two plunges, made four before Weakly bucked eight yards to the four. Miller scored two plays later around right end. Yoakum on the same keeper play scored the extra point to give Tecumseh a 16 to 7 victory.

The Indians stopped WR after the next kickoff, containing the visitors in their own territory. A late Tecumseh drive succumbed to two 15-yard penalties.

HE CAUGHT IT—In the final play of the first half, end Jim Curth made a circus catch of a Larry Yoakum aerial. The pass went 25 yards and gave the Indians a first down on the Willow Run 40-yard line, but time ran out before another play could be run.

Sunday Hunters Fined in Clinton

For hunting on Sunday, two Tecumseh persons were fined a total of $47.60 in Clinton Monday.

Joyce Hall, 17, and Russell Hall, 22, with two Britton friends, were picked up by State Police.

None had licenses, which meant an automatic $10 fine, plus $7.80 cost per person. In addition, each had to pay $6 for Sunday hunting.

Others in the group were Marie Gauss, 18, and Donald Gauss, 20, of Britton.

Fines were handed out by Judge Leon VanDeusen in Clinton justice court.

Junior Varsity Wins Fourth of Season

The Indians tallied 21 points in the first half with Don Sweet, Steve Kruger and Buddy Rogers accounting for the TDs.

Leon Penrod, who bucked for all four extra points, scored the final touchdown in the second half.

The local eleven has won by lopsided scores, trimming Manchester 32-0; Hudson, 20-0; Monroe CC, 41-0; and Ypsilanti, 28-0.

Only a 13-13 tie with Bedford mars a perfect season for team.

Of the 95,000 accidental deaths in 1956, 28,000 occurred in the home — second only to the highway as No. 1 booby trap for Americans, the National Safety Council reports.

Sand Creek Beats Britton-Macon, 14-0

BY LARRY IVAN

Sand Creek scored early in the first quarter. On third down and seven for the Tories, quarterback Cay Rhorback attempted a pitchout. Instead the ball was intercepted and the Sand Creek defenders ran 46 yards to paydirt.

THE TORIES threatened in the third quarter. The Tories took over a Sand Creek punt after it went out of bounds on the Tories 22.

On third down Dean Clement, right half, went 59 yards to the Sand Creek 11 yard line. On the next play Clement went over for the score.

Backfield in motion was called and the score was nullified. After the penalty the Tories were stalled.

The final two points for the Aggies came in the last quarter, when Rhorback recovered his own fumble in the end zone.

The Tories have a 2-3 record in the Tri-County league, while the Aggies have a 3-1 record.

Fall Fertilization Best for Fruit Trees

Fall is the time to apply fertilizer to fruit trees.

Fertilizer applied to trees that still have leaves may stimulate the trees to grow if there is a warm spell.

Late season growth will make the tree more susceptible to winter injury.

Fertilizer applied in the fall will have a chance to be carried to the feeding roots by winter snows and rains. Next spring, when trees start to grow, the plant nutrients will be available.

☆

THE TYPE OF fertilizer mixture to be used depends upon the needs of the specific plant.

Applications vary because of different soils, varied fertilizer and cultural treatments and the degree of pruning and other cultural practices.

Base the application on a soil test or a leaf analysis that was made last summer.

Nitrogen is needed in most Michigan fruit plants and should be applied annually.

Fruit trees have not shown a direct response to phosphorous fertilizers, but specialists recommend applying phosphorous-containing fertilizers to promote growth of the sod or cover crop.

More information can be obtained from Extension Folder F-224 — Fertilizers for Fruit Crops. It's available at the county agent's office.

Egg Prices Nickle Over Last October

Farmers are getting about five cents a dozen more for their eggs this month than they got a year ago.

Henry Larzelere, farm economist at Michigan State University, reports prices to producers for Grade A large white eggs at grading stations are averaging between 48 and 52 cents a dozen.

"It looks like large egg prices have just about reached their peak for this year," Larzelere says.

"We can expect a relatively small seasonal decline in November and December, but prices will still be above comparable months a year ago," he added.

In the past, October prices were often sharply above other months. But the seasonal nature of egg production has been shifting so that the peak prices in the fall are not as high relatively as they were five years ago.

Egg prices paid by wholesale distributors in Detroit averaged about 54 cents a dozen during September for U.S. Grade A large white. The October price is running several cents a dozen above this.

With Tecumseh Teens

BY MARY V. SEAGER

The dance Friday after the game was a real celebration—Tecumseh beat Willow Run, 16 to 7.

Sponsored by Future Nurses and Future Homemakers, the dance featured popular dance records until midnight.

Last Wednesday the class ring salesmen came. Sophomore officers picked one tray of rings from four different companies. These were on display until Friday at 2:30.

A sophomore class meeting was held Friday to vote on the company to buy the rings from. There were many heated discussions as to which rings were the best. Finally the rings known as "Swirl" won — practically unanimously.

☆

The Friends Church had a party after the game for the kids who didn't want to go to the affair at the high school. Everyone was invited, free!

☆

They left from the school in Sunday best at 7 a.m. Twenty-four of the girls made the bus trip.

On arrival they registered at Rochester's new high school. Mrs. G. Mennen Williams spoke as the club's sponsor.

At the business meeting it was decided to hold regional conventions instead of an all state one.

At 12:30 the girls ate box lunches, after which they explored the high school. There were booths set up in the halls with information from various state schools of nursing.

The Glee Club from the Mercy School of Nursing sang. A demonstration of seeing-eye work with dogs was given. At 3:30 the girls left for home.

☆

The Senior Play cast was chosen and rehearsals were started this last week.

☆

Coming up during Halloween week will be a Teen Club dance Friday night with a band and door prizes. As it is an open date, there will be a junior high record dance.

☆

The sophomore class is having a class party at Doris Oliphant's farm Friday evening from five until about nine. Remember, sophomores, that half your dues must be paid.

Police Agencies Revamp System of Road Blocks

An overhaul of the road blockade system to tighten it up is planned by the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, the Michigan Sheriffs' Association and the State Police.

This action comes as the result of the recent escape of two gunmen across the border into Indiana after they had killed a Tecumseh State Police trooper and wounded another.

In a later encounter the same night the thugs killed an Indiana trooper and wounded one, also a city patrolman.

One of the gunmen was killed and the second is awaiting trial in Indiana on a first degree murder charge.

☆

MEETING AT State Police headquarters in East Lansing, officers representing the three agencies discussed a new plan stressing closer coordinaton and improved communications.

It will eliminate much duplication, afford greater coverage and drastically cut down the time required to set up a blockade.

Because of the number of cars involved in wide-scale blockades, police radios are often jammed with traffic.

It is hoped to correct this by a system of predetermined assignments to blockade points which will leave the airways open for better operational control.

A nine-man committee of the agencies will work out details and make periodic revisions if considered necessary.

Folder Shows How To Halt Powdery Mildew

Powdery mildew is continuing to spread through Michigan's apple-growing regions, reports L. G. Hall, Lenawee county agricultural agent.

The spread of the disease is partly due to the recent switch from sulfurs (a mildew fungicide) to organic scab fungicides.

Also, some orchard experts believe that air-blast equipment does not wet the infected plant parts well enough with the fungicide to control mildew.

Infected leaves in the early stages of the disease show a gray, felt-like mildew fungus on both sides. Severly infected leaves are twisted, narrow, cupped, and covered with a powdery coating.

The Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service has prepared a new folder which tells how to recognize and control powdery mildew on apples. It includes information on control for the commercial orchard operator as well as control tips for the home gardener.

BLOOD TYPED—Tecumseh Kiwanis club is lending its support to a drive to obtain future blood donors for cases of emergency. Having their blood typed Monday night were Fred Hadley, seated, Bob Wallace and Dr. Dick Coak. Herrick Memorial Hospital technician Ray Shelton gently applies the needle. If you'd like to volunteer, please have your blood typed at the hospital any day between 1 and 4 p.m. when members of the Hospital Auxiliary are on hand.

'Gifted Child' Is Talk Theme

Mrs. Ray Schlegel spoke on the "Gifted Child" at the Child Study club October 10.

Mrs. Douglas Tate and Mrs. Jack Trudeau were in charge of the favors.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Breniff November 14 with Mrs. Richard Lask and Mrs. H. Lee Prettyman as co-hostesses.

Scoreboard, Clock Are Goals of Sale

Two guests, Archie Porter from Vicksburg, Michigan and Gary Green attended.

During the business meeting final plans were made for the rummage sale to be held November 1 and 2 at Butler's with Clarence Beach and Claron Rex as co-chairman for the project.

Proceeds from the sale will be used for a scoreboard and clock for Recreation Field.

ANYONE HAVING articles they would like to donate to this worthy cause may call any Exchange member for pick up, or they may be left at Butler Motor Sales Thursday evening or Friday morning.

A discussion of the Blind Sale Products was also held.

The Exchange Club will meet Wednesday evening in the future in the American Legion Home at 6:30 p.m. rather than at the Eagles Hall on Mondays.

Alfalfa Plants Sometimes Starve

More alfalfa plants probably starve to death than are winter-killed, says L. G. Hall, Lenawee county agricultural agent.

One of the secrets to long legume life is plenty of plant nutrients so plants can build up a food reserve and develop strong root systems.

Pastures and hay fields need a shot of fertilizer at least once a year. Yearly applications are especially important because if the supply is excessive both legumes and grasses tend to use more potash than they actually need.

☆

OF COURSE the application should be based on a soil test. That's the only way to know for sure the actual needs are being satisfied.

In the absence of a soil test where alfalfa predominates, apply about 200 to 300 pounds of 0-20-20 or 0-20-10 fertilizer on heavier soils and 0-10-20 or 0-10-30 on light soils. Where grass dominates, a fall application of 12-12-12 or 12-6-6 will do the job.

If the soil is sandy, Mr. Hall recommends holding the application that contains nitrogen until spring. Otherwise the nitrogen may leach out.

ADRIAN — Hard pressed for downtown parking, steps are being taken here to construct off-street locations at a cost of $500,000.

This figures out about $1,700 per space, comparing favorably with the national average of between $1,000 and $3,000.

The Chamber of Commerce Question

An interesting piece of mail was delivered a week or so ago in Tecumseh. From a manufacturing concern, the correspondent sought information about our community.

How was the water supply? Are the schools good? Is there room for industrial expansion? What is the labor market?

Another thing, Christmas is just seven weeks away.

Hey, wait a minute, what does information about a possible new industry have to do with Yuletide?

Well, these are just two things which help point up the need in Tecumseh for a live-wire Chamber of Commerce.

Such a group could tackle with gusto inquiries about the community as an industrial site. It could work on Christmas decorations along business row, store hours, visits of Santa Claus.

Considerable coffee-cup comment in recent weeks about the need ends up with the age-old question—is Tecumseh again ready for a full-fledged Chamber?

A number of merchants say, "Yes . . . if . . ." And the "if" refers to the proviso that a paid secretary be hired.

That would certainly seem to put the stopper on the idea.

To hire a secretary would in itself require about a $6,000 budget for salary, plus other needed expense funds, possibly doubling that figure.

Even if every businessman chipped in, it's doubtful if such an objective could be reached without raising dues sky high.

But should this keep Tecumseh without a Chamber?

For the time being, couldn't a person who is about to retire or has retired and would like to remain partially active, be hired for a salary of $1,000 or $1,500 per year to take on the chore.

A great deal could be accomplished on a part-time basis—certainly more than can be done now by businessmen who simply cannot spend much time away from their shops.

The Herald has dug into the town's former experiences with a Chamber, has learned how immediately following World War II the town had a full-time secretary.

How business folks felt the organization could be run without paid help, how it gradually folded a year ago.

Promoting a town is big business today.

More and more communities are finding to get ahead they must organize, must continually be prepared to tell their story.

Most merchants realize that if the town grows and prospers collectively, they will step ahead individually.

So whether the problem is to get out information about Tecumseh to prospective industry or if it's planning Christmas store hours, the town should think seriously about a Chamber of Commerce.

Adult Help Is Needed Now

A common lament among parents is that children don't keep busy "like I did when I was a boy."

Dad then launches into a sermon, recounting all the chores he used to handle—taking out ashes, chopping wood, weeding the garden, milking cows, etc.

Some of these tasks no longer exist what with oil furnaces, no fireplaces, moving into town—so the youngster, who probably wouldn't mind having a little work to perform, finds time on his hands.

Sorry, I'm too busy, says dad, as he sinks down a little deeper in his overstuffed chair while watching the Friday night fights on TV.

Now, the question is, if dad sees a problem in the life of his child, i.e. idle hours for the offspring, should he try to do something about it?

Usually, dad will point to school officials, after expecting them to provide some sort of baby sitting in the afternoons and evenings—leaving him peace and quiet.

The branches of Scouting in Tecumseh, which start with nine-year olds in Cubs, go into Boy Scouts at 12 and begin Explorer Scouting at 14, offer boys as wholesome and exciting experiences not to mention downright educational, as can be found anywhere.

Unlike the schools, where adult leaders are provided through dad's taxes, the Scouts must be built upon volunteer adult help.

The framework of Scouting has already been carefully developed over the years. No detail is missing. Boys entering its various branches almost always enjoy the years they spend in it.

At the moment, Tecumseh Scouting has reached a critical juncture—it needs adult help, not men trained for Scouting, just men willing to work with their sons and the sons of neighbors.

Today, several hundred boys are actively engaged in the three branches in Tecumseh. Most are Cubs who will be ready next year for Boy Scouts, but where can they go?

The present leaders can hardly be expected to assume even greater responsibility.

The problem boils down to this: fathers of young men in Scouting and boys who will be, should do some serious soul searching to see if at all possible they could volunteer as assistants.

We know the today's whirl-wind world leaves little time for ourselves. But how better could we spend that time than with our sons?

Holloway Society Founded in 1835

First white settlers in the vicinity between Tecumseh and Blissfield were two bachelors, Robert Boyd and Fulton Jack, who in 1830 built a log cabin where the little cemetery is now.

March 5, 1835, a group of pioneers met in the home of Obadiah Rogers, and with the Rev. J. G. Kanouse, the First Congregational Society was formed with seven men and ten women as charter members.

They met regularly in the log school house in District No. 3, and at the homes of different members of the congregation, served by ministers of Tecumseh.

☆

REV. WILLIAM WILCOTT, was the first regular pastor. In 1854 Rev. Jones served, Rev. Blinn of Tecumseh and Mr. Calker of Palmyra shared the work in 1857.

The congregation was outgrowing its quarters, and on September 10, 1860 a committee of three was appointed to investigate the costs of repairs.

Nothing more was done till 1864 when minor repairs were done.

In 1867, a parsonage was bought. Rev. S. Skillman served for two years. Mr. Campbell served for a time.

On January 16, 1869, a petition was adopted and sent to the proper authorities of the Monroe Presbytery of which this church was a member, until recently changed to the Presbytery of Lansnig.

The wish of this Society that it be changed to the First Presbyterian Society of Raisin.

The first meeting was held in the fall November 29, 1869.

In 1871 Rev. Luther B. Pert, who had been an attorney in New York City, became ill, and upon his recovery, as an act of gratitude, he studied ministry and came to Raisin as his first pastorate. A great deal was accomplished during the four years of his work.

☆

REV. SAMUEL HOUSTON occupied the pulpit for two years following Mr. Pert and he was succeeded in 1877 by Rev. David Edgar, who served four years.

Another pastor, Rev. T. Dwight Hunt had a son, George, who became a minister and served a pastorate of 30 years in the First Presbyterian Church in Madison, Wisconsin, where former member Eva Doty Humphrey now lives.

A second Hunt son, Dwight, spent his life in mission work in the West and wrote articles for different church papers.

Rev. James Vincent, a retired Congregational Minister, living in Tecumseh was secured to succeed Mr. Hunt.

From 1885 to 1891, L. M. Belden was pastor. At that time there were 57 names added to the church roll and of that number 41 were young people.

Rev. J. De Haan nad his wife were next. He was not too well acquainted with English Language. Rev. A. J. Stead followed Mr. De Haan from 1893 to 1897.

Rev. J. De Spelder, (until 1903) was followed by Rev. Wililam E. Hall, Rev. Mc Kee and Rev. H. B. Dunning.

Rev. Dunning's son J. Wirt Dunning was pastor of the Tecumseh Church and is now at the First Presbyterian Church at Kalamazoo.

☆

REV. C. B. HAWKINS, who came from Chicago, did great work from 1913 to 1916. It was during his pastorate that the church building was moved to Holloway and rededicated on May 21, 1916.

Much has been accomplished in the last 20 years.

Mrs. Ida Rogers, Mrs. Grace Holloway and Mrs. Hall and scores of other women in the community who worked in the church, Sunday School, Ladies Aid and Missionary Society did their share to make this church and the community a lasting benefit to those who were priviledged to grow up in it.

There are over 580 names that have appeared on the rolls since the small beginning in Deacon Rogers house.

These people have scattered from Alaska on the west to Persia on the east. No human can estimate what the influence of this church has had upon the lives of so many and has done toward making this world a better place to live.

States Dr. Howard Emerick of Adrian College, the present pastor, "The past has gone. New tasks lie ahead and new hands will be needed to perform them. What better can we do than turn back the words of Moses when about to lay aside his work as leader of God's chosen people."

"When the Lord, thy God shall have given thee houses full of good things which thou fillest not, and wells whic hthou diggest not, vineyards and olive trees which thou plantest not, when thou hast eaten and be full, then beware lest thou forget the Lord which brought thee forth."

HOME-MADE CAR—Fred and Jan Kachur seated in the lawn mower-engine powered car their father fashioned in a year long project. "We had to help him, naturally," is the way young Jan explains it.

IN A ONE-YEAR PROJECT

They Built a Car

Two of the proudest kids in Tecumseh are Jan and Fred Kachur—they have their own car.

"We had to help him, naturally," smiles the eldest son, a student at Tecumseh high school who does the driving.

The car-building project was started by the Kachurs a year ago and was completed during the past summer.

Sturdy with an angle-iron frame, it has safety belts, is powered by a Lawson lawn mower engine.

The motor's fuel tank holds about two quarts, but exactly how many miles the car gets per tank is a mystery—and that's where a neighborhood friend of the Kachur boys comes in.

Jerome Kemp is the lad. He has a bicycle and is usually on hand when the tank runs dry. Then it's off to a nearby station where Jerome will get a nickle's worth of gas.

☆

CAR-MAKING is just one of many do-it-yourself efforts at the Kachur home. Another major one for sometime has been young Jans model plane making, including some that fly.

McConnells See Granddaughter

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McConnell have returned from Eliot, Maine where they attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Sylvia Leota McConnell to Norman Edward Barrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barrett of that city.

The couple were united in marriage at a beautiful candlelight ceremony in the East Eliot Methodist Church by the pastor, the Rev. Richard Hayward, October 11.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell McConnell, former residents of Tecumseh who have many friends and relatives here.

☆

SHE WORE A ballerina length wedding gown of white brocaded chromespun taffeta fashioned in princess tyle with long pointed sleeves and a fingertip veil of nylon.

She carried a colonial bouquet of white chrysanthemums, carnations and red roses.

She was given in marriage by her father and for her daughter's wedding Mrs. McConnell wore a gown of royal blue chromespun and a corsage of red and white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the vestry of the church. Also attending the wedding from Tecumseh were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyatt. Mrs. Hyatt is an aunt of the bride.

For their wedding trip the new Mrs. Barrett wore a dress of electric blue wool with red accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Both young people are graduates of the Eliot high school in 1956, the bride is employed at the Kittery Construction company and the groom attends the Portsmouth Technical School of Drafting.

Authentic Colonial Open Every Day

Now open each day from 1 to 9 p.m. is Tecumseh's newest model home — the authentic Colonial by National Homes, Inc.

It was built by Jack Shutt's Tecumseh Homes, Inc. and is located ot 1002 W. Pottawatamie street.

Designed by a famous architect, the Sunwood is done in a style that is ageless and always popular, states Mr. Shutt.

This home also is available in contemporary design and Cape Cod styling.

The Sunwood is a light and airy home designed to meet the living requirements of the modern family. An oustanding design feature is that the family can enter all rooms, including the bathroom, from the kitchen area, which has an outside entrance. This lessens considerably the traffic through the living room.

"We are pleased to be able to offer this wonderful new home to the families in this community," states Mr. Shutt, president of Tecumseh Homes. "The Sunwood has the great charm of colonial styling, but it is a practical home, too. And more importantly, it is modestly priced and within the means of a large number of families.

The Sunwood, like all 1958 National homes, is a "component" house. This means that home buyers now have far greater selection in the materials and equipment used to finish their houses, including the interior wall coverings, floor coverings, and other features. In adidtion, they also may have either a garage or carport and a basement, if it is desired.

"All components in the Sunwood are the finest brand-name materials and equipment, produced by the country's leading manufacturers," Mr. Shutt said. "Because of their superior quality, National homes are unconditionally guaranteed for one year against any latent defects in materials and workmanship."

Among the features of the Sunwood are its three bedrooms. These have twice the closet space normally provided in a home of this size. A luxurious look is given the rooms by the natural finish, easy-to-maintain mahogany closet doors.

The comfortably-large living room provides an ideal place for entertaining. There is also a dining area.

Adding to the attractiveness of the Sunwood is the kitchen, which is home-maker planned for the greatest efficiency in preparing and serving meals.

There is ample room for the family to eat informal meals and plenty of work space for the housewife.

A larger, one-piece counter top, more wall and base cabinets, and greater storage area all add to the convenience of this modern kitchen.

The laundry area in the Sunwood is centrally located so that it is easily reached from the bedrooms and the bath.

Folding steel doors enclose the heating equipment and provide easier access to the furnace and water heater. Added storage space is provided in the garage.

Bus Company Drops One Route, Adds Another

Last Sunday marked the last day of bus service between Tecumseh-Clinton-Saline and Ann Arbor which has been operated by the Short Way Lines of Toledo.

Permission has been granted by the Michigan Public Service Commission to temporarily suspend service on this division due to lack of patronage.

This route has been operated for more than 25 years with as many as five round trips daily, but increased costs of operation coupled with diversion of business to private cars has forced a halt to the present service.

Also effective on the same date, Tecumseh received direct bus service to Jackson and Toledo. A bus will leave Tecumseh for Adrian and Toledo daily at 8 a.m. A bus will leave Tecumseh for Jackson daily at 8 p.m.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Reader Applauds Councilman

May I salute young councilman Hamilton for having moral courage enough to remain true to his convictions about the renaming of East Brown Street.

Also may I express my appreciation of the other councilmen's thinking before making the final decision. However, if our councilmen reverse their opinions many times, they are liable to lose the respect of the towns-people because we want to feel that they base their decisions on the careful study and proper reasoning of the subject matter.

If the renaming of the street was so important to the petitioners, why weren't they present at the appointed hour to defend their idea?

It is true that the rest of us were asleep, too, because it is printed in the Herald of August 22 in the next-to-last paragraph in the last column about the petition and the date and hour set for the public hearing.

Perhaps the readers lost sight of it because they were more interested in the Drag Race Complaint at the hour.

Why wasn't I at the public meeting? To tell the truth, the date slipped my attention because I got lost in the procedure of securing proper permission and locating keys for the Girl Scouts to use the Recreation Field and its equipment about their Rodeo Day program. (Try that game some time and I am sure that you, too, will be ready to vote for the creation of a department of parks and recreation in our city goverment. Remember, too, that everyone was very courteous in the matter. It is a wonderful way to meet everyone but why such a complicated procedure?)

Next, in commenting on the letter of Mrs. Fred Dickinson to the editor which appeared on page 3 in the issue of September 26, may I say that I heartily agree with Mrs. Dickinson about changing the name of Brown Street.

When we came to Tecumseh as strangers 18 years ago it was one of our delights to hear about its full rich past, a wonderful story, from the lips of our senior citizens.

Incidentally, while in our library recently it was good to hear a high school student ask for a history fo Tecumseh.

In our time the population has changed from 2,500 to 6,500 and, of course, with it has come all of the things that are frustrating. Therefore, let's be careful about changing street names of historical significance because they become a part of our heritage here.

I feel sure that Tecumseh's good friend, benefactor, and philanthropist doesn't ask for or expect all of these changes because he, too, realizes that this spot was designed for him long ago and, no doubt, he also appreciates his rich heritage here and is happy in adding to its value by reciprocating for what has come his way.

Let's keep and revere the best of the old and add to it the best of the new. Our lives have been enriched by rubbing shoulders with those who have held down the fort in Tecumseh and shared their community spirit through the years.

In my humble opinion, the petitioners would have been smarter to have asked for another entrance—for safety reasons— into Herrick Park under the name of Herrick Park Drive and better yet why doesn't the Planning Commission recommend the building of another entrance.

Why change the name of Outer Drive when it is so directional? Therefore, with all of these things in mind had I been present, I would have asked that the name of Brown street be retained on our records.

Sincerely,
Ruth V. Rentschler (Mrs. T.)

58 FORD COMING NOV. 7 Nothing newer

AROUND THE WORLD

The 58 Ford has been proved around the world. This is the most dramatic and most grueling test ever given a new car before its public announcement.

The whole world was used as a test track for the 58 Ford. The car drove through England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Iran, Afghanistan, Pakistan, India, Malaya, Thailand, Cambodia, Vietnam, and finally back to the place it started—Detroit, Michigan, U.S.A.

The Ford powered over the great mountain ranges of three continents: from the Alps to the Himalayas and the Rockies. It crossed the great rivers of history: the Thames, the Seine, the Tiber, the Arno, the Tigris, the Euphrates, the Indus, the Ganges.

This car stood at Buckingham Palace, rolled up the Champs Elysees to the Arc de Triomphe, and paused at the Eiffel Tower. It was greeted by the great Paris couturieres at the famous fashion salons where its "sculptured in steel" styling was applauded by the most style-conscious audience in the world.

The 58 Ford rode smoothly down the rugged, beautiful seacoast of Tito's country, to a festival in Dubrovnik, and into Greece to Athens, where this newest classic met such ancient classics as the Parthenon and the Temple of Poseidon.

Into Turkey: and the 58 Ford passed the great white lacework palaces of the Sultans along the Bosporus and the Golden Horn. Then the Ford went where few but nomads travel, up into the hot days and chill nights of the ancient mountains of Afghanistan. And thence along the route Alexander the Great followed with his chariots to cross the historic Indus river.

On and on the Ford moved, down into the heat of mysterious India, through New Delhi to the Taj Mahal, and to the great pink palace of the Maharajah of Jaipur.

This great new car met the challenge of the monsoons—rains that for centuries have stopped all road movement throughout Indo-China, but didn't stop the 58 Ford. It drove on to Penang in Malaya, and then north to Bangkok.

Further on came Saigon, the Paris of the Orient, at the farthest tip of Southeast Asia. Finally, it powered across the great Rockies and plains of North America and back, at long last, to Detroit, Michigan.

The 58 Ford . . . has been proved and approved around the world. A natural question arises. Why did Ford go to such great lengths with its 1958 model? Why spend so much money and time and go through all the problems of negotiations, customs, border transit, diplomacy in so many countries?

The answer: in the competitive automobile market of today, only the best in all-around value can survive. And this round-the-world test is the most decisive possible demonstration of the best.

The 1958 Ford is value: hard-dollar value. It is also style, power, performance, and a dozen great new features. But above all, it is value.

This is the car you've been waiting for. See it November 7—there's nothing newer in the world than the 58 Ford!

Hospital Addition Now Underway

From 16 to a 95-bed capacity—briefly, that's the growth story of Herrick Memorial hospital.

Ground was broken in 1938 for the Tecumseh institution. In the 19 intervening years, four additions have been made.

The latest one, which is extending the south wing and adding a second story over it and a portion of the present building, is well under way.

Work began during the summer and should be completed next spring. This does not include finishing off the second floor, which is to be handled at a later date.

Basement under the south wing will be utilized for a badly needed kitchen and dining room. The kitchen will be in stainless steel.

There'll also be three employee lounges and storage, maintenance and autopsy rooms. An elevator will operate from basement to second floor.

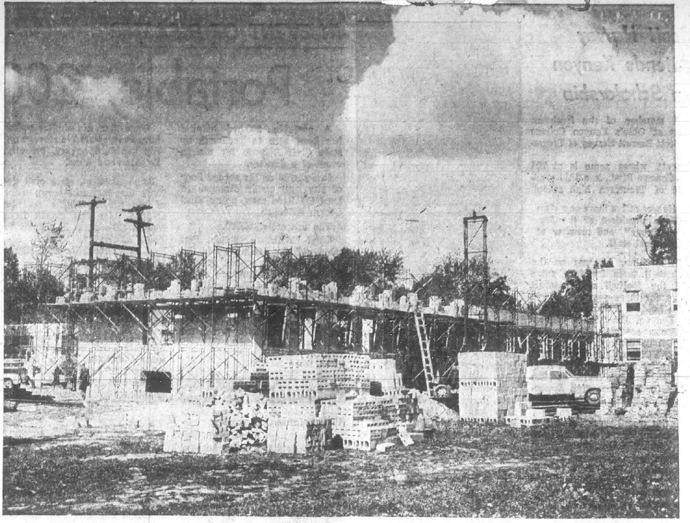
Other additions were made in 1941, 1951 and 1954.

Besides the increased space, the newest and finest of equipment—such as the $60,000 X-ray division—is constantly being added.



HOSPITAL ADDITION—By next spring, the new south wing of Herrick Memorial hospital will have been completed. Extended 56 feet, the wing will now have a second floor, which will be finished inside at a later date, stated Orrie Gilbert, hospital administrator.

Tired of Standing Doing Kitchen Work?

Tired of standing when you do your kitchen work? Then fix a convenient place to work sitting down, says Norma Landon, Michigan State University home economist.

Plan an area for doing sit-down work. Arrange storage in the area so things are easy to reach while you're sitting. The length of your arm is the maximum distance you can reach without stretching or getting up.

A comfortable chair is a must for sitting work. Get one that lets your feet rest flat on the floor and has a good back rest.

To sit and work comfortably you need work surface with knee room. The pull out lap board is handy. If you have one built in your cupboard be sure it's the right height for you. It should just clear your lap when you're sitting in your work chair.

FOR KITCHENS that don't have a built-in lap board you can make one and put it where you want it. Little TV tray tables are just about right height for most homemakers.

To give a larger work surface put a piece of plywood or a bread board on top of the tray table. Put cleets in the under side of the board to catch on the tray edges and hold it in place.

If the cupboard has a shallow drawer that pulls out at the right height you can put a bread board on it for a lap board. Or you can use the ironing board if you have one with adjustable height. You'll want to cover it to protect the ironing surface.

Where ever you choose for sitting work be sure you have counter space for parking some of the tools you'll be using. You'll also want to be close to the sink so you can get water easily.

Boys Play Games Eat Hot Dogs

They visited Lincoln's tomb in the Oakridge cemetery, which is located on the outskirts of Springfield, and saw a replica of the village of New Salem as it was in Lincoln's time.

To qualify to take this trip the boys were asked to read a specified book of Lincoln's life and submit a 300-word book report.

REALTY VIEWS

"Long distance calling," the operator said when I picked up the phone.

"This is Fred Freedley," a man's voice said. "We want you to sell our farm in Manchester. When can you come meet us to look it over?"

I recognized his name as that of an owner of a very desirable property. So we set a time.

After inspecting the farm, I asked Mr. Freedley about the proposed listing.

"It's yours to sell," he replied emphatically. Then continued, "I know a broker in a small town close to this property and told him about it. That was several months ago."

"What happened?"

"He made a few notes on it. But he's never even come to see it.

"Now, I'm going to be very blunt with you," Mr. Freedley went on. "We don't want this farm merely listed. We want it SOLD!"

"Suits me fine," I replied. "Listing property requires us to spend both time and money, but it brings in no income. The only way we can win is to sell the property. Even though your property is some distance from our home base, I'm convinced we'll sell it. Distance doesn't mean much when we can work on a reasonably priced large property with a frank and cooperative owner."

"Good enough," said Mr. Freedley. "Pour it on."

May we handle the sale of your large property too?

MYSTERY PHOTO—A batch of unused engravings of little folks turned up in a seldom-used desk drawer. We haven't the faintest idea who they are, but they're certainly cute, so we thought a "Mystery Picture of the Week" is in order. So, here is the first one—who are the youngsters, ages, parents' name? Just call or drop into the Herald with the information and we'll print it next week, also run another of the "mystery" cuts.

If you travel 75 mph in your car and are in an accident, there's a one in eight chance you'll be killed, the National Safety Council says. Slow down to 55 mph and your chance of being killed if a crash comes drop to one in 40.

IN EVENT OF DISASTER

Portable, 200-Bed Hospital

A portable, 200-bed hospital has been sent to Tecumseh by state Civil Defense for use in event of a disaster.

It is stored on the second floor of city hall under direction of local CD head man, police chief George Kilbourn.

The unit costs $25,000.

Chief Kilbourn states that plans call for setting up in the Tecumseh high school gymnasium should an emergency strike.

By the end of the month, 13 other smaller, outside communities will be ready for speedy conversion into medical reception centers to take in and care for the evacuated injured.

☆

EACH HAS BEEN, or soon will be, equipped with a 200-bed portable emergency field hospital unit provided by the Federal Civil Defense Organization.

The units are intended only as a supplement to existing hospital facilities in larger cities throughout the state which would be expected to carry the heaviest burden of succor.

The buildup in provisions for emergency medical aid started with placement of a 200-bed portable hospital outfit at Midland in May.

Since then, six similar units have been spotted in storage at Big Rapids, Pinckney, Howell, Brighton and Alma.

Ralph Sheehan, state civil defense director, said seven more of the $25,000 outfits will be shipped later this month from federal CD depots in Illinois to Yale, Marysville, Monroe, Ida, Hastings, Greenville and Manistee.

Actually, they are being spotted so as to be available for utilization by evacuees from any major industrial area, should disaster strike.

The field hospital facilities can be broken out in the event of a natural disaster, like a tornado or flood, of such proportions as to warrant declaration of an emergency by the President.

☆

SHEEHAN said the portable hospitals, which require 15,000 square feet of space for operational use, can be readied for service by 30 men in six hours.

Each one has its own power generator, lighting system, water filtration unit and four surgical set ups, each complete with a set of instruments, operating table, special lights, anaesthetic machines and sterilizers.

There are cots, blankets, medicines and X-ray equipment. The refrigerators for keeping drugs and serums that need cooling would have to be provided locally.

The doctors and nurses to staff the emergency facility would be drawn from a pool to be formed immediately in the event of attack and allocated by state health authorities in co-operation with civil defense headquarters and the state medical society.

Bridge Opens—They're on Their Way Over

(Editor's note: Thirty minutes after the new Mackinac Bridge was opened, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mitchell of Holloway were motoring across it. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dalton of Adrian. Here is a story by the Mitchells, as told to Holloway correspondent Marvel Neuman, about this once-in-a-lifetime experience.)

Due to the heavy fog, we were told at the bridge, Gov. Williams did not open it officially until 2:20.

The approach is of all new road, wide enough for two lanes each way. You drive up on just like it was a big, beautiful highway. It is upgrade for a little over a mile, levelling off around the middle.

You are not supposed to stop on the bridge, but on the opening day we all stopped to look down.

There was a long freighter passing right under the middle as we crossed and crew members were waving, shouting and the whistles of the boat were blowing. Everyone who had stopped along the railing was waving. The men on the freighter looked like little midgets as the bridge is so high.

☆

There is a two lane highway all the way across the five-mile span and cars moved rapidly across.

As we entered the St. Ignace side the bridge attendants collocted the fares. No fares are collected at Mackinac City.

There is an official bridge tow truck. In case anyone is stopped on the way they will come out and tow you across.

In our estimation, it is the most wonderful thing we have even seen.

We are sure Michigan can be more than proud of the work accomplished on this project.

☆

ON THE opening day, we all received cards—dated November 1—stating that we attended the opening day of the Mackinac Bridge. These were passed out by Boy Scouts as fares were paid.

St. Ignace and Mackinac City were all decorated with flags and streamers and looked festive.

As you are driving across, the water looks so far down that it makes you feel like you are holding your breath.

It is a sight we shall never forget.

THE LONG and SHORT of it

BY TOM RIORDAN

AMONG THE LADIES THERE was almost uniform reaction to the announcement that Kroger would soon have a huge new store in Tecumseh.

When they saw the front page in The Herald and then viewed the picture of the super market site — property containing that lovely, historic colonial west of town — the girls sighed:

"It's a shame that beautiful house will have to be torn down."

Take heart, girls, there is a good chance the home will be saved. Dick Meyers, manager of the local Kroger store, reports that the colonial may be sold and moved to a new location.

There are many dwellings in Tecumseh with rich, proud backgrounds, but few probably exceed what in recent years has been the Branigin home.

An early settler named Jacob Ketcham constructed it in 1825, according to Mrs. Charles Branigin, owner of the home.

What a show place the colonial must have been in those days.

Mrs. Branigin and her late husband first saw it in 1946 while it was an antique shop.

Taken by the beauty and charm of the place, the Branigins purchased it, along with 80 acres of land.

Following Mr. Branigin's death two years ago, various sales whittled the property to four acres, which is what will be used for the Kroger layout.

Negotiations for the land have been going on for two months. Bill Powell of McCoy Real Estate handled the deal and we'll bet this was one of the best kept secrets of his life.

The Herald received a call from Kroger Tuesday afternoon and this was the first we heard.

Even Mrs. Branigin didn't know the deal was final.

At first, she felt she'd better not admit what was afoot, having given her word not to reveal the plan. When assured Kroger was the source of the news, she chatted freely.

Later that night, Mr. Powell, caught up with Jim and I, saying he heard we had some information which might interest him. So we had the pleasure of notifying Bill his commission was a fact.

One interesting side note of the sale was something Mrs. Branigin told us.

For 20 years, until 1956, she served as a member of Kroger's housewife advisory committee.

This group was made up of a cross-section of American women, all over the nation, who tested Kroger products.

Every so often, Mrs. Branigin would receive something from the firm, along with a questionnaire, asking how she and her family liked it and would she have any suggestions for bettering the item.

One week day evening, during the depths of the depression, the Branigin family gathered about the supper table and to each one's amazement, found a juicy, king-size porterhouse steak brought in from the kitchen by Mrs. B.

"Are you out of your mind, Mom," somebody asked.

"Eat up and I'll explain," she smiled.

In that morning's mail, Kroger

19-Year-Old Admits 3 Burglaries

A 19-year old rural Adrian youth was arrested here Tuesday afternoon for three Monday burglaries at the Marathon, Gulf, and Texaco service stations.

William Gatt, 19, has confessed the burglaries, all on North Evans street, and is now held at Lenawee county jail.

Tecumseh officers Carl Barnes and Don Rodehaver were summoned to the drug store where they arrested him.

☆

NERVOUSNESS and a big roll of money led to his capture. Unable to remain calm and hide his loot, the youth was suspected by Bill Wright who called the police.

Gatt refused to admit the three burglaries at first and even reported several aliases. Officer Barnes received a written confession from him later in the day at the county jail.

The Tecumseh police say entry was gained at all three stations by breaking windows. Gatt cleaned out cash registers and drawers, netting between $70 and $80, police report.

He turned in the change for folding money at the bank here Tuesday morning.

Death Claims Daughter of Former JP

Asentha Hosmer passed away Tuesday evening at the St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor where she had been a patient for the past week.

Miss Hosmer moved back to Tecumheh in September where she lived at 705 W. Chicago Boulevard.

She was retired from the employee of the Detroit Street Railway and the Grayhound Bus Corporation, where she had worked for many years.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Hosmer. Her father was the justice of peace in Tecumseh for a number of years and was known as "Judge Hosmer" by many.

She was a member of the Presbyterian Church. One cousin, in Freeport, Illinois, survives.

Off-Street Parking Goes to City Council

To provide space for more than 500 cars, all within easy walking distance of Chicago boulevard, the idea was drawn up by the Tecumseh planning commission.

Citizens who attended the session favored the arrangement, which could solve one of the Tecumseh business district's most pressing problems.

The off-street plan will now formally be presented to city council. Among those on hand for the public hearing were Mayor H. H. Hanna and councilman John Hamilton, representing the council.

84-Year Old Mrs. Liza Jarvis Dies November 1

Community Chest Still Far Short of $13,717 Quota

Have you suported Tecumseh's 1957 Community Chest?

The drive is still well below its quota, reports general chairman Vern Manwaring.

This year's budget includes:

| | |
|---|---|
| Michigan United Fund | $ 3,717 |
| Aid to Migrant Workers | 300 |
| American Red Cross | 2,750 |
| Tecumseh Community Parties and Band Festival | 1,000 |
| Croswell School for Retarded Children | 750 |
| County Humane Society | 500 |
| Tecumseh Girl Scouts | 500 |
| Salvation Army | 500 |
| Tecumseh Hospital Auxiliary | 350 |
| Tecumseh Recreation Board | 2,000 |
| Tecumseh Scout Cabin Maintenance | 200 |
| Tecumseh Service Club | 400 |
| Boy Scouts of America | 750 |
| TOTAL | $13,717 |

This is the amount the army of 100 volunteers was working for when solicitations were started two weeks ago.

So far, donations have reached the $8,150 mark.

Chairman Manwaring states that many of the block workers were unable to contact all of the residents assigned to them. Some were at work or out of town.

If you have not been contacted, please call 662 and someone will gladly pick up your contribution.

OLD PROBLEM POPS UP

It's Receation Field

An old problem of how to manage and maintain Recreation Field popped up at council meeting Monday when councilman Donald Brazee reported his resignation from the Tecumseh Recreation Board.

He said the board was not operating efficiently and some action should be taken. His resignation was tabled.

At present, representatives from the council, board of education and the Community Chest are members of the Recreation Board.

Councilmen asked clerk Mrs. Naomi Sallows to submit a report of receipts and expenditures at the Nov. 18 meeting.

Council also discussed having a joint meeting with the Tecumseh school board in the near future to discuss the operation of the field.

☆

COUNCILMAN Donald Purkey announced that Claron Rex, Helen French, Goldie Watkins, Wesley Proctor and William Wright had accepted appointments to an Off-Street Parking Advisory Committee.

Purpose of the committee is to plan for the development of off-street parking and investigate ways and means of financing such development.

In other action, council accepted bids from the Schneider Bros. Garage for a new police car and a half-ton pickup truck.

Schneider's bid for the car was $1,650; Butler Motor Sales, $1,700, and Tecumseh Farm Equipment, $1,783. Bids for the truck were: Schneider, $1,596; Tecumseh Farm Equipment, $1,644.46; and Butler Motor Sales, $1,650.

The ordinance governing trailer parks within city limits was given its third reading and approved. The assessor's plat of the second addition to Sunset Mead was accepted.

New Models Boast Raft of Features

Many of you looked last week,/ many of you will look today, tomorrow and next week. The new 1958 automobiles, an annual fall attraction, are here.

The new Fords are on display today at Butler Motor Sales, the new Pontiacs at Fisher Pontiac Motors, also today, and tomorrow Keith Bailey will have his opening for the 1958 Oldsmobile.

Last week, Wilson Motor Sales held its introduction for the new Plymouths and DeSotos, as did Schneider Bros. Garage for the Chevrolets and Buicks and Underwood Mercury-Lincoln Sales for the 1958 Lincoln.

Tecumseh Farm Equipment was first in the showings with new Edsel, a new automobile by the Ford Motor Company. Underwood will come out with the new Mercurys next Tuesday.

The new Ford boasts a new engine, new automatic transmission and new optional air suspension, plus re-styling of the grill, rear and other sections.

The Pontiacs has a new chassis design, new air ride and other major changes, including new lines of styling.

The Oldsmobile, like the other General Motor cars, changed considerably during the year. The noticeable change to the observer, of course, is styling and added luxuries. The Chevrolet underwent a major change in styling.

Plymouth and DeSoto have numerous engineering advances and alterations, plus re-styling the grill and rear sections.

And, Lincoln made improvements in design and mechanics to keep pace with others in the high priced field.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Storm windows on, the leaves all raked and apples in the garage to spice the long winter evenings, Tecumseh residents settle down for a little relaxing before the round of holiday festivities begin. People still come and go and here is what they are doing this week.

Sunday callers in the home of Mary McWilliams were her sister, Mrs. M. C. Lathers of Ypsilanti and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Lathers of Detroit. Mary is convalescing with a cracked shoulder that she suffered in a fall nearly two weeks ago. She will be required to carry her left arm in a sling for six weeks.

Frank Robinett and son, Jerry, and Mr. Claire Van Vleet spent last weekend at West Branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKee and two children returned Wednesday of last week from a two months stay in France. They were ill with the flu for the last three weeks of their stay and experienced difficulty on their trip home from New York because of the crowded conditions of the train.

The three children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood of Shady Lane are ill with influenza.

Mrs. Owen Partridge brings us news of an old resident, Mrs. Delia Carpenter, who is living in the Masonic Home at Alma, Michigan. Mrs. Carpenter is 96 years old and would appreciate hearing from her friends in Tecumseh. Just write in care of the Masonic Home in Alma. Mrs. Carpenter has been confined to her bed since she broke her hip about two years ago and mail is very important to her. One of her proudest possessions at present is a letter from Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower congratulating her on her recent birthday. Mrs. Lynn Harris was a visitor of Mrs. Carpenter last week and Mrs. Minnie Enders who also lives at the Masonic Home. Both of the ladies are sponsored by the Tecumseh Chapter No. 51 of the OES. Mrs. Enders said she is very happy there. She is the grandmother of Mrs. George Hay formerly of Tecumseh and now living in Grand Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd were in Albion Friday attending the funeral of a cousin.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Boyd entertained Sunday in honor of the eleventh wedding anniversary of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Feight, also the sixth birthday anniversary of their grandson, James Lynn Feight.

Major and Mrs. Wayne Hundley and two children of Riverside, California are spending 10 days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Green, Sr. Sunday the family gathered at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Allan Ramsay of Trenton. With Mr. and Mrs. George Green, Jr. and family and Mr. and Mrs. David Green in attendance. It was the first time in about 10 years that they had all been together.

Monday and Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green of Saginaw were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Green, Jr.

We in the Herald office enjoyed a laugh when courteous little Jill Holden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laine Holden, replied to our phone call for her mother "When she comes in I'll have you call her."

Mrs. Lynn Harris returned last Tuesday from spending a week with her son and family, Corp. and Mrs. Frank Harris, who are stationed with the State Police at Gaylord, Michigan.

Maxine Kesler of Adrian and Betty Wing of Tecumseh left Thursday morning to attend the American Dental Assistants Association meeting which is held in Florida. Mrs. Wing is president of the Jackson District Dental Assistant Association.

George Wittrup surprised people in the Herald office Monday morning by bringing in a handful of beautiful strawberries freshly picked from his garden. He said he had nearly a quart of them and that he has been reaping such a harvest for the past number of years. Mr. Wittrup lives at 109 N. Pearl street. We in the front office can agree with him that the berries have a delicious flavor, even though they are so late in the season.

Upon seeing Mrs. Wittrup at the Auxiliary meeting Monday evening we asked if she enjoyed the strawberries for dinner and her answer was, "Oh, no, we saved them for the grandchildren. Aren't grandparents the 'most'?"

It was just before Halloween when the grandmother of our children crashed a slumber party held by sister for 20 of her friends, dressed in a strange combination costume of witch and Mother Goose, with a huge pan of fudge. Grandma thought she was pretty well disguised but her granddaughter came close and whispered in her ear, "Grandma, do a monologue for us, won't you?"

A mustached visitor also attended the party long enough to hold up the young pajama-ed crew for their valuables and leave a huge Halloween cake which was quickly devoured. We think relatives are simply "wunnerful, wunnerful."

Ruth Hunt was an overnight guest Friday night of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hunt of Ypsilanti. Other guests in the same home were Paul and Ruth Hunt of Peru, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lewis returned to Meadville, Pennsylvania over the weekend to visit relatives there.

Earl Bilby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dow Bilby, left Saturday evening for Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri to join the National Guards. He will be stationed there for six months.

Mr. and Mrs. Raynor Kerr and Mr. and Mrs. Dow Bilby were in Detroit Sunday to visit Frank Morgan who has been ill but is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Laine Holden and family entertained his mother, Mrs. Mary Lee Holden and two brothers, Jack and Michael, from Greenville, South Carolina for the weekend of October 27.

Edward T. Beal, who is a patient at St. Joseph Hospital following an automobile accident October 29, is improving and his condition is satisfactory.

Mrs. Alice Schneider and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Drouillard are also among those leaving for the Southland for the winter months.

Dr. and Mrs. Richard Coak are attending the Convention of General Practitioners in Detroit Wednesday and Thursday.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Brown are in New York City this week, where Dr. Brown is attending clinics in Oral Surgery and Anesthesiology.

Rev. and Mrs. Edward Escolm were in Tecumseh Sunday coming from the Yearly meeting in Ypsilanti. Rev. Escolm says in nine Sundays he has spoken in 18 of the different Friends Churches.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Allen and son of Montreal spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Allen and Mrs. Clare Dickinson. Mrs. Allen and Paul are remaining for an extended stay with her mother, Mrs. Dickinson, and Mr. Allen returned to Montreal Sunday evening by plane.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Allen returned Saturday from a tour of the southern states including Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina and Virginia. Though they had thought that the foliage would be nearly gone they were much surprised to find the colors just marvelous especially in the Smoky mountains.

Drunk, Disorderly

Harry Marsh, 26, Tecumseh, and Fred Nobles, 54, rural Tecumseh, were arrested by the local police during the past week for being drunk and disorderly.

Feed Grain Supplies Reaching Record Level

Nationally, farmers produced an estimated 7% more feed grains than last year. This year's production topped the previous record set in 1948 by 2%.

Large crops of barley and oats last summer and an expected huge sorghum grain harvest this fall account for the increase.

The sorghum grain crop is estimated at 514 million bushels—two and a half times the production in 1956.

"We can expect plenty of cheap corn in the state in spite of the smaller local crop," says the county ag office. "Dry new corn will probably be priced around 95 cents a bushel during November in Michigan."

Fire Are Plague to City Policemen

Apparently, the local police are prone to fires.

Not their fault, of course, but three times recently they have found it necessary to call their brothers in the fire department.

Last Friday morning, the firemen were called to extinguish a fire in the police car. The car was also the source of a fire the previous week.

Then early Friday evening, Officer Gene Skinner summoned the fire department to put out a fire in his family car. Fortunately, all automobile fires were minor.

Tuesday night the firemen answered a call to the Ray Campbell home at 303 E. Logan street. A defective chimney is blamed for the blaze which caused only minor smoke damage to the house.

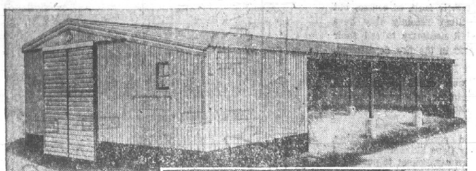
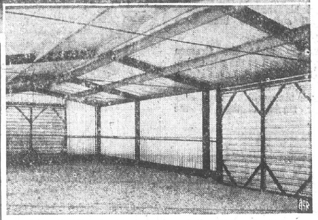
Now—An All-Steel 'Do-It-Yourself' Pole-Barn Type Farm Building





Now—a "do-it-yourself" pole-barn has been placed on the market. The new fire-safe building is so low in price that it can be purchased with a lower down payment than required on a tractor. It can be erected by an unskilled farm or ranch crew in a few days.

Called the Stran-Master, manufactured by the Stran-Steel Corporation, it comes in a wide range of sizes and can be used for stock-feeding shelter, dairy loose-housing barn, machinery storage, general utility or even as a small all-purpose shed.

The "do-it-yourself" feature of the all-steel Stran-Master is simple and fool-proof. It has only 13 basic parts. No cranes or heavy equipment are needed for erection. All connections are made through factory-drilled holes by bolting.

Getting true plumb and squaring of the building is also fool-proof. An exclusive telescoping arrangement of the steel columns together with an adjustable-length girt permits easy, accurate erection with farm or ranch labor. Concrete is poured into the hole around the base of the column. This unique pre-engineered foundation detail insures against rack or sag as in other pole barns.

It's an attractive low-profile building with a pitch of 2' in 12'. Stran-Master steel wall and roof sheets are of modern ribbed design. It can be ordered with any or all walls open.

Is it brunette Janet Scott, of New York City, blonde Martha Tiller, of Orlando, Florida? Or, is it the one in the middle, "Ella," of Waukesha, Wisconsin? Believe it or not, all three are secretaries, with "Ella, the Electronic Secretary," taking her place with our two beauties. Developed by the General Telephone System, the country's largest independent telephone company, "Ella," when connected to your home or office telephone, takes all calls, asks the callers to leave their names and messages, and repeats them to her "Boss" when he returns to the office, or gives them to him over the telephone, if he desires — all automatically. "Ella is a wonderful secretary," according to Donald C. Power, president of General Telephone, "She'll never replace our two beauties, but is a vital accessory to any office or business."

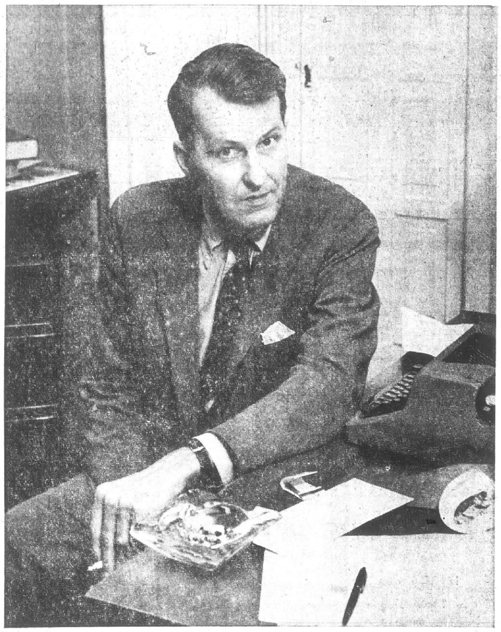
Tecumseh Author Gives Advice to the Young Hopefuls

If you think you'd like to be an anthor, here's what Tecumseh's successful novelist-short story writer Allan Seager suggests:

1. Don't get married too young.
2. Start writing and have something published.
3. To earn enough to live on, obtain a non-writing job, something like night clerk in a hotel.

To develop real skill as a writer, one needs constant practice.



TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

TECUMSEH NOVELIST—Combining writing and teaching at the University of Michigan provides a satisfying and rewarding career for Allan Seager, who for the past 10 years has resided with his family at 309 W. Chicago boulevard in Tecumseh.

An early marriage has thawed many a potential author, simply because he wasn't able to sell himself — much less his bride — that he could make a living with his typewriter and literary style.

Actually, not enough seasoning was allowed. Waiting for marriage until you are established as a writer circumvents this problem.

Taking employment, such as a night clerk job, isn't tiring, leaves the potential writer fresh for the real task at hand.

MR. SEAGER, who has resided the past 10 years at 307 W. Chicago boulevard, speaks from broad experience.

For nearly a quarter of a century he has been producing saleable short stories and full-length novels.

In addition, he teaches in the English Literature department at the University of Michigan, commuting to the campus in his tiny French car each Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Many of the every-day incidents which touch the life of Mr. Seager become fodder for his typewriter . Happenings around town have turned up in the pages of Saturday Evening Post, Esquire, Cosmopolitan.

His last book, "Hilda Manning," has as its setting a nearby small community. Someday he may do a novel on Tecumseh.

☆

STORIES MUST be seen in terms of conflict, according to Mr. Seager. Readers want realism, they wish to live among the sentences they read.

That's why for a writer some training in drama is extremely helpful — all drama is conflict.

Poetry, with its terse wordage, compact ideas, also is of value as a training tool for the potential author.

One of Mr. Seager's early experiences included a three-year brush with radio soap operas as co-writer of the old "Scattergood Baines" daytime serial.

The Tecumseh writer well remembers his first story sale.

At the time, he was in England, a student at Oxford, when he wrote "The Street". It was purchased by London Mercury, since has been stolen three times for television shows, states Mr. Seager, and once by a writer who sold it to the old Colliers.

Over the years, he has received his share of rejection slips, but at the same time produced more than 100 short stories which were sold.

It's important to the youngster to have something printed, Mr. Seager believes, because it helps foster confidence and the belief that writing can be his career.

☆

HOW MUCH do short stories earn?

Post pays $1,000 for a first story and the ante continues upward with succeeding efforts.

It takes the Tecumseh writer about a week to turn out a Post-length article of 5,000 words.

Slated to appear shortly in Cosmopolitan are two Seager stories, another will be in Post and one in Esquire.

Cracking Post is no small chore. About 500 unsolicited short stories arrive each day. This material, called "slush", is quickly processed by a staff of college girls, who usually read only a few paragraphs.

Writers agents will submit about 50 to 100 pieces. These are given more attention from more important staff members. Moral: get an agent.

☆

"I WRITE short stories to make money and novels because I enjoy doing them," says Mr. Seager.

His first novel, "Equinox," was published by Simon and Schuster in 1943 and soon had hit the best seller list. Forty thousand copies were marketed until war-time restrictions on paper ended printings.

"Equinox" was later translated into French, Spanish and Portugese, re-published in England by a London firm.

Other novels include "the Inheritance" and "Amos Berry."

A volume of 18 Seager short stories was produced as "The Old Man of the Mountains." Title of the collection was one of its stories, which had won a $5,000 award in the 1947 College Faculty Short Story Contest.

☆

THE TECUMSEH author was born in Adrian, moved to Memphis, Tennessee when 11, lived there until 19 when he entered the University of Michigan.

Besides scoring well in the classroom, he attained All-America honors as a swimmer. He was a member of Coach Matt Mann's first national championship team in the mid-Twenties.

He won a Rhodes scholarship to Oriel College, Oxford, studied there three years, obtaining Batchelor of Arts and Master's degrees.

While in England he started writing and upon his return to the States, became an editor on the old Vanity Fair magazine. It later was merged with Vogue.

Last summer, the Seager family went to France to brush up on that land's native tongue, Mr. Seager translated into English the French work "Stendhal" for publication here.

He teaches because he likes the young people and can help them overcome writing problems. And teaching ties in perfectly with his writing career.

HELP FOR MEN AT JACKSON

Where It's Needed

BY H. R. DILLON

Special To The Herald

JACKSON—Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson has inaugurated a course in human relations for the inmates.

"Operation Jackson," as it is called, has made tremendous inroads to many of the inmates' emotional problems.

"The course gives the men confidence and poise," said one prison official, "and lack of self-confidence is one of the major causes of crime."

Dr. Robert Murray of 515 W. Chicago boulevard in Tecumseh, is one of the Michigan businessmen who conduct the course.

"We take turns going out to the prison," said Dr. Murray. "My turn comes up about every two months. I find myself looking forward to these Sunday afternoons. The men are so responsive to the course and it is rewarding to see various transformations take place in their personalities over the weeks."

☆

"Much less than 10 per cent," said Jim Wilkins, special activities counselor of SMP, "return to prison after completing the course. This is not a magic formula for rehabilitation but it certainly is a large step in the right direction."

VARSITY 1962—Toting football pads is about all that 70-pound Mike Cook can handle now. The seventh grader, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cook, is one of many Tecumseh youngsters getting their first experience in organized play.

Plymouth 'II' Plays Cubs

Our Lady of Good Council from Plymouth will be guest Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. of the St. Elizabeth's junior high football team.

Action will take place on Recreation Field.

Friends, Neighbors Help Pick Corn

Thirty friends and neighbors of the family of John Prochaska kept nine corn pickers and still more tractors and wagons in action Monday during a corn picking bee.

Mr. Prochaska was killed about three weeks ago when his tractor overturned on him in a ditch.

The 80 acres of corn on the farm, six miles east of Holloway, were picked in record time.

Dinner was prepared by the Prochaska family for the volunteers.

Up-and-Coming Indians Face Hillsdale Eleven on Friday

Up and coming Tecumseh will enter Friday night's fray at Hillsdale with high hopes of copping its second straight victory.

Bolstered by a win over Willow Run and a close scrap with Bedford, a win at Hillsdale could send the local eleven skyhigh in hopes of upsetting Adrian here on October 15.

Tecumseh and Hillsdale both lost to Bedford, Hillsdale bowing 19 to 6 and Tecumseh, 25 to 13. Tecumseh's two-TD defeat fails to tell the story, however.

The Indians came from two touchdowns behind to go ahead of Bedford here in the third quarter, only to tire in the final stanza when the Bull Dogs tallied twice.

Coach Bob Breniff's team has earned a good following to Hillsdale and many are expected to make the trip.

The bedroom is the most dangerous room in the home, according to the National Safety Council.

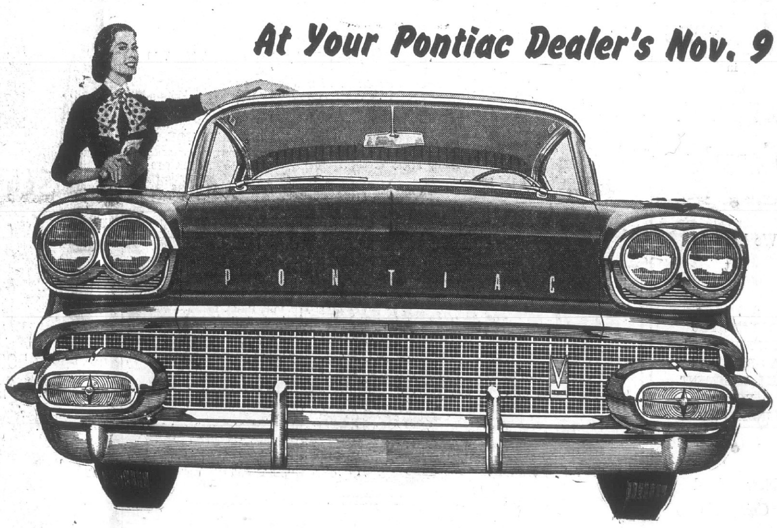
A NEW KIND OF CAR IS BORN!

At Your Pontiac Dealer's Nov. 9



BOLDEST ADVANCE IN 50 YEARS!

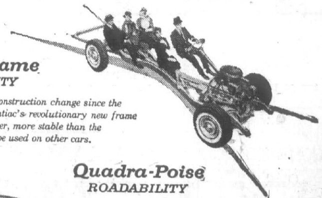
THE GOLDEN JUBILEE CAR!

It's a revolution on wheels—boldly planned from the very beginning as a Golden Anniversary showpiece for Pontiac and General Motors.

This one you really must see—here is a car unlike any you have ever known! This Golden Jubilee Pontiac is actually an all-new breed of cars—in four brilliant series and 16 sleek models covering virtually every price bracket.

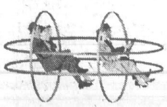
In all of them you'll find engineering advances so daringly different yet so basically sound that they will trigger the next big change in automobile design. You'll find a few of these ideas illustrated here, but even they can't begin to tell the full story.

Why not be among the first to discover the newest. When you meet this bold new Pontiac, you're in for a driving thrill that is impossible to duplicate in cars of conventional design. So make it a point to see your Pontiac dealer soon and prove to yourself that no car in history ever left yesterday so far behind!



Aero-Frame
STABILITY

Here is the biggest basic construction change since the early days of motoring. Pontiac's revolutionary new frame design is lighter, stronger, more stable than the conventional box type used on other cars.



Quadra-Poise
ROADABILITY

Only the wheels know where the bumps are! Pontiac's new suspension geometry ends dive, sway and bounce to bring you the smoothest ride, easiest handling you've ever known!

Ever-Level Air Ride*

The most perfect suspension system ever designed—and Pontiac's revolutionary Aero-Frame is specifically designed for it! Air cushions on all four wheels literally float you over the bumps . . . keep the car perfectly level regardless of load or road!

*An extra-cost option.

Circles-of-Steel
SAFETY

Pontiac's completely new body construction surrounds you with girder steel protection—above, below, fore and aft. Now you can drive with wonderful new peace of mind!

Tempest 395
PERFORMANCE

DRIVERS—PLEASE NOTE

Speed Can Kill

Four teen agers escaped death by a hair's breadth Friday when two automobiles hurled together on N. Adrian road in an almost head-on crash.

The accident didn't happen on bad roads, it wasn't raining, lights didn't blind anyone—in fact, the time was 2 in the afternoon, the day dry and bright.

What was the cause?

There were no witnesses and the young men involved haven't made any public explanations, but the best guess is speed.

Automobiles are powerful things. Drivers must always remember "Speed can kill."

If you travel 75 miles an hour and are in an accident, there's a one in eight chance you'll be killed.

CAR NO. 2—Completely demolished and ready for the junk heap, this vehicle caught fire after the wreck. Luckily, a State Police car was in the immediate vicinity and put the blaze out, then freed the driver, who had been pinned inside.

Cars Collide in Front of Amos Wilson Farm

Four Lenawee County men were injured, two critically, last Thursday afternoon in a near head-on collison on N. Adrian highway.

Taken to Herrick Memorial hospital and then to University hospital at Ann Arbor were Frank Bickerstaff, 18, Adrian, broken leg, shattered knee, and internal injuries; and Myron E. Gilbert, 22, Brooklyn, broken leg and internal injuries.

Jerry Hulsey, 18, Adrian, suffered a broken jaw and possible skull fracture, and John Scarborough, 19, also of Adrian, severe head lacerations. Both were rushed to the local hospital.

☆

The Brooklyn youth was trapped in his car until a wrecker arrived to pry open a door. State Police from the Clinton post extinguished a fire in the motor just before the wrecker arrived.

Bickerstaff and his passengers were thrown out of their car into the east ditch and field. All were conscious when taken to the hospital.

Both vehicles were totally wrecked in the collision. The front left corner of Gilbert's car was pushed back to the dash board, and the left side of Bickerstaff's car, caved in and mangled.

Letters to the Editor...

U.S. MAIL

I saw the current issue of The Herald and was shocked to read that the colonial house on West Chicago boulevard is to be torn down to make room for a super market. I am not aware of the circumstances which led to the disposal of this property for a commercial site but it seems to me a landmark of this sort might be spared the fate to which it has been condemned. I was told that the house had been newly redecorated and a new furnace installed, which suggests that the house is not in a dilapidated condition although it is 130 years old.

I am not a native of Tecumseh, having moved here in 1951, but I believe almost anyone would hate to see the demise of so beautiful a home. You are new here, also, I believe, but any editorial comment you might have would be worth reading.

Also I should like to hear what other persons in this area think of dooming this beautiful old home for a purely commercial reason.

I have looked longingly at this house many times; it has been out of my reach financially, but if that were not the case, I should, even now, attempt to purchase the property in order to preserve it.

Finally, it seems very strange that the large lots on S. Pearl street should be going to waste when commercial space is at such a premium in the downtown area. It implies that the growing city of Tecumseh is plagued with attitudes and ideas of a village like Ridgeway. That is a shame, for any growing town needs an energetic, ambitious group of people to help it grow in stature not merely in size.

Sincerely,
Harry E. Snyder

(Editor's note: As stated in "The Long and Short of It," there is a possibility the colonial will be saved by moving it to another location.)

Feeding Live Yeast Is Not Helpful

Feeding liev yeast to dairy cows to increase milk production or feed efficiency is a waste of time and money, reports C. C. Ingerson, associate Lenawee county agricultural agent.

Tests at Michigan State University this past year show that feeding live yeast under controlled conditions has no effect on milk production, butterfat test or feed efficiency.

Work at seven other experiment stations in this country and Germany supports the M.S.U. results.

REALTY VIEWS

The proportion of Americans who own their own homes continues to climb. Perhaps it is time you considered buying a home for your family—or buying a better home, more in keeping with your family's present needs.

A recent report on home buying, issued by the Federal Reserve Board, points out that "home buyers" are just a cross section of typical Americans. For example, the average home buyer last year earned $5,640. And paid about $12,000 for his house. Four out of five went into mortgage debt to finance their new dwelling.

Averages, however, don't tell the full story, because 40% of buyers paid $10,000 or less for a house. And lots of families with incomes around $300 per month bought a home.

For two-thirds of the home buyers it was not a new experience. Two out of three had to dispose of another house in order to handle the new one.

The size and style of home you buy will be dictated by your family's needs and income. The important thing is to find the best home available within such limits.

Whether you are "new" or "old" at home buying, you will find our office can be of considerable assistance. Let us help YOU!

It's a Common Problem

America of today goes on wheels.

No matter how short the distance, the family automobile will be purring happily as dad or mom slides under the steering wheel to pursue the simplest of errands.

Of course, what to do with the car when you arrive sometimes poses a problem.

We'll never forget going to a Big Ten football game, along with about 85,000 others.

As kickoff time neared, hundreds of cars cruised endlessly, attempting to locate a parking place. One fellow shouted through the open window of his auto, "Anyone want to buy a Buick convertible—cheap?"

The wag drew a laugh from walkers in the area, most of whom had just gone through the anguish of finding a vacant 60 square feet of real estate to leave their vehicle.

All kidding aside, has something like this ever happened to you? If you are the average American, it surely must have. Not just at a football game, we mean on a simple shopping junket.

Bound to. Few average shopping centers have been able to handle more than a handful of the automobiles which daily pour in and out of their respective areas.

Some carefully-planned giants like Northland and Eastland in Detroit have no parking problems. At first glance it would seem as though they may have even overdone this angle, but visit either on a brisk Saturday and you'll agree with the experts.

In starting such a venture as Northland, parking can be tackled along with everything else.

That's not the case with existing shopping centers such as Tecumseh's business district. This is why our community planning board has proposed an off-street parking idea which would give downtown shoppers 503 lots behind stores on Chicago boulevard.

Actually, we're a lucky city. There is considerable vacant property available for off-street parking purposes—all within several hundred feet of most stores.

This plan, if put into action, would be a genuine stimulant to all businesses of Tecumseh.

As we said earlier, America goes on wheels and one of the first things the driver asks when starting out, "Can I find a place to park when I get there?"

'You Gotta Have a Dream'

One radio newsman, reporting at the opening of the new Mackinac bridge, said a person can't imagine the immensity of the structure until he actually sees it.

Pictures, no matter how large, can't capture the heart throb set up within a person upon viewing the span.

Being called the "Modern Northwest Passage," this engineering marvel will surely have lasting effect on the economic future of Michigan and the Midwest.

Imagine, if you will, a bridge, hundreds of feet in the sky, linking Tecumseh and Clinton. That's almost the length of the Mackinac—five miles of steel and concrete stretching over the swirling waters of the Straits.

History was made when Governor Williams paid the first toll to Prentiss Brown, the former senator who for countless years has envisioned the structure and was the driving force behind its becoming a reality.

History will go on being made with the passage of each car and truck over this connecting link between our upper and lower peninsulas.

There are many morals one can draw from this, but the one we like best is that the usual skeptics, who swore such a thing could never be done, have had to eat their pessimistic words.

As the song from "South Pacific" goes, "You gotta have a dream. If you don't have a dream, how you gonna have a dream come true?"

Let's dream on.

Christmas Season Problems

Don't look now, but the Christmas season is almost with us.

That means oodles of preparations for every family. With the merchant, it means that and then some.

We touched upon two problems last week—store hours, visits of Santa Claus—in our editorial on the Chamber of Commerce.

These are things which should be considered now, whether the Chamber idea is developed or not.

Tecumseh's business row will face competition from Adrian, Jackson, Toledo and even Detroit. Being well organized—and letting potential customers know about it—is a necessary prerequisite to a successful selling season.

Makes a Person Proud

Tecumseh and Lenawee county scored heavily in Detroit Free Press feature articles a few weeks ago.

The story of Ray Herrick and Tecumseh Products, its fabulous rise to a great American industry in a scant 23 years, covered nearly a full page.

In it were points about which all area folks can be justly proud:

* Net sales last year were $159 million, an advance of nearly five times that of 10 years ago.

* With a profit of 4.7% on sales, the Products ranked 287th among the nation's top 500 industrial firms, according to Fortune magazine.

* In 1956 sales, Tecumseh Products was No. 248, topping Hershey Chocolate, Zenith Radio, Parke-Davis among others.

* Its 29.5% of profit on invested capital placed the local industry among the top 10 in the United States, joining a blue-ribbon lineup which includes Gillette and Revlon.

* Since starting in business, the Products has manufactured 31 million compressors for refrigerators. Last year, 4.3 million rolled off the lines.

* A prediction by Mr. Herrick to Free Press Industry Editor Fred Olmsted tabbed gross business by 1962 at $225 million.

This is based partially on the fact that automobile and home air conditioning is beginning to open up. Another factor could be the newest feature in automobile manufacturing—air ride. The latter has as its key an air compressor. In a few years, "air ride" could be standard equipment on most cars.

More corn, more hogs and more beef cattle are produced here than in any other Wolverine State county. Lenawee's silt loam soils and rich clay help to make this possible. About 90% of the county is farm land—of this 75% is fit for cultivation.

Tecumseh has played an important role in farming, going back to 1824 when Gen. J. W. Brown and Musgrove Evans laid out the town square and constructed the River Raisin grist mill.

Farming brings in $21 million annually, but income from industry is even higher—25% over farm products sold.

Industry, since 1937, has grown 400%, providing 13,000 jobs.

Yes, we can well feel proud of our county.

St. Peter's Was The First Church Here

By REV. E. C. DICKIN

Tecumseh's St. Peter's Episcopal Church has often been called the Pioneer Parish and with more than a little justification.

It was Tecumseh's first church and regular services were being held even before the Diocese of Michigan existed.

It is the oldest Episcopal Church in Michigan and is said to be one of the oldest Episcopal Churches west of the Allegheny Mountains.

In August of 1831 Dr. Peter Galatian arrived with his family from New York. He was the first Episcopalian to settle here and not long after commenced to read the morning prayer service regularly.

TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

TECUMSEH ST. PETER'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Through his efforts, a parish organization meeting was held in September of 1832. At this meeting Dr. Galatian and George Spafford were chosen wardens over a nine-man vestry.

He became interested and suggested that a call to this parish be given to W. N. Lyster whom he previously met in Cleveland. In June of 1833 Mr. Lyster and his family arrived and took charge of the churchless parish.

☆

CORNER STONE for St. Peter's was laid October 10, 1833 . . . just nine years after the first pioneers settled in this territory.

This was a great undertaking by such a small parish, but before spring of the following year a sum of $2,000 was subscribed by the people of Tecumseh.

Mr. Lyster's sermon upon this occasion was entitled, "A City That is Set on a Hill Cannot Be Hid." This is still preserved in manuscript form.

The following summer, Mr. Lyster went east to solicit aid for the completion of the church.

A total of $2,000 more was collected and it is interesting to note that among the donors were General Jackson, president of the United States, Henry Clay, Daniel Webster and Governor Wise of Virginia.

Work of the building progressed and on August 2, 1835, Divine service was held in the church for the first time.

Two years later, on January 29, 1837, the church was consecrated by the Rt. Rev. Bishop McCorkry.

☆

THE CHURCH exterior is practically the same as when it was built, with the exception of the parish house erected in 1914 and enlarged to its present capacity in 1955.

St. Peter's has seen many eras and generations come and pass; it has survived wars, depressions, and strife but always it has stood as a monument to God with its doors open to all who wish to enter and worship in the house of the Lord.

For those who have no church home and would like to learn about the Episcopal Church, we ask that you leave your name and address in the box provided in the foyer of the church.

Band Boosters Club Maps Calendar Sale

Twenty-two members of the Band Boosters club met Thursday evening to make plans for the annual calendar sale.

The kick-off date for the sale will be during the week of January 6, but much work will be done by the members before that time.

Another meeting will be held November 21 in the Band room to complete the plans. The meeting will be held a week early because of Thanksgiving.

As promised the president, Fred Dickinson, Jr. kept the session short so that the members were at liberty to attend other meetings taking place the same evening.

The meetings begin promptly at 7:30 p.m. and last less than an hour. It is hoped that these facts may help the attendance.

Back to School As Jet Mechanic

Ramon Aylesworth, son of Raynor Aylesworth, has been home on furlough from Amarillo, Texas where he completed his basic training for the Air Force.

He left November 1 for Salina, Kansas where he will continue in training as a jet mechanic.

He is the brother of Douglas Aylesworth of East Shawnee street.

Guest Editoral

Every once in a while, the weekly editor gets in a giddy mood. If he's close to a typewriter, he's liable to tap out some awfully zanzy copy.

Witness this cute opus from The Tuscola County Pioneer-Times of Vassar. We suspect Publisher Robert H. Colladay is responsible.

A PLAN TO INSURE GOOD COVERAGE OF LOCAL CRIMES . . .

We have been lucky on the last two big local stories, the raid on the narcotics den on Andy street and the two breakins on car dealers. These stories broke at a time favorable to our deadline as a weekly paper. The first story broke early Friday, an ideal time for getting picture coverage and the breakins early last Wednesday were timed well for news-coverage. By rushing matters a little we were able to run two pictures.

However, just to insure continued success in handling news on the local scene, we wish to announce that it will be looked upon as an act hostile to this newspaper, for anyon to commit a felony in a period other than from 1 a. m. Friday to 5 a. m. Wednesday. For this consideration we and our readers will thank you very much.

SHOULD ANY PERSON feel compelled to commit a criminal act in a period past our deadline, will you please contact us giving the time and the place you expect to commit the crime. If you do so we will contact the police to determine if your plans are agreeable to them. If the police decide to interfere, there won't be a story. (At least not much of one.) However if the police decide to let you go ahead, we won't write the story. We just won't admit that anything happened. That will probably make you so angry (they say criminal types eat up publicity) that you will be happy to observe our deadline on the next job you pull.

We make one more urgent request. You know how much newspapers are relying on pictures these days. It is often quite difficult to get pictures of you thugs, especially on these night jobs. If you'll just mail us a good photograph of yourself, with your name written on the back (in your own handwriting) we'll have engravings made for our morgue. (All this will be held in strict confidence, you can be sure). This is only to be certain that we have a picture (your picture) ready to run with the story (your story) when it breaks.

☆

HOW DO WE MATCH up the B and E (breaking and entering) job with your picture? This is the nicest little device of all in our plan for better crime coverage. (We believe it will be widely copied by progressive papers everywhere.) Have some business cards printed (we're in the job printing business too) and just drop one at the scene of the crime. If you don't like this idea, just mail us the card. This will give you a one or two day start on the cops before they see your picture in the paper.

Let's all work for better crime coverage. We'll sell more papers; you crooks will get better stories with pictures; and the cops will have better hunting.

Jackson Prison Show by Inmates Open to Public

JACKSON—A musical comedy, "Flim Flam for Tonite," produced, directed, written and performed entirely by inmates of Southern Michigan Prison, had its premiere performance.

At the conclusion of Wednesday night's show, official permission was granted by Warden William H. Bannan to give an additional performance November 15 for an outside audience.

The show was produced to stimulate a drive for contributions to the Furnishing Fund of the proposed all-faiths chapel.

☆

THE INMATE drive for funds soared to a new high for prison charity contributions.

More than $1,100 was raised in a cell-to-cell canvass, contributions ranging from three cents to $100.

Many contributions were for ten and fifteen cents. This amounts to a day's pay for some inmates.

At the close of the first night's performance, Warden Bannan said, "In all my years of prison work I have never seen an inmate show as entertaining and of such quality.

"These men worked hard on this show and their prime objective was to be able to do it for a civilian audience," he added.

"They are going all out to raise money for their chapel furnishings and we feel they should be afforded this opportunity to perform the show for the public."

☆

TICKETS WILL go on sale immediately for a minimum donation of $1.00. Contributions should be addressed: Chapel Furnishing Fund, State Prison of Southern Michigan, 4000 Cooper Street, Jackson, Mich.

The capacity of our auditorium is only 1600," said Gordon Fuller, Director of Individual Treatment, "so those wishing to attend should send in their orders as soon as possible."

Stands at Farms Not Affecteb by New Law

New legislation affecting roadside selling does not prohibit farmers from selling their produce at roadside stands or at the farm, says L. G. Hall, Lenawee county agricultural agent.

The new law states that it is unlawful for anyone to sell farm products or other merchandise within the right of way of any highway outside the corporate limits of any city or village

While legal, farm roadside stands should be at least 100 feet from the center of the highway. This gives customers a place to park off the highway right of way.

The law was passed to promote highway traffic safety and to protect established food retailers from the competition of itinerant merchant truckers who had frequently operated on highway rights of way near cities and towns.

Fire losses totaled nearly a billion dollars in 1956, the National Safety Council reports.

Shots for Polio Can Reduce Odds Greatly

Community support for the current Salk poliomyelitis vaccine campaign is urged by the Lenawee County Health Department.

After a shortage last spring, when many vaccination programs were curtailed or postponed, supplies are now adequate to insure that everyone who needs protection gets it.

Citing figures just released, Dr. John S. Wisely, County Health director, reports that paralytic polio has decreased 80% during the last two years.

He adds that milions of Americans still have not received full vaccine protection and thus are needlessly risking disability or even death.

☆

MORE THAN 37 million persons, under 40, have received no vaccine, and 44 million have had only one or two doses.

Three doses are estimated to reduce paralytic polio incidence by up to 90%.

Only 63 cases of paralytic poliomyelitis have been reported among the 28 million persons who have received three shots of vaccine and not all of these confirmed.

"If unvaccinated persons will start now," Dr. Wisely states "they can get the full schedule of three doses before the next polio season begins."

Snappy Snippers Form 4-H Club For Clothing

Ann Surratt was hostess for the Tecumseh Snappy Snippers 4-H Club Thursday afternoon.

During the meeting Ann gave a report on "Just What is Halloween" and officers were elected.

Next meeting, November 7, will be held with Mrs. Howard Morris, who is clothing instructor for the group. Sue Fuller will report on "Just What Is a Perfect Hostess."

☆

THIS GROUP is the first 4-H Club for clothing in Tecumseh though Mrs. Purnell Osburn who teaches fifth grade at Patterson school has for some years had a 4-H Club after school made up of students from her room.

The 4-H Clubs work directly under Alice Lord and John Comstock, who are county agents for the Adrian area.

The Snappy Snippers will have two meetings per month, one for business and one for recreation. Mrs. Surratt and Mrs. Buttolph will have charge of the recreation meetings.

Wear White Item in Night Walking

Hours of sunlight grow short in November and a good part of your driving and walking will take place after dark.

Therefore, Automobile Club of Michigan urges pedestrians, especially those in rural areas, to wear white after dark.

A bright article of clothing will assist motorists in spotting you as you walk down the roadside. If you have no white clothing, tie a handkerchief to your clothes.

Think of Heart While Deer Hunting

It's better to come back "deerless," than to undermine your health or possibly not come back at all.

This is the advice of the Michigan Heart Association in its annual warning to Michigan deer hunters.

M. S. Chambers, M. D., Flint, president of the Association, says that more than deer will be in danger during the coming deer-hunting season.

Men who never exercise more than to walk from their house to their automobile or bus should not suddenly don heavy shoes and clothes and tramp long distances through underbrush and snow.

Each year during the deer season there is a rise in the deaths from heart attacks precipitated by unaccustomed exertion.

There is no way of knowing the additional number of heart attacks which occurred but did not cause immediate death. Undoubtedly, some heart deaths occurring during the coming winter may be due to heart damage aggravated while deer hunting.

☆

HERE ARE six life-saving rules for hunters prepared by the Michigan Heart Association, a member of the Michigan United Fund.

1. If you have any doubts about your heart, see your family physician and have a complete physical examination before going hunting.

2. Get your proper rest before hunting—don't depend on "catnaps" in the automobile on the way.

3. Exhaustion is not a good thing for the body in general and the heart in particular — so rest often.

4. Don't use stimulants to give you strength—getting tired is nature's way of warning you to take it easy.

5. Eat and drink moderately—act your age—you'll live longer, and like it.

6. Finally, know when to give up. Getting that deer isn't worth losing your health.

Homemakers Rival Chemists In Cooking Different Meats

A chemist in a laboratory has nothing on you in your kitchen, declares Mary Kroodsma, foods and nutrition instructor at Michigan State University. You deal with chemical changes every day as you cook for your family.

You've heard all about "how" to cook meat; for instance, broil or roast tender cuts and braise tougher cuts. But do you know "why;" do you know what happens to meat as it cooks?

As you heat meat, Mrs. Kroodsma explains, four changes take place. For one thing, the color changes from red to brown. The flavor of the meat also changes as the fat melts and blends with liquids from the muscle tissue. Of most concern to you as chief cook in your home are the last two changes that take place.

You probably know that meat is largely protein, but did you know that as protein heats, it coagulates? It is this coagulation that causes meat to shrink; the more it shrinks, the tougher it gets.

Connective tissue undergoes still a fourth change. It is already tough, but if you heat it in the presence of a liquid, it will change to a gelatin and the meat will be more tender.

You can see that you have two opposing actions taking place as you cook meat; the protein is coagulating and toughening the meat. At the same time, the connective tissue is changing to gelatin and tenderizing the meat. The kind of cut you have will determine which of these is most likely to happen.

A cut of meat which you consider tough, a chuck roast, for instance, is tough because it contains so much connective tissue. This connective tissue must gelatinize before the meat will become tender. So you have to braise the roast; or cook it slowly in a covered pan in the presence of moisture.

A tender cut, such as a steak, has little connective tissue so you don't have to worry about tenderizing it. It will be tough only if the protein coagulates too much. To prevent this, Mrs. Kroodsma concludes, you broil it, or cook it just long enough for the color and flavor to change.

Construction Is Started On New US-23

Construction has started on the first project on the new 16-mile, limited-access, 4-lane divided highway on US-23 from Dundee to the Ohio line.

The project started is a $316,000 grade separation which will carry the new US-23 over the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad, three miles south of Dundee.

The structure will be 186 feet in length and have two 42-foot-wide roadways and two 2-foot-wide sidewalks.

Completion date for the concrete and steel beam span is October 31, 1958.

New US-23 will replace the present narrow and very inadequate US-23 between these points.

Dalapon Is Best Quack Grass Killer

Kill quackgrass the economical way — use dalapon, says Dennie Clanahan, extension farm crops specialist at Michigan State University.

When you figure the time and gasoline it takes to go over a field eight to 10 times with a cultivator, $10 worth of quackgrass-killing dalapon is pretty cheap.

Clanahan reminds farmers that the time of application is important. Potatoes and sugar beets are quite resistant to dalapon and can be planted within a week after spraying the chemical.

But crops such as beans, small grains and corn may be damaged by the chemical. Allow about six weeks after spraying for the chemical to break down before planting so the residue won't harm the crop.

On fields that are to be planted to sensitive crops next spring, Clanahan recommends fall treatment up until the middle of November. The spring treatment may be used in the case of potatoes or sugar beets.

Spraying this fall will save time in the busy days of the spring planting season and will eliminate most hazards from the residual effect of the chemical.

Don't Raid Fund State Grange Says

The Michigan State Grange is on record opposing attempts to divert road construction revenues for any other purposes.

The action was taken at the state convention, following a warning from the Michigan Good Roads Federation that any disbursing of highway tax revenues would mean a serious cut in Michigan's recently announced five-year, $1¼ billion road construction program.

In issuing its warning, the Federation also said that "raids" on the road funds could cut the amount of money available for local road and street improvement and weaken the market for the state's road construction bonds.

RIDGEWAY LIBRARY—This is the structure, built in 1887, to honor the memory of Jonathan Hall. It was paid for by Mr. and Mrs. Rufus T. Bush, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. Hall. Now being redecorated, the libraray will be ready for its anniversary celebration next week.

Ridgeway Library Celebration Planned for November 16

By MRS. MARIAN STONE

RIDGEWAY—Area folks will celebrate the seventieth anniversady o fthe Hall Memorial library November 16.

At present, the structure is being completely renovated for the festivities.

Jonathan Hall was one of the first men who took up land in Ridgeway township. He was born in Lynne county, Connecticut in 1801.

He came to Michigan to "look land" in 1827 and bought his 240 acres, section 5 and 6 in 1828. Here he cleared the land and farmed down through the years.

He married Lydia Raymond in 1835 and to them were born six children, three of whom died in childhood. Their daughters were Melinda, Velina and Ella.

Mr. Hall built the large brick house which now still stands, from brick made on his farm.

Mr. Hall died April 23, 1883.

MELINDA HALL married Rufus T. Bush in 1862. She had met him when they were both attending college at Michigan State Normal College in Ypsilanti.

After their marriage they both taught school for two years. They then went to Chicago where he set up a sewing machine agency.

After two years he had saved up $12,000 and went to Canada where he manufactured the sewing machines for a year.

They then moved to New York City where he went into partnership with Walter Demslow in 1870 in refining oil. These men built a flourishing business, which was eventually sold to Standard Oil.

Late in 1886, Rufus T. Bush offered the village of Ridgeway a library, to be a gift in memory of his revered father-in-law, Jonathan Hall.

An association was formed to carry on the affairs and memberships were sold. So during 1887, the building was constructed and by November everything was ready, furniture in place and books on the shelves.

The dedication services were held November 16, 1887.

The dedication was at the afternoon service, held in the sanctuary of the Methodist Church across the way.

Here Rufus T. Bush presented this structure to The Memorial Library Association. It was accepted by the president, Guernsey Waring.

Inspection of the building followed and refreshments were served in the basement of the church by the ladies.

☆

THE EVENING services were held at the church. It appears that most of the ministers of the area took some part , Rev. Peter Sharp and Rev. W. J. Clack of Ridgeway, Rev. James Wright of Britton, Rev. L. M. Belden and others. All the Bush family attended, the two sons, Irving and Wendall being young men.

There were 125 paid memberships in the association, several of them residents of Tecumseh and many from the surrounding area.

Tecumseh folks were Seaton W. Anderson, Miss S. M. Hayden, Mrs. David McNair, S. C. Stacy and C. A. Wright.

The first Librarian was Frank J. Temple. Thomas Temple served as treasurer for many years, followed by Warren L. Jones. Dr. Robert Nelson was president several years until he moved to Hudson.

As long as Mrs. Lydia Hall lived, her name was first on the list of directors.

Velina Hall married Warren Jones and they carried on the farm through the years, this family taking an active part in the affairs of the community.

Their daughter, Mrs. May Jones Riggs of Ann Arbor expects to be here for this anniversary service on November 16.

We hope many who are interested, the old friends and many new ones who have known little about this library, will attend.

There will be an anniversary program in the sanctuary of the Methodist Church at 7:30 o'clock.

TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

IN HIS HONOR—Five-year old Cynthia Dean admires the oil painting of Jonathan Hall, an early settler in Ridgeway township, in whose honor the community library was named. Seventieth anniversary of the library will be celebrated November 16. Miss Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Dean of Ridge road, visited recently as renovation work was being carried out.

A few insights on "Reporting Municipal Affairs," by John H. Huss, director of the Michigan League.

Informal shop-talk sessions for weeklies and dailies.

At the conclusion of the event, the newsmen will be the guests of MSU at the Michigan State-Minnesota grid clash.

Members Decide To Continue Club

The Comfort Club held its first meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Ivadell Crowell after considerable controversy as to the advisability of continuing as a club because of the lack of interest.

Mrs. Norman McConnell was elected president; Mrs. Bessie Adams, vice president; Mrs. Don Yoder, secretary and treasurer.

Members voted to pay dues of 15 cents. The club will meet each third Wednesday of the month.

Hunters Warned on 'Rabbit Fever'

Hunters are urged by the Michigan Department of Health to be on guard against tularemia, or "rabbit fever."

Although no cases of human tularemia were reported in Michigan through October 25, experience in previous years has shown that most cases of human tularemia occur after the hunting season opens.

Most human cases of tularemia develop when a person touches or eats a diseased wild rabbit. However, the disease also can be spread to man by muskrats, beavers, deer flies, wood ticks and blood-sucking insects.

Entry into the human body is made through a scratch or some other break in the skin.

In the home, 28,000 persons died accidentally in 1956, the National Safety Council says, while 14,300 died in work accidents.

Wilson Motor Moving to New Location

Wilson Motor Sales, Inc., local DeSoto and Plymouth automobile agency owned by Harvey Wilson, will move next spring to a new location just outside the corporation limits on W. Chicago boulevard.

Mr. Wilson has purchased the building and land formerly occupied by the Irelan Motor Market on M-50. He plans to sell the building and lots now occupied by his agency on S. Ottawa street.

The dealer says extensive remodeling and some expansion will be made before the move next March or April. The site, which has approximately 675-feet frontage along the highway, will enable the agency to hardtop and flood light a modern used car lot.

Remodeling work will include dropping the ceilings, enlarging the showroom and the service department which will include the latest tools and shop equipment for servicing automobiles.

Trees are now being taken out in preparation for other construction.

The building has been vacant for the past several months. The Wilson agency has been at its present location since October, 1953.

THAT "300" SMILE — Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cook are still hearing congratulations for Earl's recent 300 game—rolled on alleys five and six at Airport Bowl last week. Earl holds his ball and Mrs. Cook the score sheet. It was the second ABC-sanctioned perfect game ever rolled in Lenawee county.

THE LONG and SHORT of it

BY TOM RIORDAN

FOR FOUR YEARS NOW, ST. Elizabeth's Catholic school has fielded a junior high football team playing a regular slate of games.

Much of the credit for the success of this athletic venture goes to a Methodist.

He's Jack Osburn, the smiling real estate salesman, who has two boys attending the school.

Jack volunteered his services as coach and over the years has done a remarkable job.

Often times, his squads faced sizeable weight and age disadvantages, but the Cubs entered the fray with the determination taught them by Jack.

While St. Elizabeth's uses boys from sixth, seventh and eight grades, their opponents sometimes included high school freshmen.

At that age, one year makes a whale of a difference in a boy.

Jack's main objective is to help his charges overcome the natural fear a youngster has of bodily contact.

He places great emphasis on good old fashioned blocking and tackling, which, after all, are the basic ingredients of the game.

Once a boy learns that a good solid tackle isn't going to leave him crippled for life, he digs in with vim.

The gridiron student finds the harder he smacks his opponent, the less chance there is for injury.

Football came to an official close for St. Elizabeth's Sunday night when the annual banquet was held.

Proud parents and friends of the gridders were on hand as the Altar Society served the meal. This writer was among the guests.

It was an exciting evening for the boys, all garbed in their best clothes.

Highpoint of the evening came in a traditional here ceremony, which we have never seen before in a sports banquet, but which could well be a fixture of all such affairs.

It began when Joseph Bolton, an eight-grader and son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bolton of 11243 Ridge road, called upon team mates to speak.

Each lad was well prepared — and with a special objective in mind.

Thanks were directed by the boys to folks, who in some way, had helped make the year a success.

The boys were well poised, they spoke clearly and carefully. We imagined their parents were mighty proud.

Special attention was directed to Coach Osburn, who was given an office filing cabinet by his players.

Mention was made of the fact that Mr. Bolton had helped the cause this year making arrangements for a seat-cover sale.

By this project, they earned enough money to buy new jerseys, a ball and still have some money left to go into the athletic treasury.

Jaycees Begin Drive To Collect Toys For Needy

Delbert King told Junior Chamber of Commerce members last Thursday night that help from the community would be needed to make the Jaycee "toys for needy children at Christmas" project a success.

He asked Jaycees to collect toys at their homes and solicit their neighborhoods and friends.

The toys will be repaired and painted, if necessary and distributed to less fortunated children on Christmas.

☆

RESIDENTS wishing to contribute may leave their toys at Jack Osburn's office in the downtown district, call his office or Mr. King, or contact any Jaycee for pickup.

Orville Collins, Lenawee County Boy Scout official, urged the Jaycees to promote the Boy Scouts here.

He said Tecumseh could have two more packs and two more troops.

The speaker reported a strong Cub organization with many more youngsters ready to register. More adult leadership is needed.

Kiwanians Prepare for 'Kids Day' Sale

Richard Hicks, chairman for Tecumseh Kiwanis Club sale, states that the annual Kids Day Paper Sale will be held this year on December 6 and 7.

Kiwanis members will be on the streets those two days to sell the Tecumseh Herald with a special heading on it.

The public is asked to donate whatever it wishes when approached to buy a paper. Proceeds will be put in a special "Youth Activity Fund" for local area youth work.

The public should know that the Kiwanis Club is strictly a non-profit organization and all proceeds from any project goes for the betterment of the community.

☆

THE KIWANIS CLUB wishes to thank the public for its generous contributions to the Kiwanis Kids Day Peanut Sale held recently. A total of $100 was made on this project.

Notices will appear in The Herald from time to time telling the public just how the money is used.

The club is having a membership drive at the present time. Anyone wishing to join this service club may contact any of the members.

Its motto is "We Build".

Exchange Club Conducting Sale Monday Night

Tecumseh Exchange Club members will solicit the community next Monday night, selling articles made by blind people in Michigan.

Articles in the Blind Products Sale include brooms, whisk brooms, clothes pin bags, ironing board covers and push brooms.

The house-to-house canvass will start about 5:30 p.m. with approximately 30 members of the club participating.

Residents, who are missed or wish to place an order, may do so by phoning 302.

Ollie Musch is in charge of the sale. The club's share of the proceeds will be used to help buy a scoreboard for Recreation Field.

The sale was originally scheduled to be held last week.

Nearing Fund Goal

Donations and pledges to Tecumseh's Community Chest have reached the $10,000 mark, states chairman Vern Manwaring. Within the next two weeks, Mr. Manwaring expects the goal of $13,700 to be reached. There is still time to give. Just telephone 622 and your contribution will be picked up.

Hospital Officials Tell Rotarians of Blood Need

Orrie Gilbert, Herrick Memorial Hospital administrator, and Ray Shelton, laboratory technician, addressed the Tecumseh Rotary club Tuesday night.

They spoke of the need and value of ample blood in the local blood bank.

Mr. Shelton said hospital officials plan to contact local and area service clubs for donors to build up the blood supply.

☆

HE REPORTED more volunteers were needed, volunteers who would donate blood and not ask to be put on the stand-by list in case of an emergency.

The blood program was started here in January. The blood bank has been here since summer.

Both hospital officials praised the Hospital Auxiliary for its aid in promoting the program and acquiring the bank.

1,000 Families Still Have Not Sent in Reports

About 1,000 area families still haven't submitted their October report for the Tecumseh Community Health Study.

They are asked to do so as soon as possible by the University of Michigan, which is conducting the study.

Reports should be filed even in cases where there has been no illness during the month.

A special analysis will be made of reports containing notations of Asiatic flu in the family.

Of the 2,400 families in the UM study, 1,800 sent in forms during the early weeks of October.

Education Week Being Observed

American Education Week is being observed this week by the Tecumseh schools, Supt. James McDowell announces.

Special programs have been arranged in addition to the "continuing cordial invitation to visit the schools at your convenience."

Parents are welcomed to learn first hand how "Johnny is being taught to read," as well as being taught to live in today's modern civilization.

This Thursday evening, the high school is holding its annual open house. Parents will go to the classes their children attend during the day. Teachers will discuss their curriculum and methods with the parents.

☆

First class begins at 7:30 and then every 15 minutes until 8:45 when refreshments will be served in the cafeteria. Parents will have an opportunity to discuss individual problems at this time.

Guides will be present in the corridors to direct parents and answer any questions.

☆

ALSO TONIGHT, the West Branch PTA will hold its regular meeting at the West Branch school. Last night, the Ridgeway PTA met at the Ridgeway school.

Everyone has a pre-conceived idea of the 3 R's, says Mr. McDowell, and what they mean in a child's education. The 3 R's today can be augmented as follows:

For the child—Relaxation, to forget frustration and tensions; Recreation, to discover joy in what he is doing; and Recognition, for successful effort.

For the teacher—recognition, reward, respect.

For the curriculum—reality, repetition, routine.

☆

MR. MC DOWELL adds that U. S. Census Bureau reports show "the more you learn, the more you earn."

The Bureau points out lifetime income of a person with eight grades of schooling average $116,000.

For the college graduate, it jumps to $268,000.

Week's Accidents Are All Minor, Police Report

FOLDING UP IRONING BOARD

Wife Learns The News

Delores Cook is a 28-year old housewife devoted to her husband and three sons.

She had been busy Thursday night, doing the family ironing. In fact, it was almost midnight when she finished the last piece and was folding the board up.

The front door of the Cook home flew open and her husband, Earl, dashed in. He looked pale and excited. For a fleeting second, Mrs. Cook had no idea what had happened.

An eternity seemed to drift slowly by as she waited for him to speak, then he fairly shouted, "I had a 300 game!'

☆

TO THE COOKS, this meant winning the Irish Sweepstakes, topping the $64,000 Question, Earl being elected president—all rolled into one thrill.

Both Earl and Delores are veteran bowlers.

Earl, who averages nearly 200 in three leagues (that's like batting .350 in baseball) is one of Michigan's outstanding keglers.

His wife took up the game six years ago, and until a broken arm last year halted league competition, she averaged 160.

So she could doubly appreciate the accomplishment of her husband.

☆

EARL COOK met the game of 10 pins when he was 13, a youth in Tecumseh, seeking a way to earn some spending money.

He became a pin setter in the old Tecumseh alleys on S. Evans street. They're long gone, having given way to an eating establishment and pool hall.

At 20, Earl started league bowling, but was a long way from the select circle most of his first seven seasons.

It was in 1954 that fate and a fellow named Cliff Preston, owner of the local Airport Bowl establishment, stepped in.

Earl ordered a new ball from Cliff and when it arrived, he asked for a little help.

Cliff taught Earl how to "spot" bowl, showed him how to deliver the ball with a deep roll, which would carry into the pins, not sheer off of the head wood.

That night he shot a 719 series, an average of 239 per line.

☆

EVER SINCE then, Earl has placed his left foot exactly seven boards to the left of center at the top of the approach.

His eyes are glued to the ninth board from the right gutter as he strides to the foul line. That's where he sends his ball, not looking at the pins until it is well on its way.

If all goes according to plan, the 16 pounds of smooth Bakelite will hook at the last moment, crashing between the one and three pins.

It happened 11 out of the 12 times Earl pitched for his perfect game. In the seventh frame, the ball crossed over to the Brooklyn side (the one-two pocket), but the pins still all went down.

☆

LET'S HAVE Earl describe that twelfth ball.

"I learned later that everyone had kept on bowling, but at the moment I didn't hear a thing. I picked up the ball, but I couldn't feel any weight.

"I seemed to be in a big void. I couldn't feel a thing. I was numb. I went up to the line by instinct and tossed to my spot and as I did, I said a prayer.

"Afterwards, some said I collapsed onto the alley after throwing No. 12. I didn't collapse, I was praying."

Then Earl adds, "I still can't grasp the idea that I hit 300."

The 300, combined with his earlier lines that night of 225 and 231, gave Earl a series of 756.

☆

SOON AFTER the perfect game was announced, a representative of the American Bowling Congress of Adrian was dispatched to the Airport Bowl to make the routine check of alleys five and six.

He measured their length, checked the gutters, weighed the pins used in the game.

But it's all worth it, smile Earl and Delores.

Echoing the happy sentiments are their three sons, Earl, Jr., 10; Doug, 8 and Greg, 4—all well versed in the game.

This was the first perfect line in Lenawee county in five years and the second ever to be recorded. Both came at Airport.

Service Club Asks Cooperation in Needy Cases

In order that Tecumseh people needing some assistance be taken care of to the best advantage, the Service Club asks the cooperation of individuals or organizations planning to give aid to such families for Thanksgiving or Christmas.

In the past, much more has been accomplished if the Service Club has this information with all assistance being cleared through this organization.

The group welcomes the reporting of needy families for further investigation.

For information contact Mrs. John Thompson, 244-J, or Mrs. Fred Dickinson Jr., 217-J.

The annual meeting of the Service Club will be held on Wednesday, November 20 at 7:30 p.m., in the United Savings Bank.

There will be an election of officers and anyone interested in this type of work is most welcome to attend.

DEATH TAKES CHARLEY HANNA

Businessman for 36 Years

One of Tecumseh's oldest and best-known businessmen, Charley Hanna, died in his sleep November 7—his sixty-ninth birthday.

Mr. Hanna had been a fixture on business row for 36 years.

In his younger days he was known throughout the southern part of Michigan for his abilities as a baseball player, first as a pitcher and later as a third baseman.

One summer, while helping Peerless Fence Co. win the Adrian City league pennant, he batted over .600.

In later life, he turned serious attention to fishing and had been dubbed "the best fisherman in Lenawee county."

Charley's love for this sport helped prompt him to purchase a cottage on Wamplers Lake in the early Thirties.

During World War I, he served with the army in France. After returning home, Mr. Hanna was a member of the village council. For 18 years, he was Justice of the Peace.

It was in 1921, that Charley purchased the cigar store, known as "The Smoke House." He operated the business until 1930, selling it to go into insurance.

Born November 7, 1888 near Geneseo, N. Y., Mr. Hanna was the son of Hugh and Margaret Hanna.

The family moved to Ridgeway township a year after his birth, came to Tecumseh in 1895.

Charley learned the machinist trade and worked for the H. Brewer & Co. and American Steel & Wire Co. in Tecumseh, and Peerless Fence in Adrian.

A past commander of Tecumseh American Legion, he was a life member of the Free and Accepted Masons, Knights of Pythias, Moslem Shrine and Scottish Rite.

He also belonged to the Tecumseh Country club and the Tecumseh club.

Mr. Hanna was preceded in death by his parents and two brothers, William and Joseph.

Survivors include his wife, Ilo; a brother, Hugh, mayor of Tecumseh; a sister, Mrs. Iva Marsh of Tecumseh; and a half-sister, Elizabeth Hanna of Geneseo, N. Y.

Nephews left are Robert H., Charles W. and Jack I. of Tecumseh and Richard Hanna of Manitou Beach.

Nieces surviving include Mrs. Franklin Barritt of Burbank, California; Mrs. James Hartsell of Tecumseh; Mrs. Harry Dernberger of Pontiac; Mrs. Donald Oseid of Anaheim, California and Mrs. Richard Griffiths of Cleveland, Ohio.

Services were held Monday at the Collins-Corkery Funeral Home. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

FREDERICK CHARLES HANNA

Family Saved by Alert Police Who Spot Blaze

Tecumseh police possibly saved a family from Kentucky from death about 3 a.m. last Thursday when they discovered a gas stove aflame in their quonset home near the Quaker Oat plant on South Pearl street.

Police, patroling the area, saw the fire through a window, aroused members of the family and got them outside.

The gas supply was turned off, extinguishing the fire, which was out on arrival of the fire department.

Robbery Still Goes Unsolved

The robbery of Green's Men's and Boys Wear store remains unsolved.

Someone broke into Green's last week, taking a red hunting coat, shoes, sport shirts, sox and red handkerchief.

The reviewer will be Russell Gregory, who is working in the selection department of the University of Michigan Library.

He is also resident advisor of West Quadrangle Wenley House.

Mr. Gregory is a young man and the review promises to be of much interest. All members are cordially invited to come and bring a guest too.

A buffet luncheon will be served at 12:30 with Mrs. Donald Cobb and Mrs. Dale Bowen as cohostesses. The review will be given at 1:30 p.m.

When It's Rainy, Give Children Clay

When it's too cold or rainy for children to play outside may be a good time to help them make clay, suggests Bernice Borgman, of the child development department at Michigan State Uuiversity.

Most children like to play with mud pies and clay is the closest they can come to this indoors. Clay doesn't need to make a mess in the house.

But limit the area where they play with it to a place with a washable table top and floor, just in case.

☆

TO MAKE CLAY, mix 1 cup flour, 1/2 cup salt and 3 teaspoons alum with enough water to hold it together. It'll be a little thicker than pie dough.

You can color the clay by adding food coloring to the water or by adding powered paint to the dry ingredients.

The clay will keep moist and fresh for several weeks if you store it in a covered jar in the refrigerator.

☆

CHILDREN LIKE to squeeze, pound, pat and roll the clay as well as to make shapes. Shapes may resemble real objects they see, but more often they are something from the imagination.

For a change they may like to flatten the clay, roll it with a rolling pin, cut out shapes with cookies cutters or cut it with tables knives or tongue depressors.

Clay gives children a chance to work with their hands. Often they'll make up little stories or games to fit the objects they create.

Mrs. Mac George Is Assistant Den Mother

It was announced at the committee meeting of Cub Scout Pack 4 Monday evening that Mrs. Robert MacGeorge will assist Mrs. Allen French as a den mother for Den 9.

This is a new den of cubs.

The den held its first meeting at the Methodist Church Monday with Mrs. Richard Dustin assisting both Cubs and den mothers in the organization of their group.

☆

ABOUT 30 ATTENDED the Pack committee meeting, which was in the Dustin home.

Plans for the November pack meeting were made and the possibility of holding a hay ride and caroling party in December were discussed.

This would take the place of the regular December meeting which would usually be held just two days before Christmas.

Mrs. Wallace Rutherford has consented to take the office of reporter for the pack.

Carl Kennel will be treasurer and awards chairman in the place of Elwyn Merx, who is retiring after two years service.

A mans brown hat size 6⅞ was found at the Union Hall following the last pack meeting. The owner may claim it at the residence of Dr. Dustin.

☆

FOLLOWING THE meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Eugene Fisher of Den 10 at Tipton.

Pack 4 of the Cub Scouts is sponsored by the Baptist Church this year, but its meeting will be held at the Tecumseh Products Union Hall because the Pack has grown so much in number.

Junior High Notes

By Arthur J. Collingsworth

The junior high football season came to a close November 4.

The last game was between the junior high heavyweights and the freshmen.

Also there was a game played between the heavyweights and the high weights Friday, November 1.

The final score at that game was heavyweights 6 and lightweights 6.

Coaches this year were heavyweights, Mr. Donald Berkley and Mr. Douglas Murdock, and lightweights, Mr. David Dick and Mr. Dale Gates.

The eighth grade skating party was held Monday evening at the Skate-Arena in Adrian. Ninety-one members of the class attended. As the music played on around and around they went for three hours.

There is a $10,000 maximum for this insurance applying to deposits maintained by a depositor in the same right and capacity. Deposits maintained in different rights and capacities are separately insured to $10,000 in each right or capacity maintained.

The insurance protection is automatically in effect on deposits in this bank and applies to both new and old accounts. Insurance premiums are not charged to the depositor but are paid to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation each year by the bank.

The primary strength of an insured bank, of course, is based on its capital funds and reserves—in this bank they exceed $1,300,000—and the quality of its management and assets. Insurance of your deposits by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation provides an important additional safeguard for you and our other depositors.

BEFORE and NOW

When the Province of British Columbia celebrates its 100th birthday all during 1958, many of the activities will be centered in the bustling Provincial hub city of Vancouver. Transportation means much to British Columbia because the railroads opened the Canadian west to settlers and one of the highlights of the 1958 British Columbia celebration will be the exhibit of the world's only museum train; a six car train which has been restored to the original splendor of a century ago by Canadian National Railways. Just 75 years ago 14-ox teams labored hard and long to clear the land on which the enterprising city of Vancouver now stands. The picture above was made in 1882 as workmen and ox teams cleared the site where the imposing Marine Building now stands. FNS

Hot fruit cake with coconut hard sauce balls are this year's answer to easy holiday entertaining. The fruit cake, laden with rich nuts and fruits from all over the world, is available from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department and the slices only require about 20 minutes in a moderate oven to heat through. Hard sauce, always a favorite fruit cake accompaniment, will taste even better in a coating of shredded coconut.

HOT FRUIT CAKE WITH COCONUT HARD SAUCE BALLS

Coconut Hard Sauce Balls

- ½ cup (1 stick) butter or margarine (room temperature)
- 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- ¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg or mace
- ¾ teaspoon vanilla, or rum flavoring to taste
- 2 tablespoons cream or milk
- ¼ cup finely chopped green cherries (maraschino or candied)
- ¼ cup finely chopped red cherries (maraschino or candied)
- Flaked coconut

Cover cooky sheet with a double thickness of foil. Arrange ¾-inch thick fruit cake slices, as desired, on foil. Cover with a second sheet of foil and crimp edges of foil together securely. Place in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) and allow cake to heat through, about 20 minutes.* Serve hot topped with Coconut Hard Sauce Balls. To make hard sauce, cream butter or margarine until soft and fluffy. Add all remaining ingredients, except coconut, and blend until smooth. Chill slightly. Shape into 1-inch balls and roll in coconut. Chill. Makes about 24 to 30 balls.

*If preferred, a whole cake—or slices—may be heated in a steamer or heated whole in the oven in aluminum or covered dish. If a whole cake is heated at a time reduce temperature to 325 degrees F. and allow to heat 35-40 minutes.

Cement City Edges Britton-Macon, 19-12

Britton-Macon was downed 19-12 by Cement City last Friday on a muddy field.

Cement City's first score came on an eight-yard pass to the left end, who was waiting in the end zone alone.

The extra point was run, making the score 7-0. The score climaxed a 40-yard drive by Cement City.

The Cement City squad pushed over another tally on the first play of the second quarter.

WITH THE Tories in possession on the 49-yard stripe, Larry Houghton, defensive end for Cement City, intercepted an intended pitchout and ran the ball over for the score.

The Tories bounced back with a counter of their own. After taking a punt on the 50-yard stripe, the Tories marched to paydirt.

It tock them 11 plays to score. On fourth down from four yards out, Dean Clement swept around left end for the score. The score at halftime read 13-6.

In the second half, the Tories took advantage of a blocked punt and racked up another counter.

On fourth down and seven, Cement City attempted a punt which was blocked by the oncoming lineman of the Tories.

The Tories had a first and 10 on the Cement City 17. On fourth down it was Clement again, skirting his own left end for a 13-yard touchdown run.

Servoss failed in the try for extra point and the score read 13-12.

☆

EARLY IN the fourth quarter Cement City wrapped up the game. After 12 plays, Cement City quarterback sneaked in from the one-foot line, thus climaxing a 53-yard drive.

The Tories last drive ended on the Cement City 19. The game ended before the Tories could get off another play.

This was the Tories last game, compiling a 3-5 record and finishing fifth in the league.

They have scored 122 points this season while holding their opponents to 111.

Indians Battle Adrian in Final Game of 1957

By JON COOK

Plagued by bad breaks and the weather, Tecumseh bowed in its final league encounter Friday night at Hillsdale, 20 to 6.

The Indians face tough Adrian here Friday night in the final game of the season for both teams.

Tecumseh will have to play its best to match Adrian, a bigger and faster eleven, which has met stiffer competition this season than the Indians.

TWO FUMBLES attributed to freezing weather, helped Hillsdale conquer Tecumseh.

Both miscues gave the ball to Hillsdale inside the 20-yard line, once on the 12 and again on the 15.

The first break materialized early in the first period when the Hornets pounced on a bobble on Tecumseh's 12.

Two plays later, Jim Baker tallied on an eight-yard run.

Fullback Mike Walter's 28-yard slant off right tackle concluded the TD drive.

☆

HILLSDALE moved into a 13-6 halftime lead when the Indians fumbled in the second period on the 15. Baker, Hillsdale's mainstay, scored on the next play.

In the second half, Baker took a punt at midfield and scampered to Tecumseh's 21. The Hornets moved to the six where Baker scored his third touchdown of the game.

Bedford won the Southeastern Michigan League championship with an undefeated record. Hillsdale, Monroe Catholic Central, Airport and Tecumseh followed in order.

Jayvees Conclude Undefeated Year

By JON COOK

Tecumseh's Junior Varsity concluded an undefeated season by walloping Blissfield in its final game, 47 to 7.

The season's mark is six wins and one tie, a 13-13 battle with Bedford.

Coach Charles Gross' team rolled to 213 points in seven tilts and limit the opposition to just 20. Five teams were held scoreless.

FBI Officer Speaking Here

Marcel C. Phillips of the Detroit office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation will speak at the Central PTA meeting December 5 in the Central auditorium at 8 p.m.

It is hoped that members will keep this date open on their calendar for this important session.

Anyone interested in the FBI is cordially invited to attend.

Board OKs Dedication Plan for New School

The Tecumseh board of education approved a request from the Herrick Park school PTA Monday night that a dedication ceremony be held for its elementary school.

The board authorized the PTA to arrange the program, which will probably be held around the first of January.

William Damon is president of the Herrick Park PTA.

Supt. James MacDowell reported the schools construction is progressing as expected and will be another fine building for the Tecumseh pupils.

At the short board meeting, the superintendent reported about the recent University of Michigan Community Self-Help Conference here.

It was the forty-third conference held by UM in the state and the second at Tecumseh.

Farm real estate values in Michigan continue to increase. From March to July of this year, the average value per acre climbed 2%. From July 1956 to July 1957, the average value per acre jumped 8% to about $155 per acre, according to a Michigan State University agricultural economist.

Overseas Packages Should Be Sent Now

The annual plea for early mail to the boys overseas comes at this time.

Postmaster Jack Metcalf says Christmas mail, including packages, to be forwarded across the oceans by ship should be put in the mails now.

Post office officials announced earlier that surface mails overseas should be sent before November 20.

Christmas mail, via air, should be sent no later than December 10.

Although the sender has the advantage of waiting until the first of December to send mail overseas, the air mail weight limit is two pounds and the package can not exceed 30 inches, girth and length combine.

☆

THE TECUMSEH postmaster says labels for city and out-of-town Christmas letters will be dropped off at homes by carriers around the first of December.

He reminds residents that mail sent with 3-cent postage can be returned here if the mailing address is incorrect.

The familiar postal sacks for local and nearby Christmas mail will be hung in the post office lobby about December 12.

Off to Florida for Winter Months

It will be Florida for the winter for the Leo Bishop family of 630 N. Union street.

The Bishops expect to depart Friday, will remain in the Sunny South until about March.

While there, Mr. Bishop will do landscape architecture—probably shoot a few holes of golf, too.

Capacity Crowd Attends 'Melodies'

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

A capacity audience attended the concert, "Autumn Melodies," Sunday afternoon at the Methodist Church sponsored by the high school chorus and its director, Leslie Bennett.

The church was decorated in keeping with the theme, with colored leaves and notes of music.

The words "Autumn Melodies" were placed on a background of green, the swell of the pipe organ made a ripple of air through the green backing.

☆

THE PROGRAM contained such a variety of instruments, as well as musicians, that it could not help but please the majority of the audience.

From the first thrilling notes of the organ to the last of the anthem, ably sung by the chorus, the concert was a feast of music for those who love it.

It is gratifying to know that anott • such musical treat is being planned by the chorus for the spring season.

With so much fine talent in Tecumseh, both young people and adult, those who appreciate music will be looking forward to this event with enthusiasm.

It is fitting that the chorus should be the organization to sponsor such productions and it is also fitting that they should receive any proceeds realized.

☆

AN OFFERING of $85 was taken during the concert Sunday and it will be used for a riser fund which is very much needed by the group.

The risers, which cost about $150 will make it possible for the students to see the director and be seen by the audience in further performances.

☆

MEMBERS OF the Chorus are Kay Adams, Cherrell Ambrose, Claudia Anderson, Phyllis Anderson, Linda Andrews, Sandra Bartenslager, Addie Barber, Barbara Beardsley and Bonnie Beattie.

Annette Bracey, Joyce Bryan, Brenda Bugbee, Barbare Close, Jane Creger, Jim Dahlke, Susan Day, Linda Dean, Rose DeLeon, Carolyn Dinse, Carolyn Dennis and Dottie Dotson.

These young people are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts.

Many Tecumseh residents as well as the chorus are grateful for the wholehearted cooperation that the adult participants extended to the group.

Hints For Christmas Mailing

Hundreds of thousands of Christmas cards and packages will be lost this year because of illegibly written addresses. Servicemen overseas, relatives, friends, business associates—all will be part of a disappointed army whose mail goes astray, because, as a national magazine recently stated, we have become a "nation of scrawlers."

Yet a few simple rules and just a little attention to it will improve anybody's handwriting immediately, says the Handwriting Foundation in a special appeal aimed at cutting down losses.

All addresses, says the Foundation, should be written in at least three well-spaced lines, with zone numbers included. This goes for the return address as well. Take special care with the "tricky" letters and numbers shown on the chart.

WATCH OUT FOR TRICKY LETTERS

Never close these loops: e l f

Never loop non-looped strokes: t i d

Always close letters like: a g d

WATCH OUT FOR "LOOK-ALIKE" NUMBERS

1-7 3-5-8

NP

Your signature, on greeting and gift cards, should be legible. Include the last name when identification might otherwise be in doubt. If it's a family card, make the children part of the greeting, and let them sign the card, too.

For far away friends and relatives, add a short note—a few words of greeting and maybe a promise of a longer letter soon. A New Year's card is appropriate for friends you've forgotten at Christmas. And never give money gifts to the postman, milkman and others without at least the personal touch of your signature.

You don't have to be an artist to decorate a card or gift package. A pen and colored inks (try red and green for Christmas) is all you need. A tree in outline, some stars, a few heavy dots . . . and you've drawn your own Christmas spirit. Another personal touch is a note in an envelope attached to the outside of a gift package.

As for next year's greeting card and gift list, compile it now. Write each name on a separate index card, and alphabetize them in a file box to simplify additions and changes. Or keep a booklet, with blank pages between names for newcomers. Such a list prevents embarrassing duplication or omission at card-sending time.

And always remember, concludes the Handwriting Foundation, that the written message is part of the Christmas spirit. Be sure to make the message legible.

Campaign Could Affect Each Home

The Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce has initiated a worthy campaign to collect toys for needy children. These toys will be gathered by the organization and distributed to the less fortunate children at Christmas.

This campaign should affect nearly every home in Tecumseh. Most homes have children, all children have toys and most children have toys they no longer play with.

It is these toys the Jaycees want. Toys which your children won't miss, but toys which will make a less fortunate child believe in Santa Claus next December 25.

Let's work with the Jaycees now so their project to help other youngsters will be a success.

A toy covered with dust at your home now is the toy some child may consider precious next month. A toy he or she might otherwise not have.

Won't you look around the house today and call a Jaysee?

Turning in a Perfect Performance

Turning in a perfect performance—whether it be in sports or the business work—is a fascinating and exciting happening.

This week, the spotlight for a 100% effort is on Earl Cook, a Tecumseh bowler who pitched a 300 game on Airport Bowl alleys five and six last week.

Earl is one of those crackerjack keglers who picks up a lot of maples every time he unlimbers his pitching arm.

But the perfect game is something again.

Earl waited 10 years to get his 300—after going nearly 8,000 games, coming close often, but not quite scoring 12 strikes in one game.

Not all of us strive for perfection like a bowler of Earl Cook's caliber. But it probably wouldn't hurt us if we did.

A veteran printer has long told his new apprentices, "Whatever task you tackle, no matter how small or seemingly unimportant, say to yourself as you do it, 'This is going to be a perfect job'."

It makes sense. First of all, this philosophy builds perfection thinking—the easy way.

Secondly, by adding one perfect job to another, one soon has reached the goal of a 100% effort. If you haven't already, why not try it?

Enjoyment for Performers, Audience

Congratulations go to the folks who sponsored and those who took part in Sunday afternoon's "Autumn Melodies."

This was the first such musical of its kind presented in Tecumseh in several years—and we hope there will be many more.

Members of the high school chorus and their teacher, Leslie Bennett, developed the idea. Besides several renditions by the chorus, they reasoned a program would be enhanced with some adult participation.

And how right they were.

The "standing room only" conditions at the Methodist Church, where the program was held, show that area folks do appreciate good music and will attend such functions.

And while on the subject of locally-staged entertainment, we wonder if Tecumseh doesn't have enough amateur thespians to form a dramatic group and present an occasional show.

We'd be interested in hearing if there are any who might like to take part in such a group.

It's So Wonderful To Be Needed

(Editor's note: This week's guest editorial comes from the typewriter of talented Duane DeLoach of The Blissfield Advance.)

All of us who can and do work for a living should say to ourselves, "Congratulations."

Not in the sense of 'hurray' for ourselves, but "Hurray! we have work" and we are needed. Work itself, and the ability to work, are a blessing.

You might not be able to sell this idea to the younger generation, but it's true, as they'll realize when they're a little older.

Useful work takes in a lot of us: organized labor, unorganized labor, housewives, office help, baby-sitters, companions, bosses, salesmen — everybody who contributes in any way toward pulling his weight in the business of living.

It's curious that we have sold folks in our home communities all over the land that fallacious idea that the goal most eagerly to be desired is the attainment of retirement age.

That brings up a story: Once, some years ago, I asked one of my younger brothers what he wanted to be when he grew up. And he answered, promptly: "Retired."

How did we ever sucker ourselves into the idea that the most desirable time of life is when we no longer have to work for a living?

The greatest sorrow of the aged and the retired is empty hands, no work to do, no necessary place to fill in the framework of society.

The Bible tells us, "By the sweat of thy brow thou shall eat thy bread." And the poet Longfellow wrote about "something attempted, something done, has earned a night's repose.

It is so very true. All of us, even those who were born laziest, know instinctively that we're happiest when we're working.

When we've accomplished sometihng. We need to be needed.

Ever watch a retired workman come back to the shop for a visit? Ever watch a retired executive come back to the office? Today you work; you're part of the team; you are helping with the job at hand; you're one of the boys. Tomorrow, you retire and you're nothing—just a ball-player who's been pulled out of the lineup. Somebody else has to snag the fly balls; somebody else has to hit in the clutch.

Elderly people have said to us at times in the past, and then we did not fully understand, when we may have murmured a bit about how much work had to be done: "Have you ever risen to face a day without a single idea of what you can do to fill the time—with nothing to do?

I think perhaps there is something we who are employed could do about this situation. I've been reading a great deal lately about placement of part-time workers. Not only does it put folks back in harness who need to feel they can do something useful, but it's tailored to their energies.

ANOTHER IN AREA CHURCH SERIES

Friends Started With Log Cabin

Following the completion of the Erie Canal in 1825, the frontier moved rapidly westward.

Among pioneers of those days were many from the various groups known as the Society of Friends (Quakers), especially those of New York state.

During the winter of 1831-'32, members of the Preparative Meeting of Friends of Royalton, Niagara County, and New York often gathered together and talked of a future in Michigan territory.

On May 1, 1832, about half of the Royalton group received "minutes" (church letters) directed to Adrian monthly meetings of Friends, which had been established in 1831 (located three miles north of Adrian at Birdsall).

In the spring of 1833, almost all of the remaining members of the Royalton group received 'minutes" and joined the first group on the "south bank of the river in the township of Logan (later called Raisin).

The "head of the meeting" was Sylvanus Westgate, who with his wife, Esther Haviland Westgate, took up from the government the land which is now owned by Edith Haviland.

In their 12 x 16 log house the group met for religious services for a year, under the care of the Adrian monthly meeting, after which they were duly organized September 9, 1834.

The site for the present church was given in 1840 by Charles Haviland, father of Esther Haviland Westgate.

The first building was of logs, the second was a frame structure with partition providing for the women's meeting on the left, and the men's meeting on the right.

Across the front were three rows of elevated, or "rising seats" for elders, overseers, and ministers.

Departing from the established style of architecture among Friends, a completely modern structure which still remains, was built in 1882 with Benjamin Kelly as chairman of the building committee.

Members of the local meeting with a "gift of ministry" served the church as ministers from 1834 to 1870 and included John White, Charles Haviland, Zilpha Bowerman.

Others who have served as ministers since that date include Jacob Baker, Alfred Bartlett, Cordelia Rees, William Westgate, George Fox Westgate, Walter W. Brown, Paul B. Lindley, George M. Hicks, Claude Roe, Mary Hufford, Howard Green, Clyde B. Wood, S. Harlan Mosher, Paul L. Zook, Harry Green, Thomas Riley and Lowell R. Shreve (the present minister).

Recent improvements include an oil heating plant in both church and parsonage, redecoration and indirect lighting of the sanctuary.

Extensive remodeling of the parsonage and church basement and the installation of an electric organ was recently completed.

The 58 FORD is here now...

there's nothing newer in the world

There's bold, new styling—new Interceptor V-8 Power—new Cruise-O-Matic Drive—new Ford-Aire Suspension! The 58 Ford is the only car ever to meet a world-wide test and win world-wide approval before its public premiere!

You could search the world over and never find a car to match this 58 Ford's new beauty . . . new power . . . new ride . . . all at the low Ford price. We know! We tried it!

In Paris . . . the most style-conscious fashion critics in the world had a deep, low bow for Ford's latest style creation. In the mighty Himalayas, Ford's new Interceptor V-8 engine with Precision Fuel Induction won the day!

Then there's nothing newer than the true air ride of Ford-Aire Suspension. It's like riding on a cloud! But, you don't have to go to foreign soil to drive this newest Ford. We'll gladly save you the trip. Come in today!

From London to Bangkok... the whole world loved it!

The 58 Ford stopped traffic in Trafalgar Square when it passed through on its round-the-world trip. And that was typical of the excitement this Ford caused in Paris . . . Rome . . . Athens . . . Istanbul . . . Calcutta . . . and Bangkok. For this Ford was proved around the world in the toughest "shakedown" cruise in history.

With all that's new for a world of difference

You'll ride in a new world of fashion with Ford's deep-sculptured styling. From new Power-Flow hood to Safety-Twin taillights, Ford's worlds-ahead styling is a standout! There's a new Slipstream roof . . . a new Sculptured rear deck that's out of this world.

You'll be ahead with Ford's new Interceptor V-8 and Precision Fuel Induction. Gives you up to 300 hp. Smoother power . . . more power . . . from less gas! The secret is Precision Fuel Induction, a new carburetion, fuel feeding, and combustion system.

You'll get up to 15% more gas savings with new Cruise-O-Matic Drive teamed with the new Interceptor V-8. New D1 position, used for normal driving, lets you move smoothly—with a touch of your toe—from solid-feeling take-offs right up to highway cruising speeds.

You'll ride on a cloud instead of a spring with Ford-Aire Suspension. This is the way you've dreamed of driving—floating on air! Four air pillows literally soak up any sign of a bump. Car relevels every time someone gets in or luggage is loaded.

You'll steer with a feather touch with Ford's new Magic-Circle Steering. Nothing rolls like a ball, and that's the secret of Ford's handling ease. Free-moving steel balls in the steering gear are virtually friction-free—give you the closest thing yet to power steering!

Your night driving is safer with Ford's Safety-Twin Headlights. You get safety you simply can't get with single lights . . . special light for high beam . . . special light for low. It's the biggest advance since the sealed-beam! It's high style, too.

"THERE'S NOTHING NEWER IN THE WORLD OF STYLE!"
"THE WHOLE WORLD SEEMS SMALLER WITH FORD'S NEW INTERCEPTOR V-8 ENGINE!"

BUILT BY TOWN & COUNTRY

Three-Bedroom Bricks

The distinguished community of finer homes, which has grown up in the last three years in River Acres subdivision, is now enhanced with two new ranch homes built by Town and Country Homes, Inc.

The firm has built over 25 ranch homes in this area overlooking Red Mill Pond.

These three-bedroom brick homes, with attached two car garages and full basements, feature large living rooms.

One has a two-way fireplace opening into a paneled, combination family and dining room.

☆

THE KITCHENS are equipped with garbage disposal, built-in oven and range, range hood and fan and custom-built Birch cabinets with Formica counter tops.

The three bedrooms are well lighted and ventilated and have wardrobe-type closets. They can be quietened by closing the pocket sliding door, separating the living area from the sleeping zone of the house.

Ceramic tile and colored fixtures and double mirrored medicine cabinets have been installed in the bathroom. The basements have been equipped for an extra half bath.

All the interior doors are flush Birch with brass hardware. Copper plumbing, Rockwool or Fiberglass insulation, aluminum weatherstripping (on all windows) and bronze weatherstripping (on exterior doors) are some of the quality materials used in the construction of these homes.

Basement walls are constructed of poured concrete and afford a moisture proof and crack-free basement.

☆

FIRST QUALITY inspected face brick has been used which will not absorb moisture.

The subdivision has city water, city gas, and paved streets with curbs.

The Model Home is at 1004 Red Mill drive and has been furnished in Italian Provincial.

It is being held open for public inspection Sundays from 2 to 7 p.m. by a representative of Kohler Real Estate Sales.

With Tecumseh Teens

BY MARY V. SEAGER

The Senior Play, "The Torchbearers," by George Kelly, has been in rehearsal for several weeks.

This amusing show is a satire on high society amateur drama of the 1920's.

It is actually a play within a play. The second act is the characters' opening night on stage. This satire shows the many things that happen to fake artists.

The cast practices week nights from 7:30 to 9:30 because of the many other school activities.

Mary Jo Tressler, the assitant director to Mr. Babcock, is getting a big hand from her committees.

The cast was larger this year than previously because of the demand for more parts. The play is a popular part of the senior year.

The cast is as follows:

Nellie Fell—Nancy Dinse.
Mrs. J. Duro Pampinelli—Hilary Brown.
Jenny, the maid—Janice Waggoner.
Florence McKrickett — Joyce Wilbar.
Paula Ritter — Esther Stutesman.
Stage Manager—Duane Lock.
Frederick Ritter — Darrell Lowry.
Huxley Hossefrosse — Ken Ipsen.
Teddy Spearing—Tom Price.
Ralph Twiller—Gary Hanna.
Mr. Spindler—Larry Robison.

With names for the characters like those it's got to be funny. "The Torchbearers" will be presented under Mr. Babcock's direction December 13 and 14.

TEEN CLUB committee chairmen and co-chairmen were chosen at the Halloween dance. Here they are!

Refreshments and Clean-up: Richardson Stephenson, Nan Walper.
Chaperones: Dave Champanois, Kay Wagner.
Advertising: Astride Fremanis, Meredith Munger.
Planning: Dick Peterson, Kathy Tomorsky.
Tickets: Sherry Tucker, Gary Elliott.
Decorations: Suzie Rohweder, Jane Crawford.
Improvements: Yvonne Morningstar, Joanne Wing.
Membership: Dick French, Jean Hohenstein.

The first names are those of the chairmen while the others are the co-chairmen.

☆

SOPHOMORE class rings are being ordered all this week by eager members of the class of '60.

Group pictures were taken for the annual Wednesday. All club and band members were absent from class a few minutes for this.

REPRESENTATIVES from Kalamazoo College and the University of Michigan Naval ROTC came this week to talk to interested seniors.

Obey These Rules of Farm Safety Says Britton FFA

1. Shut off power to the picker before you leave the tractor seat. The little time that you might save by cleaning or adjusting a picker while it is running will not pay for an accident.
2. Wear close-fitting clothes that will not catch on moving parts. If you wear gloves, don't wear the double-thumb variety.
3. Keep all guards and shields in place, especially on the power take-off shaft.

☆

FOLLOW THESE three rules, says Larry Wagner, president of the Britton chapter of the Future Farmers of America, and you'll get through the picking season with small chance of an accident.

Members of the Britton FFA are taking part this fall in a statewide campaign to reduce the number of corn harvest accidents. Reports of last year's accidents, show that the above three factors cause most of the trouble.

Your sincere cooperation with the FFA in following these three rules will help them to keep the 1957 corn harvest season in Lenawee county entirely accident-free.

REALTY VIEWS

"What priced home should I buy?"

Many times we are asked this question or one similar. Naturally the answer depends in part on how much your family wants a nice home. Some families gladly forego other luxuries to enjoy a better home.

One of the best answers to this question was provided recently by a financial columnist for the New York Herald Tribune. He admitted to signing six different mortgages in the past 20 years in order to improve the housing situation for his family.

Says the columnist: "My advice is a bit strong: Buy the maximum house that you can afford. Spend to the hilt. Chances are your income will increase in the years ahead, and you'll find payments easier as time goes by. Disregarding income, however, it's likely that inflation will persist throughout our lifetimes. So your equity will be protected, if you have bought wisely."

Millions of families who today own their homes free and clear have followed that kind of advice in the past.

Put first things FIRST—own a nice home the entire family will enjoy. Let our experience be your GUIDE in finding the right home for your family. Merely phone, or stop by our office.

THIS IS THE ARCHITECT'S SKETCH OF THE NEW 12-ROOM HIGH SCHOOL AT BOYSVILLE IN MACON

New School At Boysville

Work is underway on the new Boysville high school. The structure, which will have 10 classrooms, a study hall and library, is expected to be completed April 1, 1958, states Brother John LaSalle. The building will cost $200,000 and is being financed mainly by the "Committee of 100," of which Emmet Judge is the mainspring. Mr. Judge is shown at left, wielding a shovel at the October 7 ground-breaking ceremony. Also on hand was Edward Cardinal Mooney, to the right of Mr. Judge, and, at left, Brothers Paulus and John.

Holiday Article Tells History of U. S. Marines

"A rain-cooled, Spam-fed, more or less semi-automatic, flat trajectory weapon virtually incapable of stoppage could describe nothing but a U. S. Marine," according to William Manchester in an article for Holiday magazine, 'The United States Marine'.

Prepared to coincide with the 182nd birthday or the Corps, Mr. Manchester's article will be part of the November issue, expected on the news stands the latter part of this month.

The author, a veteran of the South Pacific, permits both his pride and just a little irony to show as he examines the things that make for "esprit de corps" within the Marine Corps.

Illustrations which accompany the article are among the most outstanding pictorial representations ever made of the Marine Corps.

Carbon Monoxide Is Silent Killer

LANSING—This is the time of year when carbon monoxide declares open season on Michigan residents in closed places, the state health department says.

Between 35 and 50 persons die in Michigan every year as result of accidental carbon monoxide poisoning.

The health department said most of these deaths take place during cold weather and could be prevented if we wouldn't shut ourselves up in cars and houses without a breath of fresh air.

☆

CARBON MONOXIDE is a poisonous gas that forms whenever carbon compounds such as coal or petroleum products are burned in insufficient oxygen.

When the oxygen supply is adequate, harmless carbon dioxide is formed. But, health department warned, even under the best-regulated burning conditions some carbon monoxide is produced.

The leading contributor to carbon monoxide deaths is the faulty automobile exhaust system which allows fumes to seep into an unventilated passenger compartment.

The health department urges motorists to have their cars' exhaust systems checked and to drive with at least one window partially open even in the coldest weather.

Improperly operated home heating devices also cause many carbon monoxide deaths.

☆

ALL STOVES and furnaces should have unobstructed air intakes to reduce carbon monoxide formation to a minimum, and all smoke and fumes should be carried outdoors by leakproof vents.

This is particularly important when space heaters are used in small buildings, such as deer hunters' cabins.

Carbon monoxide is colorless and has no odor. The only warning signal it gives is to cause a headachy and drowsy feeling in a potential victim.

If you receive a warning signal of this kind, the health department said, get into the open air as soon as possible.

---

The key to profitable cattle feeding this winter is cheap gains, according to M.S.U. beef specialists. Roughage should make up the bulk of the ration.

Egg Business Will Be Better Early Next Year

Prices paid for eggs in the first half of next year will generally be about 10 cents a dozen higher than in the same period of this year, predicts Henry Larzelere, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

Hatchery reports show that the number of egg type chicks hatched during the first six months of this year was 19% less than in the same months of 1956.

This points to lower egg production early next year, even though the rate of lay per bird is continuing to increase.

☆

LARZELERE WARNS that the expected relatively favorable price situation will probably stimulate farmers to buy more chicks in 1958 for flock replacement.

Increased supplies of eggs in the latter part of the year will likely force prices downward.

Where one flock of pullets is raised each year, Larzelere feels chicks hatched in December, January and February will generally be the most profitable.

With these early chicks, producers will be able to "beat the crowd" and market a larger proportion of the annual egg production before the expected lower prices in late 1958.

CAUTION IN THE KITCHEN

Plans For Thanksgiving

Members of Plymouth colony had good reason in December, 1621, for looking forward to the forthcoming festival of thanksgiving—a difficult year had ended and a successful harvest was completed.

Now, 336 years later, homemakers have equally good reason for looking forward to Thanksgiving.

They know that with a little caution in the kitchen — and some advance preparation — chances are pretty good that they and their families will survive the national holiday unscathed.

Of course, there still are hazards connected with the event, even though they're not quite the same as those the settlers faced.

☆

TODAY, FIXING the feast is as easy as—well, as opening a package (make that several packages) of frozen food, according to Miss Martha Kohl, home economist of the National Safety Council.

The twentieth century homemaker can, by planning ahead, keep last-minute preparations to a minimum.

With the help of a freezer she can prepare the fruit cocktail, cranberries, turkey and pies days ahead of time, Miss Kohl said.

Or, if she wants, she can buy most of the Thanksgiving meal in prepared mixes that require little work or time.

☆

WELL, JUST what hazards does Mrs. Homemaker of 1957 face, then?

"As usual, everyone will want to get into the act in the kitchen," Miss Kohl said.

"Not only do too many cooks spoil the broth, but too many cooks clutter up the kitchen, and may cause the homemaker to get flustered, perhaps trip or slip, or spill things.

What can homemakers do to make Thanksgiving a day of leisure—one to spend with friends or relatives—rather than a day of danger?

Miss Kohl advises that they:

1. Get ready for the meal weeks ahead of time by buying and preparing much of the food.
2. Get a good night's sleep (that goes for the whole family), then start the day off right with a good breakfast to keep fatigue at a minimum.
3. Keep children—a hazard greater than sharp knives or hot pans—out of the kitchen.
4. Be cautious when cooking the meal. "Just because you're using an electric or gas stove instead of an old-fashioned woodburner doesn't mean you're safe from burns," Miss Kohl said. "Today's stoves can burn you just as badly as those your grandmother used."

☆

THROUGH ALL the holiday hubbub, one member of the family usually keeps pretty well out of the way—the man of the family. By comparison, he has things pretty soft.

His time comes, though, when the turkey must be carved. Like his forefathers, he'll be exposing himself to danger from a carving knife.

Miss Kohl, however, has a couple of tips for him, too: "Be sure the knife's sharp. And cut away from you," she said.

Scholarships Are Offered to Cranbrook

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Scholarships up to $1,500 are now being offered to deserving boys by Cranbrook School here.

Any boy may apply for a grant if he is eligible for entrance into grades seven to eleven next September.

All applications for scholarships must be submitted by March 1 to Headmaster, Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills, Mich.

While there is no fixed number or size of grants to be made, a large percentage of Cranbrook students during the school's 30 years, have received financial aid. Under the present scholarship program, grants may be renewed until graduation.

JACK OSBURN, BROKER

Well, Jack has gone hunting so it's up to me to keep the old place going.

You know we have 26 good listings. There are 2-bedroom homes, 3-bedroom homes, 4-bedroom homes, 5 and 6-bedroom homes. We have some big homes and some little ones. They start at $4,750.00 and go up to $25,000. They are located from Britton to Onsted. Some for as little as $500 down. All can be bought on Land Contract.

We have bare land from 1 acre to 130 acres. Some in Onsted, some 3 miles from Tecumseh. Over by Adrian there is 23 acres with a good home.

We also have 2 large Commercial buildings for sale or rent, one on W. Chicago, the other on N. Evans. We have a couple cottages on Wamplers Lake.

Building lots, some restricted, some not. Some with trees, some without. Name your terms on these lots.

Just name your location and we have a home, farm or lot for you.

Also have new homes for sale, Haeussler builds them. Now have 5 jobs under way. Will take 2 more for the winter.

Guess what! Ole Jack sold the 3-family on North Union. Thanks to a couple of his competitors, they bought it. Also the house trailer has been sold.

Thinking back to that 3-family, he told you it was a good deal, and when 2 people in the real estate business buy it, he must be right.

Well, stop in and see me. Sure will try and sell you something while J. O. is gone. Some football game that Mich. and Ill. game. I told the boys! L.B.

There is now no good reason why anyone should worry about a possible disease they think they might have. Medical science is rapidly learning the answers to many formerly unsolvable problems.

No one should be afraid that they might have an incurable disease because there are now none that cannot be helped if the diagnosis is made early. If you have any continuously recurring troublesome symptoms, just let your physician find out the reason. The odds are he will quickly prove they are not dangerous if you follow his advice.

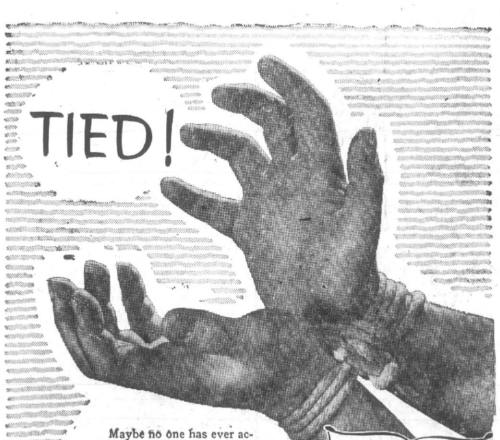
FOR ALL WE HOLD SACRED . . . ATTEND CHURCH !



Maybe no one has ever actually bound your wrists with a rope. But haven't you, at times, felt as if you were literally hand tied? You struggle and strain with your problems and anxieties, and you are completely unable to get free.

Such moments come to everyone, and they are not easy to face. It's simple to be serene when things are going well. But when your hands are tied—when you feel helpless, even hopeless—then you begin to realize life cannot be lived alone.

It's then that you know how important Faith is—how it is something you absolutely must have. With Faith to sustain you, you inevitably begin to see your way out. Without it, you flounder.

Turn to the Church—not just because you are troubled, but because it can give you spiritual freedom.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A&P OKs Plan For New Store

Construction of a giant A&P super market is expected to get under way within the next few days at the northeast corner of North Evans street and East Brown street—now Herrick Park Drive.

R. R. Betz, vice president of the Toledo unit for the A&P Food Stores, says final plans for a new air conditioned super market here have been approved for a building of over 8,000 square feet, twice the size of the present store.

The building will be 58 feet wide and 139 feet deep and will be constructed for possible future expansion. A paved parking lot for 135 cars will be available for customers.

Jack Osburn, Tecumseh realtor, handled negotiations here and arranged for the lease. The food store's opening is planned for next spring.

The exterior of the new construction will be of buff brick with a modern tower sign mounted on the roof. The interior will have tile floor, fluorescent lighting and color-keyed departments.

Toledo officials say the store will have all of the newest and latest innovations in food retailing. Finest refrigeration equipment for perishable items will be installed.

A special feature will be a self-service meat department with a unique refrigerated production line that will enable customers to see the entire packaging operation at all times.

☆

THE SITE also has space for other commercial development besides posible expansion room for the new A&P store.

Negotiations for a new A&P store here have been held for the past three years. This past summer Tecumseh council changed the area from semi-commercial to commercial.

The present store has been in its location on N. Evans street for the past 16 years. This week's announcement by A&P follows the Kroger Store announcement of its new super market by a few weeks.

ARCHITECT'S SKETCH—This is what Tecumseh's new A&P super market will look like when it is completed sometime next year. The store will offer every modern facility for one-stop shopping, plus a large free parking lot adjoining the building.

THE LONG and SHORT of it

BY TOM RIORDAN

PETTY STEALING IN TECUMSEH stores seems to be more noticeable.

Don't be alarmed, there are no wholesale losses, maybe the percentage isn't any higher than it ever was.

But, several instances have focused attention on it.

One business, selling records, was regularly losing discs. Three parents led three sons into the store recently and had the youths tell the manager they had been helping themselves.

We salute those parents.

A man walked into a grocery store and asked the clerk to cash a government check, which she did.

As he left, she saw him slip a 59c candy bar into his pocket. The clerk was so surprised by such brazen thievery, she just stood there.

Random incidents? We certainly hope so.

But, let's be honest. The old saying is, if you see a mouse in your basement, there must be three more there some place.

So it is with petty larceny. For one seen, three go undetected.

Probably much of this is done by unthinking young people, who have plenty at home, but just steal for a cheap thrill.

If they stopped for a minute to regard the act and thought what they really were doing, this writer is sure 95% would stop immediately.

Even the adult who steals might wake up if he or she would look at the act this way—if you had a business, how would you feel about people swiping your merchandise?

The first teacher of the child is the parent.

Mom and dad may have some day long ago preached against stealing, but the lesson could bear repeating, even where there seems not be to the slightest possibility of a youth breaking the seventh commandment.

But, isn't it often the "unloaded" gun which goes off?

☆

PLEASE PERMIT A LITTLE personal note:

Dear Nameless Nick:

Thank you so much for writing and you certainly do have a point. As you said, Ike uses this term—but this still doesn't make it correct. Please write again, or better yet, drop in for a visit.

Your blushing student,

Tom.

By way of explanation, the mail brought a lovely letter from a reader, who chose to remain "Nameless Nick."

Along with saying some nice things about The Herald, the phantom penman chitted this writer about use of a phrase.

A few weeks ago, I was telling about Kroger opening a new store and how the real estate salesman hadn't heard of the property deal closing and finally "catching up with Jim and I."

Heaven forbid, this was a booboo. As Nick pointed out, it should been "catching up with Jim and me."

To soften the blow, Nick, pointed out that the president has used "Mrs. Eisenhower and I," in similar circumstances.

But that still doesn't make it right.

We suspect Nick must have been in the teaching profession, because this thought was expressed—and it may be helpful to you—when using this sort of sentence structure, in your mind, drop the "Jim and," see whether "me" or "I" sounds correct.

Thanks, Nick.

Thanksgiving Service

Annual Union Thanksgiving service will be held Wednesday evening, November 27, in the Baptist Church with Rev. James D. Nixon, pastor of the Methodist Church speaking.

His topic will be "Thanks, That's Too Easy".

The service will begin at 8 p.m. and all Tecumseh residents are invited to attend, thus beginning the holiday season with reverence toward God.

Special music will be provided by the adult choir of the Baptist Church.

The offering received will be used for the support of the migrant work under the direction of Rev. F. W. Michinson of Hudson.

Clearing House Group Functioning in City

An organization to act as a clearing house for meeting scheduling plans to expand its service.

Called the Inter-Council of Civic Organizations, it contains two members each from the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Rotary and Exchange clubs.

The group meets monthly and has already held three sessions.

The new service will be a large calendar operated by Mrs. Conrad Fosbender, city librarian.

On the calendar will go various club, school and church gatherings, information gathered from phone calls by the organizations. Whenever there is a conflict, Mrs. Fosbender can so advise the caller.

By phoning 278 anytime between 2 and 9 p.m., or by stopping at the library, this data can be given the librarian.

Serving on the Inter-Council group are Al Musch and Bob Bonner of the Exchange, Virgil Tucker and Carlos Jones of Rotary and Bill Davenport and Ray Sheldon of the Jaycees.

The group meets the second Thursday of every month in Sage hall, the former Chamber of Commerce room.

One project now being tackled is the visit of Santa Claus to Tecumseh and distribution of hard candy to children.

Mr. Musch states that Santa will be here in a trailer in front of the D & C Dime store Friday, December 20 from 5 to 9 p.m., Saturday, 2 to 9 p.m. and Monday, 6 to 9 p.m.

Scouts Will Go to Winter Camp November 22-24

Boy Scouts of Troop 73 will spend the weekend in winter camp at Washington Lake November 22, 23 and 24.

They will be supervised in general Scout craft including map making.

Boys are to meet promptly at 5 p.m. at the Scout Cabin Friday evening. Other particulars of the trip will be learned at their troop meeting Thursday evening in the cabin at 7 p.m.

New Scouts inducted Monday evening are urged to be present at the meeting.

Plans are being made for a swimming party to be held at the Frank street gym in Adrian on December 7.

Also a Christmas Party will be held December 19 by the Troop at the Tecumseh Products Union Hall.

A pot-luck supper will be served at 6 p.m.

PLANNING HIKE

Cub Scout Pack 73 is planning a hike for November 30, with a cook-out lunch. Scouts are to be at the Cabin at 9 a.m. with hot dogs and buns for their own needs.

23-Year Old Molests Child

James Eickenberg, 23, 126 W. Chicago boulevard, was arrested Saturday by Police Chief George Kilbourn and Officer Don Rodehaver for molesting a two-year-old child.

The youth, charged with indecent liberties with a minor, is in Lenawee county jail under $1,000 bond.

He has waived examination and has been bound over to the January session of circuit court.

The young child was not harmed.

Police Kept Busy With Offenders

Tecumseh police were busy the past week with traffic violations and minor acidents.

Arrested for speeding were: Harold J. Black, 34, Occidental road; Herbert E. Schultz, 24, Adrian; Gordon D. Collins, 22, Mason township; Frederick W. Morley, 22, Adrian; John G. Reynolds, 20, Shaw highway and Robert H. Hancock, 20, Newport.

Davey G. Bozeman, 54, Britton, was charged with running a traffic light, and William G. Dunsmote, 17, rural Clinton, with speeding and running a traffic light.

☆

HARRIET ELLA PACKARD, 37, 200 Center drive, and Arthur L. Jepson, 43, 314 Adrian street, were involved in a minor accident in the A&P parking lot last Friday.

Saturday, Arlene P. Brazee, 31, 203 Outer drive, and James R. Goupill, 29, Dundee, collided at East Chicago and Maumee with about $100 damages to Mrs. Brazee's car and $150 to Mr. Goupill's.

Wilbur L. Scott, 21, Britton, ran into the rear of a car driven by Don K. Baldwin, 20, 212 W. Kilbuck, also Saturday, inflicting about $50 damages to both vehicles.

TEEN AGE DANCE

Teenagers will dance to live music next Saturday night, November 29, at 9 p.m. at the Teen Club. The holiday dance is called the "Turkey Trot."

Tecumseh Council Will Hold Public Hearing on Downtown Off-Street Parking Proposal

Council voted Monday night to hold a public hearing December 16 for the off-street parking plan submitted by the parking committee.

The master plan for off-street parking, when put into effect and work completed, is expected to remedy much of Tecumseh's downtown parking problems.

The plan depicts parking lots behind businesses in all four downtown blocks. There would be hard topping and metering of the lots.

Councilmen, like many businessmen, feel that off-street parking will attract many more area and local residents to shop here.

In other action, the city officials discussed ways of paying off $3,500 still owed on the bleachers at the athletic field, approved a resolution for permission from the state to put up Christmas decorations over M-50 and M-52 in the business district, and approved Ed Nelson's city manager report.

He reported about work developments at the new well on Burt street and at the new city hall and other general progress in the community.

He said roofing men have a good start at the city hall but the men from Adrian installing window sash were pulled off the job by their union since Tecumseh was in the Toledo district. It is not expected to delay the installation of the sash.

Mrs. Naomi Sallows, clerk, submitted a report on the receipts an dexpenditures of the recreation field.

Council agreed to meet with the school board about the field's operating costs at the board's next meeting on December 9.

Town and Country builders from Detroit informed council that a playground area will be alloted in Tecumseh Acres.

Although a local ordinance calls for a playground area in a subdivision, the Detroit construction firm reported an opinion from the state attorney gen-

ADVENTURES ON A ROMAN HOLIDAY

'Holy Smoke, We Live Next Door'

A few days before Fr. Tom Collins, pastor of St. Elizabeth's Church, left for Rome this fall, he was chatting with Ambrose Hamacker.

"Don't you have a son in Rome?" the priest ask.

"That's right," the local public relations man answered, "He's a lieutenent commander in the navy attached to the American embassy."

Fr. Collins promised he'd look up Bill Hamacker and say hello for his mother and dad back in Tecumseh.

Upon arrival in the Eternal City, the local cleric called the embassy and talked with Lt. Comm. Hamacker.

"Say, how about coming out for supper?" the naval officer asked and Father agreed.

"Where are you staying, Father Collins?"

"Viale di Porta Ardatina," was the reply.

There was a short pause.

"What number?"

"Sixty-six."

"Holy smoke, Father, we live next door."

A city of 2,000,000 inhabitants and the visiting priest should be billeted within yards of the son of Tecumsehites.

☆

THE TRIP, lasting from October 4 to November 14, was filled with unusual and exciting experiences.

Another priest, Monsignor Maurice Foley of Logansport, Indiana, a classmate of Father Collins, was his traveling companion.

Part of the time, Fr. Collins was with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sage of Tecumseh. They all sailed aboard the Saturnia of the Italian Lines, landed at Lisbon.

The party went 120 miles into Portugal on ancient roads to the Shrine built on the spot the Blessed Virgin appeared to the three children at Fatima. The fortieth anniversary of the apparition was the following day and nearly 100,000 persons were arriving.

☆

GREATEST THRILL for the priests and the Sages was an audience with the Pope.

A letter from Detroit's Cardinal Mooney helped considerably as Father Collins went through the complicated steps of arranging the interview.

At each place, he was told more than 6,000 persons a week are turned down, simply because it is physically impossible for the Pope to see these persons coming from all over the world.

Once each week, there is a public audience, by ticket only, at which about 2,000 can at-

Earl Greene Tells West Branch PTA about New School

Earl Greene, pricipal of the elementary schools, told members of the West Branch PTA about the new school to be built in the Tecumseh Acres.

He said that the school would be ready for occupancy by September of 1958, that the overhead passageway previously planned would not be built.

However, a traffic light will be installed and a patrolman is to be on duty to assist the children.

A cafeteria will be in operation, but the thinking at the present time is that rather than cooking in each school, food will be transported from a centrally located kitchen.

You Told Us

BY DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Snow flurries and colder, the man in the black box said this morning. That "colder business" is why the gentlemen about town are pulling their collars up and the ladies do not stroll leisurely across the four corners any more. They hurry and clutch their coats about them, winter is here for certain.

Some deer are being brought into town by the hunters. Marvin Wegner was most fortunate and shot his buck the first day before 10 a.m. With him in the party were Garland Gove and son, Ben, and James Sisty. They were hunting at Lewiston.

Mahlon Sebring was another lucky hunter, he found a deer. The animal apparently had been wounded and escaped the hunter, so when Mahlon came upon it he dressed it out and waited and then waited some more. No one showed up in a three hour period to claim it, so Mr. Sebring did.

Vic Peterson, Albert Cook and Don Sager, both of Adrian, spent from Wednesday to Sunday of last week at Fife Lake hunting.

Otto Meiers spent the weekend hunting as did Mr. and Mrs. Bruce and son Bradley.

Mrs. Hazelle Eaton, Mrs. Bessie Aten of Jackson and Mrs. Lula McConnell were guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Grigg and family.

....Friends of SP/3 Edward DeLisle will be glad to know his new address so that they may write him. The address is:

RA 16507732
Army Section
Maag Taiwan
APO 63 Unit 2
San Francisco, California.

Many young men and women in service have a subscription to The Herald. More news of interest to them is needed as well as more for the students who are out of town. If anyone has news of these young people please call 476.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Elliott were at Newberry, Michigan hunting last week from Wednesday to Sunday. Though they didn't get their deer, they saw several and got some much needed rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brown of Onsted are occupying the Carl Thompson apartment while the Thompsons are in Florida for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weakly spent Saturday with their son, Hal, at Western University in Kalamazoo, Michigan. Hal is a freshman there and the college celebrated Mom and Dads Day at that time.

Murray Day escorted a number of local high school students to Ann Arbor Thursday evening to hear the Ann Arbor Symphony band concert held at Hill auditorium.

Bert Gray of West Logan street is now staying at the Woody Nursing Home near Adrian. It would please him to receive cards as well as calls from his friends and dearly loved neighbors. The nursing home is located west of Adrian on 223. Numbered among his friends and neighbors are many children. It is hoped that their moms will tell them of Bert's new home and help them to post a note to their friend.

Mrs. Don Purkey received a phone call from her husband that he has bagged his deer and in company with Jack Osburn will arrive home Wednesday. They have been hunting at Ensign, Michigan since last Wednesday.

A/3C Jerry Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Watson, has been spending a two weeks furlough here with his parents. He has been at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas for 11 weeks and Wednesday will leave for Forbes Air Base at Topeka, Kansas for further training.

Janet Bashore arrived home Tuesday of last week to spend the holidays with her parents and also to be near her father, Rev. Blair Bashore, while he undergoes surgery at the Herrick Memorial Hospital. The operation was performed on Friday and as the paper goes to press his condition is much improved.

Thomas Riordan and James Lincoln, co-editors of The Herald, attended the press conference in East Lansing last week Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brooks, Jr. accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Clough to Sarasota, Florida leaving Tecumseh November 16. They expect to be gone a week and Mr. and Mrs. Clough will spend the winter months.

Howard Rutherford has been a patient in Herrick Memorial Hospital since last Friday morning. His condition is improving gradually and he may have visitors.

Junior High Notes

By Arthur J. Collingsworth

Mr. Dermont Poley, II has been teaching the junior high physical education classes in the absence of Mr. Victor Lawson, II.

Miss Alice Hopkins, junior high social studies and mathematics teacher was absent last week, because of the flu.

There will be a junior high dance Friday, November 22. The dance is being sponsored by the Student Council. Refreshments will be served.

The junior high cheerleaders ordered their new uniforms. They will consist of black corduroy skirts and white blouses, with an orange V-neck line.

'Pictures and China' Discussed at Monday Club

Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney and Clara Waldron presented an interesting program, "Pictures and china, both works of art," for the Tecumseh Monday Club at their meeting November 18 in the Methodist Church.

Miss Waldron told of the pictures at the Library, which may be borrowed the same as books. She also reviewed the lives of many painters.

Mrs. Mulvaney gave the history of china or porcelain-making from the very beginning and displayed some of her own beatuiful hand-painted pieces, also some owned by Mrs. Burtsel Claus.

Tea was served by Mrs. Ralph Westgate and her committee with Mrs. C. W. Codling and Mrs. Archway pouring.

There were 46 members present. The Onsted Woman's club members were guests.

Next meeting will be the Holly and Tinsel Breakfast at the same place with the music department in charge of the program.

Mrs. Clarence Brock is chairman and the County Federation officers will be guests.

Women's Club Entertains Husbands

Gentlemen's Night was enjoyed by members of the Macon Women's club and their husbands November 14.

With 40 in attendance, the annual affair was held in the Macon Community Church.

The evening started with a baked ham dinner.

Included in the program were two piano duets, one by Jean Thomas and Brenda Frost, the other by Meredith and Suzie Morden.

Mrs. Carrie Evans of Milan recited a dialogue and poem.

☆

SPEAKER WAS Tom Riordan, co-publisher of The Tecumseh Herald, who talked about weekly newspapering.

Mr. Riordan related several humorous incidents which happened while he and his wife operated a small weekly in an Ohio community for six years.

Like the way some of his subscribers would come in and ask to have their "prescription renewed."

He also brought along enough copies of the current Herald and passed around the audience, going through the edition section by section to point up what is being done to make the paper interesting and easy to read.

Mrs. Clayton Bigelow, chairman of the evening, presented gifts to the girls and Mr. Riordan.

Rotary Club Holds Mom's Night

Mom's Night was observed at the Tecumseh Rotary Club meeting Tuesday in the Methodist church with Rev. Robert D. Richards of Saline, principal speaker.

A former coal miner in Wales who came here 26 years ago, the speaker told Rotarians, their wives and friends they should be thankful that they're Americans.

If you get a half or quarter of a large turkey, roast it in about the same way as you would a whole one. The meat is thick so it will take almost as long to cook.

3 Methodist Circles Hold Combined Meet

A combined meeting of the three circles of the Methodist WSCS was held November 13.

A regular business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Mable Jones.

Reports were given by Mrs. Lela Wood, secretary of student work; Mrs. Arlene Buss, secretary of supply work and Mrs. Edna Codling, sunshine chairman.

Mrs. Hazel Bonner was appointed to serve on the nominating committee.

Announcement was made of the annual Christmas Tree Lane Tea, that will be held December 7.

☆

THE PROGRAM for the evening was in charge of the three circle chairmen, Mrs. Louise Partridge, Mary Foster Circle; Mrs. Eileen Hizer, Irene Circle and Mrs. Carrie Green, Mable Lawrence Circle.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Hizer, and the program in charge of Mrs. Partridge.

A fun night was planned, since this was a special meeting.

All members were requested to wear a special hat for the occasion, and the following received prizes:

Oldest hat — Mrs. Mildred Eaton.

Largest hat — Mrs. John Babcock.

Cleverest hat — Mrs. Margaret Mead.

Funniest hat — Mrs. Lenore West.

A singing session was held with all members participating, and if any prizes had been given, Mrs. Edna Codling surely would have won for so beatuifully singing,"Oh, Where, Oh Where, Has My Little Dog Gone."

☆

IN PLACE of the annual bazaar, each member had been given a small box several weeks ago, in which to place a sum of money, that would have been contributed at the bazaar.

Mrs. Marion Nixon played "Bringing in the Sheaves," and while the members sang this song, they placed their boxes in the special hat box on a table and marked with the name of their circle.

The benediction was given by Mrs. Carrie Green.

Refreshments were then served from a table set in keeping with the fall season, by the following committee: Mrs. Emily Beach, Mrs. Isadore Winfield, Mrs. Hazel Kayner, Mrs. Marie Deaner, Mrs. Betty Dillon, and Mrs. Maxine Eggleston.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Fat's In The Fire

Students of nutrition have long been suspicious of the fats in our diet — ever since an apparently erroneous report in 1939 that large quantities of heated fats caused stomach cancer in rats.

Today heated fats are still being studied, because we consume so much of them. But interest is now focussed on another kind of question: what is the relationship between heart disease and fats? Here the suspicion has arisen that it isn't the quantity we eat that counts, but the balance of one kind of fat with another.

One substance which has been implicated is cholesterol, a fat which accumulates in the arteries to cause one of the important circulatory diseases. Cholesterol is present in almost all foods — indeed it is also a natural substance in the body, essential to many body processes.

When cholesterol in the blood gets too high, circulatory disease results, medical researchers believe. Many scientists say that a high blood cholesterol level results from an imbalance between "hard" dietary fats such as are found in meats and dairy products, and "soft" fats such as those in most vegetables and fish. One way to correct this imbalance is to take in additional quantities of "soft" fatty acids in the form of a dietary supplement such as Linodoxine. Alternatively, the diet itself can be altered to cut down on slices of bacon and pats of butter, and increase the consumption of lima beans and filets of sole.

Actually, the relationship between the "hard" fatty acids and circulatory disease hasn't been proved yet. But suspicions are strong that such a relationship exists.

Roman Holiday

tend. These were being held at that time in the Pope's summer residence, 18 miles from Rome.

The Sages and the priests attended one because they weren't sure their other request would be granted.

Two days later it was, and they found themselves in a waiting room with 12 others.

A bell tinkled and suddenly the Pope was in their midst. He slowly walked from group to group, chatting with each.

☆

ROME IS 3,000 years old.

All about it are things dating back to Christ's time, says Father Collins, some even before.

People there are completely different and Father illustrates this with a little story about a street-car ride.

The conductor spotted him as an American and spoke to him in English. When Father Collins complimented him on this, he spoke in three or four other tongues, ending up in gallant fashion by saying,

"I'm an International."

With this, the people in the car, who had been listening with pleasure, broke out in applause for the conductor.

There seem to be few automobiles and fewer policemen. If one of the many street cars should happen to ram an auto, everything stops, the Tecumseh priest states.

Folks in the street car hop out, are joined by pedestrians to stage a discussion in the street. No concern is shown for traffic.

The priests made short stops in Naples, Palermo, Sicily; Gibraltar and Halifax.

The Sages visited Greece; Venice, Italy and the Isle of Capri.

Many firms previously unconnected with the medical world seek an opportunity to make quick money. They hire people to go from door-to-door to sell unknown brands of vitamins.

Unfortunately, these door-to-door salesmen have no knowledge except what they memorize from their canned sales pitches. Why gamble? We pharmacists have the training to properly answer your vitamin questions.

Before obtaining any vitamins from these door-to-door opportunists, check their prices for unknown makes with what we charge for products of the reliable firms physicians endorse. Despite their glib promises, our prices are usually much less.

Clothes of Twenties Sought by Seniors

Can you remember the days of the roaring twenties?

That is the era of this year's senior play, "The Torchbearers," which will be presented on Friday and Saturday evenings, December 13 and 14.

"The Torchbearers" is an hilarious comedy about dramatics and the "high-society" people of one of the most flamboyant times in our history—the twenties.

The author, George Kelly, takes a satirical poke at dramatics and the arts through the people who are grandly trying to hold their torch of culture high in the world.

☆

FEATURED IN the story is "a play within a play," which will amuse both the young and old.

Rehearsals were started three weeks ago under the direction of John Babcock, and the scamper for costumes has begun.

Do you have any traces of the Twenties lying around your house or hidden away in the attic?

If so, and you would be willing to loan them to the class, please call 759-J.

Mrs. John Wintersteen and Marie entertained the Music club in their home Tuesday evening, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Brock.

The meeting opened with the singing of the hymn of the month "Now Thank We All Our God."

With Tecumseh Teens

BY MARY V. SEAGER

This last week was American Education Week. That meant open house at the high school on Thursday evening.

While most of the kids tried to persuade their parents not to come, there was a good turnout.

The Future Homemakers made coffee and cookies, which were served after the parent-teacher conferences.

Some of the girls from the gym classes tumbled.

Future Teachers prepared and passed out the schedule cards for the parents.

☆

THE FUTURE TEACHER group here is officially named the Lois W. Service Chapter of the Future Teachers of America. It was organized and chartered only last year. The club meets the first Tuesday of each month.

Officers this year are Joan Kemp, president; Mike Fero, vice-president; Mary Colgrove, secretary and Ann Marie Haughn, treasurer.

The club's purpose is to explore teaching, prepare the interested teenagers for a career in teaching, and most important, to arouse badly needed interest in teaching.

Mr. Kaiser, Central principal, has been very cooperative about letting members practice in the grade schools here.

Credit is given towards the college Future Teachers' organization for this work.

Mrs. Cadmus, the club adviser, feels that there must be more boys interested in coaching and hpysical education than have joined.

The thirty-two members will go on field trips to places like the University of Michigan, where they will observe teaching methods.

☆

AFTER WORKING hard all Saturday to paint and clean up the Wigwam, the Teen Club held a Sock Hop there that night.

Records were played and refreshments were served from nine until twelve-thirty.

The Wigwam is really looking sharp now. The new paint did wonders.

Let's support your Teen Club by helping out when they need it.

☆

AT THE Student Council meeting last week the idea of having a trophy be put in the display case for class participation in school activities was discussed.

This would be awarded weekly to the most active class. At the end of the year the name of the class that had participated in the most activities would be engraved on it.

☆

THERE WAS a dance after the game Friday night. It was sponsored by the GGA, Records were played until twelve-thirty.

The Friends Church had a party with plenty of free food after the game, also.

☆

THE VARSITY cheerleaders had a highly successful bake sale at Baldwin's Hardware, Saturday, to buy new uniforms.

Their mission was accomplished. They ought to have another soon just for the towns people's eating pleasure.

☆

DEN 12 presented a humorous skit called "The Family Tree." This den is led by Mrs. Neal Brazee and Mrs. Norman Bailey.

The Thanksgiving theme was further carried out when Den 16 gave a skit and spelled out the words Thanksgiving with large cards. Mrs. Goodman and Mrs. Collingsworth are the den mothers of this group.

A skit was also presented by Den 4. It was called "Thanksgiving Year by Year," under the direction of Mrs. Gillis and Mrs. Barrett.

Well, Jack has gone hunting so it's up to me to keep the old place going.

You know we have 26 good listings. There are 2-bedroom homes, 3-bedroom homes, 4-bedroom homes, 5 and 6-bedroom homes. We have some big homes and some little ones. They start at $4,750.00 and go up to $25,000. They are located from Britton to Onsted. Some for as little as $500 down. All can be bought on Land Contract.

We have bare land from 1 acre to 130 acres. Some in Onsted, some 3 miles from Tecumseh. Over by Adrian there is 23 acres with a good home.

We also have 2 large Commercial buildings for sale or rent, one on W. Chicago, the other on N. Evans. We have a couple cottages on Wamplers Lake.

Building lots, some restricted, some not. Some with trees, some without. Name your terms on these lots.

Just name your location and we have a home, farm or lot for you.

Also have new homes for sale, Haeussler builds them. Now have 5 jobs under way. Will take 2 more for the winter.

Guess what! Ole Jack sold the 3-family on North Union. Thanks to a couple of his competitors, they bought it. Also the house trailer has been sold.

Thinking back to that 3-family, he told you it was a good deal, and when 2 people in the real estate business buy it, he must be right.

Well, stop in and see me. Sure will try and sell you something while J. O. is gone. Some football game that Mich. and Ill. game. I told the boys! L.B.

the case of the dishwater Bond!

A TRUE STORY:

Once a practical and romantic young man (you can be both) married the girl next door.

As a present for their first anniversary, being practical, he bought her a U. S. Series E Savings Bond.
And, being romantic also, he slipped it under her plate at the dinner table as a surprise.

As the anniversary dinner waxed on (it was by candlelight) the young man forgot about his gift.
At dinner's end the happy couple was paying more attention to each other than to what they were doing. What they were doing was the dishes—and the Savings Bond! After a session with the very practical detergent the bride used, the Bond looked all washed up.

But it wasn't. The practical young man wrote a practical letter to the Treasury Department explaining what happened, enclosing remnants of the Bond and asking that it be replaced. It was. And with the original, romantic date of issue—the couple's anniversary.

This true story illustrates the safety—the indestructibility of U. S. Savings Bonds which is something you should remember. Any of your Bonds that are lost, stolen or destroyed will be replaced without charge by the U. S. Treasury. That's why Bonds are said to be, "Safer than cash."

And U. S. Series E Savings Bonds are not only safer than cash, but one of the soundest investments you can make. Your Government guarantees the principal of your Bonds safe—up to any amount—guarantees sure the rate of interest you receive.

So start saving this safe, sure way today. Sign up for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or invest regularly in Bonds at your bank.
